Troops in the State House - Democratic Indignation.

Bosron, Jan 24-The Hera d's Augusta special says: Three companies of troops and a gathing gun garrison the Statehouse. The Republicans feel well braced up this morning and are generally urging the dispersion of the Union Hall Legislature The sort of utterances which set the authorities thinking are such as the following: Priisbury says in his Dairy Standard this morning: 'Aldu of Maine, the next article on the programme is to disperse by force the legislature convened in Union Hall. Are you as freemen willing to submit to this outrage? See to it that your representatives are protected. This is the culmination of the outrage inflicted upon Democrats and Green backers by the stalwart pimps of the Republican party. Who is the man who will now step out of our ranks and side with the cowardly men in treached in the State-house, who tremble at the sounds of their own voices and do not feel safe unless backed up by bayonets of the militia? Let the end be what it may, history will read that Corporal Davis was the of first man in the State of Maire to authorize an array of bayonets at the State house to keep from its portain citizens of the Commonwealth. FUSIONIST OPINIONS, Capt Back, of the Fusion staff, says that all he asks for is to be arrested. It is reported that a case of carbines is secreted at his down town office. A F Gould, legal adviser to the Fusion government, characterizes the moveing of troops here as a desperate act, Fusionists carry out the plans they Congressman and sne red at the brev are alleged to have matured. THE FU IONI TS NERVOUS.

The Fusionist Legislature met with diminished numbers this morning Speaker Taibot told the reporter that his House needed protection more than the Houses of the Repub'icans. The Fusionists show unmistakable signs of nervou ness over the state of affairs. Secretary of State Sawyer, of the Fusion government, is out of the city. Should the Fusion Legislature go to Biddeford it is likely to find the doors of any hall it may engage guarded by soldiers. 'NO FOOLING ANY LONGER.

'No fooling any longer' is the Repub lican talk to-day. The State house is converted into a sort of barracks; stoves have been set up in the cellar to cook army rations of beef, &c to be served out to the troops At the ad intant general's office they have information not yet to be given to the press which is said to fully justify the caliing out of the militia. The Governor is strongly urged to at once disperse the Union hall legistature and the Fusion government, but whether be acts until the first of next week is doubtful. Buuday night the State troops will be under arms. The Republican authorities asser: if there is a civil war the responsibility rests upon the Fusionists.

THE REPUBLICAN LEGISLATURE. Augusta, Mr. Jan 24 - The Senate met and adjourned until 4 P M to-day without transacting any business. In the house, the committee on the juliciary was ordered to inquire what action, if any, is necessary to prevent any person or persons from falsely pretending to assume the functions and duties of any of the State offices. An act in relation to the State seal. public records and documents, and to certain public officers and their ducies came up on its passage to be engrossed. ar Strout, of Portland, made the argument in support of the bill, claiming that this is a legal legislature, so recognized by the courts, the people, that a certain person has been engaged in enrolling and enlisting men in the manner and for the purposes unauthorized by the laws of this State And whereas such enlistment and organization tends to the disturbance of the public peace and to disorder and revolution; therefore Resolved, That a joint committee of seven, on the part of the house, with such of the senate as may join, be appointed for the purpose of investigating the truth of such reports, and to ter.] He (Mr He:r) new approached ascertain what action, if any, should be taken, and make a report of their doing to the house; said committee to have the power to send for persons and papers,

In presenting the resolution Mr Hutchinson briefly advocated it, after which it passed, and a committee was appointed.

THE FUSIONIST LEGISLATURE. Augusta, Mr., January 24-The fusionists again met in Union Hall. Their ranks are thin, as many have gone to their homes. Mr Dickey offered the following order, which passed: That a committee of one from each county will be appointed by the house, with such as the Senate may join, to prepare a memorial to Congress and an address to the people of this State in 'laughter,' had a great advantage setting forth the facts relating to the organization of the House and Senste on the first Wednesday of January, and all the facts relating to the choice of a governor, also members of council sented Mr Cox as Speaker of the thouse.

The Senate voted to concur with the house. A communication was received from the national breenback committee of New Hampshire advising the fusionists to stand firm to the bitter end, and if need be fight for their rights. Both branches then adjourned until Monday next.

Boston, January 21-An Augusta, Me , dispatch says it is to a ed, in case the Fusion Legislature is dispersed, riots will break out in Lewistown and Biddeford The State troops will continue under arms until further notice. Gov' Davis will not issue a proclamation commanding the Fusion Legislature to disperse until he has exhausted every peaceful resource, but he will not give them an undue amount of time for cogitation. He considers the majority of Fusion legisla tors the dupes of Pillsbury and other men.

