HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!

BROWN & RODDICK.
45 Market Street.

TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY OF returning their sincere thanks for the patronage so liberally bestowed during the past year.

Our business having steadily increased since our first opening, it will always be our aim in the future, as in the past, to

Take the Lead in Low Prices.

Nothing such to be the true element of success in any business.

Our Prices are the Same to All!

Every Article is Marked in Plain Figures

and every order sent is just as carefully selected as if the party stood at the counter, and judging from the numerous orders we daily receive, our system is duly appreciated, as all Goods not satisfactory can always be returned.

We are making preparations for our

Grand Annual Clearing Sale.

The notice of which will be given through this medium.

Toys, &c., &c., &c.

We would simply state, as we have NO ROOM to pack away any of the FANCY GOODS and TOYS left over, it will be to the DECIDED ADVANTAGE of all to give us a call before New Year's, as we will CERTAINLY CLOSE UP EVERY THING by that time, our lease being limited to that date.

NO POETRY.

Boatwright & McKoy

HAVE SINCE THE HOLIDAYS received their stock. It is now large and complete

To our retail friends we will state that we are alive to their wants. We buy close and we sell close. Our motto is "CAN'T BE UNDEROLD!" "Do you mind that?"

Some of our friends who have put up counters once said we were "retail men." Now, to you, gentlemen, who buy at wholesale, we will state, if you will come and examine our goods and prices, and we don't put them to the blush, we will acknowledge we have been in the G. O. ery business for twenty-five years to little or no profit.

To our friends who have been owing us four months and more we will state we positively need what is due us. We gave you value received, and we think it as little as you can do to come forward and make a showing. You can all have credit if you will "vote fair" and pay your bills promptly at the end of the month. Faith in each other is what we need in this land. Nearly all debts now are debts of honor. Won't you pay for what you eat, something to sustain life? To those who pay their bills promptly we will sell on thirty days longer than he who sells for cash.

Good boating water in the river now. Full moon this morning at 23 minutes past 6 o'clock.

Toney Denier, the great original and only Grimaldi, and troupe, arrived this morning

This is to give notice that all citizens troubled with Coughs or Colds should at once procure a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It is for sale by all druggists and costs only 25 cents a bottle.

New River was frozen over from its mouth to Jacksonville day before yesterday and at Sneed's Ferry, where the river is three miles wide, it was frozen almost entirely across.

Indications.
WAR DEPARTMENT,
Office of the Chief Signal Officer,
Washington D. C., Jan., 8th.

For the South Atlantic States, falling barometer, warmer, South and East winds, cloudy and possible rain, followed by cooler Northeast winds on Thursday.

Mr. Ambler's Lecture.
We had expected to present an able and exhaustive report of Rev. Mr. Ambler's admirable address delivered before the Historical and Scientific Society on last Monday evening, but have been disappointed. We may, perhaps, be able to publish it in full in a few days.

By Faith.
In eating sausages, liver puddings and hogs' head cheese a great deal has to be eaten by faith unless you know who makes them. Mrs. Elizabeth Warren advertises them in this issue of the REVIEW. We can guarantee those of her make to be fresh, clean and pure. Give her a trial and convince yourselves.

Personal.
Commander C. S. Norton, of the U. S. Navy, who is Superintendent of the Light House Department of the Sixth District, is in the city on official duties. He is accompanied by Capt. W. A. Jones, who is the engineer of the Light House Department of the same district. They are stopping at the Purcell House.

Ice in the River.
Capt. Garrison, of the steamer D. Marchison, says that when he left Fayetteville yesterday morning there were large quantities of floating ice in the river, brought down from the Deep and Haw rivers. There was any quantity of thick ice and lots of skating on the ponds in the neighborhood of Fayetteville on last Saturday and Sunday and the ice houses thereabouts have all been filled.

W. B. Meares, Jr.
The Raleigh Observer has this to say of a young gentleman well known and highly esteemed in this community:
"Mr. Meares takes the place of the late Mr. Empie Gibbs with Messrs. Edwin Bates & Co., of New York. His house is a Southern house, does a Southern trade, and is deservedly popular. Mr. Meares gave up a position in Baltimore to accept this place in New York. He is a young gentleman well known in business and will, we hope, meet with a gratifying success."

