Mark Down on all Surplus Stock!

Our patrons will find every article marked in plain figures, the former price in Black and the MARKED DOWN PRICE IN RED.

We cannot enumerate every article, as it would occupy too much of our space but the following will give quite a general idea:

WINTER DRESS GOODS, BLANKETS, FLANNELS, CANTON FLANNELS,

Also,
LADIES', GENTS' AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR.

We mean business and will mark every article at such a price that cannot fail to satisfy any and all who anticipate making any purchases in our line and would add, for the benefit of our patrons in the country, that they may rely on any orders they may favor us with being promptly and as faithfully filled as if they stood at the counter.

One Price to All!

SPECIAL SALE.

We have decided to make a CLEAN SWEEP of all our LINEN GOODS such as

LINEN TABLE DAMASKS, NAPKINS, DOILIES, TOWELS.

And "In order to make this a success we have marked them to the LOWEST NOTCH. Be assured they are reduced just as represented. You are invited to Call and See for Yourself.

We have NO desire to deceive or misrepresent anything. Our policy has NEVER been to get as much as we could for our merchandise, but to sell as LOW as possible in order to increase our outlet and keep the trade AT HOME. Call early.

Mud every where to-day.

The rope walker has departed.

Lent commences February 26th.

Market well supplied with wood now.

To-day week St. Valentine will reign supreme.

Ash Wednesday falls on the 26th February this year.

As a rule more fish are shipped from Wilmington than are consumed here.

The market was well supplied with dressed poultry yesterday and this morning.

There is considerable sickness in town just now, though nothing of a serious nature.

Charlotte had Junius Caesar on Wednesday night and will have Kate Claxton tomorrow night.

A cantata will be given by some of the pupils of the Tileston Institute to-night week.

Wilhemj had an engagement for Wilmington but cancelled it. His ideas were too lofty for our little town.

It is now announced on the authority of an "eminent physician" that it is not healthy to rise before eight o'clock in the morning. This applies only to men. Wives, it is said, can rise at seven and start the fire as heretofore.

It is hoped that Col. McRae will be greeted by a large house to-night at the Opera House. It will probably be the last time that this lecture will be delivered in Wilmington and all who do not hear it will miss the best thing of the age.

Capt. D. M. Murchison, Hon. S. H. Fishblade, Maj. Chas. M. Stedman, and other plucky Wilmingtonians are in Raleigh and will fight the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line iniquity to the bitter end. These gentlemen know what to say and how to say it and are not afraid to speak it out.

And now the windows of the bookstores are filled with hideous looking caricatures, under the name of valentines which will be sent to parties, frequently in the spirit of fun, but too often in order to vent a mean spirit. We hope our young friends will remember that it is cruel and cowardly to cause a pang of sorrow to any one by an anonymous communication and especially so when it is accompanied by a hideous and distorted picture.

Ordered to Report.

Lieut. Jno. U. Rhodes, of the U. S. R. M., who has been here for a month past on waiting orders received a notification this morning to report at once for duty to Capt. Frank Barr, on the Revenue Cutter Colfax, now in station at Wilmington, Del. Lieut. Rhodes will, of course, leave at once to join his ship.

Speer's Port Grade Wine for Parties

Physicians employ Speer's Port Grape Wine in their practice in all cases where a pure wine is called for, and do all in their power to foster and encourage its production. It is coming into great favor among the most wealthy in New York City as an evening wine. For sale by J. C. Mundy, P. L. Bridgers & Co., and Green & Flanner.

Indorsement of the Eminent Professor Doherty.

BELLEVUE HOSPITAL MED. COLLEGE
New York, Nov. 15, 1878.
This is to certify that I purchased of Mr. S. H. Williamson, 36 Broadway, a can of DOOLEY'S BAKING POWDER, that I had biscuits made therewith; that I have analyzed the same, and that they do not contain alum or any other deleterious substance.
R. OGDEN DOREMUS, M. D., LL. D.,
Professor Chemistry and Toxicology in the Bellevue Hospital Medical College.

The Grand Central Hotel on Broadway, New York, is a big House, and it takes a great many people to fill it. In order to do the latter, and to please everybody, the Hotel is now kept on both plans, the American at $2.50 to $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards per day. An elegant Restaurant at moderate prices, is conducted by the Hotel.

