

VEWS AND REVIEWS.

Mrs. Augusta J. Evans Wilson, the author of 'Beulah,' 'St. Elmo,' etc., is in New York, the guest of the widow of Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Even the New York papers own that the project for a world's fair in that city in 1883 is languishing, and there is already talk of postponing it until after the Berlin exhibition in 1885.

The German Emperor treats his troops in the most paternal fashion. 'Good morning, my children,' he says 'with a kindly smile, as he rides past the brigade drawn up to receive him; and all the regiments answer lustily, 'Good morning, your Majesty.'

At a recent auction sale of ostriches in Cape Land the lowest price paid for a pair was $900, and the highest $1,425. Since the development of ostrich farming as an industry, the value of the birds has risen enormously, and a bunch of choice feathers was lately sold at Port Elizabeth for $337 a pound.

A new temperance movement has been organized in Great Britain. It takes the form of a joint stock company, with a capital of $5,000,000, in shares of $5 each. It proposes to open temperance houses all over the kingdom. The Archbishop of Canterbury heads the list in the prospectus of the enterprise.

The Prince de Joinville brought home from one of his voyages the entire costume of a Queen of Zanzibar. It was contained in a box twice as large as his hand. The ladies of the royal family of Louis Philippe at the Tuileries crowded around to see the contents of the little box, and were quite shocked to find when it was opened only a pair of ear rings and a pair of sandals!

When an enthusiastic third-termer at San Francisco told Grant the other day that there were many in that city who would like to see him President again, he answered, diplomatically, 'I don't aspire.' Still further pressed to say whether he would be a candidate in a certain contingency, he looked toward the sea and took refuge in silence.

Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague was thirty-nine years old on the 13th of last August. In Mr Chase's diary at the time of his daughter's birth is the following remarkable entry: "The babe is pronounced pretty, but I think it quite otherwise. It is, however, well formed, and I am thankful. May God give the child a good understanding, that she may keep His commandments."

The wealthiest man in Kalamazoo, Mich., was approached in the street by an excited little boy, who said: "Mister, my sister is in the flume, over there; if you'll get her out I'll give you a dollar." The man rescued the imperiled child. A few days afterward the boy entered his office and put on his desk a dollar in small coin, having broken open a toy bank and sold a bobby horse to raise the amount.

Railroad companies are interested in the subject of ties. The scarcity of timber for the purpose has raised a question as to a substitute. Cast-iron ties cost three times as much as wood, but the difference is more than made up in the length of time they wear. English lines have introduced glass ties, or sleepers. By a new process the glass is toughened, and the cost is about the same as those of cast-iron, but there are about three times as many to the ton.

They are having more fun than they can keep to themselves in Ohio. The other day in Logan County the Democrats got a colored man to make a Democratic speech, and the meeting was attended by some two thousand people. All went on very well until the appearance of a couple of dozen colored men armed with corn-cutters and making loud inquiries for "the damned Democratic nigger." Then the meeting broke up in confusion. What outrageous building!

In Siberia there has lately been formed the 'Siberian Ship Company,' with the object of establishing direct trade with England by way of the Northern Ocean. Last year the steamer Siberia made a successful trip to London. In June of this year, on the river Ob, three ships were laden, the 'Ob,' with 27,000 pood of wheat; the 'Jumen,' with 18,000 pood of lard and 10,000 pood of wheat; and the 'Nadejda,' with 710 barrels of rye whiskey. Of the captains, one is an Eston, another a German, and the third a Lathish; of the crew 29 men are Lathish, 5 Germans, 5 Estons, and only one Russian. It is reported that one trip to England is sufficient to cover all the expenses of building each ship.

The Petersburg Index-Appel has misread us. We are not, by any means, in favor of Mr. Tilden's nomination for the Presidency. If he is the nominee of the party then we will support him most cordially but he certainly is not our first choice for the post on

THE STEEL AGE.

