

VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

The New York Tribune was founded by Horace Greeley. It will be founded by Whitelaw Reid.

The advance of the wages of New York bricklayers from $2.50 to $3 per day is a positive sign of better times.

The Republican party calls itself the party of order. The kind of order that it favors is that which once reigned in Warsaw.

Hayes is rather a revolutionary character at present, for he is revolving as a satellite around that blazing fiery planet Zach Chandler.

The care of poor children has been among New York's pet charities, and subscriptions are now called for to provide a seaside nursery for such children. A generous response is expected.

There is but one way of satisfying the stalwart Republicans of the North, and that is to add another amendment to the Constitution, providing that no Southern man shall vote any other than the Republican ticket.

A San Francisco clothing dealer is said to have, in good faith, offered Lawrence Barrett $100 a night when playing Hamlet in that city, if he would, after uttering the words, 'customary suits of solemn black,' add, 'The kind they sell at'—for $24.

The Empress of Austria, when hunting, never dresses for riding until she arrives at the meet. She retires to the nearest house and spends exactly an hour in her preparations. Her saddle is so small as to be almost invisible when she is mounted, so that the appearance is of a lady sitting on the horse itself.

The project of laying a cable from the California coast to Japan by way of the Hawaiian Islands, has reached the point where subscriptions to the stock are invited, and Cyrus W. Field has put his nose down for $100,000. It is expected that the Hawaiian Government will subscribe $1,000,000, and the remainder of the requisite capital will be raised in London, Paris, New York and San Francisco.

The money annually spent in maintaining the Protestant churches of Boston is $1,500,000, as calculated by the Boston Herald, leaving works of charity out of the account. The Congregationalists, including Trinitarians and Unitarians, lead the financial list, and the Episcopalians come next. Even the Baptists are ahead of the Methodists, who are so strong throughout the rest of the country.

Speaker Randall tells his friends that Congress will sit until the 1st of July, and the Speaker's friends say that he encourages a prolonged session, and holds that the army appropriation bill ought not to be passed, and that the struggle with the President ought to be made as pronounced and bitter as possible. The Speaker has a good deal of influence in the House, which gives his opinions and wishes importance.

Business seats in the New York Stock Exchange have advanced in value to $9,000 each. Since the panic of 1873 they have sold as low as $1,500, and within weeks they have sold at $7,500. This advance is attributed partly to the belief that the stringent provisions of the new constitution of California, imposing onerous taxation upon mining capital, will drive the great corporations from San Francisco to New York, and build up in that city a big mining stock business; and partly due to the revival of speculation in New York.

When the waters of Niagara first flushed with delight in the smile of the Princess Louise, she said: 'Don't speak; let me drink in the whole scene; and subsequently remarked: 'I have seen, and never shall see such a grand sight again. What I would have missed had I not seen it.' If Princess Louise, when standing in view of the falls, had simply said, 'Don't speak,' and kept silent herself, the effect would have been better. When Grant was gazing on the ruins of the Coliseum, he merely rolled his cigar over in his mouth, and remarked to his companion, in a tone full of feeling, 'Let's take something to drink.'

The Episcopal Convention of the Diocese of Michigan will convene in St. Paul's Church, Detroit, June 4, to elect a successor to the Right Rev. Samuel Allen McCrosky, recently deposed. Among the names of candidates prominently before the diocese are the Rev. Drs. Harris, Worthington, and Lane of the Diocese of Michigan; Van Deusen of Utica, N. Y.; Huntington of Worcester, Mass.; Hall, Paddock, and Saively of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Davies of Philadelphia, and Knickerbocker of Minneapolis, Minn. In addition to the above, the names of the following Missionary Bishops have been strongly urged: Haro of Niobrara, Tuttle of Utah, and Elbott and Garrett of Texas.

THE TROUBLES OF ENGLAND.

England, after many years of unexampled prosperity and good fortune, it now seems is beset with many perplexities, which call for the most careful consideration of her statesmen, diplomatists and financiers. With two wars upon her borders, both of which are remote from the central government, and which have both been thus far more disastrous to British troops and British glory than otherwise, she is seriously threatened with troubles among her laboring population at home, which are liable to seriously affect her prosperity, in the near future, at least.

