What makes a man wild in these days is to pay five dollars for a medical consultation in which he is ordered to wear an all-wool undershirt.

It is not the fact that a man has riches which keep him from the kingdom of heaven, but the fact that the riches have him.

Brandy punches have a tendency to make the sidewalks very slippery.

The grocery men of this city have done more for the poor man than the Greenback party ever will do, if it lives to an age to rival Methuselah.

"Pshaw, no ocean foam for me; it's mere sham," said an impatient woman, discussing the merits of baking powders.

Numerous were the reports current on the streets last night from the returning scouting parties.

Champ Artis, colored, well known in the police circles and a frequent attendant at the Criminal Court, was arrested last night by the police about 12 or 1 o'clock in front of Mr. Antone Rush's store.

Dropical and Rheumatic persons find the use of Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey, and the Wine Bitters, of in calculable benefit.

Never abuse a thermometer when it is down.

Uneasy sits the youth astride the first saddle.

When is the next secret (?) expedition to be organized.

The receipts of cotton for this port today were 141 bales.

The Helen D'Este troupe have turned their faces to the North.

We will have a windy Christmas—The price of horns range from one cent to a quarter of a dollar.

A crying baby is a bore to the neighbors, but a "well-spring of joy" to the mother, and a constant solace to the sleepy father.

You needn't be an early bird now to catch the worm; buy a half pint of chestnuts, morning, noon or night, and your game is secure.

What makes a man wild in these days is to pay five dollars for a medical consultation in which he is ordered to wear an all-wool undershirt.

It must be good, for everybody recommends it, and the doctors prescribe it. We mean Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price, 25 cents.

Suit Compromised

In the suit of Lawson E. Rice against the Western North Carolina Railroad, for work as contractor some year or two since in tunneling on the Western road, the defendants came into Court this morning and agreed to a judgment of $2,950.18 and costs, which action was accepted by the plaintiff and so ordered to be entered upon the minutes by the Judge.

Our Birthday.

On the 13th day of December, 1878, we began the publication of THE DAILY REVIEW, and our paper is, consequently, just two years old; and to-day is its third anniversary. As the fact is one of peculiar interest only to us and of but little to the general public, we shall not have much to say about it.

The Adjourning Meeting of the Bar

There were a good many persons in attendance at the Court House this morning to listen to the proceedings of an adjourned meeting of the members of the Bar which was to have been held at 10 o'clock for the purpose of receiving the resolutions of the committee upon the death of the Hon. Hugh Waddell.

The Columbus County Murder Case.

We learn from Dr. A. B. Lucas, of Columbus county, who is in the city today, and the physician who made a autopsy on the body of the young Georgian, Randle, who was murdered some time since by George I. Littleton, that the murderer will probably not live to stand his trial.

What a Scout Says.

An officer of the law informed us this morning that he had it from a very reliable source, being no other than one of the scouts himself, that as the said scout was returning last evening from the unsuccessful hunt after the outlaw, Johnson at the corner of Fourth and Swann street, near Mr. C. Schulken's store, he encountered Elvi Johnson and Haggett; that they questioned him as to where he had been, and his reply was "out bird hunting," and not wishing to catch a Tartar or a pair of Tartars, the aforesaid scout did not attempt to arrest them but wished them a very good evening and passed on hurriedly.

Got Caught.

The steamer D. Marchison, Captain Garrison, arrived here to-day out of her usual course. The Wave was due to-day, but as she had gone up above the bridge at Fayetteville and was caught there by the freshest so that she could not get back on the present high stage of water, the Marchison took her place this trip.

Rumors and Counter Rumors.

Numerous were the reports current on the streets last night from the returning scouting parties. Some alleged as late as 9 o'clock that the desperado had been captured, others that one of the squads had surprised his camp on an island in North-East river, but that the outlaw had made his escape just as the scouting party had him nearly surrounded, but barely doing so however. Other grape vine reports (as they used) to call the reported despatches in the army of Northern Virginia on account of the crooked ways in which the reports reached camp) stated that Johnson had been safely concealed in the city all day while the country was being scoured in every direction outside of the city, but the most startling and painful rumor of all that reached the city, was the one that a prominent young man in the pursuing party had got shot.

Dropsy and Rheumatism.

