Southern Products.

' We were shown yesterday samples o sugar, syrup and molasses made by our townsman, Mr. A. H. VanBokkelen, on his plantation in Southern Georgia. They were all fair samples. The sugar was not clarified being brown, and the syrup was about equal to the New Oreans brand, while the molestes would pass for a good article of Muscovado, and they were all sweet, we know, for we tasted of the lot.

Whoever heard of seed cotton seventeen years old? Dr. J. C. Broadhurst, of square in front of the Market House last Long Creek, in Pender county, tells us that he sent to the gin the other day a lit of seed cotton that was grown in 1862. It wa raised by his wife while he was away in service and had been week to Col. R. W. Moore's gin and had returned to him about fifty pounds of the other party had an impromptu stage beautiful lint. Col. Moore says that notwithstanding its age it turned out as prettily as any cotton he had ever ginned.

The Season of Advent. the e clesiastical calendar, as the period immediately preceeding and preparatory to the festival of the Nativity for Christmas, began on Sunday, when, as is custemary in the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches, as well as among the Lutherans, the religious services partake, more or less, of a penitential character. In the Episcopal Church, Advent, which is the commencement of the Christian year, has not only for its theme the first coming of Christ, but also points onward to His second coming to judge the world, and hence the season is invested with peculiar so lemnity.

The Danites.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee Rankin and troupe arrived in this city last night and are stopping at the Purcell House. They have a full company and among them actors of no mean reputation. The Boston

The play of "The Danites" is one that is well known to the people of Boston, and the present cast has made it more a favorite than almost any other cast could have done. It is quite possible to agree with other critics and speak of 'The Danites" as a poem, and yet it would be more proper to call it by its right name-a poetical drama. The shadows of the mountains are upon it, and the golden sunlight that lingers in the glens illumines delinquent taxes which run over a num it with a radiance far greater and more in- ber of years, I respectfully request that tense than its author coud have eve hoped for. The rugged nature and child like simplicity of the pioneer are shown wedded to a perfect man, and the whole, so that I may get clear of the accumulated poetical as it is, is never without the pro- writing rendered necessary to keep my ac-I er dramatic elements. It is hardly neca counts straight, and make a new start. es sary to speak of Mr McKee Rankin's I think altogether the amount collected rendition of the part of Sandy. He has will aggregate twenty thousand dollars shown the people of Boston what he by the first of January next. Respectcould do, and received the praise of the fully submitted, press without laying himself open to any blame. Mrs McKee Rankin's Billy Piper is artistically beautiful, and rendered with a fidelity to nature which makes it more pleasing than any of the good things this really good actress has ever done.

Two Reports.

The following communications from the City Attorney and Superintendent of Health, to which reference was made in the proceedings of the Board of Aldermen. were crowded out of our report yesterday : To the Honorable Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Wilmington: GENTLEMEN :- I herewith transmit an itemized account, covering thirty-eight pages of legal cap, showing the amount of arrears of taxes collected by me from the 31st of May last until November 19th, inclusive, aggregating the sum of $16,531.59, and showing the years for which and the persons from whom each amount was col lected, all of which I have turned over to the City Clerk and Treasurer, with the exception of some amounts credited on past due bonds, for which I hold certificates, and amounts expended in necessary expenses. for which I am ready to account. In view of the fact that a voluminous quantity of writing is required in order to keep these accounts straight, and to insure a systematic collection of the your Honorable, Mayor be required to request the Board of Audit and Finance to audit my books and accounts up to date,

FRANK H. DARBY. City Attorney. Wilmington, Dec. 1st, 1879.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Wilmington:

GENTLEMEN:-I have the honor to present for your consideration the following resolutions, passed at the last meeting of the New Hanover Board of Health, on the 4th day of November, 1879:

"WHEREAS, It is apparent to this Board that the removal of health inspectors from duty leaves the Superintendent of Health without such assistance as is necessary to properly perform the duties of his office; we therefore recommend that health inspectors be reappointed.

"Furthermore. The number of carts now in use by the city for scavenger duty of cold weather just ahead. Be early then is not sufficient to keep the streets, alleys and byways clean; we therefore recommend that, in addition to those already used by the city, four additional ones be added, and these to be under the control of the Superintendent of Health, exclusively for sanitary work."

It will at once be evident to your honorable body that it is only during the cold months that much of the work needed to put the city in sanitary condition can be done. Excavating, turning up the soil to clean ditches, the renewal of sewer and gas pipes, the excavation of privy sinks, and the like, are dangerous to be done in the hot months. By commencing now, and working steadily day by day, there will be no hurrying and no panicky feeling about our sanitary surroundings when yellow fever is anneunced in distant ports The work cannot be done in a hurry, and means are necessary to carry it on. The New Hanover Board of Health therefore offer these suggestions, and urge upon you the necessity of prompt action.

Respectfully, your ob't serv't. J. C. WALKER, M. D., Sup't of Health. December 1st, 1879.
