Brother McDiarmid, of the Robesonian, who is in the city, paid us a pleasant little visit this morning.

Netted handkerchiefs for neck wear are shown in all desirable shades: they are very light and dressy.

If you wish to be as happy as a king look at those who haven't as much as you, not those who have more.

There's no special style of engraving engagement rings. A spider's web with a fly in it is a very pretty device.

The steamer Passport took down a large party this morning to Smithville on the dedicatory services held there today.

It is a pretty piece of sentiment when a young man gives a lock of his hair to his girl. He doesn't recognize the sentiment after they are married, when she happens to help herself to a lock or two.

A Wilmington girl, who ought to know, accounts for the disposition of the average young fellow to put his arm around a girl's waist by the supposition that he is looking for the rib that was taken from him so long ago.

An agricultural school for girls has been provided for by the Michigan Legislature, and $12,000 have been appropriated to give the venture a start. This is law-making in the interest of humanity. This is something practical, you know.

Street suits this season are almost invariably short enough to swing clear of mud and dust and to show the pretty boots which are the order of the day. The usual width of a short skirt at the bottom is two and a half yards; very tall ladies have them a quarter of a yard wider—very short ladies as much narrower than this.

At Smithville To Day.
 A special to the Review from Smithville says that there is a large crowd present and that the dedicatory proceedings were interesting in the extreme. There was a profusion of flowers and the decorations were very fine. Rev. E. A. Yates, who was appointed to deliver the dedicatory address, spoke about thirty minutes, and his eloquent and beautiful remarks were listened to with rapt attention by the large concourse present. The affair was highly successful in every respect.

Not Coming.

We learn that Mrs. Mason and Miss Painter, the Quakeress revivalists, who have held very successful revival meetings in several portions of the State, have been invited to this city to hold a series of meetings in the Fifth Street M. E. Church, but that they have found it impossible to accept the invitation at present. It is possible, however, that they may come here some time in the near future.

City Court.

Jno. Williams, a stammering darkey, who was arrested last night for disorderly conduct on Pigeon Hill, in the neighborhood of the Long House, was arraigned this morning before the Mayor. He was also fined for carrying a concealed weapon in the shape of a razor. On account of the last named offence Mayor Fishblade dealt pretty severely with the defendant and required him to pay $20 fine or go to the cell for twenty days. The culprit was furnished lodging.

Proposed Change of Base.

Where are we all going this Summer is now the all absorbing topic in some social circles in this city? The answer is that a few, or probably a great majority of those who leave at all will tramp off to the Sound, others by steamer to Smithville, some by the railroads to the mountains and still a few more to the big "nor'ard" while some of us may "go to glory"—perhaps, while still a few, a very few, others may go to "h e d"—i. e. f they haven't already gone there. For ourselves, well, we are satisfied with this climate for the present.

Almost a Fire.

There was a narrow escape from a dangerous accident to persons and a conflagration last night, about 8 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Alexander Scholar, on Fifth, between Church and Nun streets. While the family were at supper a kerosene lamp exploded, but fortunately it had been placed at some distance from where any one was sitting and no one was injured. The fragments of the lamp were gathered up and thrown in the street, and with a few moments of very lively work the flames were extinguished, and but little damage was done, though a big scare was created, as might be expected. Be very careful of kerosene, for its price eternal vigilance and 20 cents a gallon.

A Close Schedule Wanted.

We are reminded by a friend on the line of the C. C. R. W. that the schedule now in effect on that road doesn't "go" very well with that run by the steamer Passport. The train from the West arrives here at 9:50 a. m. and the Passport's hour for sailing is 9 o'clock. Even on occasions of excursion parties the steamer rarely leaves her dock later than 9:30. It would be to the advantage of all parties, we think, that a close schedule should be made between the steamer and the trains, so that parties from along the line of the C. C. R. W. who may desire to take a trip to the forts may leave their homes in the morning and return to them the same night.

Honor the Scissors.

Some people, ignorant of what good editing is, imagine the getting up of selected matter to be the easiest work in the world to do, whereas it is the nicest work that is done on paper. If they see the editor with scissors in his hand they are sure to say: "Eh! that's the way you get up original matter?" accompanying their new and witty question with an idiotic wink or smile. The facts are, that the interest, the variety and the usefulness of a paper depend in no small degree upon its selected matter, and few men are capable of the position who would not themselves be able to write many of the articles they select. A sensible editor desires considerable selected matter, because he knows that one mind cannot make as good a paper as five or six.

A famous place to catch the sheephead now is down on the rocks at the works at New Inlet. A party of gentlemen went there yesterday and returned last evening with a good supply. The Passport took them down in the morning and brought them back in the afternoon.

Mothers will grow weary and sigh over the baby's troubles when Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup would relieve the child and thereby give the mother rest.

We learn that there are quite a number of rafts of timber in the Cape Fear between here and Fayetteville en route to this city.

Things are rather dull in the local line to-day.

Eggs are selling for 11 cents per dozen.

Sampson Superior Court, Judge Seymour presiding, will convene at Clinton on Monday next.

Some men have little scarlet buttons put on their white vests. Others simply eat strawberries and "stop over."

Justice H. E. Spott this morning committed Tony Nash, colored, to jail to be held for trial at 4 o'clock this afternoon upon the charge of assault and battery, in two cases.

It is asserted that many cases of sunstroke in warm weather, in the female sex, are really a vertigo caused by frequently turning the head to look at other women's clothes and bonnets.

The colored Methodists of this city and vicinity commence a camp-meeting to-day at a point about 9 miles below the city near the bank of the Cape Fear. But few went down this morning but it is expected that there will be a large attendance to-morrow, and during the remainder of the week.

We understand that a gentleman in this city has kindly ordered two carts to be at the steamer Passport this evening when she comes up from below to haul away the fish that a Market street merchant and two other gentlemen who went down this morning are expected to bring back with them.

The Lecture Last Evening.

An audience, more respectable in appreciation than in numbers, attended last evening, the lecture before the young gentlemen of the Pailomathean Literary Society, by that eminent scholar, Prof. Von Jasmund. The theme selected was "Bismark and Germany" and we are assured that those who were not there missed a genuine treat.

A Strong Cement.

A cement particularly adapted for attaching the brass work to bottle-necks, lamps, etc, is made by boiling three parts of resin with one of caustic soda and five of water. The composition is then mixed with half its weight of plaster of paris. It sets firmly in about three quarters of an hour. It is said to be of great adhesive power, not permeable by petroleum, a low conductor of heat and but superficially attacked by hot water.

Special Issue.

The Norfolk Virginian, one of the best newspapers published anywhere between Maryland and Mexico, is about to publish another large special issue for general circulation, the others having been gotten out last December and January. It will be an eight-page paper and an immense edition will be published for general circulation. It will be put to press next month.

Rhyme vs Reason.

The Editor sat in his easy chair, absorbed in study profound, while the local was tramping now here and now there, to see if a dot could be found, by which he might tell of a frolic or fight, a runaway horse or a scene in the courts; but news, like money, was terribly tight, and even the market reports, like everything else were fearfully slow and spirits, and rosin and tar could only claim prices ruinously low, that plead to the profits a bar.

American Wines.

But few persons are aware of the great amount of grapes raised in New Jersey. Alfred Sproer is known to be the largest wine grower east of the Rocky Mountains. His Port Grape Wine is the best, and is considered by physicians and chemists as the best wine to be procured. It is ordered to London and Paris, where it is becoming very popular among wealthy families. For sale by J. C. Munds, P. L. Bridgers & Co and Green & Planner
