The almanac promises rain for Friday next.

Nobody twines the evergreen any longer. It is hardly ever green.

Uneasy lies the man who has already been caught at it once or twice.

We don't look for any rain until the change of the moon, which is booked for next Saturday.

The author of "There's no place like home, sweet home," probably never poisoned the rats and had them die in the walls.

Somebody has said that "the clash of ideas is the gem of thought," but it wasn't the husband of a red-headed woman with cayenne pepper on her tongue who said it.

"Newspapers pasted together and laid over a bed, are said to be warmer than a blanket."—Exchange. No doubt; but a marriage certificate, neatly framed and hung over the bed, is much better.

Steam carpet beaters are not failures, but every man of any business tact knows that his wife can beat a carpet just as thoroughly as any machine, and that without cost.

The house flies held their regular annual convention all over the country the first of the month, and unanimously resolved to adopt last year's platform without any change.

So dry is it, and so parched has vegetation become hereabouts, that the leaves on the elm trees were falling to-day as thick as they ever did in Vallambrosa in the month of November.

Greenland is noted for its absence of cats. The long night of six months kills them off in their efforts to meow it through. To nervous old bachelors this intelligence is in favor of Greenland.

We are requested by the President to say that the place of distribution for the Ladies' Benevolent Society has been changed to the store of Mr. Straus—next door to last place.

Increased Mail Facilities.

Three mails a day are now delivered at the postoffices on the line of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad. The passenger train which leaves here for Weldon every morning at 7.10 delivers the mail, the train which reaches here from Weldon at 9.53 p. m. does the same, and the morning train which reaches here at 8.45 also delivers mail matter at the various offices on the line of this fast running and admirably managed road. This is certainly a great convenience, and is of especial advantage to merchants and other business men who live on and near the line of this road. A gentleman residing at Rocky Point, and who receives the daily World by mail from New York, states to us that he now receives it at 8 o'clock every morning the issue of the previous day, whereas it did not arrive at that office, under previous mail schedule, until the night of the second day of the morning issue.

Post Office Matters.

Several days since printed notices were placed in the letter boxes at the post office that if the rent for the same was not paid on or before the 15th inst., all mail matter directed to those who held keys of the boxes would be delivered from the general delivery window. From one cause or another many neglected to pay the rent at the time specified, and in consequence there was a large accumulation of mail matter at the general delivery. This caused some considerable inconvenience, but the result has been a large increase in the revenues of the office from box rents. There is yet, however, considerable mail matter not delivered, which has usually been placed in the boxes. This is a matter in which we learn the postmaster has no discretion, but after due and reasonable notice is obliged to pursue the course which he has taken in this instance.

Sumter Light Infantry.

As indicated yesterday, this fine corps of soldiers from our Sister Carolina arrived here on this morning's train, and were met at the depot by the Wilmington Light Infantry. The Sumters were welcomed by the usual military salute and a brief speech by Gen. M. P. Taylor, who alluded pleasantly to their visit last year and stated that it was a settled principle that whatever stranger, visiting the city, should drink of the waters of the "Rock Spring," would certainly return to again try their efficacy. He was rejoiced to think that they had partaken last year of the cooling and refreshing beverage, and had come again to test its marvellous qualities. We can only give the substance of his remarks, but, though brief, they were happily conceived and to the point.

In response, Captain Delgar, of the Sumters, spoke briefly, but in a most felicitous style, alluding to the pleasures of their former visit and speaking in the highest terms of Wilmington's proverbial hospitality and courtesy, and concluded by extending a cordial invitation to visit them while in camp at Smithville.

The Sumters, with their accompanying friends, took breakfast at the railroad dining rooms, where an excellent repast had been prepared for them. They then, under the escort of the W. L. I., marched to the foot of Market street to convey them to camp.

Among the civilians who will enjoy with them the glorious ocean breezes at Smithville, were quite a number of the most prominent citizens of Sumter, some with their wives and families. It is also expected that several others, who were not prepared to come this morning, will join them to-morrow.

The military who have arrived are as follows:

Capt. W. R. Delgar, Lieut. A. Moses and H. Schwerin; Sergeants J. E. Baskin and J. E. Brown, and Privates Haynes Worth, Schwerin, Chandler, Badwell, Joy, Durant, Walsh, Morris, Durant, Corbett, Miller, Brown and DeLorme.

A Case Before the Mayor.

A young white man from the country this morning arrested upon a warrant for an assault and battery upon a white boy on the 9th inst., and carried before the Mayor, when the defendant, without further ado, concluded to submit the case to avoid trouble, and was fined $2 50, which he paid.

Of course no man ought to strike or undertake to chastise a boy unless he is lawfully authorized to do so, but from our knowledge of boys, we are inclined to think that there is frequently just cause for a righteous indignation against them, and there ought to be a little more chastising, frequently where there is none. The difficulty referred to above occurred one week ago, and the defendant in the case has not been in the city since, until to-day, whereupon, the boy swore out a warrant and the truly rural individual pays the penalty. The extent of the damage to the boy amounted to a slap bestowed upon him by the countryman.

Sanitary Matters.

The condition of the streets in many localities in this city at this season of the year needs the attention of the street brigade oftener than once a week. Particularly is this the case in the neighborhood of old Mud Market, as it is called, where the filth that accumulates on Saturday night is allowed to remain over Sunday. We write this in no fault-finding spirit but from a conviction of duty, inasmuch as complaint has been made about this matter, which has been alluded to on more than one occasion before by the press. We trust, however, that we shall not have occasion to refer to it again, but that it will claim the attention of the proper authorities at once.

