Cocking Main.

The cocking main which was to have commenced in the pit on Eagle Island today and last for three days is now num bered with the things "that might have been." The pa ties from Halifax county backed down and failed to put in an appearance with their chickens. The Wilmington cocks were, however, spoiling for a little dispute and made several passes at their shadows, then mounted a rosin barrel and gave three lusty flaps of their

Wood's Household Magazine.

Every person becomes morally good or bad and intellectually great or small by the thoughts which occupy his mind from time to time. These thoughts are derived chiefly from reading. But, in order that reading may be in the highest degree reading well and a taste for reading, which can be secured by a supply of appropriate matter, such as will be found in Woods Household Magazine. Indeed this monthly is edited with a special reference to these needs. Having the best American and freign periodicals and The Philomathean Literary Society books published during the past fifty years to select from, Mr. Wood strives to present from month to mouth a "Scrap Book," containing the choicest treasures of the best minds cencerning the various subjects treated. ### The Beard of Health Bill.

From a private letter we learn that the Board of Health bill has passed the Sen ate with a good prospect of passing the House also. This bill provides for a board composed of nine members, six elected by the State Medical Society and three to be appointed by the Governor. It also provides for a Board of Health in every county in the State, with a Superintendent of Health in each county , whese pay is to be equal to the amount paid for land quarantine is to be under the control of the Board of Health. #### Murder of a North Carolinian.

From a private letter received from Hazlehurst, Ga, we learn that Mr. C. C. Britt, formerly of Robeson county, in this State, but more recently a resident of Georgia, was found dead near his house, last Sunday morning (the 9th inst.,) with a bullet hole in his right breast. At the time of his death Mr. Britt was in the employ of Messs. Stansel, Grady & Co, turpentine distillers, who are in business near Hazlehurst. As yet there is no information as towhat cause led to the murder or who was the assassin.

The Star of the Evening. Lovers of astronomy have noticed that for some time past Venus has been preeminently the evening star, for no other planet disputes her sway, nor will till near profitable, there must be a capacity for the end of the month, when Mercury comes in for his share of admiration. Venus is becoming more brilliant and conspicuous every night as she approaches the earth and remains longer above the herizon . Every observer will admire the superb beauty of this radiant star, as suddenly appearing from the depth of space soon after sunset she puts on her starry crown and reigns supreme, the brightest and fairs est of the stars. She holds her court with out a rival until the 24th, when the most interesting planetary exhibition of the month takes place. Venus, Mercury, and the new moon of the 22d, are then in conjunction, and the celestial trio will form a charming group in the twilight glow of the evening sky. Venus sets now at half-past 7; and at the end of the month at a quar-

There was another meeting of the special committee of the Board of Aldermen, on the question of a new market house, held in the City Court Room last night. Quite a large number of citizens were present, and the discussion of the subject was very animated Some little diversion and excitement was given by proposition from Alderman Fester to establish a new market within 600 yards of the City Hall and to pay the city $1. 500 per annum for the same privilege as is claimed by the shareholders of the proto reach their shops, and then passed its posed new market. By a vote on the several readings. The bill to allow the original proposition the committee failed to agree, Aldermen Bowden and Foster voting against and Aldermen Vollers and Hill voting for the measure. Alderman King did not vete, and consequently the vote stood two for, two against and one
