Oysters take a rest next month

The head men of the world are those who think.

The ignorance of law excuses no one; not even a lawyer.

Some men are like brooks—they are always murmuring.

Gloves are long, reaching to the elbow for full evening toilet.

Elbow sleeves are seen on ball and evening reception dresses.

Affectionate daughters grow fonder of papa as Easter advances.

The small boy inwardly yearns to be curled up in a cucumber.

New parasols have flatter tops than the canopy ones of last summer.

Waistcoats are as often made to wear over the basque as under it.

Many a man would take a paper, if he could borrow his neighbor's.

Parasol linings are sometimes of gay Scotch plaids or bandana goods.

Flat crowns with very little tapering are seen in English round hats.

Postilion pleats and fan trimmings in the back of basques are revived.

The Free Press calls baby carriages that turn out in this weather croupees.

Fichu collarettes and jabot collarettes give a dressy effect to a plain toilet.

The dentist will make more money per acher than any farmer we ever saw.

Seven persons were admitted to membership in the First Baptist Church yesterday.

Some men are going about with faces as long as if they had money deposited in a savings bank.

Some people are willing to be good if they are well paid for it, and others are good for nothing.

The spring lamb is fighting his way to the front, and the mint for the sauce will meet him halfway.

The man who attempts to please everybody pleases nobody, and wags around discontentedly himself.

Capt. A. H. Worth has been appointed a mail agent on the river route between this city and Fayetteville.

Wood seems to be plentiful in this market, but the few days of cold weather during the last week have sent up the price.

The Newbern papers call the little vessel which was wrecked at Hatteras last week, when three lives were lost, the Vine Oak, whereas she was reported as the Wyanoke. Considerable similarity in pronunciation, but not much in orthography.

The Easter egg this year, we are told, will present some new features. A description is not given, but we presume it will be cut bias at the small end and wear a maroon-colored overskirt, trimmed with magenta loops, and a jabot around the neck, and hence will charge six cents apiece for 'em.

'What,' says the Woman's Journal, 'is a sadder sight than seeing a young bride sick at heart? Why, sick at sea, of course; especially when you get a subject who paws the deck with her feet, digs her elbows into the rail, grasps her bursting temples with desperation, and gurgles out, "Oh, my! Oh, dear! George!"'

The editor of the Newbernian heard his first martin on the 30th ult. It must have been that little fellow of whom Pope wrote (Odyssey II):

The first bird of spring Attempted singing.

But ere he had uttered a note— He fell from the limb IN A DRY HAT.

A dead bird was him.

The music had frozen in his throat.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

He was a poor bird, and he was a poor bird.

The Passover.

The Jewish Passover commenced last evening at sunset and continues for seven days. The command for its observance will be found in Exodus 12th and 13th chapters. The Israelites are commanded to eat unleavened bread for seven days, to keep the first and seventh days as Sabbaths [days of Holy Convocation], and the penalty for non observance by Israelites is accorded that "their souls shall be cut off from Israel." This festival is one of the most important in the Old Testament. It is generally a season of great edification to those Israelites who observe it, and it commemorates one of the grandest events of history—the freedom of the Hebrews after four hundred years of bondage. As the chosen people of God they were then sent forth from Egypt as the pioneer of religious liberty, enlightenment and civilization.

City Court.

John Murray, a son of the Emerald Isle, who on a tramp for a job or a living, was arraigned this morning for begging on the streets and insulting those who refused him aid. The prisoner put up a piteous appeal and the Mayor released him on condition that he would "set about" making himself scarce in these parts immediately, whereupon the defendant "scooted."

The next on the docket was a bad case of drunk and disorderly, resisting police and so forth. His Honor held $20 fine or thirty days in the city prison.

W. H. Green, colored, was brought up for violating the peace in Jack Crowder's bar in Paddy's Hollow on Saturday night. The Mayor fined him $30.00 or five days in the city prison, but afterwards remitted the fine and released the defendant.

Robert Herring, colored, was the next and last case on the Clerk's docket.

He was charged by officer Wadkins with aiding in the escape of a prisoner and refusing to assist in the arrest of the party. The Mayor said $25 fine or thirty days in a cell, and the prisoner went below.

H. M. S. Pinafore.

That the performance which is to be given at the Opera House this evening is well worthy of the patronage of the Wilmington public, we quote here an extract from the Charleston News and Courier relative to the appearance of the troupe in that city on last Thursday evening:

In marked contrast with the recent wretched failure of the Holmans, was the very pleasant and successful presentation of H. M. S. Pinafore last evening by Campbell's Comic Opera Company. Less than a week ago the writer heard the opera sung by the picket company at the Standard Theatre in New York, where the piece has had so remarkable a run; and it is no mean praise to say that the performance at the Academy last night suffered little by the comparison.

The house was full, though not crowded, and the genuine enthusiasm with which most of the sirs were welcomed was the best possible tribute to the style and spirit in which they were sung. In the case of the Holmans, it will be remembered, the immense audience remained apathetic throughout the opera. But last night all the gems of the opera had to be repeated again and again to satisfy the house, and even the rollicking choruses came in for their shares of encore.

A Reliable Article.

It is a pleasure to commend an article of a thoroughly reliable character, and we do not hesitate to do so in speaking of Doolley's Yeast Powder, which an experience of over ten years convinces us is the best and most reliable baking powder in the market.

When bran new pianos can be bought for $125, we ought to become a music-loving people. This is what the Mendelssohn Piano Co., 21 East 16th Street, New York, are doing—selling pianos from their factory at these prices. The great reputation of these pianos—having been unanimously recommended for the highest honors at the great Centennial Exhibition—and the high character of the company for honorable and straightforward dealing, should insure for them a liberal patronage. Their illustrated and descriptive catalogue of forty odd pages, giving highest testimonials of leading musicians, will be mailed free to all, and all inquiries by letter cheerfully answered.

Magistrate's Court.

John Taylor, colored, was arraigned before Justice Wagner upon the complaint of Charles Edens, colored, for assault and trespass. The defendant was found guilty in both cases, and fined $1.00 and costs in the case of the assault and released in the other case upon payment of costs.

Correction.

On Saturday in our commercial report a typographical error of one figure made it appear that spirits turpentine was being offered at 25 cents without buyers when instead we intended to say it was offered at 28 cents without buyers, which was the state of the market we were reliably informed at the close of our report at 4 p. m. Subsequently, the market advanced to 28 1/2 cents, these figures being offered but no purchase was made as holders were then demanding a higher price.
