VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

Don Carlos, who has been little heard of for some time, is understood to be writing ashistory of his last futile campaign.

Mrs. Hoyt, wife of the convicted Bridgeport fraticide, says that he wanted her to sit at his side at the trirl and pretend to weep, so as to affect the jury.

Mr Finney, a London dentist, claims to have found a filled tooth in the jaw of an Egyptian mummy. Dentistry was further advanc. d 4 000 years ago in Egypt than is supposed.

A few years ago the Czar sent the Emir of Afghanistan a quantity of lightning rods, and the Afghans put up the gilded points on their houses without connecting them with the ground. The effect was not favorable to Russian popularity.

A recent number of La Nature decaribes a simple and convenient night lamp, the invention of M.Behn, indicating the hour by the extent of combustion of the oil. During the night one can see at what height the oil sands in the tube and | in the world. read the corresponding hour.

Mr. Sothern, the actor, objects to hi dog forming new acquaintances, and so he fastens two very sharp needles to the nose, leaving the ends projecting about an inch. When a strange dog run up to "shake noses" with him, he gets a thrust which sends him away howling.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK IN CINCINNATI.

The Cincinnati Gaze te has interviewed a number of the represent tive business men of that city with reference to the business outlook for Spring. It finds universal cheerfulness and a large increase of business over that of last year.

READY FOR FLUSH TIMES. A New York correspondent to the Baltimore Sun, painting the business si'uation and prospects in Gotham, uses a great deal of rose color. The streets are all blocked up once more with mountains of cased goods, which crowd pedestrians off the sidewalks. The spring business has opened with a vim, realizing the predictions of the most sanguine prophets. Wall street is well up in the excitement, and every thing begins to look up, except real estate prices, which are yet small compared with the valuations in flush times.

"THE LAND OF THE PISTOL Such is the title to a short poem which appeared in the New York Sun of the 26th inst. It is a phillipic against the people of Texas, and charges a Texan with the murder of Porter, the actor, at Marshall in that State. The whole poem is cruelly unkind to the people of Texas, and implies that, as a class, they are the worst and most cold-blooded murderers

When it first came to our notice we paid but little attention to the matter merely thinking that there was one igno:ant fool in the world who could write very passable poetry; but, upon reflection, concluded that so bitter, malignant, false and unjust a charge against a noble people, of a noble State, should not go unno-It is well known that Currie, the murderer of Porter, is not a native of Texas, and that he was there only temporarily goes to show that if you wish to be rid in the employ of a railroad company as a detective. He is not only not a native of Texas, but he is not even a man of Southern birth. He is a scoundrel from the North, where he was born and raised, and where he commenced his carreer of vice, and crime, and bloodshed. He is a north ern felon escaped from the justice which would consign him to the gallows for two murders committed in Kansas. No meaner brute ever escaped from the meshes of the law; no more hemp-deserving ruffi in ever evaled the justice of the gallows, and no more cold-blooded murderer ever paid the penalty of atrocious crime at the hands of an infuriated and outraged public; yet he was born on northern soil. It is true the murder was committed on Texan soil, but it is the meanest of cowardly hate to falsely charge the crime to a Texan assassin. The Sun is a very able paper, but it has some very decided hobbies, upon which it delights to ride; and never at a moderate gait. One of its hobbies, and one on which it rides mercilessly, is its hatred to Gen'l Grant. If it were compelled to refrain from abuse of him for all future time or die, we have not a doubt that it would give him a parting kick and give up the ghost As far as its hatred for Grant is concerned, we have little to say in objection, as we would rather its life might be spared to kick him again; but another of its hobbies is its hatred for the South The people of Texas, not only in the city of Marshall, where the murder occurred, but throughout the entire State deprecate the act. They have performed their part in the tragedy so nobly that they are deserving of, and will receive, the universal approbation of all who are not blinded by hate or embittered by sectional partisan animosity. They deserve every credit, not only for what they have done for the murdered man and his former associates but for that self-control which caused them to desist from personal violence to the assassin. Currie is now in the hands if the law; he will have a fair trial under the laws of Texas which he has outraged, the verdict of a Texas jury and the much improved of late years; and at the sentence of a Texas Judge, and every nal remedy, present time there are eighty-four surgical good, law abiding, peace loving citizen, North and South, will say amen. It has always manifested the most malevolent dislike to our section of the country, and has seemed to take the most extreme (the Sun could be acthing unless it was extreme) delight in traducing our people, habits and customs. With these sentiments towards, us, it has been a willing vehicle in which men of kindred feelings could air their opinions at pleas. ure. It has ever been a willing medium for heaping contumely and abuse upon the South, and while we care but little disposed to quietly swallow the obloquy of a murder committed by a northern desperado upon a quiet, inoffensive northern citizen, even though it was done on the soil of Texas. A former Deputy of Neuchatel, in Switzerland, who in August last shot a man in his own house, killing him, has been acquitted on the ground that he was so drunk he did not know what he was doing.

The Presbytery of New York has spoken its mind concerning Sunday newspapers. Last Monday week it resolved that, "Whereas, the babit of buying and reading Sunday newspapers appears to be on the increase among Christian fami ies, the Presbytery hereby cautions the churches against the evil, as one especially apt to withdraw their members from the bib'e study and religious readings appropriate to the Sabbath, and it is resolved, that the pasters be requested to read the above to their respective congregations within six weeks."

Some of the organs are pleased to make frequent allusions to the "hungry Southerners who are flocking to Washington in search of office." It strikes us it is about time for their hunger to show itself. After having been systematically robbed and swindled by the Republicans for a ong series of years, it is not at all un. natural that they should desire to get a fair share of spoils. It will do the stalwarts no good to get in a corner and pout about it - Atlanta Constitution.

