The jury, after an absence of about an hour returned a verdict of "Guilty of Manslaughter," as to both of the defendants. Judgment has not yet been prayed by the Solicitor, but it probably will be to-morrow, when sentence will be pronounced by the Judge.

Regulations for Lent.

The following regulations for Lent have been issued by the Archbishop of Baltimore, (Most Rev. Dr. Gibbons) which will be of interest to many of our readers: "Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, falls on the 26th day of February. All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year are, unless legitimately dispensed, bound to observe the fast of Lent. They are to take only one meal a day excepting Sundays. The meal allowed on fast-days is not to be taken until about noon. Flesh meat and fish are not to be used at the same meal during Lent. A small refreshment, commonly called collation, is allowed in the evening, not to exceed the fourth part of an ordinary meal. It is permitted to use bread, butter, cheese, eggs, milk, all kinds of fruits, salads, vegetables, and fish at the collation. General usage has made it lawful to take in the morning some warm liquid, as tea, coffee, or thin chocolate made with water, and a mouthful of bread. Necessity and custom have authorized the use of hog's lard instead of butter in preparing permitted food. The following persons are exempted from obligations of fasting: Persons under twenty-one years of age, the sick, nursing women, those who are obliged to do hard labor, all who through weakness cannot fast without great prejudice to their health. By dispensation the use of flesh meat will be allowed at all meals on Sundays, and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with the exception of Holy Thursday and the second and last Saturdays of Lent. The faithful are reminded that besides the obligation of fasting imposed by the church, this holy season of Lent should be in an episcopal manner a time of earnest prayer, of sorrow for sin, of exclusion from the world and its amusements, and of generous alms-giving. The Paschal time extends from the first Sunday of Lent till Trinity Sunday, during which time all Catholics who have attained the use of reason are bound to prepare themselves to receive worthily the holy communion. The holy season of Lent is a very proper time, also, for children to go to their first communion, which they ought to do generally when about seven years of age. Parents should see to this."

The New Secretary of State.

We understand that Hon. John Manning, to whom the position of Secretary of State, made vacant by the death of the lamented Maj. Engelhard, was on Monday last offered, has declined the offer, for reasons which have been made known to us but which are of a private nature. The office has since been tendered to Col. W. L. Saunders, formerly of the WILMINGTON JOURNAL, who has signified his acceptance of the same.

We are glad to learn this. Next to Maj. Engelhard, no man in the State (and we do not except any) has done more to promote the interests of the Democratic party and, in consequence, of the people of the State, than has William L. Saunders. This is a fact especially known and appreciated by the people of this section and we are glad to see a recognition of the same, even if it is a tardy one, from those high in place at the Capitol.

Bald headed people count themselves among the immortal few that were not born to dye.

Mal. Engelhard's Last Hours.

From a gentleman in this city, who was present in Raleigh on Monday, we have learned some particulars as to the last hours of the lamented Maj. Engelhard. His condition was found to be decidedly worse on last Saturday morning, the day of his death and in was on that morning that awakening from a short doze, with his head on his daughter's arm, he enquired very calmly of her if he was dying. The question was one so full of anguish to the young lady that she could not reply but at once burst into tears. This was a sufficient reply to the question. Some time after that Maj. Engelhard expressed a desire to see Dr. Marshall, Rector of Christ Church, and it was to him that he made a profession of faith in the Episcopal Church and from him that he received, first the rite of baptism and afterwards the Sacrament. About 11 o'clock the dying man relapsed gradually into unconsciousness from which he did not arouse. His end was quiet and peaceful and he died with scarcely any demonstration of pain.

The body did not lie in state at the Capitol. Such was, indeed, the desire of many, but the bereaved family and some of Maj. Engelhard's warmest personal friends objected. Hence, the funeral took place from the Yarrowborough House, where the family resided, thence to the Capitol, where all the officials and members of the Legislature joined it, thence to Christ Church and thence to Oakwood Cemetery. It was a fearful day, but notwithstanding the rain and the slush and the cold, the ceremonies were very largely attended.

Major Engelhard's family are plunged in the deepest distress. He had been sick such a short time and had always enjoyed such robust health that the shock was simply appalling in its severity. His entire devotion to his family had idolized him in their eyes and hence the blow has left them almost completely crushed under the weight of their sorrow. Such was their devotion to him that he was nursed all through his illness by his two daughters alone, they refusing to surrender the task even to his most intimate friends.

There is one thing we are glad of, however, and that is that the family of the lamented deceased will not be left unprovided for in the future. Maj. Engelhard's life was insured for $19,500 and all of this sum will, we presume, soon be paid over to his family.

Criminal Court.

His Honor Judge Meares presiding.

The following cases were disposed of today:

State vs. Mary Stuart, charged with assault and battery. Verdict guilty.

State vs. Jno. N. Hines, charged with retailing without a license. On trial.

Grand Parade.

According to announcement the Knights of Pythias had a grand parade through our principal streets this afternoon, commemorative of the foundation of the Order. The members of the order participating in the pageant were either mounted or in carriages, and in their fine and attractive paraphernalia made an impressive appearance. The Excelsior Band furnished the music for the occasion.

These who'll read this rhyme and visit our store
Will appreciate more than ever before
That our motto does not vainly aspire
To climb Olympus, and ingloriously expire
In the attempt, but keeps an even pace
With the time, and always points to the place
Where they "blow" about one special thing,
Which has, without doubt, the true business ring.

And this thing we will briefly explain,
With the hope that we will cause no pain
To brother grocers, who, in years gone by,
Learned to get goods at figures that were high.

Unfortunately we see some of them incline
To follow the customs of "Auld Lang Syne";
But we consider it matter of congratulation
That we've no foggy notions in our education
In old time "big profits" had a wide range,
And old habits are hard, hard to change.
Of Wilmington grocers we take the lead!
Now to prove this assertion we only need
To remind the public that our clean new store
Made others be painted and swept a little more!

Like all business men who are truly wise,
We at once began to extensively advertise,
When our friends catching the idea, thought
It well
To increase their space, as the print will tell!

A first we put some poetry in our "ad,"
But when they saw this plan was not bad,
They followed our lead. And when we tried
Prose
They followed as nicely as if led by the nose!
We next thought 'twould be well to try
Rhyme,
When lo! they grasped the idea as sublime!
Though they have followed in all we have done,
When this battle is well fought and won,
Some will see that "extra percent." isn't
"nonsense."

But with old stock and such heavy expense,
They will find that the prices of P. L. Bridgers & Co.
If followed will surely bring them to woe!

To prove that we mean what we say,
We announce that we sell for a week from to-day,
Eleven pounds of "A Sugar" for only one dollar,
Which lead we invite all grocers to follow.
The mass here caught sight of that rare horse grinding machine of Herr Von Kr. Kringle, and was so thoroughly disgusted at the cheap way of grinding out poetry that neither love nor money could induce him to finish our rhyme, so it had to come to an abrupt ending.

Respectfully and Truly,
Jan 24 P. L. BRIDGERS & CO.
