A Shower of Hail.
Quite a gust of wind and cold air passed over this city yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, and about the same time we learn that a severe hail storm prevailed at the old 'Johnny Hopkins' place, some three and a half miles from the city on what is known as the old Newbern road.

Personal.
A letter received in this city from Rev. Dr. Patterson announces that he will not return here until next week, and after a short visit to Newbern. He is now at Raleigh and will probably remain there until early in the week. Rev. Mr. Larmour, of St. Stephen's Church, in Goldsboro, will officiate and preach in St. John's next Sunday at the usual hours.

A Monster.
A large rattlesnake was killed on Cypress Creek, in Pender county, near Mr G. W. Malpass store, on Friday last. He was a monster and when opened a full grown rabbit was found in his stomach. His age could not be determined, as nearly all of his rattles had been broken off. Our informant, however, avers that he was as large around as a man's arm above the elbow.

A Sell on a Policeman.
A few nights ago some one placed "Punch," the wooden image of a cigar store on Front street, in a recumbent position on the door-step of the store. A valiant Knight of the star saw the "man" in the door and ordered him to "move on." No notice was taken of the command, and a person who was passing was requested to help the policeman raise the man to his feet. They laid hands on the supposed man before they discovered the true nature of things. The policeman swore he wouldn't arrest the figure, but would like to punch the fellow who put him there.

Taxing Railroad Property—General Meeting of County Commissioners.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, says the Charlotte Observer of yesterday's date, a meeting of the commissioners of counties through which the Carolina Central Railway passes was held at the court house in this city. The attendance was not at as large as was anticipated. The following was the representation:

Messrs B G Worth and W H James, of New Hanover; D S Cowan, of Columbus; Geo M Phifer and Mr Smith of Lincoln; Mr McCormack, of Robeson; T L Vail, of Mecklenburg.

Capt D R Murchison, one of the receivers of the road; Capt V Q Johnson, the superintendent, and Maj C M Stedman, attorney for the company, were in attendance to urge upon the meeting the adoption of a uniform rate of taxation of the company's property in the several counties. It seems that there has been a wide difference in the rate of assessment, some counties doubling the value fixed by others.

Capt Johnson, the superintendent, made a statement, setting forth that the total property of the company could not be sold for more than $900,000; of this amount, something over $250,000 invested in rolling stock which was returnable in the county in which the road had its headquarters or central office. Dividing the remainder by the number of miles of the road it was shown that the railroad bed, including iron, &c, and the depots, should not be valued at more than $2,500 per mile. In one of the lower counties, it was stated the valuation was at the rate of $5,000, and in Mecklenburg $3,000. The company asked that the valuation be uniform and expressed a willingness to pay at the rate of $2,500 per mile.

An informal discussion was had, in which it was agreed that the meeting could do nothing but recommend a valuation to the different boards represented; that the valuation could only be fixed by the board of equalization, composed of the county commissioners and the assessors of the counties at large, which meets the first Monday in August in the several counties throughout the State. An effort was made to induce the meeting to recommend $2,500 as the rate, but they could not agree upon this, some of the commissioners wanting $3,000. They seem to be about equally divided between these two amounts, with a preponderance in favor of $2,500.

The company was advised to present to the different boards of equalization the facts that had been shown to the meeting, whereupon, there being no further business it adjourned sine die.

Peaches
Some of the first peaches of the season were offered for sale this morning by Mr. F. W. Heyer. They were raised by him at his residence in this city. They were fine ones and met with ready sale.

The Prince Imperial.
We were not very intimately acquainted with the French Prince Imperial, and yet we have always felt a sympathy for him. His death at the hands of the Zulus, in South Africa, as announced by a cable dispatch, is a fitting close to a life which, young as it was, has had in it but little of cheer and comfort during the past decade. The Bonaparte line is now nearly extinct.

The Hog Nuisance.
The practice of turning hogs out on the streets on Sunday is becoming more general and the streets look like a large hog pen. We heard a colored man saying a few days ago that he had "the most sensible" hogs in town. Said he, I turns 'em out sundown Saturday evening and I dont see 'em any more 'till 'dey comes up to de gate 'bout day break Monday". The practice has been carried on for so long a time that the hogs seem to have learned just how long they can with safety prowl about the streets roving up grass plats and demolishing flower gardens. Some time during last Saturday night a couple of hogs opened a gate on Seventh street, rooted up the yard, and wound up their work by tearing several small chickens to pieces. We do not believe in making persons do more than is absolutely necessary on the Sabbath Day but we think the nuisance has assumed such proportions as to make it a matter of necessity that the cart should be on the streets on Sunday. As soon as several of the hogs are captured and their owners fined for a violation of the City Ordinance the nuisance will be put a stop to.