On Our Most Distant Frontiers As in our busiest and most populous cities of the seaboard and interior, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is pre-eminently popular. Wherever civilization plants its foot on this continent, thither the great tonic soon finds its way. Nor is this surprising, for it is the medicine of all others best adapted to the wants of the Western emigrant, be he miner or agriculturist. It is an incomparable remedy for the diseases to which he is most subject and which are liable to be brought on by a change of climate, hardship, exposure, unaccustomed air and diet, and mias matic atmosphere and water. Among these are (disorders of the stomach and bowels, rheumatic ailments, and malarious fevers. for all of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a certain specific. Seventy-five years of married life, says the Herald, is a rare experience; yet an old couple in Fairfield county, Connecticut, lay claim to this unusual honor. They were man and wife long before the war of 1812, and have lived happily and peaceably together through three wars on this continent.

Mr. John T. Forl has received a letter from Arthur Sullivan, the composer of the Pinafore music, dated London, March 6, acknowledging the receipt of a $500 draft, in which he says: "You are the sole manager at present who has offered us any acknowledgment of the success of our piece in America, and we beg to tender you our thanks for your consideration."

It is perhaps not generally known that the late Gen. Von Roon obtained considerable reputation as a teacher of geography, and that a popular school book known as Cornwall's Geography, which has gone through nearly sixty editions, is a translation of a work published by the late Prussian war," minister more that thirty years ago.

"The ruler of the Queen's Navee" could hardly do better than the chairman of the committee on navigation of the New York Assembly, who during the examination of the East River Bridge question on Thursday, convulsed an audience of sea captains by ask Capt. George Martin, of the ship "Washington," whether the mainmast of his ship was 127 feet high from the deck at low or high water.

The scene when Mr. Randall was escorted to the chair of the House by Messrs. Garfield and Blackburn, reminds us that we have approached the time when men of all parties consider each other American citizens and when the most earnest advocacy of opposing views, is consistent with mutual respect. The galleries began cheering and it was taken up on both sides of the House. It casts no shadow upon this tribute to a faithful officer or upon this plesant union of parties to pay such a tribute, that in a few days they will be engaged in heated party discus, sion.

The arrangements for giving immediate assistance to persons who may meet with and he will und subtedly be hanged by street accidents in Paris have been very depots in the district town a halls, the markets, octroi buildings, barracks and other buildings. There is also provided fumigating apparatus for the relief of suffocated persons in the watch houses of the cemeteries and along the "banks of the Seine and the canals, which are further provided with Luoys and boat hooks. Each surgical depot contains every kind of apparatus and medical preparation likely to be required in the case of accident, and in addition each police station has a mattress and stretcher ; while all the twenty police stations have a dress with which the wearer can enter rooms full of smoke, for its splenetic falsifications, we are not and several carriages for the transport of the dead and wounded. Registers are also kept at each station, upon which are recorded the cases in which relief has been given, together with a list of the medical men in the neighborhood and instruction as to how to treat particular cases. There are as many as ten [rescue stations upon the banks of the Seine and of the two canals which run through Paris ; and at all of these, in addition to the ordinary life-saving apparatus, there is a small lifeboat in constant readiness.

THE SUN will be printed every day during L the year to come. Its purpose and method will be the same as in the past. To present all the news in a readable shape, and to tell the truth though the heavens fall.

THE SUN has been, is, and will continue to save the Truth and its own convictions o duty. That the only policy which an honest newspap and dhave, That is the policy which has won for this newspaper the confidence and friendship of a wider constituency than was ever enjoyed by any other Ameri can Journal.

THE SUN is the newspaper for the people. It is not for the rich man against the poor man, or for the poor man against the rich man, but it seeks to do equal justice to all interests in the community. It is not the organ of any person, class, sect or party. There need be no mystery about its loves and hates. It is for the honest man against the rogues every time. It is for the honest Democrat as against the dishonest Republican, and for the honest Republican as against the dishonest Democ at. It does not take its due from the utterances of any politician or political organization. It gives its support unreservedly when men or measures are in agreement with the Constitution and with the principles upon which this Republic was founded for the people. Whenever the Constituti n and constitutional principles are viol t-d-as in the outrageous conspiracy of 1876, by which a man not elected was placed in the President's office, where he stills remains-itspeaks out for the right. That is THE SUN's ides of independence. In this respect there will be no change in its programme for 1879. THE SUN has fairly earned the hearty hatred of rascals, frauds, and humbugs of all sorts and sizes. It hopes to deserve that hatred not less in the year 1879, than in 1878, 1877, or any year gone by. The SUN will continue to shine on the wicked with unmiti gated brightness.

While the lessons of the past should be con stantly kept before the people, THE BUN does not propose to make itself in 1879 a magazine of ancient history. It is printed for the men and women of to-day, whose concern is chiefly with the affairs of to-day. It has both the disposition and the ability to-afford its readers the promptest, fullest, and most accurate intelligence of whaetver in the wide world is worth attention. To this end the resources belonging to well-established prosperity will be liberally employed.

The pre ent disjointed condition of parties in this country, and the uncertainty of the future, lend an extraordinary significance to the events of the coming year. The discussions of the press, the debates and acts of Congress, and the movements of the leaders in every section of the Republic will have a direct bearing on the Presidential election of 1880-an event which must be regarded with the most anxious interest by every patriolic American, whatever his political ideas or allegiance. To these elements of interest may be added the probabilities that the Democrats will control both houses of Congress, the increasing feebleness of the fraudulent Administration, and the spread and strengthening everywhere of a healthy abhorence of fraud in any form. To present with accuracy and clearness the exact situation in each of its varying phases, and to expound, according to its well-known methods, the principles that should guide us through the labyrinth, will be an important part of THE SUN'S work for
