A NORTH CAROLINA STATE TEM.

We have heretofore republished a series of very admirable articles which have appeared from time to time in the Raleigh Observer, because they have seemed to us to have been conceived and written in the interests of the people of this State.

The Army Appropriation bill will be reported to the House to-day, and Burnside's Army reorganization bill will be the special order in the Senate.

Much comment is made on the fact that of the five Republican Senators elected during this week, four are pronounced Grant and third term men.

It would be no greater folly to attempt to reverse the direction of the natural streams than to seek to force business against the natural currents of trade.

ver has very recently argued in favor of the identical "folly" it now deprecates.

In another place, speaking of a bill now in the Senate, granting a charter for a narrow gauge railway from Leak-wille to Danville (Va.) it remarks:

This enterprise might be opposed on the ground that it leads directly out of the State and will operate as a feeder to Danville. But the wisdom of the age dictates the contrary, and in the Senate the measure, on its second reading, recorded but one vote against it, and that not upon its merits, but in its details, respecting the proposition and plan of local or county subscription. In all matters of this kind the direction of public opinion at this day will be found in favor of giving to every people all the railroads they may desire to build for themselves, without regard to established lines, conflicting interests, or objective points.

Such talk as this will surprise many of the close readers of the Observer, for not many moons have waxed and waned since it distinctly deprecated this giving of ourselves away by tapping North Carolina for the benefit of Virginia towns and seaports and urged, as a remedy, a thorough "North Carolina System." We give one more extract from the article referred to:

What should be chiefly avoided, and guarded against, by legislation, is the granting of mere paper charters, conferring power and privileges on imaginary corporations, to enable one rival company to force another into measures, and this accomplished the end is reached, no intention having ever been entertained of building a mile of railroad. And when as good or practically the same facilities may be afforded by pursuing a route that would not so seriously injure an established line, and without entailing large additional expense, or working inconvenience to the new company, due regard should be had to the enterprise and capital invested in a line already established. The public mind should always look to the general development of the State, and the largest facilities to the people without regard to local or rival personal interests, with this fact constantly in view, that whatever tends to cripple an established enterprise, must generally result in disaster to a portion of the public, and a wise policy consists not in breaking down, but in building up works of internal improvement.

This, we suppose, has some reference to the effort now being made in the Legislature to amend the charter of the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line but the wording is too ambiguous for positive comments.

We have not desired to make any harsh comments on the Observer's article; even now we hope that we are mistaken, and that so able and so influential a leader and director of public opinion all over the State, is not as yet prepared either to modify or to abandon its splendid outline of a North Carolina System.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25, 1879. On the amendments of the Senate to the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill the House yesterday yielded. It is almost certain the House will yield to the Senate on the Indian Appropriation bill as so far, at this session, it has given way to the Senate at all points. This is to be regretted, as every amendment of the Senate is in the direction of an increase of the amounts appropriated. It would be better, if the policy of letting the Senate have its own way is to prevail, that the House Appropriation Committee be directed to draw its bills under instructions from the Senate. That would prevent the otherwise inevitable feeling of chagrin in the members of that Committee, after laboring hard through the recess and day and night during the session, at seeing themselves invariably overruled.

The Army Appropriation bill will be reported to the House to-day, and Burnside's Army reorganization bill will be the special order in the Senate. There is, however, so great a certainty that the latter bill cannot pass that the appropriation bill will provide for the Army as now reorganized.

The executive, legislative and judicial bill will be reported to the House tomorrow. On this extended debate may be expected in both Houses and unless the House Democrats have lost all courage they will resist the efforts sure to be made by the Senate to add to the sums agreed upon by the very able and faithful House Committee on Appropriations.

Much comment is made on the fact that of the five Republican Senators elected during this week, four are pronounced Grant and third term men. These are Conkling, Cameron, Carpenter and Logan. There is also, now, some prospect that Pomeroy will be elected in Kansas, and he, as is well known, was one of the earliest Third Termers. What Platt, of Conn., favors, is not known here, but if not for Grant he will feel lonely among the lately elected Senators. It is of no use to say that these facts do not show a strong feeling inside the Republican party, for Grant. They do show such a feeling, and in States which will have powerful influence in the Republican Nomination Convention.

To-day the Senate committee on Commerce will decide whether or not it will recommend the reconfirmation of Hayes' nominations for places in the New York Custom House. Senator Conkling is confident of an adverse report from the Committee, and of rejection by the Senate. Yesterday, in the committee, replies were read from the displaced officials, to the charges made against them by the Administration. There is now a prospect that the Democratic Senators will be divided on the subject, and that enough of them will favor the nominations to secure confirmation.

meadations of the Commission so ably presided over by Dr. Woodworth a barrier to the unrestrained tramps of yellow fever will most certainly present itself. The refrigerating ship which Prof. Gamgee has designed in meeting with general approval and Mrs. Thompson, we are told, is exerting herself in every way to have a practical and beneficial outcome to all the efforts which have been made at her instigation. Congress will be asked to appropriate $200,000 for the work that may be saved and the South maintained free from everlasting terror and almost annually recurring pestilence. GURDON.

