The North Carolina Medical Journal.

The February number of this valuable magazine has been laid upon our table.
It contains a number of able and carefully written papers of importance to the profession in whose interest and advancement it is published.

The leading editorial article, "A Lesson about Drinking Water," is a truly able and valuable paper, which we wish could be read by every citizen, or, at least by every head of a family, in this city. It treats of the matter in a candid and dispassionate manner, yet it cannot fail to produce a shudder in the minds of all who have the vital interests of the city at heart.
We wish that the entire article could be presented to the people of the city, or, at least, to the thinking portion of its inhabitants, that they might be awakened to the perils with which they are threatened; and we hope that the matter may be brought speedily to the notice of those in authority, and whose duty it is to look after every interest of the people, that they may be warned in season and take such steps as will remove as far as possible the dangers of an epidemic. The writer of the editorial in question deserves much credit for the manner in which he has called attention to this threatening danger from the use of impure water.

Make No Mistake.

In Dooley's Yeast Powder you get the best article of the kind in the world. The cans are always full weight, the article itself the purest and strongest possible, so that a smaller quantity than usual suffices. Do you want your baking always perfect? Don't fail then to use Dooley's Yeast Powder.

Typographical.

We have received from Mr. S. G. Hall's book and job printing house in this city, a quantity of blotters upon which are a calendar for the present month and his business card. The work is finely executed, and his name printed in very pale pink, and extending across the entire face of the blotter, in which each individual letter is arranged from corresponding letters from a font of ordinary type, is peculiarly pretty and in excellent taste.

Home Production.

Messrs. D. A. Smith & Co. are busy to-day receiving a consignment of furniture of various kinds, desks, chairs, tables, bureaus &c., made at works at Old Fort, in this State, of which Messrs. Smith & Co. are the agents here. They come in various kinds of wood, oak, chestnut, walnut, maple and popular are evidently put up with much care and skill. The finishing touches are given them here. Capt. W. J. Calais, formerly of this city is in charge of these works.

For the Cape Fear.

By telegraphic dispatch from Hon. M.
W. Ransom, United States Senator from this State, to A. H. VanBokkelen, Esq. of this city, received yesterday, we are glad to announce that the appropriation for the improvement of the Cape Fear river is $100,000, instead of $25,000, as at first stated. We are pleased to note this inasmuch as the sum appropriated, judiciously expended, will be of great and lasting benefit, while the paltry sum at first reported would be only a waste of the money.

Election of Officers.

At the regular annual meeting of the W. S. F. Engine Company No. 1, held last night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Foreman—J. W. Lamb.

First Assistant Foreman—J. N. Huske.

Second " " E. G. Parmalee

Corresponding Secretary—A. C. Croft.

Recording Secretary—H. D. Burkhimer.

Treasurer—J. Gause.

Chief Engineer—E. W. Manning.

First Assistant Engineer—W. J.
Smith; Second Assistant, Harry Hill.

These are all re-elections except the Recording Secretary, Mr. Burkheimer being chosen to succeed Mr. W. W. Shaw, who declined another term.

The Company adopted the new uniform recommended by the committee and also passed a resolution thanking Capt. A. D.
Cazaux, of the New York line of steamers, for bringing out the new hose reel.

The Convention of the O. K. S. B.

The Triennial Convention of the Jewish Order Keshar Shel Barzel will be held in the city of New York, at Pythagoras Hall, Nos. 134 and 136 Canal street, on Sunday morning, March 9th, and will be called to order at ten o'clock precisely.
The convention, when in session, is styled the Supreme Lodge of the Order, and is composed of one delegate from each subordinate lodge, and will continue in session four or five days, or until its business is completed.

The Order is a very important and flourishing one, having increased rapidly within the last five years, and has lodges in almost all the principal cities of the United States and Canada.

Important matters will come before the convention for consideration, such as constitutional changes, the ritual, geographical boundaries of districts, etc.

Mr. S. Hanstein, of this city, is the representative for the State at large and will leave here on Friday to attend the Supreme Lodge of the Order.

One of the demi-monde from Paddy's Hollow was arrested last night for being drunk and disorderly and this morning released with a reprimand.

Premium Wine.

We can confidently recommend Speer's Port Grape Wine, which was awarded the highest premium at the World's Fair, as a superior article of wine for the sick and debilitated, and all those who require vicious stimulation and invigoration.

The Vineyards are at Passaic, New Jersey, near New York City. Messrs.
J. C. Munds, P. L. Bridges & Co. and Green & Flanner sell the Wine.

Wilmington District.

First round of Quarterly Meetings, with odds B. Church, South.
Topsail, at Union, March 8 and 9.
Onslow, at Tabernacle, March 15 and 16.
The District Stewards will please meet me at the Parsonage of Front street Church, Wilmington, Feb. 25th, 1879, at 10 o'clock, A. M. A full attendance is desired.
L. S. BURKHEAD,
Presiding Elder.

