JOSEPH T. JAMES, Editor & Prop. WILMINGTON, N. C. MONDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1879.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT WILMINGTON, N. C., AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

GOVERNMENT APPROPRIATIONS.

It must be a matter of astonishment to the intelligent reader who keeps himself acquainted with the proceedings in Congress, from day to day, to note the enormous amounts of money called for by the different departments and bureaus with which to carry on their business for the fiscal year.

Erving Brother Key, Postmaster-General, has recently sent to Congress a request for an appropriation of $200,000 to supply deficiencies incurred in the past fiscal year. There is undoubtedly more wholesale corruption practiced in this department than in any other and we all know to our sorrow that there is enough everywhere.

The House wasted the day in an availing attempt to make some disposition of the Ute Indian question. There was decided opposition to precipitate legislation which indicates, perhaps, a wish to adopt such change in the general management of the Indians as will make legislation on 'special cases,' as Mr. Hayes would say, unnecessary.

As a further illustration, which we take from the same source, we give an example of an actual letting and the manner in which the service was increased: Route No. 35,051, Bismarck to Tongue River, Dakota, was let to J. R. Miner. The distance is 250 miles, the service was once a week, and the schedule time eighty-four hours, or three miles per hour, and the contract price $2,350.

people be informed whether these extraordinary appropriations are actually demanded by the exigencies of the service, or are quietly pocketed by corrupt officials and the equally corrupt ring of mail contractors.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 19, 1879. In about twelve days of actual work the Congress which adjourns to-day over the holidays has made good progress in the transaction of public business.

So far the only notable discussions of the Senate were on yesterday. The Senate gave up the day to Voorhees' resolution to inquire into the negro exodus and to amendments suggested by Senator Windom and others.

The House wasted the day in an availing attempt to make some disposition of the Ute Indian question. There was decided opposition to precipitate legislation which indicates, perhaps, a wish to adopt such change in the general management of the Indians as will make legislation on 'special cases,' as Mr. Hayes would say, unnecessary.

There is already discontent among the Republicans at the choice of Senator Cameron as Chairman of the National Republican Committee. The opposition to him in committee was hastily organized, but succeeded in throwing 19 out of 41 votes.

MOONSHINE.

'Ma,' said a little boy, looking up from an illustrated newspaper 'I wish I was a little South African boy. Why George? asked his ma. 'Why, cause their mothers don't wear slippers,' he feebly replied.

'See that horse? Twenty-two years old, an' they make me keep drivin' it,' said a cushman the other morning. 'He looks very solid,' said a bystander. 'O, he's solid, an' don't you forget it. It took me forty-five minutes to go eight blocks this mornin', an' the more I loked him the slower he went. I don't expect to ever enjoy a happy hour while that horse lives. Eat? Does that horse eat? Why, he just wastes my substance in riotous living. And mean. He'll stand right in front a feed-store for hours. I took 'im to get shod the other day, and the blowing of the bellows knocked him down in the blacksmith's shop. No, sir; that's the doggondest horse I ever was.

How do you account for this? In the lodge the Marshal is directed to retire to the ante-room to introduce Bill Smithers and Tom Brown in language something like the following: 'B other Marshal, you will retire to the ante-room (and especially inform his High Mightiness the Most Pissant William Smithers and His Ineffable Potency the Very Venerable Thomas Brown that this reverent body awaits the distinguished honor of their irradiating presence. Then the Marshal goes out and says, 'All ready, Bill; come, Tom, hurry up.' In the army, on the contrary, this order was reversed, like this: General Bombastes yells out to his aid, 'Go down there to the forks of the road—and go as though the old boy was after you—ask Colonel Sordnot what in—' he means, so long getting into line! Away goes the aid on the gallop, which moderates first into a sober trot and then a walk as he nears Colonel Sordnot, whom he addresses with great formality, saying 'Colonel, General Bombastes sends his compliments, and desires that you move your regiment up into line as speedily as possible.'—Boston Transcript.

Dr. Mott's Endorsement of Speer's Port Grape Wine.

The following, from the celebrated Dr. Mott of New York, speaks wonders for Mr. Speer's efforts to raise the Oporto Grape in New Jersey:

62 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK, April 11, 1878. MR. ALFRED SPEER—Dear Sir: The visit which I made last year to your Vineyards, wine-presses and vaults at Passaic, N. J., satisfied me thoroughly that the wines manufactured by you are pure and unadulterated, and the very best that can be offered to the public for medicinal uses.

Acting upon my favorable impressions at the time, I have since recommended the Port Wine more particularly in my practice, and am satisfied, with marked benefit, to my patients.

There can be no better proof to the doubting mind, as to the Wine being made of the finest Oporto Grape than the visit to the acres of land covered with the vine bearing the luxuriant fruit. Wishing you success in your praiseworthy enterprise, remain respectfully yours, ALEX. B. MOTT, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Bellevue Hosp. Med'l College, &c., &c. For sale by J. C. Munds, Green & Flanner, P. L. Bridgers & Co.

A Lady's Wish. 'Oh, how I do wish my skin was a clear and soft as yours,' said a lady to her friend. 'You can easily make it so,' answered the friend. 'How?' inquired the first lady. 'By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe.' Read of it.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS. A stout backbone is as essential to physical health as to political consistency. For weakness of the back and disorders of the liver and kidneys, the tonic and moderate dietetic action of the Bitters is the one thing needed. Remember that the stomach is the mainstay of every other organ, and that by invigorating the digestion with this preparation, the animal system and all its dependencies are strengthened.
