MERRY CHRISTMAS!
 Did anybody say Christmas?
 For other locals see fourth page.

Magistrates Row, opposite the Court House, is beginning to resume its wonted appearance.

According to good old authority the season of Christmas is the two weeks succeeding Christmas day.

Lamp wicks soaked for a quarter of an hour in vinegar and then dried before being put into a lamp, will not smoke.

Services will be held at the Front Street Methodist Church to-morrow, Christmas, morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. J. N. Bushe was struck in the eye with a stream of water and Mr. Dan'l McEachern fell from a ladder during the fire this morning.

Mr. Dolby of the Empire House treated the members of the Little Giant Steam Fire Engine Company to an elegant bottle of breakfast this morning.

Life is but a few days, and full of trouble. Now that the mosquito has departed, the roach chestnut lurks on the corner and lies in wait for the related traveler.

People complain a great deal of the trouble and annoyance caused about their premises by rats and mice. Powdered potato sprinkled about the holes will drive them away.

The beautiful weather for the past two days has brought out the beautiful fair sex in large numbers, and crowds of venerable old gray heads are standing on the corners feasting their eyes on the pretty forms and faces as they flit by.

Coroner's Inquest.
 Coroner Hewlett held an inquest on Sunday at Masonboro Sound over the body of William Everett, a colored infant.
 It seems that the child was accidentally overlaid by its mother. The verdict of the jury was in accordance with the facts.

Personal.
 Hon. A. M. Waddell and family will not return home during the holidays, but will spend the season in Washington.

Hon. A. A. McKay is in the city with his family and will spend the Xmas tide with his brother, Major T. H. McKay.

To Our Readers.
 To-morrow is Xmas, and we all hope to have a jolly good time. Printers like Xmas, too, as well as other people, and on their account, (not on our own, oh, no; of course, not.) we'll all retire into private life until Friday, after when, D. V., we'll give you all of the Xmas news to read.
 In other words, we'll see you again on Friday.

Drowned.
 Sunday morning about 10 o'clock a colored man fell from a flat, lying near Market street dock, into the river and was drowned. There were two men on the flat, when one of them fell into the water.
 His companion made no effort to rescue him and he was swamped under the flat and drowned.

He had not slept a wink for twenty-four hours, coughing all the time. His sister bought a 25 cent bottle of Dr.
 Bull's Cough Syrup at the nearest drug store, gave him a dose, and the Cough was broken at once and he slept quiet during the night.

THE FIRE FIEND.

The Terrible Disaster This Morning—
From $50,000 to $60,000 Worth of Property in Ashes.

About half-past 8 o'clock this morning the alarm of fire was given out and in a very short time thereafter the heavens were lit up with the lurid glare of flames and the stars were obscured by the heavy dense pall of smoke which arose into the air. The fire was located at the foot of Orange street. It caught from a fire on a wood raft moored at that point.
 The wind was from the west and carried the flames to the steamer Underhill, which was moored to Mr. O. G. Parsley's wharf, and from there spread with frightful rapidity to the steamer North East, which arrived here last night from Point Caswell, and to Mr. Parsley's wharf and wood and coal yard. By this time the flames were raging fiercely and could not be controlled notwithstanding the strenuous efforts made by the members of the fire department. They lapped up the chimneys and sheds between Muter's Alley and Orange street, and then embraced the buildings on Front street, from the corner to the alley. At one time the houses immediately opposite the fire, on Front street, were in great danger, but by almost super-human efforts they were saved.

The losses are very heavy and will probably be somewhere between $50,000 and $60,000, only about two-thirds of which is covered by insurance.

In all there were five stores, five sheds, two offices, two rows of stables, and two steamers consumed. In detail the losses are as follows: Mr. O. G. Parsley, Jr., loses 700 tons coal, 400 to 500 cords wood, 200,000 to 300,000 shingles, two engines and tools, wheelbarrows, carts and drays, amounting in all, to between $7,000 and $8,000. On this there was, we are sorry to learn, no insurance. Besides this, Mr.
 Parsley lost the steamer Underhill, which burned to the water's edge, and then sunk. It was insured, however, for $6,000, about her value, of which $3,000 was with Mr. Norwood Giles, in the Phoenix of Hartford, and $3,000 with Col. W.
 L. Smith's agency.

The steamer North East sunk at her moorings after having burned to the water. Capt. R. P. Paddison, her owner, was on board and asleep at the time, and when the alarm was given he roused his officers and then barely managed to escape, so rapidly did the fire spread. With the steamer was burned a considerable amount of naval stores freight which was on board at the time. She was insured for $2,000 in the Phoenix of Hartford, and was worth $3,000.

Messrs E. Kidder & Sons lost about 100 hogheads of molasses which were stored at that point in the Government bonded warehouse. Their loss is as yet not fully estimated but it will probably reach $10,000, on which they had insurance for $5,000 with Messrs Atkinson & Manning, in the Queen, of Liverpool.

The office over the warehouse on the corner of Orange and Water sts, was occupied by Messrs Robinson & King. They lost about $150 in office furniture and are fully insured in the Atlantic, of New York, Messrs DeRosset & Northrop, agents.

Messrs Preston Cumming & Co., occupied three warehouses on Front street in Lippitt's Row, which were stored with hay and green, as also a warehouse next to Mr. Parsley's yard as a stable and hay house, all of which were destroyed.
 Their loss will foot up between $4,000 and $5,000 all of which is covered by insurance with Messrs DeRosset & Northrop.

Messrs. Adrian & Volers occupied a warehouse at the foot of Muter's Alley, in which they had stored a large lot of fish and salt. Their loss will amount to about $1,400, on which they had insurance for $1,000.

