City Court.

A Norwegian sailor who was on a slight tate last night was arrested and conveyed to the lock up. This morning he was arraigned upon the charge of disorderly conduct. The evidence in the case given by officer Webber was rather amusing when the officer stated that the defendant exclaimed that this was a free country and he could do as he pleased; evidently this must be the Norwegian's first visit to America. When this argument failed with the policeman, the hilarious son of Neptune declared he was an officer of a ship and would do as he pleased, but here the subject of King Oscar was checked by the Knight of the Star and informed that if he were a king he could not behave disorderly in the streets of this city without arrest. The Mayor pro temp., imposed a fine of $5.

Handy Williams and George Anderson, two colored men, were brought into Court charged with an affray on the street this morning. The former had the skin on the knuckles on his left hand broken and bleeding from a too close contact with the last named defendant's teeth, and the last mentioned individual came into court spitting blood, the result of a too close contact with his antagonist's fist. His Honor turned them over to Justice Hall for trial.

"It is the Early Bird that Catches the Worm."

That successful merchant and skillful cultivator of the soil, Mr. William B.
Hocutt, of Rocky Point, Pender county, is about ready to commence shipping vegetables to the Northern markets from his highly cultivated and extensive gardens. We have just received from him a fine bunch of very large radishes, which we hardly think can be well beat by any of our early truckers. Those who reach the markets first with vegetables of course receive the best prices and make the most money. Mr. Hocutt, we learn, goes extensively every year into raising almost every variety of garden products for distant markets. There is no county in the State superior to Pender for horticultural and agricultural purposes. Rocky Point is not without grounds for claiming to be the garden spot of the State in rich lands, enterprising men, pretty women and fat babies.

Thief in the House.

A gentleman residing on Dock, between Seventh and Eighth streets, was aroused from his slumbers on Monday night by a noise in the passageway as he thought, but in getting up and stealthily creeping out of his chamber he discovered no one. In a few seconds, however, he distinctly heard the noise in a room at the end of the passage. With lantern and pistol in hand he entered the room when the thief made a rush for the door and passed him before he was hardly aware of it. The house cat was the thief, which had taken a ham-bone from the safe and the gnawing of the bone on the floor made the noise. If you want a fight on your hands just say, "scat!" to that man and your life would not be worth a Penny.

Pass This Around.

Mr. Nathan R. Scott and wife, respectable citizens, and advanced in years, died a few days ago at their residence, Riley's Creek, in Pender county. They have been married over twenty years, and left three grown children—one daughter and two sons. The wife died two days before the husband. From the day of their marriage up to the day of the death of the wife these two devoted people had never separated a single night from the same roof. The daughter had never slept but one night away from the paternal roof. The sons had never been absent a single night from the household up to the death of their parents. If any county in or out of North Carolina can do as well as this, or furnish a parallel case, let us know the county and the case that equals this in family unity and affection.

Wharf at Fort Caswell.

Mr. Geo. Myers, agent, and Capt.
Harper, of the steam yacht Passport, are about to supply a long felt need to this community. They will cause to be erected a handsome wharf at Fort Caswell so that the patrons of their boat can land, and walk through the old Fort, and in warm weather indulge in a surf bath.
The lumber for the wharf was taken down on the Passport this morning and the work of erection will be commenced immediately.

Philomathean Society.

The seventh anniversary of this organization was held at the hall of the Knights of Pythias, opposite the City Hall, last night. During the exercises an interesting and spirited debate, in which Messrs. T. W. Strange and T. H. Mc-Koy, Jr., were participants, was enjoyed by the Society. Martin S. Willard, Esq., President of the Society, read an interesting paper which was listened to with attention and profit. Messrs. J.
Hubert Smith, John J. Fowler and B. G.
Empie were appointed a Committee on Resolutions.

Burglary.

Mr. W. T. Costin, who resides on the corner of Sixth and Nun streets, was awakened about 2 o'clock on Monday morning last, by hearing some one moving around in an adjoining apartment.
He arose and started to see what occasioned the noise when a man dashed through the passage and out of a window at the rear of the house which had been previously opened. Mr. Costin then made a search to see what was missing when he found that a trunk had been taken. This he found soon after on the top of a woodpile in an adjoining lot where it had been placed by the thief for removal. It had not been opened, and consequently there was no serious loss. During yesterday Mr. C. secured the window by nailing pieces of board across it, but last night either the same or some other would-be thief attempted again to rob him, and so far succeeded as to pry off the boards when he was frightened away.

H. M. S. Pinafore.

The Holman troupe which is to play here to-morrow night is favorably spoken of by nearly all of our exchanges, but in some few instances we have noticed there was some little disappointment on the part of those who were not familiar with the Pinafore.