Speaking of the transition from iron to steel the New York Bulletin says: 'The rapidity with which steel is displacing iron in all the larger industries of the world is one of the most noticeable economic facts of the time. That the displacement, or substitution rather, is to be steadily progressive and to make itself felt in shipbuilding as well as in railroading, would seem to be beyond doubt. What our country is accomplishing in the increased manufacture of Bessemer steel is well known; but it may not be so generally known, outside of trade, that at this moment the leading mills have orders so far ahead that it is difficult to obtain even a quotation for the product of this market. It was but the other day, as we learn from the Chicago Tribune, that the Illinois Central Railroad Company purchased in England 5,000 tons of steel rails for use on its New Orleans division.

It would now appear that the company is so well satisfied with the quality of the rails thus far received that it has forwarded an order for 5,000 tons more, making 10,000 in all. The rails are to be delivered at once. But for the immensely high duty on imported steel rails most railroad companies in this country would purchase their rails in England, as the price there is not more than one-half what it is in this country, and the quality is said to be much superior. The Illinois Central pays for its rails in England 45 per ton, which is equal to $24.25 in this country. The duty, however, amounts to more than the original cost, $28 per ton being charged. Freight to New Orleans is $1.50, which makes the total cost, adding incidental expenses, delivered at New Orleans, about $55. The cost of steel rails in this country is about $50, and the transportation to New Orleans about $3, which, in spite of the high duty on foreign rails, makes the cost of both kinds of rails about the same.

For years past, the English metallurgists have diligently applied themselves to meet the requirements of a wide range of industries for steel in place of iron, and they are said to have succeeded to an extent which has surprised even themselves. Within the past five years, the production of Bessemer steel has increased from 540,000 to 813,000 tons, and reduced the price of steel from £14 to £4 10s per ton. They have established steel works on the Mersey, on the Tees at Barrow, Sheffield and Manchester, in Wales and Staffordshire, Belgium and Germany, by means of their cheap labor and the cultivation of small economies, threaten serious competition with English establishments.

MINISTERS PLENIPOTENTIARY

Among the many foolish, uncalled for and unnecessary extravagances that have attached themselves like barnacles to the Ship of State, there are none more foolish, more uncalled for nor more unnecessary than are those connected with our diplomatic service. The immense expense attending the maintenance of the army is bad enough, but it is not to be compared to the expense incurred in keeping our foreign ministers at all the principal courts of the old world. The former is of some use occasionally, although it is an earthy use, further than to draw their salaries and live in luxury.

When General Schenck was minister at the Court of St. James, a few years ago, he published a treatise on "Draw Poker," and made himself notorious by a doubtful speculation in the "Emma Mine" swindle, and the two embraced the extent of his labors for good or evil while in the diplomatic service. The first made him popular with a certain class, and the latter caused him to return with a flea in his ear to the United States. For this he received a salary of $20,000 per annum, besides nearly half as much more for clerical help, office expenses &c. He was succeeded by others, who, although they failed to achieve his unenviable notoriety, have been of no more actual advantage to the country.

As it is at the Court of St. James, so it is at every other court. They are a set of dignified but expensive loafers, who have to be paid in this way for partisan service in political campaigns. It costs the government over $12,000 a year to keep Christianity as minister to Peru, and the only work he has as yet performed has been to send a formidable document to the State Department at Washington, in which we are gravely informed that there are not so many deaf and dumb people in Peru as in the United States. This may be important information to the scientific world, but would hardly be considered of much value to the mass of the people, who are called upon to pay the taxes necessary to keep the informant in his position. The information is not worth the costs.

THE UNDEBTABLE NEW YORKERS.

