The average wife can lay her hands on about 1,000 receipts for cookery, and the average family clings to the same dishes known for three generations past.

Our Hebrew citizens indulged in a Leap Year Ball at Germania Hall last evening. It was a very fine affair and was very much enjoyed by those in attendance.

The post office department has issued orders forbidding the reception of mutilated fractional currency at the post offices of the country. This prohibition includes all coins which have holes in them.

The operetta to be given under the management of Misses James & Burr at the Opera House on Friday night will be very handsomely patronized. A great many seats have been sold, but there are a few good ones yet to be had. The audience will be the largest that has assembled in the Opera House in many years.

Legion of Honor.

The regalia of Clarendon Council No. 67, American Legion of Honor, has arrived and is now on exhibition at Kaeprowicz's cigar store. The regalia and jewels are very pretty, and make a handsome display. Mr. Henry Gerken will take great pleasure in showing them to any one who wishes to see them.

Death of Capt. Carson.

We regret to learn of the death of Capt. John Carson, at Oswego, N. Y., on Sunday last, information to that effect having been received. Capt. Carson will be remembered by many of our citizens as in command of the revenue cutter W. H. Secord, which was stationed in our waters for several years since the war. Capt. Carson was a courteous, obliging gentleman, and made many friends among our people.

Election of Officers.

At a meeting of the members of Co. B, Fifth Battalion N. C. S. G., held at their armory in this city last evening, the following commissioned officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Captain—Sol. W. Nash.
First Lieutenant—J. P. Spann.
Second Lieutenant—J. J. Hill.
Jr Second Lieutenant—J. S. Stewart.

Iron Telegraph Poles.

The government is replacing the wooden telegraph poles upon which rest the wires connecting the Signal Office in this city with the Signal Stations along the coast, by iron poles, which are hollow, being about six or eight inches in circumference and twenty-five or thirty feet long. The iron will last for an indefinite period of years while the wooden poles frequently rot in eight or ten years.

Human Nature and the Telephone.

A writer who is evidently familiar with the subject says: 'It is a somewhat singular fact that an ordinary sensible business man will put up with almost anything under the sun from anything he makes use of except the telephone; but from that greatest invention of this or any other century—an instrument that daily saves him more time and labor than all his other improvements put together—he won't stand the slightest nonsense. He turns in a signal; if the answer does not come immediately he swears. He tells the central office the person he wishes to speak with; if the bell does not tap again before he could count a dozen, he swears some more and vows he could go and do the errand in half the time. A disinterested listener, however, knows he could not have put on his hat and coat and got out of the door. The telephone is the best thing of the age to bring out human nature. A man will show more of himself in five minutes before this delicate little machine than in half a year in ordinary ways.'

You can buy No. 1 Heating and Cook Stoves at almost any price by going the Factory Agency, at JACOBI'S.

A Plunge Bath.

Quite a commotion was created on the wharf just North of Market Dock this morning by the cry of a man overboard, which upon inquiring we found to be a serious fact and Williams Sayers, a colored man employed on the steam tug Orlando, the unlucky individual who received the immersion. The tug had just arrived from Smithville and Sayers, in trying to make fast a line to the wharf, lost his footing and tumbled in the murky waters of the Cape Fear, and but for the assistance of Captain J. W. Harper and a white sailor belonging to the British barque Isos, the spirit of Wm. Sayers would have fled from its earthly tenement and gone where the "good old darkeys go"—"prehaps."

Beware of Him.

A party, whose name we do not know, but who claims to be the agent for some fashionable magazine, has rendered himself very disagreeable by his impertinent manner and remarks to some of the ladies at houses where he has called to sell his publications. He seems to know that the ladies are, in a measure, unprotected while their husbands and sons are at their places of business and to think that impertinent remarks will force them to buy his books so as to get rid of him. He is described as a somewhat elderly man, of medium size and stature, and it would be wise for our lady readers to be on their guard and give orders against his admission, should he at any time call at their residences during business hours.

Here on a Visit.

Our young friend, Mr. A. V. Wood, a Wilmington boy, but now with Mr. J. D. Sprunt, at Brunswick Ga., is home on a short visit to his family and friends. The Georgia air seems to agree with him, and we are glad to find him in good health.

Another Lecture.

Hon. D. K. McRae will lecture at the Opera House in this city on next Wednesday evening, February 4th, for the benefit of the Wilmington Library Association. The subject of the lecture on this occasion will be Poetry, the second of the series, but on this occasion it will be Poetry, sure enough. Advertisement, with particulars, will appear to-morrow.

The River.

There were heavy rains at Fayetteville night before last, and the indications are that they extended far into the interior. The weather there yesterday was showery, similar to that we had here. The river had risen three or four inches yesterday morning, when the steamer D. Murchison left Fayetteville, and the probabilities are that it will increase to a respectable freshet within a day or two.

Unmailables.

The following is a list of unmailable letters and papers remaining in the Post-office in this city: Letters for Charles Thomas, Bom Lye Co P; Mrs C O Bristol, G. Aham's X Roads, N. C.; Miss Minnie C. Cox, Richlands, N. C.; Miss Cathrine Holly, care of H H Smith, Lumberton, N. C.; Frank Mathers, Swatches, N. C. Papers for Udolpho Wolfe's Son & Co, New York, N. Y.; George Crawford, Philadelphia, Penn; Thomas W Manuel, Bellefontaine, O.

