SCENES AND INCIDENTS OF THE LATE WAR.

A Funeral Procession on the Battlefield.

Gen. Dick Taylor, in his book recently given to the public under the title of "Destruction and Reconstruction," refers to the successor of Stonewall Jackson in the command of the second corps of the Army of Northern Virginia as "Dear Dick Ewell," an expression of affection which we believe finds an echo in the breast of every surviving member of the old Second Corps whenever thinking or speaking of their valorous old commander.

The night preceding the final battle at Winchester No. 2, as it is called, the writer, as a member of Johnson's division spent in marching from a position in front of Winchester on the right by a circuitous route to a point some five miles beyond and to the north of the town on the Martinsburg turnpike road.

The division after making rather a circuitous route as already stated, and passing Jordan's Alum Springs on the way, had nearly reached the strategic point sought by our division commander Major General Ed Johnson, when a halt was ordered. The men who were tired and sleepy after the fatiguing night's march, had nearly all dropped quietly on the ground to seek a few moments repose, when the crack of a rifle burst upon the death-like stillness of the serene night air.

in his place and every officer at his post. Then came the rapid commands from the same brave spirit: Front! forward march! and outstepped the command from the road into the woods, then immediately came the order right half wheel, which was likewise promptly obeyed. This brought the command at right angles to its former position in the road and into line of battle, ready to receive an attack or to make one, according as the order might come. The other commands being promptly formed in line of battle also, the order all along the line now was forward! and forward the whole line moved. A few paces brought us to a fence behind which, and several trees near by, could be seen in the dim twilight of the early dawn, just then lighting up the scene around, several crouching figures.

In the short space of an hour the troops already mentioned, viz: The First and Third North Carolina and Tenth Virginia Infantry, together with the Maryland Artillery had forced the retreating enemy to give battle, cut off his retreat and succeeded in capturing the remainder of Milroy's Army to the number of about twenty-five hundred men. Early and Rhodes' division made their attacks at other points the day before; Early in front of the town, while Rhodes held the Berryville road, a strategic position on the right flank of our corps.

The firing, as we have said, had ceased in front, and being anxious to see the effect of our shot upon the enemy, the writer jumped upon the embankment and proceeded to walk over the field. The wounded and slain were quite numerous, though not as much so, as we had seen them on other fields; but the effects of the grape and canister discharged from the Maryland gun on the bridge, which was most gallantly handled, was very disastrous to the foe, and many were killed and wounded.

This scene and walking a little farther, we stopped in a grove of trees where there were a number of captured horses, but turning around hastily, upon hearing the rattle of wheels, as of those of a vehicle, we saw General Ewell getting out of a rockaway, and leaning on his crutches, walk to a spot very near to where we were standing. Just then General Early rode up, and dismounting, joined the commanding General, who in turning to meet his able Lieutenant with a welcome smile, placed his hand gently upon General Early's shoulder and greeted him in the following words: "How are you, my Old War Horse?" The two Generals, who then exchanged congratulations, were surrounded by their staff, who it must be stated, made altogether a much more brilliant display in the glitter of gold lace and staffs and bars, and with their cuff trimmings, than did either of the two general officers.

We now returned to our command, and found that the Ambulance Corps had been busy, and that all of our wounded had been moved off the field. But now another sight, most solemn and impressive was about to engage our attention. The Rev. Dr. Patterson, at present rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, in this city, was at that time Chaplain of the Third N. C. Infantry, and this holy man of God, who was always on hand when a ministerial office was needed, and frequently where the bullets were whistling, when he was not needed, upon the field under fire, had just donned his clerical robes and stood, prayer book in hand, and open, waiting for a procession of the survivors of the regiment to form.

The scene was a strange one, and one long to be remembered, and peculiarly impressive. Here was the minister clad in the flowing robes of his holy office, the man of peace, and there were the men some of them of each army who scarce an hour before were in hostile array and engaged in deadly conflict, now with bowed heads listening to the solemn words of God's Holy Church. The soldiers of other commands who were engaged in removing the wounded prisoners, or digging graves to bury their own dead, stood still and silent and with uncovered heads, remained transfixed while their whose attention was riveted upon the solemn procession. The smoke of battle had scarce cleared away, and the smell of gunpowder still lingered in the woods when the Minister finished the sacred duty, and had uttered the awful words, "earth to earth, dust to dust, ashes to ashes," and the last shovel full of dirt was heaped upon the mound that contained all that was earthly of the dead heroes who had just yielded up their lives freely and willingly upon the altar of their beloved country.

The Stomach Cannot be Freightened With greater truth than a violent drastic purgative. True, such a medicine relieves constipation for the time, but at the expense of great injury to the intestinal canal, which it both inflames and weakens, thus unfitting it for the performance of its proper functions. Widely different is the action of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a tonic aperient which produces effects prompt, indeed, but never violent and convulsing. The purity of its botanic ingredients, its unobjectionable flavor, its genial influence upon the mind, and the thoroughness of its remedial action in cases of constipation, liver complaint and dyspepsia, combine to render it a most desirable family specific. It increases both physical vigor and substance, tranquilizes and invigorates the nervous system, and gives an unwarmed relish for the food. A wineglassful three times daily is about the average dose.

