Mr D. R. Allen, advance agent for the Templeton Star Alliance, has been to see us several times during his short stay in this city. Although as sharp as a meat-axe in business matters, he is a clever and genial gentleman, and we will always be glad to see him, early and often.

Home Again.
 Mr B. F. Mitchell, who has been absent on a Northern tour for the past two months, returned to the city last night.
 He was in Maine during the recent election held in that State and gives a graphic description of the ignorance of the people of that State as to the real sentiments of the South and the facilities with which they were deceived by designing politicians.

Personal.
 Mr. J. Louis Ford, advance agent for Ford's Juvenile Opera Company, who are to give us Pinafore at the Opera House next Thursday night, called to see us this morning. Mr. Ford is an old acquaintance, and we are pleased to see him on the road again with so good a company.

We can assure our people that the performance of Pinafore, as presented by this troupe, will be something unusually unique and interesting. The Virginia papers give it their most unqualified endorsement.

The Templeton Alliance.
 This troupe, which has been traveling extensively through the Southern States, will inaugurate the scenic amusements of the season at the Opera House in this city on Monday evening next, by the production of H. M. S. Pinafore. In the cities in which they have played the press have been universally lavish in praise of the performance, and they come to us heralded by an enviable reputation as artists. We trust that a full house may give them greeting and that the net is accorded them elsewhere may be fully sustained here. Reserved seats, without extra charge, are now for sale at Heinsberger's.

We have no hesitation whatever in recommending children teething or suffering from Wind Colic, Diarrhoea or Dysentery.

Thanks.

We return our thanks to Capt. C. R.

 Agricultural Society, for an invitation to Cotton on the Sounds.

 Reports from the various localities in this section are not altogether as encouraging as they were a few weeks ago. We have recently had reports from several points in Pender county, to the North of us, and now we hear from Topsail and Scott's Hill that the cotton crop in that section will fall short, in all probability, fully one-third, the result of the recent severe storm of wind and rain.

Magificent Ladies' Neck Ties 10 cents.

The Planets in Autumn.
 This week Venus retires behind the sun, while Jupiter, rising early in the east, succeeds to her honors and duties as morning star. For the past month Venus has been one of the most attractive objects in the heavens, making up in beauty for what she has lacked of the interest that just now attaches to her gigantic rival on account of the tremendous physical disturbances whose effects are visible on his disk. The finest views of Venus, after she reached her greatest brightness a few weeks ago, were obtained in the daytime. With a perforated cap placed over the object glass of the telescope to shut out the glare of the sun, she was seen on the background of blue sky like a delicate silver crescent, much larger than the new moon appears to the naked eye.
 Saturn now rises early enough to be well seen with the telescope long before midnight, and the gradual opening out of his wonderful rings will be one of the most interesting sights in the heavens for three or four years to come. Mars comes up later, but he is growing in brightness.
 His two little moons are beyond the reach of small telescopes, but the snow fields about his poles and the outlines of his continents and oceans are not, and a more interesting and wonderful sight than this earth-like planet presents in a telescope bearing magnifying powers of 250 or 300 diameters cannot well be imagined.

Day of Atonement.
 The Day of Atonement occurs on the 27th of this month, to-day. The whole day, from the evening of yesterday to the evening of to-day, is spent in prayer and fasting. The enrollment of destinies is completed, and as perhaps the lot of some is death, the prayers are unusually solemn and plaintive. On both these days it is customary to pray dressed in white vestments.
 The Day of Atonement is the only one in the year when the Jews kneel. On this day they prostrate themselves several times. With regard to the day Leviticus (the 16th chapter) says:
 "And it shall be unto you a statute forever.
 In the seventh month, the tenth day shall you afflict yourselves, and no work shall ye do, whether it be one of your own country or the stranger that sojourneth amongst you. For on that day shall be made an atonement to cleanse you from all your sins. Before the Lord shall ye be clean. It shall be a Sabbath of rest unto you, and ye shall afflict yourselves as a statute forever." No Jew has ever failed to keep this day. In a long era of three thousand and three hundred years scarcely any exceptions have been furnished to this rule. The weakest women fast, and sometimes even young children are made to take part in the general abstinence.

All the Jewish places of business closed last evening at sundown and will not be re-opened 'till the same hour this evening.

The Fires Last Night.
 About 8 o'clock last evening the kitchen attached to the house of Mr.
 Jesse Ives, on the corner of Fifth and Bladen streets caught fire, which together with the dwelling house was completely destroyed. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a defective flue. The fire department were promptly on hand and by their efforts undoubtedly prevented what might have been an extensive conflagration, as the buildings in that locality are all of wood and quite thickly located. The house of Mr. Ives was insured for $1,000 in the Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company, represented in this city by Messrs. John W. Gordon & Bro.

Immediately after the fire described above, and when the different fire companies had barely had time to get back to their engine houses, another alarm was sounded, caused by the burning of an old unoccupied one story house in the rear of a new dwelling being erected by Capt.
 James Williams, on Fourth, between Nun and Church streets. The building burned was of but little value, and was undoubtedly set on fire by an incendiary.

Strangers in the city should not fail to visit the Sash Factory, foot of Walnut street.