Mr. H. B. Eilers had 800 barrels rosin and a small lot of spirits consumed. His loss is from $1,300 to $1,500, which is fully covered by a policy for $2,000 with Messrs Atkinson & Manning, in the Hartford, of Hartford.

Mr. Geo. E. Lippitt, owned all of the buildings destroyed, with one exception and his loss is heavy. The estimated value of his buildings which were burned is $17,000 on which there was insurance for but $8,000.

The brick building on the corner of

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Front and Orange streets is owned by Mr. C. Stemmerman and was occupied by him both as a store and a residence. It is in a sad condition now. Mr. Stem-merman's stock was badly despoiled; some of it was ruined by water, some by removal, and much of it was stolen. This was the case with his furniture and with Mrs. Stemmerman's silver and jewelry.
 There was no insurance on either stock or furniture but Mr. Stemmerman had a policy with Messrs. DeRosset & Northrop, in the Underwriters Agency, of New York, for $4000 on the house.

Nearly opposite Mr. Stemmerman's resides Mr. A. Weill in a house the property of Mr. W. G. Fowler. The building is damaged slightly, say to the extent of $250, and Mr. Weill lost considerably through injuries to his furniture.

They are both insured, Mr. Fowler with Messrs. John W. Gordon & Bro. in the Liverpool, London & Globe, and Mr.
 Weill with Messrs DeRosset & Northrop.

Mr. B. D. Merrill, Undertaker and Cabinet maker, who was located in Lippitt's Row, lost all of his stock and nearly all of his tools. His loss is about $800, on which he has a policy in the Wilmington Mutual for $300.

Messrs. Portner & Co. lager beer dealers, also occupied a store in Lippitt's Row but we understand that their loss was light.

Two mules, three horses, and several drays, with harness, were burned. The two mules were the property of Messrs.
 Preston Cumming & Co., one of the horses belonged to Mr. O. G. Parsley, Sr., and the others to Mr. Edgar Parmalee.

City Court.
 The Mayor held quite a large levee this morning. There were several kinds and classes of individual's in attendance at the criminal bar. The first case on docket was Edward Williams, a youth of apparently about eighteen or twenty years of age, who in appearance at first glance would not be thought guilty of the crime with which he is charged—that of larceny.

Officer Wadise, who made the arrest, alleges that about the time of the fire this morning, or shortly thereafter, he discovered the young man passing along the wharf with a bundle concealed under his coat and upon questioning him about the matter, he said that he obtained the goods at the fire. This did not quite satisfy the vigilant officer and he placed the youngster under arrest. Arriving at the City Hall the bundle was found to contain quite a variety of articles, among them some pieces of clothing belonging to the Rev. Dr. Mendelsohn, of the Jewish Synagogue.

Then there were pieces of woman's attire, and ornaments for the head. The case was continued until 9:30 Friday morning.

A colored man slightly under the influence of benzine, who was arrested at Messrs Brown & Roddick's store last night upon the charge of larceny, gave bond for $50 and had his case continued until the 10th of January.

The case of a colored man who was arraigned for exploding fire works last night was dismissed.

Faney Gore, Joe Turner and Minnie Williams, all soiled winged doves from Paddy's Hollow, charged with being drunk and disorderly; Dick Martin, with his ac-cordeon, who has been resting in the walls of the city prison undergoing sentence, and Alice Kelley, another denizen of the Hollow, who has been a neighbor of Dick's in the Guard House, suffering for evil doing, were all discharged, together with some three or four other old "drunks," that were awaiting sentence for last night's debauch. The Mayor, as his reason for this leniency, said: "Christmas." There was no disapproval at all visible on the countenances of the defendants at the findings and sentences of the Mayor. On the contrary, they essayed a sickly sort of smile which died upon their lips, however, and then they tried to look thankful and appreciative, but their debauched countenances and swollen eyes refused to express anything beyond a mute stare of surprise and wonderment; and they left the Court Room in quick time, while the Mayor donned his silk hat, the Reporter gathered up his papers, the Clerk closed his docket book and we all left to get ready for Christmas.

It is a singular fact but then not so singular either as one would suppose that the stores that are selling the most holiday goods are those who advertise with the REVIEW.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

The No. 1. Case.
 This is a case of weather. A colored bachelor to sit by his fire, wrapped in his dressing gown, with his feet up over the mantlepiece and a blazing fire in the fireplace and a long stem pipe in his mouth, to cogitate upon the luxury of single blessedness. No fourteen pairs of shoes to buy and about the same number of stockings to fill. Wiew, how fortunate, quoth the bachelor. But the married man with his prattling little young ones around him watching their eagerness to dive in their stockings and see what Old Santa Claus has brought, says the expense is more than repaid by the pleasure derived from the pleasure of the little folks.

"How can you afford to sell goods so low, and continue reducing prices, as you are doing?" is the question asked hundreds of times daily, not only by citizens of Wilmington, but by strangers and commercial travellers. This question we propose to answer in part this morning. We have more than sufficient capital for our business; but keep every cent turning over continually by discounting paper at from two to four times the rate of interest we pay, which is less than that generally paid here, and thus our goods at the lowest cash price, and then make them allow us discounts enough to more than pay freight and interest on our whole capital invested; our store expenses and salary account are less than half that paid by either of the large Grocery Houses of the city; last, but not least, our individual expenses are next to nothing—we are young men and can afford to work one year without profit, if by so doing we can work up a large business; and while our business is increasing daily, our expenses are decreasing.

We make no bad debts for good customers to pay.
