Entirely Recovered.
NEW YORK CITY, June 16, 1879.
H. H. WARREN & Co.—GENTLEMEN—
I hereby certify that my wife has been using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure for Bright's Disease, and she is now entirely recovered. When all physicians' remedies failed, she was induced to try your remedy, and received beneficial results from the first bottle. After taking four bottles she was entirely cured.
Yours truly

Physician's Wine.

New York physicians say that they have been using Speer's Port Grape Wine and Wine Bitters in their practice for years, to the entire satisfaction of their patients and themselves, and take great pleasure in recommending them to the public as being all that is claimed for them, and, in fact, the most reliable they can find. For sale by Green & Flanner, Jas. C. Munds and P. L. Bridgers & Co.

City Court.

A white man, arrested last night for disorderly conduct while drunk, in a house on Fourth street among the demi monde, was fined $5.
Tom Titt, the dirty, ragged, ugly looking black little vagrant, with his front teeth protruding and shining like ivory, in striking contrast with his ebony colored skin, was brought before the Mayor, but was immediately remanded by His Honor to a cell again, to be locked up for the present. This exhausted the docket and the Court adjourned.

The amount of purchases, both in and out of the State, must be included in the returns. The purchases of liquors must be kept separate from those of goods, wares and merchandise.

Facts About 1880.
The first day of the year and of April will fall on Thursdays; the Fourth of July comes on Sunday, and Christmas on Saturday. It is leap year, and February has 29 days, and as the girls will then be privileged to go courting, they will have the opportunity to do plenty of it, as the almanac-maker was considerable enough to put five Sundays in the month of February. Easter comes within a week of as early as it ever came—on the 28th day of March. The year 1880 will have six eclipses—four of the sun and two of the moon, but only one of them will be visible here, namely, the sixth, which is a partial eclipse of the sun on the last day of the year very early in the morning. A very unusual thing about these eclipses is that three of them occur in December—a circumstance that will not again occur in many years. A total eclipse of the sun on January 11 will be wholly visible in California and partially in Missouri. Both eclipses of the moon will be total, but invisible in North America. About the middle of 1880 Winneek's comet will make its appearance in the heavens after an absence of five years and seven months. The moon will be the ruling planet of 1880, and the year will be generally more humid than cold—that is the almanac says so. The year of 1880, of course, goes out on Friday.

On Friday.
For Allan Mathis there is to be but one more sunset on earth. To-morrow is his last full day of life here. The preparations are all complete and nothing now remains to do but to await the final hour. The execution, as we have stated, will be very private, care having been taken to exclude every thing from the public gaze, yet we are satisfied that the country people will flock into town on Friday, even knowing, as they do, that they can see nothing but the walls of the enclosure where the terrible scene is to be enacted.

We understand that an excursion train from this city to Charleston will leave here on the 9th of February. It is to be under the management of colored people.

A Model Telegram.

The Chief of Police received this morning from Fayetteville a telegram, of which the following is an exact copy, verbatim et literatim, except the address and signature:
Examine chickens that arrive on boat to-night if find one chicken blind in left eye arrest party.

A Good Arrangement.
Regulations have been issued from the Postoffice Department by which gold and silver coin may be sent through the mails as fourth class matter at one cent per ounce. To secure greater certainty of delivery, the same may be registered for an additional fee of ten cents for each package. This system will be a great accommodation to the public, especially in shipping to points where there are no money order offices.

An Exoduster Busted.
The white chap who was here on Saturday trying to persuade the colored people to go to Indiana met with so little encouragement that he has left for parts unknown. He called on the most influential colored preachers and left them circulars, etc., but when he ascertained that they were going to "speak out in meeting" and advise the colored people to stick to lightwood and tar, rather than emigrate to Indiana and freeze to death, he bowed himself out.