The Fastest Time on Record.
 Once upon a time, within the memory of the oldest inhabitant, there came to this city two rural gentlemen in a dug out, or log canoe, for the purpose of laying in Christmas supplies. Their purchases being concluded, the cargo put on board and everything ready for departure, they could not leave the good old town without taking several parting drinks, in consequence of which night closed in upon them before they embarked. "Now to our oars," said one, "for we will have to pull against the tide." Never was there such a strong current, and they thought that there never were so many floating logs in the river before, but they would not be overcome with difficulties and applied themselves manfully to their oars, stopping occasionally to sip from the bottle. Just before daylight they thought they approached their landing. "Here we are at last," said one. "But, by jimmie," said the other, "there was not any houses here when we left." The broad light of day showed them that they had forgotten to cast off the line of their boat and that they were rowing in the Rock Spring dock the whole night A fact.

Greenough-Dawson.
 Yesterday's New York World says:
 "Miss Fannie G. Dawson, of Wilmington, N. C., was married yesterday at the Windsor Hotel to Mr. Charles E. Greenough, a son of Charles B. Greenough, of this city, who is widely known through his connection with the construction of the street-railroads of Brazil. The ceremony, which took place at 1 o'clock, was performed by the Rev. Dr. Gallaudet, of St. Ann's Church. The contracting parties were both guests at the Windsor. Miss Dawson's family have for several years been in the habit of coming North in the spring and, after a summer at Saratoga, of spending the early winter at this hotel. Mr.
 Greenough has been making his home there during the absence of his parents in Europe. The bride wore a dress of white satin profusely decorated with orange blossoms. Miss Wetmore, of New York, was her only bridesmaid. Mr. Albert Schultz was the groom's best man. There were about forty people present at the ceremony, and among them Commodore and Mrs.
 Dickinson, Miss Hentz, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Blar chard, Mrs.
 Bixby, Mr. George Cecil, Mr. Harrison Kerr, Mr. Thomas Lee, Mr. Fred Bremer and Dr. Ruppner. A wedding-breakfast and a dance followed the ceremony."

Mr. Greenough is said to be an accomplished gentleman, of high social position, and of great wealth. The bridal presents were numerous and very handsome, Mr.
 Greenough having presented his bride with diamonds to the value of $47,000.

Turner's Almanac promised us wind and rain for to-day. It has but three predictions for this week and every one of them is very far wrong.

The Public Roads—Opinion of the Attorney-General.

David S. Cowan, Esq., a Justice of the Peace for Columbus county, has addressed a note to Attorney General Kenan, asking his opinion as to the jurisdiction of magistrates in cases of failure to work the roads. The correspondence is of much interest and we therefore publish it entire:

RALEIGH, N. C. 23d Sept 1879.
 Columbus County,
 Hon. Thos. S. Kenan,
 Atty. Gen. of N. C.
 Raleigh N. C.

DEAR SIR:—Two of the Wilmington papers announce it as Mr. Solicitor Moore's opinion that Justices of the Peace have no final jurisdiction over cases of failure to work the public roads.

Will you be good enough to answer the following questions?
 1st. Have Justices of the Peace final jurisdiction in such cases? Answer: Yes.

2nd. In cases of appeal from Justices judgment, would the J. P. be justified in demanding a prosecution bond from defendant?
 Answer: No.

By answering the within questions you will oblige,
 Yours respectfully,
 D. S. COWAN, J. P.

RALEIGH, N. C. Sept. 24th, 1879.
 MY DEAR SIR:
 See answers to your questions in your letter. I refer you to the road law, ch. 82, sec. 6, Acts 1879. The Legislature certainly intended to give Justices of the Peace the jurisdiction, and if there is any doubt about it, the courts will have to construe it. I decide in favor of the legislative intent. See also ch. 92, sec. 7, Acts 1879, where the jurisdiction is given, and also sec. 10, where appeals may be had. Defendants are entitled to the right of appeal, and where they are able, they should give bond, and if not, they can file affidavit of inability. This is provided for appeals from Superior Court, Bat. Rev.
 ch. 33, sec. 111 and 112. And in appeals from Justices of the Peace, a recognizance must be taken. See Bat. Rev. ch. 33, sec. 124, et seq. I hope an examination of these references may aid you.
 Yours &c.,
 THOS. S. KENAN,
 Attorney General.

A Happy Man.
 This morning Mr. Joseph Murphy, a venerable citizen, went into the Sheriff's office to pay his taxes, after doing which he left. The Sheriff having been out soon came in and found a pocket book, apparently well filled, lying on the floor.
 In a short time, however, Mr. Murphy returned, having missed the money, and as there was no dispute about the ownership, it was delivered to him and he went on his way, rejoicing a happy man.

A Reliable Wine.
 Mr. A. Snover, of New Jersey, whose Port Grape Wine has such a wide reputation, and which physicians prescribe so generally, was the first in this country to introduce the art of making wine from the Opera Grape, which is now the best wine to be had, and has become a great favorite among the most fashionable in New York and Philadelphia.

Beautifiers.
 Ladies, you cannot make fair skin, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France, or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health, and nothing will give you such good health, strength, buoyant spirits and beauty as Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof.
