No City Court to-day.

The yellow fever news from the doomed city of Memphis is heart-pickening.

A man in the finest suit of clothes is often a shabbier fellow than another pressed in rags.

Major Robert Bingham, of Bingham's school, is in the city, the guest of Mr. David G. Worth.

Kindness, if nothing stronger should induce anyone to use Dr. Ball's Baby Syrup for the relief of the diseases of Babyhood. Price 25 cents.

There wasn't much of that warm weather after all, but there was a muchness about it at the time which was not charming.

An exchange hastens to inform us that Queen Victoria drinks her tea out of a saucer. Glad to hear it; always supposed she took up the teapot and drank out of the "nose."

A man may be as pure as a virgin snowflake and as mild as a May morning, but he will get wild just the same when his office boy dips the mugilage brush in the inkstand.

"Where shall we go this summer?" asks an exchange. Go? Go to the circus, to the beer gardens, to the poorhouse, to thunder. Just as many places to go to this summer as there was last.

The man who will treat a crowd to seventy-five cents worth of liquor, and then go home and tell his wife he is too poor to buy a ten cent watermelon is altogether too mean for this world, but yet just such people manage to stay here.

A colored man whose name we did not learn fell down in a fainting fit in front of C. H. Ward's barber shop, on Front street, this morning, but was taken up and kindly cared for by some of his colored friends who had him conveyed to his home on Red Cross street.

Huge Snake.
Mr. Wash King, while engaged in gathering pine straw yesterday in the neighborhood of Jumping Lion, killed a huge water moccasin; he also dispatched fifty-nine young ones which he thought were the offspring of the old one.

Arrived Safe.
Letters received here announce that Messrs. Thos. H. Smith and Thomas Monk, of this city, have arrived safely in the "Ould Country." Mr. Monk left the ship at Queenstown, on the 3d inst., for Dublin, and two days after, on the 5th, Mr. Smith landed at Liverpool, and is now with his friends and relatives in Lancaster. Letters were received here from him yesterday in which he states that he has been greeted with cold weather, he having found it comfortable, the night previous, under two blankets and two quilts. These gentlemen will both return soon, expecting to arrive in Wilmington about the 15th of August.

Honored and Blessed.
When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well-known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of disease that most all other remedies could be dispensed with many were sceptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt and to-day the discoverers of that great Medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.

From Point Caswell.
The usual gloomy reports as to the crops come to us from Point Caswell, in Pender county. There, as in so many other sections, everything is parched well nigh unto death. If good rains do not come within the next few days there will be absolutely no crops made at all this year.

From Topsail.
Maj. C. W. McClammy, from Topsail, Pender county, is in the city to day. His reports as regards the crops are very gloomy. Everything seems going to nothing and drying up for the want of water. Even with the best of rains now more than half a crop of anything could be realized and without rain there will be nothing saved worth speaking of. The outlook is gloomy indeed.

Murder at Old Fort.
A friend and subscriber at Old Fort sends us the particulars of a homicide which occurred in that quiet little town on last Saturday night. It seems that a party of four or five persons engaged in a game of cards in the open air at a place just below the village and by the side of the creek when two of them, Emanuel Rose and William Rogers, got into a dispute over the cards, which broke up the game. The party then started for the village, the two continuing their quarrel, and when within a short distance of the depot Rogers dared Rose to come to him and fight it out fair. A few blows passed between the two when Rogers fell to the earth and died in a few minutes. An examination showed that he had been fearfully cut in three different places—one on his left side, about 6 inches long and through to the hollow, one in the pit of the stomach, and the third just below and under the arm pit—either of which might prove fatal. Rose attempted to escape, but was caught and is now confined in jail awaiting his trial for murder.

How Was it Done?
On Saturday last, one of our Water street friends, having a pair of pantaloons somewhat the worse for wear, disposed of them to a colored man employed in the store of which he has the charge. Accordingly the clothing was wrapped and tied up securely, and placed where the purchaser could get it when it came time to close up for the night. Late in the afternoon, and just before it was time to close the store, a colored man from the country—a regular customer—came in and made a small purchase, and soon after he had left it was discovered that the pantaloons were among the missing. Suspicion at once pointed to the recent customer, and the purchaser of the clothing was in pursuit, and overtook him on Fourth street, just across the bridge. The charge of theft was made and indignantly denied. A search was made and after finding one or two other bundles, the bundle of clothing was at last found in a bag. At this the thief was lost in amazement, and wondered how they could possibly have gotten there, which is a conundrum he is probably only able to answer.

This Morning's Fire.
About half past 2 o'clock this morning, the alarm of fire was sounded. It was in the Fourth district and came from the grocery store of Mr. J. N. Mohr, located on the Southeast corner of Church and Seventh streets. Fortunately there was very little wind or else the disaster might have been a very serious one. As it was it was confined to the locality where it originated. The flames were first discovered issuing from Mr. Mohr's store and they burned so fiercely that the building and the stock were entirely consumed before the engines could be brought to play upon them. Mr. Mohr's dwelling was within twenty-eight feet of the burning store and this was saved, in a partially damaged condition, only through the strenuous exertions of the fire department. The fire seems to have caught within the store but no one knows how it originated. Mr. Mohr was insured with Mr. Giles' Agency. He had $1,000 on the stock in the Royal, of Liverpool, which will probably cover the loss. The building was worth about $700 but was insured for only $500, in the Phoenix, of Hartford. He had also a policy of $500 on his dwelling, in the Phoenix, but the damages to this building will not, it is thought, exceed $100. The department worked faithfully and the fire was well managed, a fact to which the neighbors bear grateful testimony.