A Dangerous Torpor.

Torpor or inactivity of the kidneys is seriously dangerous to those organs, since it is the present of diseases which destroy their substance and endanger life. This sluggishness may be overcome by stimulating them, not excessively, but moderately, an effect produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a general invigorant and alternative, possessing diuretic properties of no common order. The impetus which this admirable medicine gives to their evacuating function counteracts any tendency to congestion which may exist in their tissues. Both they and their associate organ, the bladder, are invigorated as well as gently stimulated by the Bitters, which exerts a kindred influence upon the stomach, liver and bowels, and by strengthening the system enables it to withstand malarial epidemics, to which, when exposed, it might otherwise succumb.

THE SUN FOR 1879.

THE SUN will be printed every day during the year to come. Its purpose and method will be the same as in the past. To present all the news in a readable shape, and to tell the truth though the heavens fall. The Sun has been, is, and will continue to be independent of everybody and everything save the Truth and its own convictions of duty. That is the only policy which an honest newspaper should have. That is the policy which has won for this newspaper the confidence and friendship of a wider constituency than was ever enjoyed by any other American Journal.

The Sun is the newspaper for the people. It is not for the rich man against the poor man, or for the poor man against the rich man, but it seeks to do equal justice to all interests in the community. It is not the organ of any person, class, sect or party. There need be no mystery about its loves and hates. It is for the honest man against the dishonest man. It is for the honest Democrat against the dishonest Republican, and for the honest Republican against the dishonest Democrat. It does not take its cue from the utterances of any politician or political organization. It gives its support unreservedly to the man or measure that is in agreement with the Constitution and with the principles upon which this Republic was founded for the people. Whenever the Constitution and constitutional principles are violated—as in the outrageous conspiracy of 1876, by which a man not elected was placed in the President's office, where he still remains—itspeaks out in righteous indignation. It is for the preservation of independence. In this respect there will be no change in its programme for 1879.

Tax Sux has fairly earned the hearty hatred of rascals, frauds, and humbugs of all sorts and sizes. It hopes to deserve that hatred not less in the year 1879, than in 1878, 1877, or any year gone by. Tax Sux will continue to fight on the wicked with unmitigated brightness.

While the lessons of the past should be constantly kept before the people, Tax Sux does not propose to make itself in 1879 a magazine of ancient history. It is printed for the men and women of to-day, whose concern is chiefly with the affairs of the present. It has both the disposition and the ability to afford its readers the promptest, fullest, and most accurate intelligence of whatever in the wide world is worth attention. To this end the resources belonging to well-established prosperity will be liberally employed.

The present disjointed condition of parties in this country, and the uncertainty of the future, lend an extraordinary significance to the events of the coming year. The discussions of the press, the debates and acts of Congress, and the movements of the leaders in every section of the Republic will have a direct bearing on the Presidential election of the coming year. It has both the disposition and the ability to afford its readers the promptest, fullest, and most accurate intelligence of whatever in the wide world is worth attention. To this end the resources belonging to well-established prosperity will be liberally employed.

LIVER

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person (about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the liver becomes torpid, bile is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRILL'S LIVER PILLS, the great vegetable discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dry looking skin, will astonish all who try it—the bile will be strained and symptoms disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaints is made certain by taking HEPATINE in conjunction with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair dose of MERRILL'S LIVER PILLS is taken.

Dr. J. C. Merrill's Scrofula or White Swelling Pills are the only medicine upon which a cure of recovery from Scrofula, Syphilis and Mercurial diseases in all stages, can be reasonably founded, and the price of $1.00 per bottle, $2.00 per dozen, will be paid by the proprietors if Mercury, or any ingredient not purely vegetable and harmless can be found in it. Appleton's Journal for 1879.

THE PROPRIETORS OF APPLETON'S JOURNAL will henceforth devote it exclusively to literature of a high order of excellence, by writers of acknowledged standing.

It is the growing habit of the leading minds in all countries to contribute their best intellectual work to the magazines and reviews; and, in order that Appleton's Journal may adequately reflect the intellectual activity of the time thus expressed, it will admit to its pages a selection of the more noteworthy critical, speculative, and progressive papers that come from the pens of these writers.

Fiction will still occupy a place in the Journal, and descriptive papers will appear; but large place will be given to articles bearing upon literary and art topics, to discussions of social and political progress, to papers addressed distinctly to the intellectual tastes of the public, or devoted to subjects in which the public welfare or public culture is concerned.

Terms of Appleton's Journal.—Three dollars per annum, in advance, postage prepaid by the publishers, to all subscribers in the United States or Canada; or Twenty-five cents per number. A Club of Four Yearly Subscriptions will entitle the sender to an extra subscription gratis; that is, five copies will be sent one year for twelve dollars.
