Death of Maj. Engelhard.
It is with great regret that we announce to our readers the death of Maj. Jos. A. Engelhard, Secretary of State, which sad event occurred at Raleigh at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The news reaches us just as we are going to press.

Criminal Court.
His Honor Judge Meares presiding:
The following cases were disposed of to-day:
State vs Susan Winstead, charged with bigamy. Old trial.
The Grand Jury came into Court and submitted their report, when the thanks of the Court were tendered the jurors for their diligence and efficiency and they were then discharged.

City Court.
Alderman Bowden, Mayor pro tem, presiding:
Maria Wortham, colored, a half-witted sort of creature, was arraigned on the charge of being drunk and disorderly, the testimony being to the effect that the defendant was not only drunk, but very disorderly, resisting the police and so forth.
The acting Mayor thought five days in the cell would sober her and so expressed himself, whereupon the prisoner was escorted below.

Divine Service.
The Rev. Dr. Gallaudet, Rector of St. Ann's Church, New York, will preach in St. John's Church to-morrow (Sunday) evening at 8 o'clock. The reverend gentleman's theme on this occasion will, we understand, refer to the education of deaf mutes and the progress of church work among them. After the regular services Dr. Gallaudet will exemplify the mode of instruction and worship among those unfortunate who are not permitted to praise God by word of mouth, but who have to perform their devotions by signs alone.

Nutritious Cookery.
Nothing is so well calculated to promote good health and good humor as light, easily-digested nutritious cookery. With that unrivalled article, DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, in the kitchen, elegant, white, light, and wholesome bread rolls, biscuits, cake of every kind, and corn bread, waffles, muffins, buckwheat-cakes, etc., are always possible in every household.

Grand Demonstration.

The members of Ingenious Lodge No. 72, I. O. of G. S. and D. of S., a colored organization in this city, will celebrate its first Anniversary on the 3rd proximo. The other Lodges of like character in this city will participate, and visiting Lodges from South Carolina, Georgia and Florida have been invited and are expected to be present.

Fiftieth Anniversary of the Knights of Pythias.

Wednesday next, the 19th inst., being the 15th anniversary of the introduction of the Order of Knights of Pythias, Germania Lodge, No. 4, of this city, will celebrate it by parading on horseback in the afternoon in full uniform. The procession will form on Fifth, between Chesnut and Mulberry streets, at 2 o'clock and headed by the Cornet Concert Club will move down Fifth to Ann, down Ann to Front, up Front to Red Cross, up Red Cross to Fourth, up Fourth to Bladen, up Bladen to Sixth, down Sixth to Red Cross, up Red Cross to Seventh, down Seventh to Market, down Market to Third, up Third to the City Hall, where the parade will pass in review before His Honor Mayor Fishblade, after which the procession will be dismissed. The G. O. G. P., D. D. G. C.'s and unaffiliated Knights will occupy carriages and will report promptly at the place of assembling at 2 o'clock.

We are requested by the committee of Arrangements, Messrs. W. H. Gerken, H. C. Prempert and F. Lubra, to state that all Knights of Pythias in the city are fraternally invited to join in the procession either on horseback or in carriages as they may elect.

Last Night's Cantata.

A large, fashionable and intelligent audience filled the Tiletson Upper Hall to its utmost capacity last night to witness the rendition of the Cantata, "The School Festival." When the curtain rose there was hardly standing room in the hall. The acting was good, the singing excellent and the young ladies engaged therein beautiful, and their efforts elicited frequent and hearty applause. The Cantata was followed by the family chorus, "We'll have to mortgage the Farm," which was exceedingly well rendered. The "Anvil Chorus," performed by twelve young ladies composing the "Callisthenics Club" of the school, followed next, and was, perhaps, the most attractive feature of the evening. Following this were "Pantomime Exercises" in which were represented the attitudes and emotions of listening, looking, grief, fear, anger, affection, devotion, which were beautifully rendered and heartily applauded.

The music was conducted by Miss Alice M. Hayt to whom too much credit cannot be given. The exercises closed at 10 o'clock and all went to their homes satisfied with an evening well and pleasantly spent.

