A. & I. SMER—Selling Off!

Day's length 10 hours and 24 minutes.
Widow Glass—all sizes at Altfer & Price's.
The report for the river is that it is still falling.
The first month of the new year steps down at our today.
There were no interments in Bellevue Cemetery this week.
One adult interred in Oakdale this week —no other interments there.
Schooner W. H. Knight, Duffy, hence, arrived at Jacksonville, Fla., on the 26th inst.
Nor. barque Christine Elizabeth, Landegard, hence, arrived at Glasgow on the 28th inst.
At 3 o'clock to-day the thermometer stood in this office at 76 degrees—summer heat.
There were two children and one adult interred in Pine Forest Cemetery (colored) this week.
The Register of Deeds has issued but one marriage license this week, and that to a colored couple.
Pocket Knives, Table Cutlery, Silver Plated Forks and Spoons; largest variety and lowest prices at JACOBI'S.

Look Out, Boys.

The Chief of Police informed us to-day that the boys who are striking stones with their shiny sticks on the streets had better keep an eye to windward, or they will find themselves clutched by the police. We insert this notice, therefore, for the benefit of the boys, to keep them out of trouble. We hope they will appreciate our kindness in doing so.

Proposed New Coin.

There seems to be a prospect of the inroduction of several new coins into general circulation. A favorable report has been made on a bill creating three new coins. Specimens of these coins have been struck off at the mint. They are the stella, the 25 gramme silver dollar, and the gold metallic dollar. The 'stella' is a four dollar coin, of six grammes of gold, three-tenths of a gramme silver, and seven-tenths gramme copper. It is larger than the five-dollar gold piece, and very bright looking.

The Opera Last Night.

The charming little operetta of Red Riding Hood was produced last night at the Opera House to one of the largest and most fashionable audiences ever assembled within the walls of that building.
We remember but one occasion equal to it, and that was when Edward Everett delivered his address here in behalf of the Ladies Association for the erection of the Washington Monument, and that was, we think, about twenty-two years ago.
The Operetta last night was charmingly produced. There were in all some 150 ladies and gentlemen and children taking part in the children, however, being in the ascendants.
We do not propose here to follow out the details of the piece nor can we particularize in our report. All did well—and many of them more than well—from the young ladies yet in their teens, to the tiny little fairies who had not yet entered theirs, and who, young as they were, two of them being but five years of age, threw all of their youthful little souls into the parts they represented. The rendition occupied about two and a half hours, and this time would have been reduced somewhat, but for a stage-wait now and then which, however, we are sure was entirely unavoidable, and because of the want of more time in which to perfect the children in their parts, the Operetta having been produced somewhat earlier than was at first intended, because of the other engagements for the Opera House which interposed between this and Ash-Wednesday.

Million Nobles.

What great trials those printers are, to be sure! Yesterday they said that 'Milton Nobles has given us the go by'—when he has done no such thing! For that matter, we are happy to learn that he is coming this way as fast as his engagements will permit, and will soon be here with a good company. We thought he was going North, and seeing him booked for Norfolk on Wednesday night, concluded that he would not stop in Wilmington. On the contrary, he is coming South and will drop in on us next week and give our people a delightful entertainment.

Eighty-Four Years.

Mrs. Eliza Hand, of Burgaw, in Pender county, on Monday last, attained the remarkable age of 84 years, and the anniversary of her birthday was celebrated by her large circle of relatives and friends by a dinner given in her honor at the residence of her son in law, R. N. Bloodworth, Esq. The venerable lady, surrounded by her children, grand children and a host of friends, entered with spirit into the festivities of the occasion. Mrs.
Hand retains her mental faculties with wonderful tenacity, and is remarkably sprightly and cheerful for one of her advanced age. Sure the fingers of Time have fallen gently and almost impercep-tibly upon this good Christian matron.

A Repetition Demanded.

We understand that a number of gentlemen in this city, appreciating the beauty of the Operetta of Little Red Riding Hood, as it was rendered last evening, have addressed a note to Misses Burr and James, under whose management it was produced, requesting them to give a repetition of the entertainment. The ladies have not yet decided upon the matter but an answer will be returned as soon as a decision is rendered, when the correspondence will be published. There were many yesterday, principally among those who failed to obtain good seats for last evening, who earnestly requested that a repetition might be had.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 30th, 1880.

To the Editor of The Daily Review;
MR. EDITOR:

It is seldom that I venture to thrust my opinion upon political matters before the public, but reading your excellent article last evening on 'The Coting Campaign,' I am emboldened to say a word or two in support of the Hon. Daniel G.
Fowle for the office of Governor.

You are indeed right in your conjecture that 'the Republican party in this State is not dead as some so fondly imagine.' This being true, then it behooves the Democratic party to bring to the front their main strength—their strongest man, and I believe I express the sentiments of almost the entire upper and lower Cape Fear section in saying that success will certainly attend us, with Daniel G. Fowle as our standard bearer.
There is no use in calling 'a stove a pickaxe.' Governor Jarvis is not the choice of the Cape Fear section. I will wager a bet now that Judge Fowle will be nominated on the first ballot in the Convention; and the Radicals may nominate Buxton, or Dr. Grissom, or whoever they please; but Daniel will bring them to judgment on election day. Fowle can beat any man the Radicals can muster for the contest. The people of North Carolina have not forgotten the herculean work he did in the last election for Governor, when by his bold and manly fight, and his powerful eloquence, he was largely instrumental in placing Gov. Jarvis where he now is. The time is near at hand and I think the sooner we hoist our flag with our champion at the masthead, the more sure will we be of the victory. Then three cheers for the Hon. Daniel G. Fowle!
The Durham Recorder, of January 28th, speaks my sentiments to the very letter.

Yours truly,
CAPE FEAR.

Drinking Water.

We have received from Dr. Thomas F.
Wood, Secretary of the North Carolina State Board of Health, the following analysis of drinking water for the North Carolina Board of Health, by A. R. Ledoux, Ph. D.

Supreme Court.

In this court, at Raleigh, Thursday, the following cases from this Judicial District were disposed of, viz:
F. W. Kechnor vs. M. A. Baker, fr m New Hanover; argued by D. J. Devane for the plaintiff and B. Fuller for the defendant.
Lester Simpson et als. vs. John A.
Jones, administrator, from New Hanover; argued by A. T. & J. London for the plaintiffs, and D. J. Devane for the defendant.

Arraigned Before The Mayor.

A white woman who has not only fallen from her high estate among respectable women by losing the priceless jewel of virtue, but has combined with her other moral recklessness the sin of intemperance, was brought before the Mayor this morning, charged with being in a beastly state of intoxication and lying down on the street at the corner of Fourth and Walnut streets yesterday in the morning, in which condition she was arrested and carried to the Guard House by the police. His Honor imposed a fine of $5 or ten days in the City Prison. The fine was paid and the poor unfortunate outcast took her departure, probably to delve into still deeper degradation, if possible, than ever before, with no one perhaps to care for her and none to reclaim her from the terrible ruin into which she has plunged.