The opera is simply an extravaganza, in which there are some hits at the English Government and Her Majesty's navy, and a mixture of sense and nonsense.
The music is of a peculiar and striking style, and through the opera are inter-persed a number of very pretty airs and choruses.

The Portsmouth Enterprise, speaking of the performance on Monday night in Norfolk, says:

Pinafore last night was a palpable and most decided hit, in every feature that could make success, which was fully demonstrated by the large audience present, who expressed their delight most emphatically. The cast was super-excellent, the choruses and orchestra in full accord, and delightful harmony, and the solos were well rendered without exception.

The stage setting showed up to full advantage, quite a novelty within itself.
The house was crowded to the full measure of its capacity, with many standing.

A sharp tongue is the only edged tool which grows keen with constant use.

Col. MacRae in Robeson.

Our talented townsman, Col. Duncan K. MacRae has been delighting the citizens of Robeson with his lecture on Genius and Talent, which was delivered in the Court House at Lumberton on last Monday night. Here is what the Robe-sonian has to say about it:

Col. D. K. MacRae delivered his lecture on Genius and Talent in the Court House in this town last Monday night. Owing to the very inclement weather the attendance was not as large as it would otherwise have been but we were delighted to note that the intelligence of the county and town was well represented. The lawyers left their clients and cases, His honor Judge McKoy, Solicitor McIver, all the visiting lawyers and nearly all the local bar being in attendance besides ministers, physicians and other men of literary attainment. The lecture is certainly the grandest production to which we have ever listened, and we regret exceedingly that the press of other matters would exclude a fitting tribute, even if we were capable of writing it. Col.
MacRae is a magnificent orator and we hope will consent to lecture again during the week.

Wanted.

Five thousand ladies and their husbands to call for bargains at Hahn's, Fourth Street.

Released.

Alice Kelley, the Queen of the Hollow, as she is sometimes called, who was sentenced yesterday by the Mayor pro temp.
to imprisonment for ten days, had her case reconsidered by acting Mayor Bowden this morning, and was released on account of serious indisposition.

Anniversary Supper.

The Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co., No. 1 (Little Giant) will celebrate its tenth anniversary by a grand supper to be given at their hall on the evening of Friday the 21st inst.

We tender our profound thanks for the courtesy of an invitation to the Editor of the Review and staff, and hope they may all have a glorious time.

Accommodating.

We learn that Mr. George Myers, the agent here, has made arrangements by which excursionists on the steamer Passport may be landed at Fort Fisher. This is the first time that passengers have been able to enjoy the pleasure of a visit to the forts direct from the steamer, and it will be an accommodation which our people will fully appreciate.

Bad Sidewalk.

We have been again requested to call the attention of the authorities to the miserable condition of the sidewalk on the south side of Chestnut, between Front and North Water streets. We hope it may receive attention, for it is certainly in a bad condition for traveling upon in the day time and at night is really dangerous.

The School Law.

We spoke yesterday of the School Law recently passed by both houses of the Legislature which failed to become a law because it was not signed by the presiding officers of the two houses. We are glad to learn, as we do from the Raleigh Observer, that this defect will probably be remedied. The Observer has this to say on the subject:

Some uneasiness has been manifested about the new School Law, which has been found since adjournment of the General Assembly to be without the signatures of the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate. The law failed to be signed by these officers in the busy moments preceding adjournment on Friday when very many laws were signed.
Gov. Robinson was in town until yesterday afternoon, and Speaker Moring, who is a near neighbor, came to this city for consultation. They decided not to affix their signatures until their right to do so after adjournment of the Assembly has been thoroughly discussed by gentlemen learned in the law and, if necessary, decided by the highest court on a case made up. No inconvenience will result from the course adopted, as their signatures may be affixed as lawfully one month as one hour after adjournment.

To us, who are not learned in the law, there seemed no reason to doubt the legality of signature on yesterday. To us, also it does not seem that the signatures of the presiding officers are necessary to the enactment of a law. The Constitutional provision is: "All bills and resolutions of a legislative nature shall be read three times in each House, before they pass into laws; and shall be signed by the presiding officers of both Houses." The school bill was read three times in each House and passed into a law, as is authenticated by the Journals of each House and the signatures of the members of the Enrollment Committee.
We do not think that those who made the Constitution of 1868, however awkwardly they expressed themselves, intended to give a practical veto power to the two Speakers, nor do we think that the language used gives such a power.

As to the efficacy of signatures after adjournment of the Legislature, we have heard that a somewhat similar case has been adjudicated in Louisiana. We could not find any record of it in such books as were within reach last evening.

We do not think that there will be any trouble about the School Law, though we should not be overmuch concerned about it in any event. The changes from the old law are good, but it may be doubted if they are worth the additional $30,000 to $40,000 of taxes levied.

We have been requested to state that there is a large pile of trash and dirt at the corner of Fifth and Princess streets which the authorities are politely requested to have removed at their earliest convenience.
