A Wilmington Enterprise.

One of the leading enterprises of our city is the Blind, Sash and Door Factory of Messrs Altaffer & Price, situated at the foot of Walnut street. The factory his recently been enlarged and is now fully three times the size it was when first established. The capacity has been increased more than three fold and the quality of work now equals that turned out in any part of the country. Their dry kiln is in successful operation and is of an improved kind. It has a capacity of for use in about three days. The lumber placed in the kiln is first subjected to a direct application of steam and is then dried off by steam pipes from the bottom of the kiln. After the lumber is taken out of the kiln, it is run through a surface plain, and is then cut up for the work for which it is intended. Messrs Altaffer & Price's factory contains all of the new and improved machinery of merit which is used in their branch of business. Their band-scrowl saw, of which there are very few in the Southern country, is a beauty and turns out very handsome work of all known designs. Among the other machines now in use at the factory are two moulding machines, three mortices, blind and slat borer, two tenonor machines, blind rabbiting and beading machines, patent door clamps, blind wiring machine, carving machine with attachments, and innumerable swing and circular saws. The capacity of the factory is, for an ordinary day's work, fifty pairs of blinds, fifty sash and fifty doors. If necessity required it, as it sometimes does, a greater amount of work could be turned out. By the strictest attention to their business and the great care taken with each job Messrs. Altaffer & Price have made for themselves an enviable reputation, and have built up a trade which they have every reason in the world to be proud of. They turn out all kinds of plain, fancy and ornamental wood work. The enterprise is one of which our people should be proud.

The Burgaw and Onslow Rail Road.

We are requested to state that there will be a public meeting held at Burgaw on Monday next, 3rd, November, in the interest of this important measure of home internal improvement. Competent speakers will address the meeting. Now that crops are finished, the people of Pender and Onslow counties seem determined to renew their scheme of bettering their condition, and it is hoped that Wi's mington and New Hanover and other neighboring counties will give a helping hand. The committees on subscription should push forward the work assigned them. The road can and should be built. A series of public meetings in Pender and Onslow will be held this fall and winter; inst. with cargo for Philadelphia, encounin behalf of pushing forward to comple. tion this long needed measure of giving Frying Pan Lightship on Thursday last, new life and prosperity to the people of the counties mainly interested. We trust there will be a fine turnout next Monday at Burgaw and a lively spirit manifested in favor of the Burgaw and Onslow Rail Road. The road can easily be made to be an important feeder of Wilmington.

R. M. McINTIRE'S. At

Col. Waddell's Lecture Last Evenast evening the, rooms of the Historical and Scientific Society were crowded with one of the most appreciative audiences ever essembled in Wilmington, to hear this distinguished gentleman. The seats were not only occupied, but the vestibule was filled also with eager and attentive listeners, and we doubt if so many pleased people could have been found anyhere in the State as were assembled in Society Hall last night. And they had great cause for their pleasure, for it was certainly a most charming address, admirable in conception, in expression and in delivery. For our own part we do not known when we have been more delighted, and we thank Col. Waddell most heartily for putting us in a better humor than we have been in for many a long day. We shall attempt no lengthened description of the lecture, but will simply state that it abounded in flashes of wit playful humor and polished satire that left no sting. His allusion to the vener able historian of the State, Colonel John Wheeler, was exceedingly chaste and beautiful and honor alike to his head and heart. The lecture was, in fact, a humorous argument to show that North Carolina must have been originally settled by Irishinen, because Irish characteristics marked the whole history of the State. Each of the North Carolina historians in succession was cited to prove this. It was really a chronological analysis of the facts from the time of Sir Walter Raleigh down to the adjournment of the last Legislature, rccited with all the gravity of a historical lecture, but stated in such a way as to make them appear ludicrous and contradictory. The ecclesiastical, political and judicial legislation of the different eras was put in such a light as to illustrate the Irish theo: y in a very amusing and novel way, but every statement was strictly true, and in this respect the lecture was really instructive. The colonial period especially afforded abundant material for the lecture, but the lecturer seemed to find all he wanted in every subsequent period down to the present day. We should have mentioned that he prefaced his argument with the statement that being an Irishman was speaking. The lecture had but one fault; it was too short, it but whetted our appetite for more. It is so seldom we have such a treat offered us that we may surely be pardoned the exhibition of a little greediness, when so tempting a feast is sprgad before us. Col. Waddell has certainly "struck oil" in this lecture, and would doubtless meet with large and appreciative audiences wherever he might deliver it:
