WAR DEPARTMENT,
Office of the Chief Signal Officer,
Washington, D. C., Oct. 2, 1879
For the South Atlantic States clear or partly cloudy weather, easterly winds, nearly stationary temperature and barometer.

Bogus Certificates.
It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best medicines.—Exchange. See another column.

Grape Culture and Wine
Mr. A. Speer, of New Jersey, one of the largest grape producers of the East commenced, but a few years ago, in a small way, to make wines from currants, blackberries and other fruits. He now controls large vineyards, from which his famous Port Grape Wine is made, which chemists and physicians say rivals the world for its beneficial effects on weakly and aged persons. For sale by J. C. Munda, Green & Flanner and P. L. Bridgers & Co.

From Miss Bradley we learn that the Tilston Institute opened yesterday with 258 scholars and a corps of ten experienced teachers. To-day several other children applied for admission and were taken in.

The County Commissioners.
The County Commissioners will hold their regular monthly session next Monday afternoon at 2 1/2 o'clock. We suppose there will be plenty of business on hand, as is usually the case at the sittings of the Board, and it will be dispatched, no doubt, in the usual style. For without meaning any flattery we must say that we think this county has a set of working Commissioners. The only objection we can possibly urge is the fact that they are a little bit too economical.

Where is the Harmony?
If there is any thing musical, soothing or touching in the bellowing of the thousand cattle that stalk upon our Wilmington hills, and graze while they tinkle their little bells all night long, or in the music of the singing party of small boys wending their way up Third street to Brooklyn every night, or the whistling matches which travel along at the same time and give a sort of chinese variation to the melody of the party of the first part, we have not yet been able to discover it. Maybe some of the officers of the night police force could inform us where the chimies of this Chinese chin music comes in to make the accord.

Pinafore To-Night.
Ford's Juvenile Opera Troupe arrived in this city this morning and will give their chaste and unique rendition of H. M. S. Pinafore this evening at the Opera House. They come with the hearty commendations of the press and public wherever they have shown and knowing Mr. Ford's ability in organizing a troupe and to carry out his programme to the letter, we are prepared to see Pinafore rendered in fine style. Hear what the Raleigh Observer has to say of them:

Ford's Juvenile Opera Troupe gave us a remarkable rendition of this ever popular operetta last evening. The children were greeted with a good house, and from the rick of the curtain to its fall the appreciation and applause were almost unlimited. To the graces which older actors exhibit the children add many peculiarities of their own. The rendition was a careful one, full attention being paid to the score as well as to the stage business, and the performers were so wonderfully up in their parts as to excite surprise from all present. The talent of the children is so marked as to make their performance a positive marvel. There were some forty on the stage, which was well set, and one and all took their parts with vigor.

Miss Lily Parslow, as 'Josephine,' was one of the dearest little creatures imaginable. No more than seven years of age, her graceful figure and sweet voice won her continued applause. Miss Lily Bailey, equally tender in years and petite, admirably filled the part of 'Cousin Hebe,' while Miss Melissa Walters made an extraordinarily clever 'Buttercup.' Master John Smith admirably took the character of 'Captain Coreoran,' and his singing and stage manner were almost faultless. His twin brother, Master William Smith, was a good 'Sir Joseph Porter,' and threw into the part much that was amusing. Master Minchen, as 'Rockstraw,' made quite a bit, and the part of 'Deadeye,' by Master Chorvade, was capitally presented. The choruses and tableaux were exceedingly effective. One of the gems of the evening was the solo of 'Cousin Hebe,' a pretty addition to the operetta. No one who loves children, or admires talent, should fail to see these juveniles.

Gone Back on Us.
Mayor Fishplate has completely gone back on the reporters. Again this morning we were met at the door of the City Court room with the same information as yesterday and the day before, "No City Court to-day." This is getting to be a stereotyped phrase, and we are getting heartily tired of it. Our readers must have news, but where are we to get it from if everything should fail us like this?

You can get the best White Lead, Paints and Oils, and lowest prices at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

Harvest Moon.
This week we have the 'Harvest Moon,' so often and so fondly spoken of in English pastoral literature. This is the full moon occurring nearest the autumnal equinox, the peculiarity of which is that it rises for several days nearly at sunset, about the same time, instead of fifty odd minutes later each successive day, as usual. As this phenomenon occurs at a period when the farmers in England are busy with a certain portion of harvest duties, and very opportunely supplies them with light sufficient to work after sunset, the moon at this stage received in that country the name of the 'Harvest Moon,' by which it is now designated in nearly every civilized part of the world, without reference to its relations to agricultural pursuits.