The depression in business which for the past number of years, has so seriously impaired the progress of the United States, has not been felt in the British Empire until very recently, and during those years in which we have suffered, she has been on the high road to prosperity. But, now, just as we are beginning to recover from the prostration of business, financial troubles have found a foothold upon English soil, which threaten from various causes to be even more severe and lasting than they have been with us. The manufacturing and mining interests of that country have suddenly become stagnated and almost at a standstill, and as these are the principal industries which engage the attention of her home population and as immense amounts of capital are invested in these enterprises, which are now yielding no return in profits, and many of which are being run at a loss and consequently will be obliged to suspend operations unless there is a decided change for the better within a short time, the prospect is indeed gloomy. Strikes among the laboring people are in existence, on account of the reduction in wages which capitalists have been compelled to make, and more are impending. The entire labor system in England is in a depressed and uncertain condition and there is much anxiety and alarm as to what will be the probable result. With a country so small in extent as the Island of Great Britain and with a population so dense, a depression in business is more seriously felt than in a larger country like our own. In our vast area of territory and manifold diversity of pursuits, when one industry fails to give employment, another may be taken up, which is not the condition in England.

Another very serious consideration which now perplexes the minds of English statesmen, is from whence to obtain the necessary articles of food. Her own soil is not capable of such a vast production as her people must have or starve. Her people must be fed. She has drawn her supplies of provisions for the past number of years largely from this country, and we have certainly the means by which to supply her demands in the future equally as well, if not better than in the past. But the grave question which now presents itself to the English nation is from whence her supplies may be secured at the cheapest rates. The Royal Agricultural Society have taken the matter in consideration, and have made a movement to obtain reliable reports as to the food producing capabilities of Russia, India, Australia, Canada and the United States. Of these countries Australia, Canada and the greater portion of India are subject to the British crown. India is not in a condition to warrant many hopes from that quarter, as she is yet suffering from a severe famine which has extended throughout the entire East. The distance from Australia would make the shipments from there so expensive that but little could be hoped from that quarter. In some portions of Canada wheat is successfully raised and corn is cultivated to a limited extent. In either case the tillable territory is too inconsiderable to supply the demands for home consumption and leave much of a margin for shipment. Russia, especially the Southern portion bordering on the Black Sea, has always been a large grain producing country, and it is probable that from that country and the United States that England will be obliged to draw her supplies in the future as she has in the past.

Should the present condition of trade and finance in England continue for a considerable length of time the situation would indeed be deplorable. Exhaustive wars abroad and a starving population at home, with every enterprise in finance, commerce and manufactures completely prostrated, it is not a wonder that there is much anxiety as to the possible future.

A Pittsburg paper has interviewed 700 prominent business men in that city to ascertain their preferences for President in 1890. Among Republicans, 314 were found to be for Grant, 89 for Hayes, 51 for Blaine, 16 for Sherman, 18 for Conkling, and many scattering. Among the Democrats, 152 for Tilden, 11 for Hendricks, 6 for McClellan, 5 for Thurman. Of the Greenbacks, 4 preferred Gen. Butler.

No comedian can make as laughable a face as that made by the small boy when he brings a jelly jar down from the closet shelf and discovers it to be full of ten-penny nails.—Uncle Sam,

THE PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY OF THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

In the recent proceedings of the Medical State Convention, held at Greensboro, this particular section of the State was highly honored in having Doctor S. S. Satchwell, of Perder, re-elected by the united voice of the Convention to the position of President and Doctor Thos. F. Wood, our esteemed fellow-townsmen, re-elected in the same manner to the honorable position of Secretary to the State Board of Health. Of the two gentlemen thus honored, Doctor Satchwell is well known to this community and State, having been a practicing physician in North Carolina for a number of years, and is regarded as a physician of decided ability by the profession. Indeed, no better assurance of the fact of the esteem in which he is held need be wanted, than that the medical fraternity of the State in Convention assembled have re-elected him to the highest position within their gift in the State.

In their selection of Secretary to the Board of Health, we consider that the Society as well as the State at large is to be congratulated upon their choice. Doctor Wood is a gentleman of decided ability and has already attained to an eminence in his profession that might well be envied by those more advanced in years. As Secretary of the State Board of Health, Doctor Wood has by his own individual efforts personally know, done more than any other one physician in the State to elevate the tone and standing of the profession in this State, and we believe that to Dr. Wood alone is due the credit of the recent legislation in regard to the Medical Society and the appropriations for the same by the State Legislature.

The General Omnibus Company of Paris has for some time past made use of electricity for subduing vicious horses. By the process adopted, intractable animals given to biting, tearing and kicking are rendered inoffensive, and submit peaceably to be groomed and harnessed. To obtain this result a weak current of electricity is passed into the mouth of the horse each time it becomes restive. The will of the animal seems almost annihilated. The current is produced by a small induction machine of the Clarke system, the wires of which communicate with the bit of the bridle. The employment of electricity is said to produce a sort of uneasiness or torpor rather than pain, and its much less barbarous than many taming methods hitherto adopted.

