Failed.
An attempt was made Saturday night to rob the dwelling of Dr. John D. Bellamy, on the corner of Fifth and Market streets. The thieves, after trying to effect an entrance through the basement windows, were frightened off, and in their hurry evidently dropped part of their plunder, viz, a couple of door mats and one broom.

Cured of Drinking.
"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor, which had so prostrated him that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups; I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."--From a leading R. R. Official, Chicago, Ill.

A FEARFUL STORM.

Wind and Rain Last Night--The Equinoxes all Broke Loose--Damages in and Around the City--At the Sounds--In the River--On the Coast--46 Inches of Rain in Eleven Hours--Frightful Velocity of the Wind. 6.4 Miles an Hour, &c., &c.

For two days past the storm signal has floated from the masthead here, giving notice that windy weather was expected by the Signal Service, and last night, or this morning, rather, the expected gale burst forth and raged for a time with fearful fury.

The beginning of the storm may be said to date at 1.15 o'clock at which time the wind was blowing from the Northeast at the rate of 18 miles an hour. At 3:15 o'clock it had only increased to 20 miles, but was then gradually veering around to the Northwest and at 5:15 o'clock this morning it was blowing a terrific gale from the West, the wind registering at that hour, on the self-registering anemometer at the Signal Office, 68 miles an hour, a pressure of 28 pounds to the square inch, which is, we believe, the most terrific velocity attained by it here at any time since the Signal Office has been established in our midst. At about 9 o'clock last night the rain poured down furiously and it rained more or less throughout the entire night. This is indicated sufficiently by the fact that at 7 o'clock this morning the rainfall recorded since 8 o'clock last night, a period of eleven hours, was 4.6 inches, an almost unprecedented amount for one night.

Fortunately, the damages sustained in and around the city and, indeed, as far as we can hear from, were very light and we trust that there have been no disasters at sea. The wind was at first a very bad wind for vessels caught on the coast but, as it veered around to the West before attaining its greatest velocity there is ground for strong hopes that there have been no serious disasters among these who go down to the sea in ships. The following is a summary of the disasters, as far as we have been able to ascertain them:

Messrs. Worth & Worth's wharf shed, foot of Mulberry street, was damaged considerably. The gable end was blown off and the tin on the roof was carried to the dock at the foot of the street; a part of the tin on their office roof was also blown off and the entire damage to their property will amount to some $400.

A large shed on the west side of the river, opposite Chestnut street, an old structure, occupied by Paterson, Downing & Co., as a naval store shed, was levelled with the ground. Damages about $200.

The telephone wires on Castle street, between Second and Seventh streets, were prostrated, a number of trees having fallen across them. Damages probably $20.

Mr. P. H. Hayden's harness establishment, on Third, between Market and Princess streets, was crushed in the rear end by a portion of the walls of the old burnt stables on the corner, which had been left standing, crashing in upon it. The rain poured in on the unprotected portion and a number of fine saddles and harness, a part of the stock in store, were badly damaged. Mr. Hayden estimates his loss at $800.

On the corner of Front and Princess streets two large windows in Mr. Burbank's drug store were broken by the gale. Sergeant Davis and officer William Griffith, of the police force, discovered the accident in time to crawl through the broken glass and save a lot of fancy articles from ruin by the rain. Officer Griffith was then left there to guard the store until the proprietor came down this morning. Damages about $15.

At the upper end of Front street the large cupola on the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. passenger shed was blown off and some of the roofing was carried to within a few yards of Boney's Bridge, nearly a quarter of a mile distant, and another portion, which it required four men to lift and carry back, was blown across the ravine beneath the bridge on Front street and lodged in a private lot. The damages to the shed will amount to about $150.

At Messrs Colville & Co's steam saw mill, at the foot of Walnut street, everything seemed "drowned out". So much rain water had accumulated in the firebox and under the fly-wheel that it had to be drained off and it was 10 o'clock before they could get up steam.

The scaffolding recently put up around the steeple of the First Presbyterian Church rode out the gale splendidly, not a timber having been displaced.

The steamer North State was tied up during the gale at Messrs. Worth & Worth's wharf, very near the shed which was injured, but she escaped without having suffered at all.

The roof on the old Clarendon Iron Works building, in the lower part of the city, which is made of sheet iron, was started.