The New Yorkers are a great people and do not hesitate at some of the most stupendous undertakings. One would think that the East River bridge should be well off these hands before they would be ready to attempt another local work of vast magnitude, but such is really not the case. They have a project on hand for tunneling North River and thus connecting Jersey City with New York and they have already begun work on this new and vast undertaking. A company was formed and a charter obtained for its work some five years ago, but the matter got into the courts and the work has been delayed. Now the dispute seems to have been settled and the undertaking, it is said, will be prosecuted vigorously. The following, from an exchange, gives some of the salient points of the new enterprise:

It is understood that Washington Square will be the New York terminus, and the tunnel, which has been started a hundred feet inland in Jersey City, will be twelve thousand feet long, twenty-six feet wide and twenty-four feet high and sixty feet beneath the bed of the river. It will be laid with heavy steel rails, ballasted with broken stone and supplied with gas pipes, pneumatic tubes, water pipes and telegraph wires. Within a short time work will be begun at the New York end and prosecuted day and night, it having been estimated that the tunnel can be completed within two years. When finished it will enable some four hundred trains to enter New York every twenty-four hours from the Pennsylvania, Erie, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Jersey Central. New York justly regards this as one of her biggest things.

Charles F. Tiffany was convicted of bigamy at Dearborn, Ind., and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. He was pleased with the lightness of the penalty, and remained in high spirits until, in answer to the question whether or not this conviction was a bar to prosecution for previous bigamies, his lawyer told him that he could be punished separately for every such offence. Then he retired to his cell and killed himself. It was afterward ascertained that he had five wives, and his disappointment at not being able to make entire expiation by one short term in prison drove him to suicide.

It is strange how Irishmen get on in all other countries save their own. Three Irishmen were at the same time Governor General of England's greatest dependencies—the Earl of Mayo of India, Lord Lisgar of Australia, and Viscount Mouch of Canada—besides others of smaller colonies. Gavan Duffy and O'Shaughnessy have been Premiers in Australia, and now Sir George Grey, Governor General of New Zealand, congratulates its Legislature, in his message, upon having elected for Speaker the Honorable George O'Rourke, a Galway man, 'who possesses a knowledge of Parliamentary law, a courtesy and ability which could not be found elsewhere.'

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best medicines.—Exchange. See another column.

Dr. Pemberton's Stillinger or Delight
The reports of wonderful Rheumatism, Sciatica, Salt Rheum, Gout, Cancer, Ulcers and Sores, that come all parts of the country are not only credible but so miraculous as to be regarded as not for the abundance of proof.
Remarkable Cure of Scrofula
CASE OF COL. J. C. BRANSON
KINGSTON, Ga., Sept. 14, 1892.
Gentle:—For sixteen years I have been a great sufferer from Scrofula, in its most distressing form. I have been in the hospital room and bed for fifteen years with various ulcers. The most approved medical men have been consulted, but they have all failed. I was advised by a friend, Dr. Floy, of Floyd county, Ga., to use the use of your Compound Extract of Sassafras. I obtained from the use of the medicine as it is to convey an adequate idea of the quantity of my suffering before using the medicine. I sufficient to say, I abandoned other remedies and continued the use of your Extract of Sassafras, until I was cured. "I am cured of all pain," of all distress, nothing to obstruct the active part of my profession. More than eight months have elapsed since this remarkable cure, and any return of the disease.
For the truth of the above statement, refer to any gentleman in Barrow county, Ga., and to the members of the bar of Chatham Circuit, who are acquainted with me. I never remain, with the deepest gratitude, Your obedient servant,
J. C. BRANSON, Atty at Law.

A MIRACLE.
WEST POINT, Ga., Sept. 14, 1892.
Gentle:—My daughter was taken on the day of June, 1863, with what was supposed to be Acute Rheumatism, and was treated the same with no success. In her bed, pieces of bone began to work out of her right arm, and continued to appear from the bone from the elbow to the shoulder came out. Many pieces of bone came out of the right foot and leg. The case was pronounced one of White Swelling, having been confined about six years, and the case considered hopeless, induced to try Dr. Pemberton's Compound Extract of Sassafras, and was so relieved with its effects that I have used it use of it until the present.
My daughter was confined to her bed six years before she sat up or even over without her aid. She now sits up and sews most of her time, and is healthy and her general health is such and I believe she will, as her strength, walk well. I attribute her recovery, with the blessing of God, to the use of your invaluable medicine. With grateful remembrance, I am, yours truly,
W. B. BLANTON.
