The above does not embrace all the SPECIAL BARGAINS we have secured during the four weeks passed in the markets, having spared neither trouble or time in order to accomplish our object. It affords us even more pleasure than it does our patrons to put desirable goods on this market below their actual value as it increases our business and is really the cheapest system of advertising as well as the true policy of extending any business. We are also offering great inducements in all our regular purchases and can with safety add that at no time have our facilities been equal to the present season, and we are determined to put our regular stock of General Dry Goods on this market at a lower rate of percentage than ever before. Strawberries.
Talking about strawberries, Mr. J. A. Willard, who read in Saturday's REVIEW about the consignment of strawberries received here from Florida, tells us that he has been picking them for a week at Messrs Willard Bros. truck farm at Belvidere. He had some of them at his Easter dinner—and so had we.

Shameful.
About noon to-day (Monday) as a couple of ladies were going along Nutt street, between Red Cross street and the freight sheds, to take passage on the Southern bound freight train, a dirty, drunken colored girl was passing up under the bridge on the railroad track using all manner of profane and obscene language, and throwing her dress over her head to expose her person in the most shameful manner. No arrests.

Some Light on the Subject.
Messrs. Chess, Carley & Co., whose advertisement appears in this issue, have done much in supplying this city with oils, lamps etc. The house has a good home record and is ably represented here by Mr. N. F. Thompson, who will guarantee to duplicate any bill of lubricating oils bought in northern markets. We has on hand a fine line of the most improved non explosive lamps which he offers at reasonable prices.

Fruit and Vegetables.
Notwithstanding the extremely cold weather which has threatened the crops of early vegetation we are informed that large freights of early fruits and vegetables are daily passing through our city bound for Baltimore, New York and Boston. The new fashioned refrigerators ventilating, iron, fruit and vegetable cars, of which we made mention a few days since, are being extensively used and prove of great advantage to both shipper and purchaser.

Marine Item.
The schooner Anas, Captain Willis, from Sneads Ferry, loaded with naval stores and bound to this port, sprung a leak on Saturday the 12th inst., when about twelve miles off New Inlet, and fifty-two bbls of tar and crude turpentine had to be sacrificed to the waves by being thrown overboard, in order to save the vessel. The schooner arrived in this port yesterday evening and is consigned to Messrs. Wilder & Morton. The vessel will undergo repairs here before sailing hence again.

Dead Infant Found.
About 9 o'clock yesterday (Sunday) morning, the little children of Mr. Stephen Currie, while in the garden attached to his residence, on the corner of Seventh and Market streets, found the dead body of a little infant wrapped up in a piece of an old shawl. They immediately ran and informed their father, (Mr. Currie) who at once notified the proper authorities. Coroner Hewlett summoned a jury which met and held an inquest yesterday forenoon. It proved to be a mulatto child, and was evidently of premature birth, and the verdict of the jury was that the child came to its death by causes unknown.

The Coming Comet.
A comet is approaching the earth, and can be seen with a telescope. It moves in an elliptical orbit, within a period of five and a half years, and its appearance was noted only thirty three years ago, and its present appearance is the seventh time that it has been recorded. It was nearest the earth the 10th of April, at a computed distance of about 75,000,000 miles, so that there is not the slightest prospect of collision. It has never receded from the earth much further than the planet Jupiter. In 1851 it escaped observation, but in 1857 it was seen rising in the extreme southern horizon, reaching a brightness bringing it within easy observation with the opera glass, and finally disappeared in the southern sky.

The regular annual meeting of the congregation of St. John's Church, for the election of Vestrymen for the ensuing year, will be held in the Church this evening.

Easter at St. James'.
(CONTRIBUTED)
The services at St. James' Church on yesterday, Easter Sunday, were peculiarly beautiful and impressive. At early dawn the children of the Parish gathered upon the tower of the Church and as the sun rose in the purpling east, emblematic of the glorious resurrection of the crucified Redeemer, their youthful voices burst forth in joyous strains of melody and song. It was the Easter Anthem, the song of praise and thanksgiving from innocence and youth ascending upon high to welcome Him who this day led captivity captive and triumphed over the grave. It was a scene well calculated to excite emotion. There was stillness in the air and on the earth, a stillness as of the expectation of some coming event, and when from the tower of that sacred building the harmonious cadences fell upon the ear, that heart must have been indeed callous that did not throbb with devotional feeling.

