Messrs. McDougall & Williamson, two energetic gentlemen and good mechanics, well-known to our people, have formed a copartnership for the purpose of carrying on the carriage manufacturing and repairing business. They are located on Chestnut street, near this office, and will in a few days introduce many improvements into their business.
Invited and Accepted.
We understand that Hon. R. R. Brighets has been invited to address the citizens and farmers of Pender county on drainage and irrigation, and that he has accepted the invitation and will probably name some day in March for the purpose of meeting the people of that vigorous young county.
Last summer when the question was in every one's mind whether the Crescent City was again to be afflicted with yellow fever, the whole country was startled by the announcement that among its half dozen or more victims were first the lovely young wife of the brave Confederate General J. B. Hood, followed by the death of the General himself, leaving ten little babes to the cold mercies of the world. The women of the South and North alike arose to this appeal to their charity and a subscription was opened, but with a great result, comparatively. The late warrior was on the point of publishing his Narrative of Personal Experiences in the United States and the Confederate States Armies. The book has just been published by his comrade, General G. T. Beauregard, the entire proceeds going to the sole use and benefit of "The Hood Orphan Memorial Fund," as is set forth in another column.

Personal.

Rev. Dr. Geo. B. Taylor, Baptist Missionary to Rome, and a brother of Rev. James B. Taylor, of this city, is here on a visit to his brother. Rev. Dr. Taylor is in very poor health and it is extremely doubtful if he will fill his brother's pulpit to-morrow, as was first intended.
Capt. J. W. Hinson, our whilom townsman, when the firm was Sprunt & Hinson in this city, but now of New York, and of the firm of Hinson & Cumming, is on a visit to Wilmington, looking well and hearty too, we are glad to say.
The Lecture Last Night.
It is reported of the eloquent and gifted Mississippian, Sergeant S. Prentiss that his most fervent and eloquent speeches were lost to mankind, for the reason that those who would undertake to report them would soon forget their notes and be lost in wonder, amazement and admiration of the beautiful utterances of the great orator, as without any apparent effort the eloquent words and fine rhetorical sentences dropped from his lips carrying with him his enraptured hearers in a perfect whirl of admiration. Some feeling akin to this, we confess to be always the case with us whenever we listen to the eloquence of the distinguished speaker who lectured at the Opera House last night. We shall not attempt, therefore, any further reference to the entertaining feast, which was spread before the highly appreciative, and large and intelligent audience, of ladies and gentlemen which assembled at the Opera House last evening, to listen to that gifted Carolinian, Col. D. K. Mackie, except to add that the whole audience, with wonderful unanimity, seemed spell-bound, and eager to drink in every word as it fell from the lecturer's lips.
The introduction was pronounced by Col. James G. Burr, in a few admirably well chosen and appropriate remarks.

Fell in a Fit.
Late yesterday afternoon, after the REVIEW had gone to press, information was received down-town by telephone to the effect that a white man, name unknown, had been injured severely about the head at the depot of the C. O. R. W. and a request was made for a physician. Dr. J. C. Walker, city physician, was notified and drove to the depot where he found that a young man, a white man and a stranger here, had fallen with a fit and in doing so had cut his head against a post. The wound proved to be a slight one, after all, and the young man soon recovered. He gave his name as Charles Austin, and says that he is trying to reach his home at Brooklynn, N. Y.

County Bonds are Taxable.
A very important decision, rendered by State Treasurer Worth, has just been published through the columns of the Raleigh Observer. It is in relation to the taxation of county bonds. As a matter of interest to our readers hereabouts we publish the enquiry and the reply:
NEWBERN, N. C., Jan. 14th, 1880.
Hon. J. M. Worth, Public Treasurer:
DEAR SIR:—As a number of prominent tax-payers and county officials have publicly declared that it is unconstitutional and unlawful, as well as contrary to a recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, for any citizen of the county to list his county bonds for taxation, and have advised people not to list them. I have taken the liberty to address you upon this note, requesting your opinion upon this subject. It is a matter of much interest to the tax-payers of this county, and I desire to know the truth on this subject, not only for myself as a taxpayer, but for others equally interested. I desire to see that the laws in reference to taxation shall be enforced and bondholders made to pay taxes on their bonds, if the law requires it. Many of the Craven county bonds recently funded are held by citizens of said county.
Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN O. GARDNER.

NORTH CAROLINA, TREASURY DEPARTMENT.
RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 16th, 1880.
John O. Gardner, Esq.:
Yours of the 14th at hand, I know of no law-making power (except the Legislature of the State) that can exempt your county bonds from taxation. The act of the Legislature authorizing Craven county to fund its debt and issue bonds does not exempt from taxation. I am of opinion that they are liable for tax.
Yours truly,
J. M. WORTH,
State Treasurer.

Answer This.
Did you ever know any person to be ill, without inaction of the Stomach, Liver or kidneys, or did you ever know one who was well when either was obstructed or inactive; and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure?—Ask your neighbor this same question
Nerve.
It is a great thing to have what is called nerve, and nothing contributes more to the power of physical control than the power of Warner's Safe Nerve. It also relieves all kinds of pain, and cures headache and neuralgia.

JUST OUT.
HOOD'S GREAT BOOK OF THE WAR. ADVANCE and RETREAT, Personal Experiences in the United States and Confederate States Armies: BY GENERAL J. E. HOOD, Late Lieutenant-General Confederate States Army, published for THE HOOD ORPHAN MEMORIAL FUND, BY GENERAL G. T. BEAUREGARD, NEW ORLEANS, 1880.

The entire proceeds arising from the sale of this work are devoted to The Hood Orphan Memorial Fund, which is invested in United States Registered Bonds for the nurture, care, support and education of the ten infants deprived of their parents last summer at New Orleans, (the melancholy incidents of which and bereavement are still fresh in the public mind.)
The book is an elegant octavo, containing 350 pages, with a fine photograph likeness and a line steel engraving, made expressly for this work, four large maps of battle fields, THREE DOLLARS, or in a Fine Sheep Binding, with Marble Edge, THREE DOLLARS AND SEVEN CENTS, in Half Bound Morocco, library style, FOUR DOLLARS, or in best Levant Turkey Morocco, full Gilt Sides and Edges, FIVE DOLLARS.
On the receipt from any person remitting by mail or express, of the amount in a registered letter or by a postal order, bank draft, or check, a copy will be immediately sent free of postage, registered as second-class matter.
The volume is published in the best style of typography, on elegant paper, with illustrations, executed as the highest specimens of art. The author, the subject, the purpose, all alike render it worthy a place in every library,—on every desk—or upon the book shelf of every house in the country.
Agents wanted in every town and county in the United States, and a preference will be given to honorably discharged veterans from the army.
To the ladies, who feel a desire to express their sympathy with The Hood Orphan Memorial Fund the sale of this book among their circle of friends will afford an excellent way of contributing substantial aid to so deserving a cause.
For terms, rates to agents, etc., address, with full particulars,