Safe, reliable, harmless and cheap, is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price only 25 cents.

The W. C. & A. R. R. Conductors.

We regret to learn that Conductor Duke, of the W. C. & A. Railroad, is now confined to his house by a severe illness. His trouble is paralysis of the brain. Conductor Wiggins, of the same road, has also been quite sick and confined to the house for some days. He reported for duty yesterday morning. Conductor Bowden, of the same line, who has been dangerously sick, is, we are happy to learn, convalescent, with a fair prospect of soon being again at his post of duty.

Personal.

Capt. C. T. Iardella, of the U. S. schooner Caswell, who has been with us for some time past surveying the river, the forts and islands at the mouth of the river, has finished his work and has been ordered to Charleston to survey the Steno river and approaches to Charleston. His sch., the Caswell, left for Charleston this morning under command of Capt. Iardella's sailing master. We regret to part with Capt. Iardella and hope that he may some day be ordered back to Wilmington.

The Hop Last Night.

It was a glorious time at Germania Hall last night, when the married folks acted the hosts and the young folks the guests, thus reversing the regular order of affairs which has obtained here. The large and elegant hall was well filled, and with a happy crowd. For once, the married folks asserted their rights and maintained them. They danced and danced and danced and the cares and anxieties of every day life were put aside and the youngsters at home asleep in their cribs and trundle-beds were for the nonce all but forgotten and joy reigned supreme. It was the remark of an ancient Lothario, one who had danced years ago with the grandmothers of some of those present, that never in the history of Wilmington had as many pretty married ladies been grouped together under the same roof. The fun was kept alive until a late hour and until nearly all of the married folks present remembering their neglected responsibilities, dropped out, two by two, from the festive scene and hastily hurried homewards.

Dealings in Futures.

Here is something for the consideration of cotton dealers: The Kentucky court of appeals has recently rendered a decision upon a case of "futures," the points of which may be summed up as follows: Speculating in futures, where no actual delivery of the article bought or sold is made, but only the difference in money between the value at the time of purchase and at the time fixed for delivery is to be paid, is gambling and illegal. But the intent to pay only the difference in value, and not to deliver the goods, must be clearly proven, not inferred from custom. Even proof that the difference was actually paid in money in this way will not suffice, unless it be also proved that it was the intent at the time of the contract that the settlement should be made in this way. The court admits the wrongfulness of this practice, and that as practiced it is gambling, but it will not take as proof of gambling in this case the well-known custom that prevails, for evidences that would establish other species of gambling.

City Court.

Alderman Bowden, Mayor pro temp. presiding.

Wm. Kornegay, colored, arrested last night for being drunk and disorderly, was fined $2.50 or given the alternative of lodging ten days in the city prison. The defendant pled up and was released.

Mary Stewart, colored, arrested last night for committing an assault upon Laura Haggett, colored, with a deadly weapon, in the shape of a knife, with which she inflicted several wounds upon the person of the aforesaid Laura Haggett was turned over to Justice Hall for trial. This closed the proceedings and the court adjourned.

Unmailable.

The following is a list of unmailable letters remaining in the city Postoffice Feb. 7th:

P. Montague, Long Creek, N. C.; Jno. Matten, Raleigh, N. C.; Capt. Geo. Dick, Beaufort, S. C.; Mrs. E. K. Allen, Hope, Ark, Hampton, Co.

In removing some of the debris in the burnt Lippitt district this afternoon it was found that the fire was still burning.

Magistrate's Row.

Before Justice Hall, Mary Stewart, colored, was arraigned this morning upon the charge of committing an assault with a knife and inflicting several wounds upon the person of Laura Haggett, colored, last night in Paddy's Hollow. The case was continued on account of the inability of the principal witness, Laura Haggett, to attend the trial as she is confined to her house from the wounds received in the melee, and the defendant was committed.

Wm. John Long and George Wood, two white seamen, belonging to the Brigade North Carolina, were arrested upon a warrant sworn out by the Captain for committing an assault upon him on board of his vessel this morning.

The defendants were each sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment in the county jail.