The Weather for 1879.

Richard Mansfield's Almanac of Planetary Meteorology for 1879 has the following: If the positions of the planets affect the temperature of our earth's atmosphere during the year 1879, as they have when in similar positions during the past years (particularly the positions that gave us the mild winter of 1877-78 and early spring of 1876), we may expect very erratic seasons during 1879. Agreeable to the theory we shall have cool weather set in early in the autumn of 1879; it will grow cooler some what faster than the mean of the seasons in November and through December, with temperature below the mean; winter will continue through February, followed by a cold March. We shall be flattered by the prospect of spring during a few days about the middle of April, while Mercury is about passing its inferior conjunction with the sun, but this will soon pass away, and the weather, or temperature, sink below the average of the season, and will probably remain below the mean throughout May, June and July—while we shall move into a hot, stormy summer about the last day of August, and these conditions continuing through September and most of October. Between the autumn and winter months cool draughts will likely prevail over large landed countries in the temperate zone, located far from the sea, while an excess of cool rains will probably occur on or about the seacoast countries during the same term. These abnormal irregularities of the seasons of 1879 must affect the crops in many and great parts of the earth during the year.

Unless a man marries and becomes a father, his mission on earth isn't accomplished. We can only prove this by the furniture man who sells cradles.

Not Fatal.
We are glad to learn that, in the opinion of the attending physicians, the colored man who was injured by the explosion at the "rock quarry," near Rocky Point a few days since, has a fair prospect of recovery.

Ward Meetings Last Night.
The First, Third, Fourth and Fifth Wards passed resolutions re-affirming their views as expressed at their meetings last Monday night, requesting the Legislature to continue in office the present Board of Aldermen for the next two years.

In the Second Ward provision was made for a conference between the City Executive Committee and the several Ward Committees, without placing the representatives under instructions.
The following are the names of the Ward Committees of Conference:
First Ward—Charles Murphy, John L. Dudley and A. B. Perse.
Second Ward—Col James G. Burr. A. T. London and Col Roger Moore.
Third Ward—E. S. Martin, J. W. Perdue and H. A. Dagg.
Fourth Ward—Capt D. R. Murchison, Maj James Reilly and H. Brunhill.
Fifth Ward—F. H. Darby, W. H. Griffith and A. H. Leslie.

It is to be hoped that the conference may effect a reconciliation of all the differences of opinion which may exist, and that the best interests of the party and the city be subserved.

Lippincott's Magazine.

Several articles in Lippincott's Magazine for March are noticeable alike for their timely interest and their fine illustrations. "A Day with Hudson's Bay Dog-Sledges" gives a vivid picture of winter travel over frozen wastes. The "Pottery and Porcelain of the Paris Exposition" are described with thorough knowledge and discrimination by Jennie J. Young, author of "The Ceramic Art," whose paper is embellished with cuts of some of the choicest specimens of the different schools. The mournful career of Richard Realf is recounted by his friend, Rossiter Johnson, and a portrait of the handsome and unfortunate poet strengthens this appeal to the reader's sympathies. Edward King concludes his sketches of Hungarian and Austrian scenes with a sparkling and well-illustrated description of Vienna "Live Wood in our Whipping Post" by Howard M. Jenkins, may be commended to the attention of all who are interested in the subject of criminal legislation. Under the title of "My Village in the South" Miss Annie Porter begins what promises to be a very entertaining series of pictures of Southern life. "Monsieur Pampalon's Repentance," and amusing story of French manners; "Joseph's Adventure," which is a glimpse of the ruler and more adventurous life of California; "Women's Husbands," of which the opening tale is concluded in this number; "Through Windy Ways," and many shorter contributions preserve the usual variety and piquancy of the Magazine.

The Conference Committee.

The Conference Committee composed of three members from each Ward met at Munds' Hall this afternoon and decided to petition the Legislature to continue the present Board of Aldermen in office for two years longer, upon the express understanding however, that the present incumbents resign whenever a majority of the voters of their Wards request them so to do.
