No City Court to-day.
Windy and dusty to-day.

The young folks indulged in a German last night.

Collections made at each place for Discerning Missions.

To-morrow is Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent.

But temperature for house plants, forty five degrees at night, seventy degrees in the day.

Coroner Hewlett has so far recovered from his recent sickness as to be able to be on the streets yesterday.

DuBrutz Cutlar, Esq., Chairman of the Democratic City Executive Committee left again this morning for Raleigh.

Third street, between Chestnut and Mulberry, has recently received some improvements which it would not hurt to extend a little farther North.

The storm signal is fluttering in the breeze again to-day, but the storm in this locality, we are informed, is mostly outside in the deep blue sea.

We very diffidently suggest that 5 o'clock, P. M., during a dry spell, is not the best time in the world to sweep and scatter the dust on the corner of Market and Front streets.

Westward, the "Star of the Empire" took his flight this morning. He was chasing his hat down Market street to catch it before it got in the dock. The chase was a hard one but he merited the success he achieved.

From the Charlotte Observer we learn that at a recent election of officers of the Davidson College Volunteers, Mr. C. C. Bellamy, son of Dr. Jno. D. Bellamy, of this city, was chosen as one of the officers of the volunteers.

Internal Revenue Collector Smith made a raid through Pender county last week and succeeded in hauling up one violator of the revenue law. Week before last he raided through Brunswick county but with what success we did not learn.

The officers at the City Hall and also those of the Superior Court Clerk, Criminal Court Clerk, Sheriff and Register of Deeds at the Court House, were all closed at 2 o'clock this afternoon to remain so for the balance of the day, out of respect to the memory of our late esteemed fellow citizen Col. Wm. S. Devane.

Under the 1812 Pension Act, any person who served fourteen days, or participated in one battle, in the War of 1812, is entitled to a pension of $8 per month from date of approval of act. Widows of such soldiers as have died after similar service, no matter what was the date of marriage to the soldier, are entitled to the same pension. All 1812 pensioners dropped from the Rolls because of alleged disloyalty are restored by this act. No other parties are entitled.

Indications.
WAR DEPARTMENT
Office of the Chief Signal Officer,
Washington D. C., Feb. 25, 1879.
For the South Atlantic States, Southerly to Westerly winds, partly cloudy weather, and light rains, with stationary or slowly falling barometer, and slight changes in temperature.

Unmailable.
The following is a list of unmailable letters remaining in the City Postoffice:
G. W. Ford, Baltimore, Md.; Dr. Daniel Dupre, Nashville, Tenn.; E. Morgan, care Wm E. Woodball & Co., Baltimore, Md.; Jane Quince, Boston, Mass.; one white envelope, no address.

Household Economy.
The housekeeper or cook who studies economy in the kitchen, can do so in one direction by always using Dooley's Yeast Powder. It will be found a truly economical and valuable assistant in baking biscuits, rolls, bread, cake of all kinds, waffles, muffins, and most all articles prepared from flour; and why? Because, in using the Dooley Powder you save in eggs, in shortening, in patience, in everything; and when the baking is done, it is turned out light, palatable, and wholesome, so that every morsel is eaten up and no waste.

The white of an egg is said to be a specific for fish bones sticking in the throat. It is to be swallowed raw, and will carry down a bone easily and certainly. There is another fact touching eggs which it will be well to remember. When, as sometimes by accident, corrosive sublimate is swallowed, the white of one or two eggs taken will neutralize the poison, and change the effect to that of a dose of calomel.

Personal.
Mr. J. I. Meares, formerly of this city but now a traveling salesman for Messrs. Arbuckle Brothers of New York, who are large importers of coffee, is in the city and in order to introduce their goods throughout the South, Mr. Meares is distributing samples of parched coffee. He represents a very prominent wholesale house and we wish him every success in his new field of labor. To-morrow the distribution of samples will be commenced in this city and continued until every one has had a free treat.

The North Carolina Gazette Resumed.
It is with much pleasure that we note the resumption by Mr. J. H. Myrover of the publication of the Fayetteville Gazette, that good old Democratic beacon which has shown with so much lustre, and so much to the benefit of the party, in times past. The Gazette was suspended early in January, in consequence, as Mr. Myrover stated, of the impossibility of making collections and now, in response to the general desire, he has concluded to resume. We have missed its bright face and gladly hail its return. Mr. Myrover has our most cordial wishes for a future success.

The Acanthus.
Miss Annie Maria Barnes, the accomplished editor of The Acanthus, published at Atlanta, Georgia, is in the city in the interest of her paper and will call on the merchants to-morrow soliciting patronage for her enterprise. Her whole soul seems to be in her work, which is one of both labor and love, and we wish her the success she so richly deserves. One peculiar feature of the Acanthus is that it is set up and worked off by young ladies.

Miss Barnes brings letters of introductions to several of our most prominent citizens who have called on her at the Purcell House, where she is stopping.

A Railroad "Wedding"
Sunday's Charlotte Observer says: The president and board of directors of the Atlanta & Charlotte Air Line Railroad arrived in the city yesterday, having spent over a week on a tour of inspection of the road. They were met here by Capt. V. Q. Johnson, Superintendent, and Dr. C. H. Roberts, General Manager of the Carolina Central, and Maj. J. C. Winder, Superintendent of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad. The whole party left the city at 3 p. m., on a special train of magnificently furnished parlor cars, for Hamlet, and thence to their respective homes. The boys called it the wedding of the Carolina Central and Atlanta & Charlotte Air Line.

U. S. Detectives and Their Practices.

The case referred to in yesterday's REVIEW before U. S. Commissioner McQuigg, wherein one J. W. Whitney, a "genitral" of much "stinct-ion," in that he has been acting as a Detective for the United States government, was on trial for perjury, was brought to a close last night, John L. Holmes, Esq., who appeared for the plaintiff, making a very argumentative and convincing speech at the close of the examination.

The Commissioner, we are informed, reserved his decision until Thursday.

If our memory serves us right it has not been more than two years since the Grand Jury of the U. S. District Court, then in session in this city, presented several bills of indictment against this same class of people, of which the fellow Whitney is a fit representative, for being overzealous in their business, and of detecting irregularities where none existed, of making false arrests and so forth, and subjecting many good and law-abiding citizens to a great deal of inconvenience and hardship by compelling them to leave their homes and business to appear before a U. S. Commissioner upon some trumped-up charge, so that the detective and witness might be able to draw their per diem and fees from the government. But the time for such operations has played out now completely and it would be well for these gentry to make a note of this and govern themselves accordingly. With the repeal of the odious test oath, which will soon become a law of Congress, respectable citizens in the South as well as bummers and hirelings can be seated on a jury for the trial of any case in the U. S. Courts. We heard this morning of another instance where a white fellow who acts as detective for the United States Government entered a drug store in this city not long since, and thinking he had discovered a mare's nest, hurried off to a U. S. official with the information that such a party was selling tobacco at his place of business with the stamps remaining, contrary to law, on the packages uncancelled, and asked for a warrant for the gentleman's arrest without further ado. But the officer to whom the report was made, having a little more discretion than the paid spy, proceeded to investigate the matter and satisfied himself that the detective had been in too much of a hurry and had, in consequence, made a false report. We trust that the next Grand Jury of the U. S. District Court will, when this Court convenes here in May next, make a thorough investigation of all such cases, and we know that in the event of any true bills being found His Honor Judge Brooks, the man who saved North Carolina once from the tyrant's heel, will mete out to all such offenders against the law and the rights of citizens a just punishment for their offences.

The Military Convocation.
The election of Field Officers of the Second Regiment of North Carolina State Guard will not take place until this evening about 9 o'clock, as the representatives of all the different companies composing this regiment will not be able to reach the city until 7:55 this evening, by the Carolina Central train.

The only officers now present are Captains Worth and Robinson of Co. A., (Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry) and the officers of the two Wilmington Companies, C. and D., the Wilmington Light Infantry and Whiting Rifles.

In this connection we will take occasion to explain what otherwise might seem a little paradoxical in referring to the arrival of two Captains, to wit, Worth and Robinson, from one company, while, in fact neither of these is really the commander of the company they represent.

Owing to the service which the old Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry (now Co. A. of the Second Regiment N. C. State Guard) rendered during the war of 1812, the State Legislature shortly after that period passed an act giving the Company four commissioned officers, besides the commander, and conferring the title of Major upon the commanding officer, and that of Captain upon all the other commissioned officers of this Company. Hence what is known as Lieutenants in other commands are ranked as Captains in the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, which is among the oldest, if not the oldest Company in the United States, having been organized during the last century, in the year 1793.

Always keep the bottle handy, Do not place it out of sight, For it cured our little Andy, Who was coughing day and night. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

U. S. Inspectors.

Messrs. Wm. Kirkwood and E. E. Hewes, of Charleston, S. C. United States Inspectors of the boilers and hulls of steamboats, are in this city on an inspection tour and to-day subjected the steamer Wave, of the Express Steamboat Line, to an examination, as the result of which was, the steamer passed muster and the agents received the official certificate from the above named officials to that effect.

The Fire.
The fire this afternoon was at the C. C. Railway and among about twenty bales of cotton on the upper end of the yard. Supposed to have caught from a spark. Mr. Meares, the Freight Agent, put his yard bucket brigade at work and got the fire out before the steamers arrived. The damage was light.

The fire steamers were all out as well as the Hook and Ladder Companies, but it was a long time before they could locate the fire. None of them arrived at the scene, all having turned back at the welcome cry of "all out."

To Oakdale.
The remains of Col. W. S. Devane were followed to Oakdale this afternoon by a large concourse of friends and acquaintances.

The funeral services were had over the remains at the First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Dr. Wilson, Pastor of the Church, and Rev. Mr. Yates, of the Front Street Methodist Church. The pall bearers were Hon. O. P. Meares, A. T. Jno. L. Holmes, Capt. W. A. Cumming, Messrs. Marsden Bellamy, Hugh W. McLaurin, Geo. Chadbourne and H. VonGlabn and Capt. W. R. Kozan.

Col. Devane.
In making up our remarks yesterday in reference to the death of the lamented Col. Wm. S. Devane there was one thing we desired to state, which was omitted. In 1868, during the dark days of reconstruction, Col. Devane was chosen by his party as their standard bearer for Judge Russell, the Radical nominee. He was defeated, of course, but that was because some of the best men in the district were disfranchised and the Radicals took advantage of the presence of the United States troops here to perpetrate all manner of contemptible frauds. We mention this fact merely to show the estimation in which Col. Devane was held by the people of this city and section.