The roof of a house on the corner of Tenth and Dock streets, occupied by a colored family, was blown off but fortunately none of the inmates were injured.

The roof of a three story dwelling house on Dock, between Eighth and Ninth streets, was crushed by a falling tree. Nobody hurt.

A small house on Dock street, near Eleventh, was completely prostrated but its inmates managed to escape, very wet but safe and happy.

The roof of a small house on Dock, near Tenth streets, was taken clear off and the rain poured in on a colored man and his wife who were together in bed and who had not had time to escape. Fortunately, they were not hurt.

One of the wooden ornaments around the steeple of St. Paul's Lutheran Church was taken off and thrown upon the roof where it broke a hole in the slating. Damage very light, probably $25.

The roof of the office at Messrs. Northrop & Cumming's mill, foot of Castle street, was torn up, the chimney of the office toppled over and the lumber in the yard scattered around promiscuously. Damages about $30.

The roof of the Temple of Israel, corner Fourth and Walnut streets, was damaged but to what extent has not yet been ascertained.

The shed on the wharf occupied by Messrs. Williams & Murchison, between Orange and Ann streets, was damaged by the roof being blown off, probably to the extent of $100.

The roof over the Acid Room at the Navassa Guano Works, a short distance above the city, was blown off and the telephone wires between the works and the office in this city are down.

Numerous stately trees have been laid low in all directions, and fences prostrated while the streets have been badly washed. The street force was at work this morning endeavoring to repair some of the damages to the latter.

At the Sounds, the blow was very severe, but beyond the tearing up of trees and toppling over of fences, we hear of no destruction, except of one instance at Wrightsville, where a small house occupied by servants was crushed by a tree falling upon it, but without injury to the inhabitants.

Numerous yachts and small boat at Masonboro and Wrightsville were capsized and filled and sunk but none were lost or seem to have sustained a permanent injury.

Several small vessels are reported as ashore at Smithville and Battery Island Shoals.

The schooner E. S. Powell, which was at anchor about five miles below the city and has been for some days past receiving her cargo, dragged her anchor and would probably have driven ashore but that she was towed back into the channel this morning by the steamer Passport.

The British barque Kate Bonfield is said to have blown ashore below.

The German barque Marie, which was at anchor between the Rip and the Bar, at Main Bar, taking on her cargo, is reported to have lost all three masts and to have gone ashore but as the wires are down between this city and Smithville full information is not to be had before the arrival of the Passport here late this afternoon.

The pilot boat Henry Westermann is ashore at Bald Head but will most probably be gotten off with little damage.

The British barque Indiana is reported as ashore below.

Several lighters, used for carrying rosin and spirits turpentine over the Rip to vessels in waiting for cargoes, are reported ashore and it is feared that one or two of them may prove a total loss.

A small vessel belonging to an old and well known colored man, Henry Davis by name, who lives on Myrtle Grove Sound, and which ran between Sugar

Loaf and this city, was driven ashore and it is feared will be totally lost.

The Swedish brig Thor, lying at Messrs. Worth & Worth's wharf, was struck by lightning and slightly injured; her sails were also split by the wind but the damages will hardly exceed $100.

The German barque Fritz von der Lancken dragged her anchors and was driven from opposite Orange street as far down as Mr. Van Bokelen's distilleries. We understand that the Captain of this vessel asserts that a water spout broke on his vessel and that he was at one time in water up to his neck.

From all that we can learn the storm centre seems to have been just at this point. The signal wires are down on the coast and we can learn nothing from Onslow county. At Rocky Point the storm was very severe; an immense amount of rain fell and the damages to the crops in that locality are very severe. This information was brought here by Mr. Geo. Z. French, who arrived in the city this morning.

The wires are also down on the C. O. R. W., between this city and North west but we learn from a gentleman from Laurinburg, who came in this morning, that the gale was very severe there but that the damage was confined to fences, outhouses and crops.

On the W. C. & A. R. R., the storm does not seem to have extended a very great distance beyond the city. It rained hard at Florence but arrivals by the train this morning say that they did not find much wind until they reached Wilmington.

These are all of the particulars we have been able to gather up to the hour of going to press. We may be able to give more in to-morrow's issue.
