George Hargreaves, eighty years of age. Liverpool merchant of good standing has, just been sentenced to five years' penal servitude for forging a bill of exchange for $5,000.

The people of Rhole Island will give Senator Burnside a reception when he returns home. It has been something like ten years since a Rhode Island man mustered up nerve enough to call a mar a liar, and the pride of the State is touched.

Over 76,000 head of cattle are shut up on the grazing range in Nebraska, between the two forks of the Platte river. The deep snows prevent their reaching the grass, and some have already starved. Fears are entertained of the loss of the entire herd.

ture, the other day, a lawyer sn eeringly General James Shields, the hero of two remarked to a journalist, who had the wars" as his particular friends like to deto | "ferret out rogues and thieves." Whereupon the editor mildly rejoined that it was "the function of lawyers to this he was feted and feasted in severa defend rogues and thieves."

Somehow or other the Treasury accounts show that from 1874 to 1878 the Republican financiers in charge of the Treasury Department have paid $8,209;-433 more interest than the public debt calls for. This is a significant fact in connection with Senator Davis' revelations of the forced balances and erasures on the Treasury books.

Gen. Skobeleff is about to be appointed Governor-General of the Province of Kazan, holding at the same time the command of the troops within the Kazan military district. As the appointment is one of the most important in Russia, it is considered by his friends that the merits of the hero of Plevna are at last to receive imperial recognition.

A salt well at Le Roy, N. Y., Lad been Congress on the Mexican bill. with a stove, and the blaze rose a hundred cet into the air. A volume of water came nex', smelling and tasting strongly of sul phur. The superstitious workmen fled in dismay, supp wing that the infernal regions had been tapped.

Senator Bayand, of Delaware, has nine children. His o'dest son, aged about nineteen years, is a student at the University of Virginia. Several of the older children go to school in Washington City. His wife has very little disposition for receity life, and passes her time with her children, giving an occasional plain reception.

The Rev. Jo Cook thus analyzes the action of a boy who climbs a tree to steal apples: "The apples are the objective natural motive; the boy's appetite is the subjective natural motive; his intention is his moral motive ' The Chicago Tribune alds the following: "The seat of the boy s pantaleons is the bulldog's objective natural motive; the dog's appetite for small boys is the subjective natural motive; he has no moral motive; his intention is to make mincement of the kid."

Corporal purishment is still permitted in the public schools of Boston, subject to the rule that it shall always consist of blows on the hand with a rattan. Superintendent Eliot advocates further restriction, so that whippings shall never be inflicted while the teacher is in a passion. "There should be," he says, "an interval between the offence and the chastisement at least as long as that between two sessions." But imagine the terturing suspense in which the pupil would be placed

The story recently set affoat that a real pirate had been seen plundering a ship outside the harbor of Cork, it now turns out was set affoat for a particular purpose. The British gunboat, Goshawk has been for ome time ; ast engaged in protecting the fisheries t blackrock, near Cork, and it is supposed that, in order to carry out their illegal practic s, some fishermen circulated the rumor that a pirate vessel was off the harbor. The intelligence being conveyed to Lleyd's, the gunboat was ordered out to look after the phantom depredator. In the meantime the piscatorial poachers threw out their seines and made large

A PROFITABLE BUSINESS

Corbin, of South Carolina, who for two years has been persistently working to obtain the seat in the United States Senate to which Gen. M. C. Butler was elected and which he occupies, has retired finally from the contest. A bill has been introduced into the Senate appropriating $10,000 to Corbin. We hope and trust that bill will not pass, for he had no valid claim to the seat, and the appropriation would be, in fact, but so much money bestowed upon a scoundrel in his attempt to perpetrate a fraud. To give a man $5,000 a year who was trying to defeat the expressed will of a sovereign State and rob a Senator of the honors to which the voice of the people had exalted him, is paying possibly no more than the average price for Republican rascality, but it is rather more, we think, than a Democratic Congress will feel called upon to pay. It such a precedent were once established, the business of defeated candidates would be one of the most profitable in which a needy politician could engage, and their number would soon be rapidly on the in-

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

No man ever exhibited sublimer cour age on the battle field than did Col. Jefferson Davis at the head of his regiment of Mississippi Rifles at the battle of Buena Vista, and no one single officer or soldier did more to cause victory to perch upon the American standard on that eventful day, than the distinguished gentleman named above. The result of the battle of Buena Vista was one of the series of important victories which led to an early termination of the war with Mexico and which gained for the United States the untold wealth acquired by the annexation of California. All of During a debate in the Maine Legisla- this was brought about by Southern valor. nominate him, received the most of his reputation while in command of troops from the Southern States, and in addition Southern cities, after the close of the Mexican war; in return for which kindness he led a host of invaders during the late war upon Southern soil, who burned, destroyed and devastated the property of some of his former compatriots in arms. Notwithstanding all this, when General Shields' name was mentioned in Congress some months ago for retirement with the rank and pay of a Brigadier-General, his warmest friends and the warmest advocates in favor of this meausure were Southern men. In return for this last kindness, this ingrate alludes to the man whom he knows the Southern people all honor and respect-if for no other considation, for the fact that he has been made the scapegoat for our acts--in the

Mr. Davis certainly deserves greater distinction than any man that we know of now living either North or South for the part that he bore in the war with Mexico, and for the service that he has rendered his country, both in peace and war, there is no man in this fair land of ours whom a majority of the Southern people would rather honor than the hero of Buena Vista

A POINTED SPEECH:

Judge Hoadley, of Cincinnati, delivered an address Saturday night before the Hamilton County Democratic Club, en that fruitful topic, "The Electoral Commission." He drew the curtain from the past in a very effective manner. Indeed the story of 1876-7 cannot be too often repeated before Americans, and the Judge was especially graphic on that Florida business. After relating the steps which led to the order for a second count, he

"Here was the Supreme Court saying, count Manatee, Hamilton, Jackson and Monroe, and here was Zach Chandler, trembling with fear lest the wicked Democracy should get the Presidency, Pony, Blue Grass, Delmonico Ciub House, saying, "You have got to count them, but throw out something else." And the State Returning Board very quietly took Baker county and cut out Darbyville and Jacksonville, and gave Mr Hayes fortysix majority in the State. That is how Florida came to be called a Republican. Stat . Are you surprised that the people of Florida are not in love with Oolong and Imperial Yeas, 25 per cent upthe Republican party? Weat did Florida do? Did it submit to this outrage? The Returning | new Board, inaugurated with coming of a Democratic State administration, made a recanvass of the State and announced that Tilden and Hendricks had carried it, and on the same 26th of January the Legislature sanctioned the recanvass, and put the broad seal of the State of Florida upon the result, by law, Yet, when the Electoral Commission met the ground on which the votes of the State was counted for Hayes and Wheeler was the last ground that would sugget itself—the reason was the sacred destrine of States rights. They had stolen the vote, therefore the State had the sacred right to have it stay stolen. They had stolen the vote, therefore no power existing in the United States could legally

AN EXTRA SESSION.

At 12 o'clock, noon, yesterday, (March 4th) the Forty-fifth Congress of the United States adjourned, without a date. In its final hours it failed to make the necessary appropriations for the Legislative, Executive and Judicial expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1880, and also failed to mame the necessary appropriation for the same period. In consequence of this Mr. Hayes has issued his proclamation calling an extra session of the Forty-sixth Congress, to convene on the 18th inst.