Looks Like Business.
If any one doubts that business has commenced, let him take a walk down on Water street, and observe the lively movement of drays and trucks. See the cotton brokers, and cotton samplers, observe the cotton buyers as they slip in and out. See the business hurry that every one wears and then decide for himself. Certainly, if we are to judge by the hurly-burly in front of the Review and Journal office, where one vessel has been discharging, another taking in cargo, and a New York Steamship discharging and receiving freight at the same time, one could not help drawing the conclusion that business had begun, and is at the same time sharply on the increase.

Stedman Fire Company.
It has been pretty generally understood, for several days past, that the new bucket organization in the Fifth Ward was to be named in compliment to Maj. C. M. Stedman. At the meeting held last evening this determination found vent and the committee to whom the matter was referred announced that it would hereafter be known as the "Stedman Fire Company No. 1," a very handsome compliment, by the way, to a very gallant gentleman. We only trust that these young men will make as good a record hereafter in fighting the fire feud as Maj. Stedman did in fighting Yankees during the late unpleasantness.

The Major, it is said, will 'set 'em up' and 'call 'em oysters' on the first Wednesday night in next month.

For bar steel, iron and carriage goods go to JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

Disastrous Fire.
We regret to learn that Capt. A. W. Reiger lost by fire last night, on his plantation in Brunswick county, about three miles from the city, his barn, with the machinery it contained, and some 2,000 bushels of rice. The fire was discovered about 8 o'clock and the building and its contents were entirely destroyed. Capt. Reiger had been busy all day housing the rice and the hands had not all left the barn until after dark, so busy were they. It is thought that the fire must certainly have been accidental, as Capt. Reiger has no reasons to suspect any one.

The loss is estimated at about $5,000 of which the rice is estimated at $150 per bushel and the building and machinery at $2,000. On this Capt. Reiger has insurance for $4,050 with Messrs. John W. Gordon & Bro in the Liverpool, London and Globe.

The Fire at the Compress.
They are getting out the burned and charred cotton at the Wilmington Compress as rapidly as possible. It is being carried up the river near Hilton, where there will be no danger from a reignition. It is said now that some 1,350 bales will foot up the loss but this is not all entirely destroyed. The estimate of an expert is that the loss will foot up not more than $30,000 on cotton, and $5,000 on repairs in building. The machinery is also badly damaged, but to what extent is not yet known. The work of getting ready again will be pushed on to completion as rapidly as possible.

Set back 12 Years.
'I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, &c; my blood became thin, I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old worn out man all over; could get nothing to help me, until I got Hop Bitters and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial.—(Patner)

Court Week.
Next Monday the October term of the Criminal Court begins and Paddy's Hollow, Thompson's Alley, the Long House, and the Whitfield shanty will send their representatives to pay court i. e. to pay the penalty of their evil doings at the court and from thence, perhaps to the Pen at Raleigh.

Meteoric Shower Ahead.
Prof. Tice says that we are to have, on the night of November 13th, the most brilliant meteoric display ever seen since 1833, when to all intents and purposes the sky literally rained fire. The display for this year will not commence until about 1 o'clock in the morning, but the professor says that the magnificence of the display will more than compensate for the inconvenience of vigil.

Accident.
We learn that a colored man, named Atkinson, while at work to day removing the debris occasioned by the late fire at the compress, was struck on the head by a falling block of timber which inflicted a painful, if not a serious wound. He was conveyed to his home, where medical assistance was summoned, and his condition made as comfortable as possible.

Mr. J. L. Winner, the gentleman who recently removed to this city from Washington, N. C. and who had such a narrow escape on a vessel while trying to enter the Swash, will, we understand, open a jewelry and watchmaking establishment on South Front street, near Exchange Corner.

The man who frequently remarks that all things are for the best, generally regards himself as one of the best.

A CARD.
To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

Wine and Cake for Evenings.
Alfred Speer of New Jersey, it should be known, is one of the most extensive producers and dealers in Pure Wines and Brandies in the United States. He makes a Superior Port Wine, which took the highest premium at the Centennial, known as Speer's Port Grape Wine. It is sold by J. C. Munda, P. L. Bridgers & Co and Green & Flanner. Aug-17.