DISLIKING TO ENTER INTO NEWSPAPER CONTROVERSY. P. L. BRIDGERS & CO., Have heretofore refrained from saying anything on the subject of the Duff Gordon Sherries. W. T. Walters & Co.'s Baker Whiskey. Both of which they have kept since opening, although some of their friends and competitors CLAIM to be Sole Agents.

W. T. WALTERS & CO. Refuse to make any one their Agent, reserving the right to sell to whom they please.

By Business Men It is well known that such articles as the DUFF GORDON SHERRIES, MUMPS CHAMPAGNE, etc., have no Local Agents throughout the country, as they can always be bought much cheaper, in small quantities, from second hands, than the Agents can sell at, they being compelled to protect the trade of those who buy hundreds of packages at a time.

WE ARE SURPRISED That our friends, with their long Business Experience, should have brought forward such a weak point as this, but can now understand, paying package rates to the Agents, why they supposed, on account of the low price at which we were selling the goods, that ours was not the genuine article. Respectfully, and truly,

A Sure Cure for Piles. A SURE CURE for the blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. William's Indian Remedy, called Dr. William's Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst old chronic cases of twenty-five and thirty years' standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotion, ointment and electuary do more harm than good. William's Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching (particularly at night after getting warm in bed), acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for Piles, itching of the private parts and nothing else. I consulted physicians in Philadelphia, Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and this city, and spent hundreds of dollars, and found no relief until I obtained a box of Dr. William's Indian Ointment some four months ago, and it has cured me completely. JOSEPH M. KYDES, Cleveland, O. "Has done me more good than all the medicine I ever tried, and I have spent more than $100 with doctors, besides medicines I am sure cost me more than $40." DAVID SPARKS, Ingraham, Ill. "Have suffered twenty years with itching and ulcerated piles, having used every remedy that came to my notice without benefit, until I used Indian Ointment and received immediate relief. JAMES CARROLL, (an old miser) No Pile Remedy ever gained such rapid favor and extensive sale. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists. For sale by J. C. Munds and T. S. Burbank, march 20-cov-d&w

LIFE IN A BOTTLE. The Most Valuable Medical Discovery Known to the World—No More Use for Quinine, Calomel or Mineral Poisons—Life for the Blood, Strength for the Nerves and Health for All.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC. Believing that by cleaning the blood and building up the constitution was the only way of banishing disease and being troubled with weakness of the lungs, catarrh, very much broken down in constitution, &c., and after trying the best of the kind of medicine advertised without finding a permanent cure, I began doctoring myself, using medicines made from roots and herbs. I fortunately discovered a wonderful Bitters or Blood Cleanser, the first bottle of which gave me new life and vigor, and in time effected a permanent cure of my catarrh, my lungs became strong and sound, being able to stand the most severe cold and exposure, and having gained over thirty pounds in weight. Feeling confident that I had made a wonderful discovery in medicine, I prepared a quantity of the Root Bitters, and was in the habit of giving them away to sick friends and neighbors. I found the medicine effected the most wonderful cures of all diseases caused from humors or scrofula in the blood, Impure blood, Bad Stomach, Weakness, Kidney Disease, Torpid Liver, &c., &c. The news of my discovery in this way spread from one person to another, and found myself called upon to supply patients in many parts of the country, and I was induced to establish a laboratory for compounding and bottling the Root Bitters in large quantities, and I now devote all my time to this business.

I was at first backward in presenting either myself or discover in this way to the public, but now I am getting braver and braver. Since I first advertised this medicine I have been crowded with orders from druggists and country dealers, and the hundreds of letters I have received from persons cured, prove the fact that no remedy ever did so much good in so many cases of disease and success as the Root Bitters. In fact, I am convinced that they will soon take the lead of all other medicines in use. Nearly one hundred retail druggists, right here at home in Cleveland, now sell Root Bitters, some of whom have already sold over one thousand bottles.

Root Bitters are strictly a medical preparation, such as was used in the good old days of our forefathers, when people were cured by some simple root or plant, and when calomel and other poisons of the mineral kingdom were unknown.

They act strongly on the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels regular and build up the nervous system. They penetrate every part of the body, searching out every nerve, bone and tissue from the head to the feet, cleansing and strengthening the fountain springs of life, hence they must reach all diseases by purification and nourishment.

Thousands of persons in all parts of the country are already using Root Bitters. They are sold by every respectable druggist who had been given up by friends and physicians to die, and have permanently cured many old chronic cases of Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and Skin Diseases, where all other treatments had failed. Are you troubled with sick headache, constipation and country man's disease or any other nervousness, and broken down in constitution? You will be cured if you take Root Bitters. Have you humors and pimples on your face or skin? Nothing will give you such good health, strength, and beauty as Root Bitters.

I know that zeal-ous physicians will cry humbug because my discovery cures so many of their patients, but I care not for now my desire and determination to please my Root Bitters as fast as possible within the reach of all those suffering throughout the world. Sold by wholesale and retail druggists and country men by the case or by the dozen on receipt of price, 50 cents per bottle, or six bottles $5.00. For certificates of wonderful cures, see my large circular around each bottle of medicine. Read and judge for yourself.

Ask your druggist or merchant for FREDERICK'S ROOT BITTERS, the grand Stomach-Cleaner, and take no substitute. It is recommended because he makes a large profit.