Stolen Property Recovered.
During the Christmas holidays three copper whiskey stills and one worm were stolen from Greenfield—where they were erected some year or so ago by Messrs. T. C. McIlhenny & Co., on Col. McIlhenny's place, some two mile South of this city—but the thieves eluded arrest until a day or two since when officer Carr was put upon the track to ferret out the matter. He succeeded in getting some of the property back and one of the thieves, known as Jack Smith, an account of whose arrest by a warrant from Justice McQuigg we mentioned in yesterday's REVIEW.

The stills and worm were purchased by several parties in this city, as old copper, and some of them have been shipped north. As these parties are all reliable and responsible, the balance of the stolen property will most likely be recovered.

Needed Here.
Wilmington has long felt the necessity of some suitable hospital accommodations for those whose homes are elsewhere, but may become sick while temporarily stopping in the city. To meet this demand, we understand that the Board of County Commissioners have signified a willingness to assist, so far as they legitimately are able, and that the city government has also expressed an opinion so favorable to the project that there is every reason to expect material assistance from that source. It is also expected that the several benevolent and secret societies in the city will contribute to the extent of a bed and bedding for each organization. We wish the movement may meet with success, for it is both worthy and deserving.

"Vital Statistics of Wilmington."
An erroneous impression seems to have gone forth in this city and from this city in regard to the mortality among the inhabitants for the year 1879 and our neighbor of the Star is, we fear, in a measure responsible for the error, owing to the fact that in the article headed "Vital Statistics of Wilmington," published by our cotemporary last Saturday, the deaths for the past year were stated to be 495, while in fact, according to the Superintendent of Health's report, there were but 482. This number, however, does not include some possible eight or ten paupers who were buried in Potter's Field. But suppose we state the whole number of deaths at 370 for the year 1879 we will then have a difference of 125 between the Star's statements and Dr. Walker's report, with the possible eight or ten paupers included, which is not quite 22 per cent of the 17,000 population according to the Meares census.

Among the creditable innovations which have from time to time shown the wisdom of the people of North Carolina the most creditable perhaps is the honor of making the first State Geological Survey in the country. The North Carolina survey dates in 1824.

Sensible Canadian.
Mr. Gadbois, of Brockville, Canada, after being cured of a prostrating malarial disease contracted in Texas, by means of Warner's Safe Pills and Safe Bitters, writes to us: "I shall never travel in that climate without your Safe Pills and Safe Bitters as a part of my outfit."

The Proposed Disfiguration.

EDITORS OF THE REVIEW:
I notice in your paper of 6th inst that our City Fathers propose to erect a belfry on the City Hall. I hope that they will reconsider their order in the matter and devise some other plan. Would it not be better to construct a bell-tower in the City Hall yard in the rear of the theatre and the hall? The reasons are many. It would be an ornament and adoration of all principles of the style in which the building is constructed. The old masons conceived and put in force the five orders of architecture and they were considered complete by all learned in the arts. Each of the five orders has its fitness for the purpose for which it may be used, and all educated and cultivated minds have considered that no improvements can be added, and any additions attempted have always proved failures. The Corinthian style of architecture in which our City Hall is built, has in all ages been considered one of the most graceful, elegant and refined of the five orders, and is considered a lasting monument of the high cultivation of the Greeks in their devotion to the fine arts. And it has always been considered by all nations that one proof of an educated and cultivated people is found in their public and private buildings. The Goths and Vandals, when they overran Italy, Greece, Asia and Africa, destroyed most of the works of ancient architecture. The specimens which have been partially preserved exhibit a combination of elegant proportions, dignified simplicity and majestic grandeur, but there are no belfries or domes!

There is another and a more practical reason why the belfry should not be placed on the City Hall. It would be necessary to cut the roof through for posts to be supported on timbers above the ceiling to carry the superstructure and bell and I care not how well the work may be braced there will be more or less vibration, and in time this will cause the plastering to fall. And then again it is a very difficult undertaking to make the roof so that it will not leak around its construction. And then, lastly, how are you going to get to the bell? You must go through the theatre and it is a five minutes operation, and even then how are you going to ring the bell?