The Weather and the Crops.

The protracted drought which now prevails in this section seems to be extensive as it surely is becoming terrible upon growing crops, especially early corn. The earth is greatly parched and the wells in these eastern counties are most of them well nigh exhausted. Stock is suffering for drinking water, and farmers are becoming discouraged and gloomy at the unfavorable prospects of crops because of this severe drought. In some country churches the people are assembling themselves together and offering up prayers to Him who turneth not a deaf ear to His suffering creatures and those in distress, and begging that He will send forth refreshing showers to revive the withered corn and to save the parched crops.

Arrival of River Steamers.

The steamers D. Marchison, A. P. Hart and North State arrived here this morning from Fayetteville, which are the first arrivals since last Friday. The Wave also put in an appearance about 1 o'clock to-day, having left Fayetteville yesterday morning at 7 o'clock. The river is so extremely low that every steamer has to transfer its freight to lighters at Kelley's Cove and tow them over the shoals, besides using their windlass and ropes to pull over different points. Navigating the Cape Fear river between here and Fayetteville is everything but pleasant to steamboatmen now.

Not Dead Yet.

We learn that the colored woman Maria Covington, who was so brutally assaulted yesterday by her paramour, Sam Pickett, who is also colored, is improving, and it is thought now will get well. In fact, we understand that the woman was up and running about her house to-day.

The defendant, Pickett, is still under lock and key at the guard house, and will be brought to trial before the Mayor on Saturday, if the injured woman is well enough to attend as a witness on that day.

For the Green Mountains.

Col. H. B. Short left this morning on the W. & W. Railroad for a trip North, and will extend his travels as far as Vermont before he returns. His absence will be brief, as he contemplates returning in two or three weeks. We wish him a pleasant journey and a safe return.

A fashion exchange says that a wreath of small orange blossoms, lily of the valley or clematis, is placed around the bridal slipper, which is of white satin or to match the dress. The wreath should be full in front and scant on the sides and back.

Bro. McDiarmid, of the Robesonian, is in the city to-day with Smithville and salt water in his mind's eye.

There was a rumor current to-day of another murder on Town Creek, in Brunswick county, but we could trace it to no reliable source.

"A Fish Fry."

Editor Review:

On Friday, the 11th inst., I was present by invitation at a "Fish Fry," at Long Point, Topsail Sound, near the residence of Mr. William King. In order to be present I was compelled to drive 20 miles, under a hot sun, with the thermometer at 105, but knowing the good treat in store for me upon my arrival I neither grumbled nor summured at the distance. There were present about 150 crème de la crème of Pender, besides a goodly number from New Hanover and Onslow. The entire crowd were in the best of humor, and seemed to vie with each other in making the occasion a pleasant and delightful one.

After an hour or two passed in conversation with my old "child-day" friends, and introducing and being introduced to others, dinner was announced. The table was laden with an abundance of all that a hungry man could desire to eat or drink, not only the products of our own country but of the tropics, with fish in great variety and cooked in every style. You may rest assured that I did ample justice to the dinner.

After dinner there was a "tub race"—the first I ever witnessed. It was provocative of much merriment, especially when the tubcapsized and immersed its occupants in the channel. We tried to induce our Commodore, a Rocky Pointer, and no light weight either, to enter the race, but he concluded that he was rather too far from his wardrobe.

The race being over we dispersed to the houses, to which we had several been invited by the hospitable residents of the locality, to take tea, preparatory to the hop to be given at "Grange Hall" at night.

Among the hosts of the occasion we must not forget to mention our McClammy, whose name is a household word and one ever dear to the people of Pender as well as those of the mother county of New Hanover—a name that the people demand shall receive the honor which is its due.

After tea we adjourned to the "Hall" to see the dancers, without a thought of participating in its pleasures. But the merry notes of the violin and the voice of "Old Ransom" calling the changes put new springs in the old bones and new life in the old frame, and the next set I was in the dance with one of Wilmington's fairest daughters for a partner, and Maj. McClammy for a vis a vis. It was a swarm night! I might almost call it à la, but with an excellent ventilation and a plenty of iced lemonade, &c., &c., we managed to pass the hours pleasantly.

We are indebted to the entire community for the pleasure we enjoyed on that delightful occasion, but to Maj. McClammy, Messrs. Robert Nixon, Wm. King, Ivy Sidbury, James Nixon and —Sidbury we make a grateful bow and assure them and their friends that we shall ever feel grateful for their manifold kindnesses, and trust that they may have more of the same kind.

ROCK QUARRY.

Success in the Stock Market.

Few people understand how large fortunes are amassed so rapidly in stock operations. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have just published "two unerring rules for success," and full details, so that any one can operate.—Mailed free. Their new combination system of dealing in stocks is wonderfully profitable. By this method thousands of orders, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and co-operated as a mighty whole, thus securing to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and best skill. Profits divided every 30 days. $15 would make $75 profit. $100 would return $1,000, or 10 per cent on the stock in the month, and so on, according to the market. A New York Fashion Editor and prominent newspaper correspondent, made over 375 per cent profit on an investment, Oct. 5th, 1878. Many others are doing as well or better. Large or small amounts can be used with equal proportionate success by this system. All kinds of stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

Honored and Blessed.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well-known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of disease that most all other remedies could be dispensed with many were sceptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt and to-day the discoverers of that great Medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.