FUNDS FOR THE FUSIONIST TREASURY. Bo Ton, January 24-A special dispatch from Biddeford, Me., says that Ferguson Haines, the city treasurer, has sent &22,000 the amount of the Buddeford Signal Office in this city: State tax, to Mr White, the fusionist State treasurer.

alleged wits in the House. One has an ancient reputation. The other is to modern fime almost unknown. The established joker is Mr S S Cox of New York. The wond-be numbered is Mr Horr of M.chigan. Mr Cox, as is well and sure to recound to the political known, is small and leau. Mr Hori is advantage of the Fusienists. It is, he short and fat. The latter made a sosays, the biggest blunder yet made by colled funny speech in the House a the Republicans. All the military of few days ago in discussion of the rules, the State will be here by night, if the wherein he ridicated the New York by of his physical dimensions. Ma Cox squirmed in his seat while Mr Horr created laughter at his expense, He immediately retired to the seclusion | Clinton, at Andrews Chapel .. Mar 13-14 of his lodgings and composed a speech to a nihilate the man of Michigan. 13th, at ten o'clock A M, at the Parsonage Yesterday afternoon Mr Cox delivered of the Front Street Church at Wilmington nimself of his production. It was undoubtedly fanny. It was bitingly sarcastic and crueily sovere. The Hou e roared with laughter. It was Mr Horr's turn to squirm, and he squirmed most painfully. Mr Cox concluded been using Speer's Port Grape Wine and with the following epitaph, which he proposed as a fitting tribute to all that the entire satisfaction of their patients and was metaphorically left of Mr Horr: Here lies the body of Congressman Horr, > Tis Greece, but living grease no more. Mr Garfield asked, in the House this morning, that Mr florr should be allowed a few moments to reply to Mr Cox's speech of yesterday .. Mr Whiteaker objected, and Mr Garfield then moved that the House go into Committee of the Whole on the President's Message. [Laughter.] The motion was agreed to. Mr Horr had the floor. The scene in the House was as dramatic and exciting as when there is an important political debate pending. The galleries were crowds ed with spectators, and the members gathered around Mr Horr, who spoke from the space in front of the Speaker's desk. He asked the Clerk to read the speech, or a portion of it, which he (Mr Horr) had delivered a few days ago, and which had occasioned Mr Cox s effort.

The Clerk read as follows: 'Genial little friend. [Loud laughter.] Mr horr justified nimself for using those wor's by explaining that they were spoken in the heat of debate. [Laughter] Had he known the sensitiveness of the gentleman from New York, had he known the poetry of his nature, he would have addressed the gentleman, in the language of a modern poet, as a 'Dear little Buttercup.' (Continued laughter.) Referring to the book, 'Way We Laugh,' which Mr Cox had sent to him yesterday, he said that he regarder it as that genand even the Fusionists. The bill tleman's best work, because it contained very little Cox and a good deal of other men (Laughter) Some one had intimated to him that it was thought that he was trying to get some beit from the gentleman, Good heavens! What good would it be to him? (Great laughter, caused by Mr Horr's feeling his own waist and insinuating that a belt which would fit Mr Cox would be much too small for him.) He wished to make a suggestion to his friend, which he thought would aid to his already excee ! ing grace a beauty, and that was, that Brother Cox should part his hair in the middle and wear bangs. [Loud and continued laughanother subject tremblingly, because his friends had told the House yesterday that be once blew a man right through a key hole, and he (Mr Horr) did not want such a tight squeeze. His friend had made a speech huring the extra session on the test oath. * That speech had marked in it, 'laughter,' fourteeu times; 'applause, 'great laughter,' once; 'applause and laughter, once, and 'long continued applause, onec. He wanted to know if the rumor was true tha that speech had been printed-laughter, applause and all -three days before it was delivered Roars of laughter. | That was a big advantage. Gentiemen who could s t down in the darknes of the midnight hour, and when they got a tunny thing, just stop and cheer the neelves and write

Mr Horr sent to the Cerk's deak a bound volume of Harper's Weekly, which the Clerk held up to the full view of the House, opened at a picture which repreand state officers, and all other facts with his feet resting on the back of the connected with the [legislature which chair. This action of Mr Horr's was burg, Nov 15.

Mr Iogalis, of Wiscarset, broke out afresh when that gentleman said that in submitting to the court stated that the picture had been published just after Mr Cox had not been elected Speaker. The gentleman had been kind nough to give him an epitaph. He (Mr Horr) was not a poet but a friend had written for him an epitaph upon the gentleman from New York which he thought just covered the case:

Beneath thi slab lies the great Sam Cox, Who was wise as an owl and brave as an ox Think it not strange his turning to du-t, For he swelled and he swelled till he finally 'bust,'

Just where he has gone, or just how he fears, Nobody knows and nobody cares; But wherever he is, be he angel or elt,

Be sure, dear reader, he's puffing himself. The delivery of these lines was followed by roars of laughter.