How to Avoid Taking Colds.
This is the season for taking colds, and the Popular Science Monthly tells how to prevent them. It says the mistake is often made of taking great care to put on extra wraps and coats when preparing for outdoor exercise. This is not at all necessary in robust persons. Sufficient heat to prevent all risk of chill is generated in the body by exercise. The care should be taken to retain sufficient clothing after exercise, and when at rest, to prevent the heat from passing out of the body. Indeed, persons very often catch chills from throwing off extra clothing after exercise, or from sitting about in garments, the material of which is not adapted to prevent the radiation of heat from the body.

Cottage Gingerbread.
Take one cup of butter and lard melted together, add one cup New Orleans molasses; stir into this one cup each of sugar and cold water, two large teaspoonfuls ginger, two eggs beaten, and four cups of flour; having in it three large teaspoonfuls DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. Bake in moderately hot oven.

The Eighth of January.

On this day sixty-four years ago was fought the memorable battle of New Orleans which resulted in a complete victory over the English forces, commanded by Sir Edward Pakenham, who not only lost the battle but lost his life. General Andrew Jackson was in command of the American army and to his bravery, foresight and skill the success of our arms may be attributed. The Kentucky riflemen nobly did their duty that day on the plains of Chalmette. Many anecdotes are related of Old Hickory in connection with the siege and battle of New Orleans among which the following are recollected: The night previous to the battle, while Gen'l Jackson and Gov. (we think Claiborne) were in close consultation at headquarters, a stranger entered abruptly, unannounced. The abrupt entrance at such a time as a stranger and an intruder, of course created some surprise.

"Who are you?" at once demanded Jackson.
"I am only Lafitte, the Pirate of Barataria and you are Gen'l Jackson and this other gentleman is Gov. Claiborne who offered a reward of $1,000 for my head. I have also offered a like reward for his head, which is now being posted on the city, was the reply, upon which Governor Claiborne evinced much trepidation.

"Why, then, are you here?" said General Jackson.
"I came," said Lafitte, "to offer terms for pardon. I have one hundred true men, and can be of great service in the engagement to-morrow. I have been offered, by the British Admiral, a post captaincy in the British navy and twenty thousand dollars, to join his forces and show him the secret pass up to the city. I much prefer," said Lafitte, "to fight for my country, for I am an American, and therefore my presence and my proposition. What say you, General Jackson?"

"What security," said Jackson, "have I for the performance of the contract?"
"The word of Lafitte."
"Then, by the Eternal, I will trust you!" said Old Hickory. Bring your men this very night, and if you prove true and faithful I will guarantee that you shall have full pardon, for yourself and your men, from President Madison, for all previous offences."

And they did receive full pardon, as may be found recorded in history.
On the morning of the eighth, just before the commencement of the fighting, as Gen. Jackson was surveying the line of battle, a vessel by French merchant of New Orleans drove up to the line and requested an interview with the General. On reaching his presence Jackson demanded of the Frenchman the object of his visit.

"I come," said he, "to demand of you the return to the city of my cotton which you have taken to make your breast works."
"Ah," said Old Hickory, "can you point out the particular bales that is your property?"

"Oui, Monsieur, certainement, zat is my cotton and zat is my cotton," pointing to many bales in the near vicinity.
"Well," said Old Hickory, "if that is your property you have just come in time to protect and defend it," and calling to a Corporal he ordered him to bring a spare musket, and giving it to the Frenchman, he told him to stand and defend his property. At the same time he gave the Corporal an order to shoot the fellow down if he attempted to run. There is no doubt but that the Frenchman was glad that his cotton was there to screen him from the British bullets.

Enlargement.
The New York Daily Bulletin has been still farther enlarged and improved and will hereafter be known as the New York Daily Commercial Bulletin. It is most excellent authority and is probably quoted and referred to in all commercial and financial matters more frequently than any other paper published in this country. May its huge shadow never dwindle.

City Court.
John Martin, colored, attended the Mayor's levee this morning. John was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting a police officer. For this offense he was ordered to pay a fine of $10 or rustication in the City Prison for 15 days. Times being hard and John's pocket book being rather lean he preferred to rest for the space of time so graciously allowed him by his Honor.

The Toney Boys.

Toney Deniers and the great and only original Grimaldi dressed their boys up this morning and trotted them around the city in a wagon. Each took a horn before starting, and the air was redolent with the music of their breath. They will show to-night, and we would advise our friends to go and see them if they want to laugh and grow plump.