It is no use dearly beloved Republican brethren says the World. The Grant movement is "booming" in Chicago with forty Presidential power. The Inter-Ocean of May 16 reaches us in a neat little edition of 196 pages of seven columns each! In comparison with this colossal sheet we were about to say, but really even feather bed would be inadequate—what are all the organs of the East put together? It comes through the mails like a twenty-four-pounder cannon-ball, as a boom for Grant should come; and it is crammed full of tax-list—as a boom for Grant should be!

An appeal is made by the Governors of Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts in behalf of the effort, already advanced, to commemorate the battle of Bennington. An association has been organized, and it is designed as soon as the subscriptions will warrant it to erect a suitable monument on the battle field.

MOONSHINE.

If you were to accuse Miss Analine de Fluke of overweening self-conceit, you would not be far from the mark: she would retort that one has a perfect right to admire the masterpieces of Nature. The day after the announcement of her engagement to Fred Dory, an old friend offered his congratulations. "Not me," she said, and she twitted her nose haughtily.—congratulate Fred.—Puck.

Blowing into the muzzle of a shot gun is a standard method of producing newspaper items. It remains for a young lad down town to introduce a variation. The street hose wouldn't work; the water was turned on to the spigot all right, but there seemed to be an obstruction. He placed his mouth completely over the end of the nozzle and blowed just once. The pressure of the whole reservoir suddenly broke loose, concentrated into that one nozzle. The lad let go with his mouth and sat down about fifty feet away, down the street, and he has not yet been relieved of the impression that his brain is water-soaked.—New Haven Register.

"The first Napoleon," remarked Mr. Middelrie, "introduced into France the manufacture of beet sugar, and it is to day an important industry in our own country." "Yes," said Master Middelrie, in a subdued tone of contentment, "I tasted some of it today." "Tasted some of what?" inquired his father, sharply. "Beet sugar," said the boy wearily, and then he drew closer to the table and ate more specifically on the edge of his chair. And silence fell on the family like a fog.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South, where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the Tropics it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkali, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional endorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

Miscellaneous.

DISLIKING TO ENTER INTO A NEWSPAPER CONTROVERSY, P. L. BRIDGERS & CO., Have heretofore refrained from saying anything on the subject of the Duff Gordon Sherries, AND W. T. Walters & Co.'s Baker's Whiskey, Both of which they have kept since opening, although some of their friends and competitors CLAIM to be Sole Agents. W. T. WALTERS & CO. Refuse to make any one their Agent, reserving the right to sell to whom they please.

By Business Men

It is well known that such articles as the DUFF GORDON SHERRIES, MUM'S CHAMPAGNE, etc., have no Local Agents throughout the country, as they can always be bought much cheaper, in small quantities, from second hands, than the Agents can sell at, they being compelled to protect the trade of those who buy hundreds of packages at a time.

WE ARE SURPRISED

That our friends, with their long Business Experience, should have brought forward such a weak point as this, but can now understand, paying package rates to the Agents, why they supposed, on account of the low price at which we were selling the goods, that ours was not the genuine article. Respectfully, and truly,

P. L. BRIDGERS & CO.,

THE MANIPULATED GUANO! The Best and Cheapest!

COTTON for GUANO!

In offering to you the WILCOX, GIBBS & CO.'S MANIPULATED GUANO for another season, we do so with the most perfect confidence that you will find it the BEST AND CHEAPEST FERTILIZER in use. It is no new article, requiring experiments to establish its value, but has been used for years with unbounded success in favor from year to year, until it has become accepted as the STANDARD FERTILIZER. It has been our study, not to make it EQUAL to others but SUPERIOR, and for our success in these efforts we refer you to the many of your neighbors who have used it, as well as to the thousands in the South Atlantic Cotton States. This Guano is so well known that it is unnecessary to publish any certificate but we annex a few testimonials in our circulars only from Planters who have made special tests of it alongside the Peruvian Guano, as showing how it compares with Peruvian Guano, which has heretofore been generally esteemed above all other Fertilizers. He will have only a moderate supply for sale and would request Planters to make their orders early. Our Agents are authorized to sell the MANIPULATED on very favorable terms, payable in cotton next Fall. JAS. T. PETTEWAY, Agent. Jan 29-4w