A Curiosity.
Mr. Geo. R. Bate, at Mr. T. H. Smith's store, on Market street, has a small guinea egg, the first laid by a young fowl, which is quite a curiosity in its way. It has on one side a distinct circle, surrounded, apparently, with different letters, but what letters we were unable to make out. It is well worth seeing.

Prayers for Rain.
There will be a prayer meeting at the Seamen's Bethel to-morrow, commencing at 12 o'clock, noon, but the purpose of invading the Divine Ruler in earnest prayer to bless our parched earth with needed rains. It is earnestly requested that clergymen of every denomination may be present and take part in the exercises, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

Questions for the National Board of Health.
In the National Board of Health Bulletin, published at Washington, D. C., we find the following paragraph:

It has been suggested by Dr. Thos. F. Wood, Secretary of the State Board of Health of North Carolina, to add to the list the questions recommended by the National Board in the "Rules and regulations recommended to be adopted and observed at all ports in the United States which are or may be designated quarantine stations," certain questions relative to ballast. Acting on this suggestion the Executive Committee of the National Board of Health recommend that the following questions be added to said list: "What have you for ballast?" "When and where was it obtained?"

This, we believe, has been suggested in view of the fact that a vessel may possibly take in ballast at an infected yellow fever port and then proceed to another port in the West Indian Islands where there is no epidemic and take in a part cargo of molasses, sugar or coffee, and clear from this last port with her cargo as though she had not visited an infected port during the voyage, and unless the questions above are propounded it is possible that the ballast with the yellow fever germ may be thrown out and scatter the disease broadcast over the land. We hope the National Board of Health will incorporate Doctor Wood's suggestion and his questions be added to the list of inquiries.

Public Schools.
At a meeting of the School Committee of District No. 2, City of Wilmington, held to-day, the following teachers were appointed for the ensuing school term, on condition that they each exhibit satisfactory first grade teacher's certificates as required by law:

For Hemenway School (for the white race)—Mrs. Flora J. Wise, Principal; Mrs. Laura P. Rothwell, Mrs. Mary O. Wallace, Miss Mary E. Duguid, Miss Alice Phillyaw, teachers.

For Peabody School (for the colored race)—Mr. John A. Holt, Principal; Miss Elizabeth Smith, Miss Susan W. Sampson, Miss Maria Mallett, teachers.

The salaries of the principals were fixed at $40 and of teachers at $35 per month, and it was ordered that the schools shall be opened on Wednesday, the first day of October next.

Mr. Walker Meares was appointed to take the school census of the District, and the heads of families were requested to aid him in securing full and correct returns in regard to all subjects required by him in accordance with the school law.

The Excursion From Shelby.
An excursion party from Shelby and other points West, under the management of Messrs. Sossaman and Hinson, arrived here this morning on the regular train on the C. O. R. W. There is not a large crowd, only some thirty-two persons in all, but they form a select party and have gone in for all of the enjoyment to be had. They will take passage on the Passport and will go down the river to-morrow to get a mouthful of salt air. They will spend to-morrow night and Thursday in and about the city and will start on the return trip on Thursday evening.

A week from next Monday and we will have the August term of the Criminal Court.

American Wines.
But few persons are aware of the great amount of grapes raised in New Jersey. Alfred Speer is known to be the largest wine grower east of the Rocky Mountains. His Port Grape Wine is the best, and is considered by physicians and chemists as the best wine to be procured. It is ordered to London and Paris, where it is becoming very popular among wealthy families. For sale by J. O. Munde, P. L. Bridgers & Co and Green & Flanner. Apl. 1-

Obituary.
Died, suddenly, at her residence, No. 11, Rue Neuve des Capucines, on the evening of Sunday, June 29th, Elizabeth C. Warren, beloved wife of Dr. Edward Warren Bey, in the 41st year of her age. The above notice is clipped from the Paris American Register of July 5th, which is published in English for the benefit of the American residents in that city.

The subject of this death notice was a North Carolina lady by birth, having been born in Edenton, of this State, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnson. Mrs. Johnson, the mother, being a daughter of the late George Burgwin, Esq., who resided near this city in what is called the Hermitage, about eight miles from here on the Rocky Point road.

The deceased lady has many friends in this city, who will learn with sincere sorrow of the sudden death of their esteemed friend. Mrs. Warren was a lady of most estimable qualities. She was gentle, amiable and affectionate, we are told, and one of the best of wives and mothers. She was a sincere christian, and the summons which came so suddenly found her prepared to meet her Master. The deceased was the consort of Dr. Edward C. Warren, who was at one time Surgeon General of the State of North Carolina during the war, but of late years a practicing physician in the city of Paris. The Paris American Register closes its reference to the deceased lady in the following touching words:

To the bereaved ones who mourn a devoted wife, a helpmeet in the highest sense of the term, and a tender and loving mother, nothing can be said. Time alone, the great comforter, must bring them a tardy respite from their present anguish. Yet to them there must be healing in the thought that she alone in all that stricken home has known no suffering. She was spared the bitter anticipation of death, the sharp pang of approaching dissolution. She closed her eyes and slept, and her awakening was in heaven.

When you have occasion to utter a rebuke, let your words be soft and your arguments hard.
