A Correction.

In the article yesterday relative to the pound party at St. James' Rectory last night, our reporter was misled by the information he had obtained. The pounding was for the relief of St. James' Home, which had become greatly in need of supplies, and not for the poor. The contributors were very liberal, and the result very gratifying to the friends of this noble institution.

A Citizen of Pender County.

There is a practicing physician now living in Pender county who has had a somewhat remarkable career. He is at the present time 57 years of age and has never taken a chew of tobacco and does not know one playing card from another.
He has been twice married and both of his wives were of the same christian name, while his second wife, who was a widow when he married her, can say the same of both of her consorts. He has had two step mothers, and two mothers-in-law, besides his own mother, which makes five women whom he has called mother. He saw his own mother married in 1831 and in December, 1842, his father wrote to him to get him a license to marry his second wife, which he did, and then waited on his father at his second wedding. This man had 9 brothers-in-law present each time he was married, and at his last courting, there were about 60 nephews and nieces who called him uncle. He has 6 children and 2 step-children, 3 children married, 13 grandchildren, 13 step-grandchildren and 1 great-grandchild. He is a good citizen, a thorough and uncompromising Democrat, a good old Reb., who went through three years of the war. He is now one of the oldest physicians in Pender county and a graduate of the Charleston School of Medicine, class of 1845.

Strangers in the city should not feel to visit the S. S. Factory, foot of Walnut street.

A Careless Smoker.

We learn that Mr. J. T. Foy, of Scott's Hill, Pender county, came very near losing his buildings and property this morning by fire, through the carelessness of a colored boy. It seems that the boy was engaged yesterday in picking cotton for Mr. Foy, which he had placed in bags after it was picked and put into a cart and hauled it up to the barn, into which the bags were thrown. During the evening Mr. Foy, in walking about his buildings imagined he smelt the odor of burning cotton, and went into the barn to see if there were any indications of fire, but discovered none, although he handled all the bags which had been brought in.
Upon going out early this morning, however, he was surprised and alarmed to see volumes of smoke coming out of the cracks in the weather-boarding, and rushing to the barn, he found one of the bags, which he had fortunately thrown out upon the floor, the night before, some distance from the rest, on fire, and the floor of the barn ignited and in a light blaze. By quick and determined work the fire was extinguished, destroying only the bag of cotton and doing some damage to the floor, which can be easily repaired. We are sorry to say, however, that in his efforts, Mr. Foy's boots were ruined and his hands badly burned. It is supposed that the colored boy, who is an inveterate smoker, was smoking and carelessly let some of the fire from his pipe drop in among the cotton.

Almost Young Again.

'My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull, heavy inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous prostration, and was almost helpless. No physicians or medicines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters, with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family.'—A lady, in Providence, R. I.

No More News.

We have no more news from New York by telegraph to-day. We made efforts to get a special through from Washington City giving us the latest information at 3 o'clock, but it has not arrived and we are compelled to close without it. In this instance we fear that no news is bad news.

Sixty-Four Canaries.

James Churchill, a noted bird fancier of this city, lost sixty-four canary birds on Monday last. They were confined in a very large cage which has four doors to it and escaped through one of the doors which had been left open. He succeeded in capturing twenty of them but the remaining forty-four were driven to the woods by boys who were trying to run them down. The birds escaped from Churchill's aviary on Fourth, between Nun and Church streets.

A Contrast.

Fighting Joe Hooker died and so far as the U. S. Government hereabouts is concerned not a tear was shed nor a flag half-masted. He was at one time a Major-General in the United States Army although at his death on the retired list. Zachariah Chandler died and the Federal flag in this city are at half-mast to-day, in accordance with instructions, we presume, from Washington City. The difference is that Hooker fought in the field for his country and Chandler on the hustings for his party.

Magistrate's Court.

Emanuel Rhodes, colored, was arraigned this morning before Justice Millis on the charge of rape, but owing to the absence of witnesses for the defence, the case was postponed until next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

James Henderson, colored, was brought before a trial Justice this morning to have a preliminary investigation into the charge of forcing a lock in the Market House, mention of which was made in the REVIEW a few days ago. The evidence went to sustain the charge and the defendant was bound over to the Criminal Court in the sum of $100, in default of which he was committed to jail.

The State Board of Health.

The advantages and benefits arising from the State Board of Health were very aptly illustrated by the following case which recently occurred near Rocky Point, in Pender county:

Virgil Thorne, a colored man, was found dead in a house near Rocky Point, on the 18th ult., and at the inquest testimony was adduced which indicated foul play and pointed to one Jim Sellers, colored, as instrumental in the death of Thorne and poison as the means used.

Sellers was arrested and Dr. W. T. Ennott, Superintendent of Health for the county of Pender, was notified, and as soon as practicable the body was exhumed and a post mortem examination made. Dr.
Ennott found that the cause of death was from congestion of the lungs and the jury summoned by the Coroner rendered their verdict accordingly. Sellers was then released from custody.

By this simple plan of arriving at the truth of the matter a great expense was saved to the county—3 suspected criminal was declared innocent and set at liberty and the demands of justice were satisfied in their entirety, and the suspicions of the people were at once allayed.