Sold and Got the Money.

Mr. F. A. Newbury, the live grocery man on North Water street, says that he has sold one thousand dozen eggs to-day at ten cents a dozen.

There's a sum for you, sonny! See how long it would take for one hen to lay that many eggs, or how many hens it would require to lay the same number of eggs in one day.

Hon. Kemp P. Battle.

We learn that Hon. Kemp P. Battle, President of the University of North Carolina, has written a letter to Rev. Dr.
Bernheim, President of the Historical and Scientific Society, of this city, stating that he will deliver a lecture in Wilmington sometime between the 10th of April and the 31st of May next. We do not know what subject Mr Battle intends to discuss, but it will probably be something in the interest of the University.

The Colfax.

The Revenue Cutter Colfax, which is to relieve the Crawford, has not yet arrived here, although she has been daily expected for a week past. A note from a friend at Wilmington, Del., dated on Monday, explains her non appearance.
Our friend writes: "The Colfax left this port for Wilmington, N. C. on the 28th ult, but after proceeding a few miles down the river she encountered very heavy fields of floating ice which rendered navigation so very difficult that she was obliged to back out and return to port.
An examination showed some slight disturbances, such as copper turn in several places and some of the buckets of the wheels broken. These have all been repaired and the boat will probably start again for your port on or about the 6th inst.

The Colfax has been greatly improved here. She is now the largest ship in the revenue service on the Atlantic Coast and, in my opinion, the best. The officers at present attached to her are as follows: Frank Barr, Captain; J. U. Rhodes, Lieutenant;
M. T. Chevers, Chief Engineer, and E. P.
Webber, Second Assistant Engineer. You will recognize all old friends in this list."

The Pathfinders.

In view of the fact that this Company will appear at the Opera House this evening, we publish herewith what one of our nearest neighbors has to say of the performance of the troupe. We clip from yesterday's Raleigh Observer:

A fair audience greeted this company last night at Tucker Hall. The piece presented, "Scraps," if piece it can be called, is certainly sui generis, consisting of a succession of burlesques and extrava-ganzas,avoring more, perhaps, of opera bouffe than anything else, but with less of plot or connection. But whatever the shortcomings of "Scraps," the actors assuredly found the path to the risibles of their audience, when they kept in an almost uninterrupted roar of laughter throughout their mirth provoking performance. On the rendition of their several parts, a feature worthy of praise and imitation by actors of greater pretensions is the life and spirit which they throw each into his respective role, and maintain without flagging to the end.

Upon this mimic scene the "man and brother," as in politics, loomed up in large proportions, Mr. Newrow being welcomed always with shouts of laughter and applause, and doing to perfection not only his absurdities, but bearing himself with equal merit with the "Jaspers" in their creditable grand and lofty tumbling. The music is only ordinary, the aria from Gioffo Gioffo, though given with vim, not being a pleasant reminder of the peerless Aimee; and Miss Jasper too, is best in Dollie Debbins and Biddy Mulrooney, in which she is really attractive. In his amusing imitations of actors Mr Rogers, perhaps, is the most natural as Fechter; but the others are well rendered, and one who cannot enjoy a hearty laugh at the Pathfinders must have little appreciation of fun.

MR. EDITOR REVIEW.

Without presuming in the least to dictate to the different papers published in our city, the manner in which they should be conducted, or the character of the articles printed in their columns, yet, in the name of decency, I must protest against the publication of such a disgusting item as the one that appeared in all of our papers on yesterday. The influence of the press upon the morals of a community cannot be overestimated and that influence should always be exercised for good. Can any good result in any way from the publication, and so much in detail too, of such a revolting circumstance as the one to which I refer? The papers of the city are welcome guests in every household in our midst, they are read by young and old, male and female, and read with avidity, and I respectfully submit that too much care cannot be taken to avoid the publication of anything that would shock the generality of the modest or wound the piety of the devout.

For the Review.

The Western N. C. Railroad.

MR. EDITOR:
Taxing the people of the State about two hundred thousand dollars a year for the benefit of the Bondholders of this road, is repudiated by the people of the State. The people of eastern and middle North Carolina pay twenty-four out of every twenty-five dollars that goes into the State Treasury, and to take their substance in this way to carry on this mammoth Western North Carolina railroad scheme—that will never benefit the East—is an intolerable burden upon the East. Wealthy bondholders are thus favored to the neglect of internal improvement schemes in the East and in the middle of the State that are as important and necessary to the development and interest of North Carolina as this Western N. C. R.
Road. The men who dig the soil and toil and toil at industrial pursuits want to know why this unfairness and ruinous discrimination is allowed?
These mortgage bondholders are not in Western North Carolina; most of them even reside elsewhere.

The people are becoming indignant at being taxed to death to build railroads for wealthy holders of railroad mortgage bonds of railroads that will be of service only to certain sections of the State. Turn on the lights and let justice be done.