Our Three Feet.
From Mr. W. H. Styron, of Market street, we have received the noblest pipe and stem of the season. It (the stem) is of Florida reed and Mr. Styron, who brought it in to us this morning, says that it is a fair specimen of a lot just received by him from Florida and now on sale at his tobacco store.

Platt D. Cowan, Esq.
While sorry that all three of the gentlemen from this city did not secure the offices they desired in the organization of the Legislature, we are yet glad to know that Mr. Platt D. Cowan has secured the honorable and responsible position of Reading Clerk. The selection has fallen on worthy shoulders, and we feel well assured that Mr. Cowan will make an intelligent, faithful and reliable officer.

New Year's Edition.
Our friend Glennan, of the Norfolk Virginian, whom many of our readers will recollect as having been stationed at Fort Fisher during the latter days of the war, has shown much enterprise in the issue of the mammoth edition (10,000 copies) of the holiday number of this paper. This edition is distributed gratuitously throughout a large portion of the water Virginia and North Carolina.

An Appeal.
C. E. W. advertised in the Review a few days ago for a partner in his business. He has received scores of answers to the "adv." both from the city and along the line of the railroads. His appeal to us this morning was, "for goodness sake take my advertisement out of the paper, or else I will be a ruined man. I have already answered piles of letters and yet they are flooding in on me." Who says advertising don't pay?

The Legislature—Its Organization and Officers.

[Special to Daily Review.]
RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 8th, 1879.
The General Assembly of North Carolina convened to-day, pursuant to law. The following officers, agreed upon in Democratic caucus, have been regularly elected to the positions named herewith:
SENATE—R. M. Furman, of Buncombe; Secretary; Platt D. Cowan, of New Hanover, Assistant Secretary; H. B. Merrill, of Orslog, Sergeant-at-Arms; W. V. Clifford, of Wake, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms.
HOUSE—J. M. Moring, of Chatham, Speaker; Jno. D. Cameron, of Orange, Chief Clerk; R. W. Best, of Wake, Assistant Clerk.
Josiah Turner, representative from Orange county, attended the Democratic caucus.

Asphyxia.
A couple of gents from the rural districts made a narrow escape from death by asphyxia at the Purcell House last night. A Custom House official, of this city, who roomed next to them, was awakened about midnight by the smell of gas, and bounded out of bed and examined his gas bracket to see if it was leaking. Finding it all right, he put his nasal organ to the key hole of the door between his room and the one which was occupied by the rural gents, when he found that the gas was rushing in his room through the keyhole and crack under the door. A porter was immediately summoned, who tried to awake the rustics, but failed, when the proprietor was sent for, who, with a pass key, opened the door and found the gascock turned full on. The room was thoroughly ventilated and the occupants awakened after a hard trial. Of course no blame can be attached to the proprietor, as the proper precaution as to turning off the gas was tacked up just under the thumb-screw of the gas jet.

To Practice Law.
In the Supreme Court at Raleigh yesterday, Messrs. Thos. H. McKoy, Jr., of Sampson, son of Judge McKoy, and Messrs. R. H. McKoy, Addison Ricard and Swift M. Empie, of this city, were licensed to practice law.

Prof. Agostini proposes giving at an early date a phantom dance in which will be used spectral lights, etc. Persons should not confound the phantom dance with the masquerade, as there is no analogy between them.

Appleton's Journal for 1879.

THE PROPRIETORS of APPLETON'S JOURNAL will henceforth devote it exclusively to literature of a high order of excellence, by writers of acknowledged standing.

It is the growing habit of the leading minds in all countries to contribute their intellectual work to the magazines and reviews; and, in order that Appleton's Journal may adequately reflect the intellectual activity of the time thus expressed, it will add to its pages a selection of the more noteworthy critical, speculative, and progressive papers that come from the pens of the writers.

Fiction will still occupy a place in the Journal, and descriptive papers will appear; but large place will be given to articles bearing upon literary and art topics, to discussions of social and political progress, to papers addressed distinctly to the intellectual tastes of the public, or devoted to subjects in which the public welfare or public culture is concerned.

Terms of Appleton's Journal—Three dollars per annum, in advance, postage prepaid by the publisher, to all subscribers in the United States or Canada; or Twenty-five Cents per number. A Club of Four Yearly subscriptions will entitle the reader to an extra subscription gratis; that is, five copies will be sent one year for twelve dollars. Appleton's Journal and the Popular Science Monthly for one year, for seven dollars, postage prepaid full price, eight dollars. The volumes begin January and July of each year. Subscriptions received for any length of time.