The church was dressed with exquisite taste—no tinsel glare and show, no attempt at display, but simply arrayed in the beautiful garments of nature. Flowers and evergreens and shrubs, most tastefully arranged, charmed the eye with their beauty and shed around a delicate perfume that stole gently upon the senses. The swelling tones of the organ accompanying the well trained voices of the choir gave increased effect to the joyous services of the day. The voice of praise and thanksgiving went up from thankful hearts to the Giver of all Good for His boundless mercies to sinful man, and we doubt if there was one in the large crowd that filled the building, who did not feel that it was good for him to be there.

In the afternoon the children's choral service took place and was exceedingly interesting and pleasing. The Sunday Schools of St. James and St. James' Home marched in procession up the main aisle of the church and assembled near and partly around the chancel. It was very pleasant indeed, very touching to listen to their infant voices chanting their Redeemers praise; indeed, the whole services of the day were most delightful and comforting and will long be remembered by those whose privilege it was to participate in this glorious festival of the church.

Easter at St. John's.
The services at St. John's Church yesterday were in keeping with the day. The ladies had labored faithfully in the work of decorating the altar and chancel, the choir stalls, reading desk, pulpit, falstool and windows and the result was a mass of flowers and evergreens presenting a pleasing and delightful feast to the eye and through them to the inner consciousness and feelings of the beholders. The decorations were simple yet in exquisite taste and expressive of the joy with which the church hailed the Resurrection Morn of her Messiah.

There were four services during the day, all of which were largely attended. The early celebration at 7½ o'clock, high services with communion at 11 o'clock, the children's choral celebration in the afternoon at 5 o'clock and evening prayer at 8 o'clock. Dr. Patterson, the Rector, preached two excellent sermons, one in the forenoon and the other at night. The principal interest of the day seemed to centre, however, on the children's celebration which was held in the afternoon, was largely attended and was eminently successful. The collection on this occasion was for a memorial fund in reverence to the memory of the lamented Thomas Childs DeRosset, only one short year ago the beloved Superintendent of the Sunday School. The music was unusually good, an excellent choir of four male voices rendering the choral services to the delight and pleasure of each congregation.

The Lutheran Church.
Rev. Dr. Bernheim, Pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, officiated at the three services held there yesterday—preparatory services in English, at 10½ o'clock in the forenoon. English service and communion at 11 o'clock, and German service at night at 8 o'clock. A Review reporter looked in at this beautiful little church during the forenoon and found that the fair hands of the ladies of the congregation had not been plied in vain. The floral adornments were not only profuse but they were all in exquisite taste, plainly evidencing the fact that not only the hands but the hearts of the ladies were in their labor of reverential love. The Easter services were beautiful, impressive and appropriate and the music was very fine.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church.
The adornments in this Church yesterday were very handsome and the beautiful Easter services were impressive in the extreme. The Church was crowded with devout worshippers, morning and night, and the Rector Rev. Mr. Ambler preached two very fine sermons. There was no children's service in the afternoon, as at St. James' and St. John's, but the music both morning and night, especially at night, was grand. It was one of the prominent features of the day and added its own great charm to the beauty of the ceremonies of the occasion.

St. Mark's Church.
In St. Mark's Episcopal Church, the congregation of which is made up from among the most intelligent and most esteemed of the colored residents of this city, Easter was welcomed with as true a heartiness and as earnest a joy as among the white worshippers. The church was very tastefully adorned with evergreens and the congregations were very full both at morning and evening service. Rev. C. O. Brady, the Minister, preached on both occasions and preached two very fine sermons.

St. Thomas' Church.
The close of the long Lenten season and the appearance of bright, happy Easter Morn, was hailed with the usual impressive ceremonies at St. Thomas Church which were participated in devoutly by the large congregations assembled there. The services and ceremonies during the afternoon were unusually attractive. They were known as the Pontifical Vespers and on this occasion the Priests appeared in the pontifical vestments, which are only worn by them once a year. Rev. Father Gross preached a wonderful sermon on "The Real Presence," and we learn from one who was there and heard it that it was one of the most superb efforts of this gifted divine's life. The music from the choir was simply beautiful and charmed all who were so fortunate as to hear it.