Sandy Johnson, colored, was arrested this morning with a warrant upon the affidavit of Jno. Holland, white, in which it was charged that Johnson committed an assault upon Holland with an axe helve.

The prosecutor and defendant in this case being both under the influence of Jno. Barleycorn and the defendant not being in a condition to stand trial, the case was continued and the prisoner committed.

Before Justice Gardner this morning Primus Young swore out a warrant for the arrest of Robert Thomas for the larceny of a yearling bull. The warrant was executed, the party arrested and the trial set for 3 o'clock this afternoon, and this is all we know about it.

February

Was one of the two months (January being the other) introduced into the Roman calendar by Numa Pompilius, when he extended the year to twelve of these periods. Its name arose from the practice of religious expiation and purification which took place among the Romans at the beginning of this month (Februare, to expiate, to purify). It has been on the whole an ill-used month, perhaps in consequence of its noted want of what is pleasant and agreeable to the human senses. Numa let fall upon it the doom which was unavoidable for some one of the months, having, three out of four times, a day less than even those which were to consist of thirty days. That is to say, he arranged that it should have only twenty-nine days, excepting in leap years, when, by the intercalation of a day between the 23d and 24th, it was to have thirty. No great occasion here for complaint. But when Augustus chose to add a thirty-first day to August, that the month named from him might not lack in the dignity enjoyed by six other months of the year, he took it from February, which could least spare it, thus reducing it to twenty-eight in all ordinary years. In the parliamentary arrangement for the information of the calendar, it being necessary to drop a day out of each century, excepting those of which the ordinal number could be divided by four, it again fell to the lot of February to be the sufferer.

Littell's Living Age.

We are in receipt of the six numbers of this excellent weekly issued since January 1st. Littell's is, among the few magazines published in this country whose pretensions do not excel its abilities and it is the only publication of its class which furnishes a weekly, instead of a monthly, feast to its readers. It publishes an immense amount of matter and makes up four volumes to the year giving more than three and a quarter thousand pages of matter during the year. With 1879 it enters upon its thirty-fifth year and the efforts of the publishers are being redoubled in the desire to make their magazine more than ever worthy of the great patronage which has been accorded it.

To The Gulf.

We are glad to learn, as we do from the Raleigh Observer, that the bridge on the Western Railroad will be completed across Deep River by the 12th inst., and that the cars will be running to the Gulf, in Chatham country, in three weeks.

It is time, we think, for the merchants of this city to be asking for some of the trade of the interior and central portion of the State which this road as it progresses will open up to the people of Fayetteville and Wilmington.

We are requested to state that there will be no postponement of the lecture this evening on account of the weather.

The indications are that there will be a very large attendance at the Opera House to-night to hear Col. McRae's lecture, notwithstanding the untoward weather.

He has Gone.

After settling his hotel bill, winding up his ropes and doffing his circus tights for his citizen's clothes, Professor Dare, the rope walker, darted off on the Southern train last night for Charleston.

The Professor agreed with the authorities yesterday that if they would not enforce the collection of the showman's tax from him, he would give all over eighteen dollars (which he claimed to be his expenses), to the poor and thus make his exhibition one for charity. But upon emptying the contents of his cigar box after taking up his collection, it was found that he only had $15.30 and so he claimed that he owed nothing to the charity fund, but that the county authorities ought to pay him the $2.70 to make up his $18 expenses. But he finally concluded not to press his claim (wise as a serpent is this Professor) but just pocket his proceeds and "git" on the first train, which he accordingly did.

The Old Times.

One of the most enjoyable features of the Hop last night was a square dance at the lower end of the room, the gentlemen in it all being old and staid citizens. They called it the "gray haired set," and we must say that it put to shame some of the others, in the life and vivacity which the old-timers imparted to the dance. The double-shuffle and pigeon wing were executed with much grace and agility and it is said that one of these gentlemen actually emulated his first efforts in that direction which are asserted to have made at the LaFayette Ball, in this city, in the year 1824.

The Wilmington Excelsior Brass Band have received new silver instruments.

The receipts of cotton for this port today foot up 618 bales.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for using in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. W. Sherar, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, New York. 4w
