The new moon will be visible this afternoon.

Haven't seen an overcoat on the street this season.

It is not what a man owes that breaks him down. It is what he is obliged to pay that makes him feel bad.

The wind has got around from the East to the South. Hope it will be North or Northwest before morning.

Don't despise the small talents; they are needed as well as the great ones. A candle is sometimes as useful as the sun.

The greatest evils in life have had their rise from something which was thought to be of too little importance to be attended to.

The storm signal is not displayed this morning, from which we infer that the cyclone bided to appear here has given us the go-by.

We are not certain, but we think that it is against the religion of some people to subscribe for newspapers. They had rather borrow.

There was a big slaughter of coots last night. They were plentiful on the streets this morning and the fattest of them sold for 25 cents a dozen.

The barque Elia Moore, (Br.) Mishner, from Liverpool for Smithville, N. C., (probably for this port) was spoken Sept. 28th, in lat. 42, lon 16.

There is a great deal of unmapped country within us which would have to be taken into account in an explanation of our gusts and storms.

D. G. Owens, Druggist, Altoona, Pa., writes: "Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup has a wonderful reputation; the demand for it is really astonishing. Mothers will have no other. It is destined to supersede all other Soothing Syrups."

One of the greatest hardships experienced by those pious people whose crimes are detected is that public sentiment won't allow them to serve the Lord as usual.

Indications.
WAR DEPARTMENT,
Office of the Chief Signal Officer,
Washington, D. C., Oct. 17, 1879.
For the South Atlantic States south east to southwest winds, with partly cloudy weather, and local rains, slight changes in temperature and barometer.

City Court.
Richard Maulsby, charged with disorderly conduct, whose case was continued yesterday, was this morning discharged by the Mayor, his sisters and his cousins, and his aunts together with his mother-in-law having decided not to appear against him. This was all the Mayor had to do this morning.

Magistrate's Court.
Freeman Murray swore out a peace warrant against Wm Davis, and the defendant was cited to appear before Justice Hall for trial at 10 o'clock this morning. The result of the trial is that Wm Freeman, the prosecutor, is in jail for failing to pay the costs of the case, while Wm Davis, the defendant, is free as the air, attending to his own business. Moral, be sure you are right, as Davy Crockett would say, and then go ahead.

An internal improvement meeting was held in Pender some time ago. The Secretary, Mr. R. M. Scott, has addressed us a long communication on the subject. The proceedings were never received at this office, so far as we can learn, and we have never seen them in any paper.—Wilmington Star.

The proceedings were published in the REVIEW at the time, but of course the Editor of the Star didn't see them. Furthermore, one of the Editors of the REVIEW, in accordance with a request preferred by the Committee, handed the proceedings to Mr. Kingsbury in person and that gentleman declined to receive and publish them.

Ordered to Baltimore.
We are truly sorry to learn that Mr. R. Seyboth, who has for so long been in charge of the Signal Service at Smithville, is to be removed, though some freak of the War Department, to Baltimore. He is to be relieved by Mr. Will T. Boyd, from Portland, Me., who is expected here to night and will probably go down the river to-morrow. Mr. Seyboth expects to leave Smithville on Monday for his new post of duty. He married, it will be remembered, a Wilmington lady, and we have not learned whether his family will accompany him just yet.

Mr. Seyboth is a faithful officer and has fairly earned the esteem and confidence of the people among whom he has lately resided, who will greatly regret to learn that he has been ordered away.

Strangers in the city should not fail to visit the Sash Factory, foot of Walnut street.

Lippincott's Magazine.
Lippincott's Magazine for November is equal to any of its predecessors in richness and variety of interest. 'Later Pompeian Days,' the concluding paper of 'Rambles of Three,' by Margaret Bertha Wright, is very amusing and capably illustrated. The fifth chapter of Dr. Oswald's 'Summerland Sketches,' describes the Sierra Madre, and gives an entertaining glimpse of convent-life in the mountainous region of Mexico. An article on Leadville, also well illustrated, will command attention. 'Where the Beef Comes From' is the title of a timely and interesting paper on cattle-breeding in Texas and Colorado. Dr. Alfred S. Gibbs has a lively paper on Goethe's mother. Citali Seton describes the organization and workings of the 'Secret Societies of Southern Italy.' 'The Bicycle, and Riding It,' by J. Wilcox, indicates the inventions that have led to this new process of locomotion, and J. Brander Matthews discusses Sheridan's 'Critic.' Among the stories in the number may be mentioned 'A Slight Misunderstanding,' a character sketch by Philip Bourke Marston, and the first part of a very agreeably-written little tale, entitled 'Aimee,' which, like 'Daisy Miller,' deals with the life of a young American girl abroad. The 'Monthly Gossip' treats of 'Fall Shopping,' 'Emile Zola and the Prince Imperial,' and other appropriate topics.

An important meeting of the congregation of the Temple of Israel is called by Mr. Hanstein, Chairman of the School Committee, to be held in the Vestry Rooms of the Temple on Sunday evening.