City Court.
Charles Murphy was arraigned for abusing and insulting a police officer in the discharge of his duty. The testimony of the witnesses went to prove that Health, Officer Scharf, while on the premises of Mr. Murphy yesterday, in the regular discharge of his duty, inquiring into the sanitary condition of the place and making inquiry into the number of badgeless dogs on the premises, in accordance with a recent order of the Chief of Police, was cursed and abused by the defendant and ordered off his premises.

The defendant maintained, through his counsel, Marsden Bellamy, Esq., that the officer had invaded the sanctity of his private domain, his castle and lot, without the proper authority of law and that in vindication of his rights as a citizen he had a right to put him off the same.

The Court held a different opinion and fined the defendant $25 and costs, from which an appeal was craved to the Criminal Court, the defendant furnishing a justified bond in the sum of $75 for his appearance at that time.

James Clark, colored, the individual more commonly known as Lemonade Jim, who perambulates Water street constantly to the great annoyance of countrymen, by his persistent efforts to induce them to go with him and buy something, was arraigned next for molesting and interfering with a police officer in the discharge of his duty. The Mayor kindly furnished Jim with lodging for the next thirty days, and the defendant made his exit through the Court room door to the apartment awaiting him in the City Prison below.

The next case was a very aggravated one of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The party being a sailor man whose vessel was ready for her voyage he was allowed to deposit $10 fine and depart to go down in his ship to the sea. This wound up the proceedings of the day and the Court adjourned.

The Supreme Court.
In this Court, on Wednesday, appeals were called and heard as follows:

State vs Fred Brown, from New Hanover; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State. No counsel for the defendant.

State vs Richard Williamson, from New Hanover; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State. No counsel for the defendant.

State vs James Heaton, from New Hanover; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State. No counsel for the defendant.

State vs Lewis Spencer, from New Hanover; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State. No counsel for the defendant.

Chestnut street, from Third clear down to the water is very dirty. The scavenger carts could put in a good day's work in that locality.

When you send a paper to a young lady cut a small item out, no matter what this insures the office the sale of another paper. She has got to see what it was, if it takes a week to find out.

Resumed.
A private dispatch was received in this city this afternoon conveying the gratifying intelligence that one of the Southern firms doing business in New York, whose failure from speculation in cotton futures occurred as reported a few days ago, has resumed business again, and will pay 100 cents on the dollar. The name of the firm is W. H. & J. H. Farley.

A Breakdown.
This afternoon a dray driven by a colored man loaded with thirteen sacks of corn and hauled by a poor old horse, broke down in front of the commission house of Messrs. E. Peschau & Westermann, caused by the breaking of the axle. The fall of the dray threw the horse (no very hard matter) and scattered the corn rather loosely about the street. There were in all about 1,500 pounds on the dray, which is too much load for a poor horse. It would be well to put less corn on the dray and more in the horse.

Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.
In the absence of the President of the Chamber of Commerce, A. H. Van Bokkelen Esq., the Secretary, Col. J. L. Cantwell, has issued a notice by authority of the first Vice-President of the Chamber, Mr. E. Peschau, calling a meeting of this body at the rooms of the Produce Exchange to-morrow at high noon, to meet with the Produce Exchange, for the purpose of presenting some testimonial of acknowledgement to Mr. Henry Nutt for the part he has taken in securing government aid for the Cape Fear river Bar Improvements.

The Treasurer's Decisions.
Among the decisions announced by the State Treasurer, in response to enquiries made by Mr. M. Cronly, Assessor for Wilmington township, is one relative to solvent credits, in which he says that "taxpayers must list their solvent credits, in or out of the State, estimating their value at what they would bring at a voluntary sale."

As far as this decision is concerned it strikes us that Mr. Worth has said either too little or too much. Surely he could not have carefully estimated his language. The law does not propose to tax anything above its value—or below it—and the only estimate of the value of anything is what it will bring in market at a forced sale, for cash. A man's voluntary estimate of anything held by him is sometimes as much over or as much under its actual market value as estimates on the same made by others. And the question will turn, too, on what are solvent credits. A note or an account may be worth one hundred cents on the dollar to-day, when a man lists his taxes, but may not be worth one hundred mills on the thousand dollars, one, or two, or three months hence, when he pays his taxes. He lists a credit to-day as solvent and yet when he pays his taxes he will be compelled to pay taxes on what may prove then to be an absolutely worthless piece of paper.