Money Drawer Robbed.

A successful attempt was made night before last to rob the coal and wood office of Mr. J. A. Springer, on North Water street, between Princess and Mulberry. The thief broke out a pane of glass in one of the windows and having thus been able to remove the fastenings from the inside, his entrance was easy. He went through the office, turned over books and papers and finally left with all he could find in the money drawer, which was just $1.75, or about the amount of two days' labor, if honestly come at. No clue.

Energy.

The mill property of Messrs Colville & Taylor, which was destroyed by fire some time since, has been replaced by a commodious building, and to-day the last of the machinery, required to commence operations, arrived on the steamer from New York. A force of hands are busily engaged in putting the same into position, as it is the purpose of Mr. J. W. Taylor, the present proprietor, to have his work of putting up the machinery so far advanced as to make 'saw dust fly' on Saturday, and to be fully under way on Monday. The firm of Colville & Taylor was dissolved soon after the fire, and the business will hereafter be conducted by Mr. J. W. Taylor, the former junior partner of the establishment. He is an earnest, hard-working man, and we are assured that if persevering industry is of any avail, he will be successful in this enterprise.

The Old Reliable.

The advertisement of that old reliable and standard fertilizer, Wilcox, Gibbs & Co's Manipulated Guano, makes its appearance in this issue of our paper. Mr. James T. Petteway, of this city, is still the agent for it in his old section, and it is the sixth year in which he has undertaken its sale. He leaves to-night for the counties in his district on the C. C. R. W. and will push the orders. It is hardly necessary for us to commend this fertilizer to our readers, so well and thoroughly has it become known by actual tests, and on its own merits, to the farming community. The more thoroughly it is known the better it sells, a fact which is well attested by the largely increased sales during the past few years.

The steam yacht Passport is undergoing repairs, and will not resume her regular trips for a week hence. The steam tug Orlando is still plying between here and Smithville in place of the Passport.

Physicians' Wine.

New York physicians say that they have been using Speer's Port Grape Wine and Wine Bitters in their practice for years, to the entire satisfaction of their patients and themselves, and take great pleasure in recommending them to the public as being all that is claimed for them, and in fact the most reliable they can find. For sale by Green & Flanner, Jas. C. Munds and P. L. Bridgers & Co.

Census Supervisor.

We see it stated that the name of J. D. Stanford, Esq., of Duplin county, has been sent in by Mr. Hayes to the Senate for conformation as Supervisor of the census for this, the Third North Carolina District. This is the district to which Mr. Walker Meares was first nominated and to which it was thought he would be confirmed, but this nomination of Mr. Stanford changes the face of the matter. It is thought that Judge Russell has had a finger in the pie. Even should Mr. Stanford be rejected it is hardly probable now, we are sorry to state, that Mr. Meares will receive the appointment.

A Rumor.

Gentlemen of this city, members of the bar who have just returned from Raleigh, bring the report that Chief Justice Smith will, on account of ill-health, tender his resignation as such in a few days, and that Gov. Jarvis has signified his intention to tender the position to a distinguished gentleman of the Cape Fear section. This, however, is all a rumor as yet, and needs confirmation.

Appreciative.

The series of articles published recently in the REVIEW relation to the proposed Duplin Canal seem to have met with much appreciation; so much, in fact, that a young gentleman in this city, a German, is engaged in the translation of them for publication in newspapers in Germany, as an evidence of the fine opportunities offered for the investment of capital in this section.

Grass and weeds are springing up in odd corners and out-of-the-way places. The weather has not been cold enough to check this growth since long before Christmas.

The atmospheric indications at this writing, 4 P. M., are for colder weather. The wind has been from the North all day although the forenoon was almost uncomfortably warm.

Schooner Helen J. Holway, Thompson, hence, arrived at Point-a-Petre, on the 2nd inst.

Schooner E. S. Powell, Williams, for this port, sailed from Amsterdam on the 25th inst.

There have been three failures here this month, all in a small way.

Supreme Court.

The following cases from the Third District were called and disposed of on Monday:

Jemima Mason vs. J. J. Pelletier, from Carteret; petition to rehear; argued by Green & Stevenson and Gilliam & Galling for the plaintiffs, and H. R. Bryan and A. G. Hubbard for the defendant.

O. R. Hollingsworth vs. J. A. Harman et al's., from Pender; called and set for hearing at the end of the district.

Elijah Hewlett vs. J. W. Schenck, Jr. et al's., from New Hanover; argued by D. R. Moore for the plaintiff, and Stedman & Latimer and D. J. Devaux for the defendant.

John Taylor vs. George Hartis et al's. from New Hanover; argued by Junius Davis and A. T. & J. London for the plaintiff, and J. D. Bellamy, Jr. for the defendant.

F. D. Koopce vs. J. J. Pelletier et al's. from Onslow; argued by Green & Stevenson for the plaintiff, and A. G. Hubbard and H. R. Bryan for the defendant.

State vs. Charles W. Craig, from New Hanover; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State, and A. T. & J. London for the defendant.

Nerve.

It is a great thing to have what is called nerve, and nothing contributes more to the power of physical control than named than Warner's Safe Nerve. It also relieves all kinds of pain, and cures headache and neuralgia.