Important Meeting at the Produce Exchange.
A meeting was held at the Produce Exchange this morning at the instance of Mr. R. E. Calder, Vice-President, who issued the call upon the request of Alderman Foster for the purpose of considering certain matters relative to the establishment of an opposition telegraph line to this city.

Upon taking the chair, Mr. Calder requested Mr. Foster to give the meeting the benefit of the information he was in possession of in regard to the proposed new telegraph line, whereupon Mr. Foster stated to the meeting that during a recent visit to New York he had held communication in person with Mr. D. H. Bates, President of the American Union Telegraph Company, for the determined purpose of seeking the establishment to this city of a rival line to the Western Union Telegraph Company, and that after this interview he had received a written communication from Mr. Bates upon this subject, which Mr. Foster then produced and read. Whereupon the following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Chairman of this meeting be requested to ask Alderman Foster to communicate with the president of the American Union Telegraph Company, and to request that official to make a proposition in writing to the citizens of Wilmington in regard to the establishment of a new telegraph line to this city.

The mover of the resolution then stated that he felt assured that if the American Union Company would agree to carry out a favorable proposition like the one outlined in President Bates' letter to Mr. Foster, there was not a doubt of its success, and that it would meet with the hearty approval of the citizens generally and the commercial community especially.

A map was suspended on the wall to show the lines and routes already established by the American Union, as well as the proposed routes that are to be established, some of which are to be completed by the first of December, and others in 1880. The line to this city, it is asserted, is a satisfactory agreement is entered into between the parties concerned, will be completed by the 1st of February, 1880. The meeting after some little further informal discussion, upon motion, adjourned.

Competition is the life of trade, and if the Western Union, which has a pretty stiff back bone, is forced to tight Jay Gould, who is said to be at the head of the American Union Telegraph Company and who it is also said, is pretty stiff in the spinal column, there will be lively times, we imagine, and "the fur will fly" and the greenbacks be scattered around loose—we hope—so mote it be, say we.

Adah Richmond.
On Monday evening next, as will be seen by reference to the advertising columns in this issue of the REVIEW, the Adah Richmond troupe will appear at the Opera House in this city with the Comic Opera Fatinitza. The play represents scenes on the Danube and was written by a Russian composer and author. The piece is new to us, although it has had quite an extended run in Northern cities. We have seen very favorable comments upon its merits in the Northern press, and universal praise for the manner in which it is rendered by the Adah Richmond troupe. Where the praise is so high it is safe to presume that the members of the troupe are performers of no mean ability, and we doubt not that a full house will appreciate both the music and the acting on Monday night. The following from the Richmond State will give our readers some idea of its reception "down South":

"Last night Miss Adah Richmond and her Comic Opera Company presented before a very large and fashionable audience, Von Suppe's new Russian Opera of Fatinitza, and no greater praise can be bestowed than to state that the expectations of all present were more than realized. Miss Richmond, in her dual character of Vladimir and Fatinitza, acquitted herself with great credit. She is a pleasing, graceful person, vivacious and spirited enough in her acting, and free from the suggestiveness which mars the performance of the majority of Star bouffe singers. There was at no time the slightest approach to coarseness and vulgarity. Miss Richmond's voice, albeit something of a contralto, is rich and flexible and strong. It is under fine control. In the concerted song in the harem she sustained herself quite well and demonstrated her claims to be considered an accomplished lyric artist. We cannot, owing to the crowded state of our columns, mention the other members of the company in detail, for they were all superlatively excellent, and all should be perfectly satisfied with the enthusiastic applause they received. The company is first class, and worthy of a most generous support."

A General Want.
EDITOR REVIEW:
There are perhaps five hundred families in this community who are obliged by force of circumstances to depend upon unreliable, faithless, or stupid servants for their daily marketing. Within a year past there has been a marked and gratifying improvement in the facilities and accommodation offered by our city grocers, but dealers in fresh meats, poultry, vegetables &c., for which there is a daily increasing demand, are still far behind the age in the management of this business.

I think that housekeepers generally will sustain me in the assertion that there never was, perhaps, a better opening for a marketing supply store in charge of a responsible, experienced, person, than is at present offered in Wilmington. There are butchers' stalls and butchers' shops, it is true, but they are a cold and daily or fastidious house keeper, who cannot apply in the early morning for choice cuts or special orders. There are grocers, also, and there are dealers in poultry and eggs, but their supplies are oftentimes unequal, insufficient or inferior. I repeat, that a combination of such supplies with sufficient means, and the energy and enterprise displayed by our city grocers, would prove a boon to the community and a most profitable investment to its projector. I venture to say that a responsible soliciting agent for the supplying at the buyer's doors of these daily necessities, at reasonable prices, would meet with hearty encouragement; and that in less than twelve months, under proper direction and management, would be regarded by our most respectable citizens and families as altogether indispensable.

Bogus Certificates.
It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best medicines.—Exchange. See another column.