Dropical and Rheumatic persons find the use of Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey, and the Wine Bitters, of in calculable benefit. Their purity and valuable properties have given them a wide reputation among physicians throughout this country and Europe. This wine took the highest premium at the late Centennial.

Pumping Her Out.

The steam fire engine Little Giant has been engaged by Messrs. Harris & Howell, consignees, to pump the water out of the three-masted schooner Water Line, which put in at this port yesterday in distress. The water is reported to be three feet deep in her hold.

Returned.

Col. E. R. Brink, Postmaster at this place, has returned from Washington City. We are pleased to learn from him that the news relative to his confirmation by the Senate was correct. Col. Brink is a painstaking, careful and accommodating official and has given general satisfaction to our people.

A Temporary Abberation.

An old man about sixty years of age, who gives his name as Joseph Mowatt, and who says he is a Scotchman by birth, was admitted to the City Hospital under charge of Dr. W. W. Lane a few days ago for medical treatment. But this morning early the old man strayed away from the hospital and finally took up at Justice Wagner's office where he applied for an officer to go with him and make an arrest of certain parties who had insulted his daughter and were trying to rob her of a legacy that had been left her, amounting to $40,000 ($200,000). He also thought the horse guards had fired at him and evidently imagined himself in London.

Dr. Laue heard of his escaped patient's whereabouts and after some little trouble, with the assistance of Mr. W. Roddick, a fellow countryman, the patient was induced to return to the hospital. Dr. Lane thinks that he is suffering only from temporary insanity as there was no evidence of the man's being insane when first admitted to the hospital.

Personal.

We were very much pleased last week to meet in our office Mr. Henry Nutt, of Wilmington, who has been in Washington for some days, visiting his son-in-law, our esteemed friend T. H. Blount, Esq. We found Mr. Nutt to be a gentleman of refinement and culture, and of broad and comprehensive views, thoroughly identified with the best interests of North Carolina, and possessing a fund of valuable information.

Navassa Guano Company.

The annual meeting of this Company was held at their office in this city, yesterday. Mr. Walter G. MacRae was elected as Chairman, and Mr. D. MacRae appointed Secretary, with power to verify the stock represented. After examination the Secretary reported 1,880 of the 2,000 shares represented in person and by proxy. An election for officers for the ensuing year was then entered into, with the following result: President—Hon. R. R. Bridgers. Directors—Edward Kidder, Walter E. Lawton, John C. Grafflin, F. W. Kerchner, Smilie A. Gregg, Winfield S. Dunan. Secretary and Treasurer—Donald MacRae. Superintendent of Factory—Col. C. L. Grafflin. Superintendent of Agencies—Col. Wm. L. DeRoset.

WE AIN'T MUCH ON STATUES: We like Real and Living Things! And as to "Promethean Fire,"

We don't know much about him, but if he burns we prefer not to grasp him. Still we are fond of Poetry, and we learned a little piece when boys, which ran thusly: "As she slips she slides along, A faithful friend is hard to find, And when you find one good and true Don't change him for a new."

In connection with the poetry, we propose to ask our customers a few questions, viz: Have we not sold you goods at reasonable profits?

Have we given you all the indulgence you required?

Have we always delivered your goods free?

Have we every proprietor and employe in the house treated you with attention and politeness?

Have we always corrected mistakes when our attention was called to them?

If to our questions, you answer "Yes," and we don't demand the money before the goods are delivered, why should you desert us?

To our comrades in arms (tellow grocery-men) we will state that we propose to stop writing for those fellows, Bernard and James, (except so far as advertising our goods is concerned,) as they don't pay us worth a cent for our fine literary productions. Let us all shake hands across the bloody chasm, for Wilmington, like the New York omnibus, has always room for one more.

Then come over and see us, (we are good fellows) and take a good imported Cigar, (not the Pipe) but the "Cigar" of Peace. The Ladies will certainly not object to Last.

BOATWRIGHT & MCKOY.

P. S. Kind readers, we have already enquired on your patience, but pardon us for stating that we have the largest, the Cheapest, and Best selected STOCK OF GROCERIES ever offered to the citizens of Wilmington and surrounding country.

The "Old Broom," like a true sentinel, is still watching that gate. dec 9 if BOATWRIGHT & MCKOY.
