Reserved seats for Milton Nobles are now on sale at Heinsberger's.

Nor. barque Fingall, Paulsen, hence, arrived at Antwerp on the 2nd inst.

Schooner Ada S. Allen, for this port, sailed from Calais, Me., on the 31st ult.

Ger. barque Von der Heydt, Michaelis, hence, for Bremen, was off Portland, Eng., on the 31st ult.

Pocket Knives, Table Cutlery, Silver

Plated Forks and Spoons; largest variety Chicken coops have been robbed in this city within the past week; but as there is no clue we omit locations, etc.

Religious services will be held this evening, commencing at 7 o'clock, in the Seaman's Bethel. The public, and particularly seamen, are invited to attend.

It is hard work to induce a married man to pay a dollar to hear a lecture; he generally has a free lecture course at home.

The woman who sews patches on the seat of her boy's pantaloons is the real messenger of piece. She heels the breeches.

The indications are that Col. MacRae will have a fine audience to-night. It will probably be the finest literary treat of the season.

Schooner George B. McFarland, Strong, sailed from Bath, Me., on the 31st ult. for Harmon's Harbor, to load ice for this port.

A man who takes one drink too many is often denounced as a fool, but nothing is said of a woman who gets three sheets in the wind on wash-day.

Notwithstanding all the modern improvements of husbandry, the matrimonial harvest is still gathered with the cradle and thrashed by the hand.

A woman of brains suggests that girls no matter how wealthy their families, should be brought up to some occupation whereby they can earn an honest living in the hour of need.

You can almost tell that a young man has been ground through a school of elocution when you hear him recite, Tick tin the rattle of these cep. We don't know what it means, but that is what he says

Front street is in an unsightly nee-

The street car track has been taken up and there is an unusual amount of mud in the middle of the street. This space ought to have been paved when the balance of the street was laid. Let it be done now.

A family is like an equipage. First, the father, a draught-horse; the next, the boys, the wheels, for they are always running around; then the girl are surrounded by fellows; the baby occupies the lapboard; and the mother—well, what's a wagon without a tongue anyhow

The O. creta will be given for the last time at the Opera House to-morrow evening, a fact which is, however, pretty generally known now. The box-sheet is at Mr. Heinsberger's and is being rapidly filled up. Those who have not yet secured their seats will be wis to secure them at once and without further delay.

Personal.

We were glad to meet with Dr. J. A.

Petrie, of Jersey City, a friend of our earlier days, who is in this city en route for Jacksonville, Florida. The Doctor is accompanied by his good lady, and we trust that the trip through the Southern States may be pleasant and profitable.

City Court.

Two "gemmen" of color rejoicing in the names respectively of Adam Warren and Spencer Standford, were arraigned this morning for an affray. Officer Robert Green made the arrest and upon his testimony the Mayor told the first named "gemman to deposit $5 or go below for ten days. The cheapest way out being the easiest for A. W. he went below. Stand-ford was remanded to the cell for one day to cool off and get sober. This cleared the docket and the Court adjournaed

City Authorities, Attention—If You

Please!

We have been requested by one of our patrons to call the attention of the authorities to the fact that there are parties retailoring lace goods in this city without a license. We know nothing of the circumstances of the case beyond what is mentioned above. But the gentleman who gave us the information is a retail dry goods merchant, and complains, as he has a right to do, of the injustice of the thing, and the unequal bearing of the law as it is enforced, which compels a merchant to pay taxes, and permits other parties to traffic free of any tax whatever. It is proper for us to add that we do not know who the parties are indulging in this business. We only know that the merchant who complains is a gentleman of respectability and good standing and entitled to be heard.

A Very Odd Month.

The month of February, which set in Sunday, will be an odd month in several respects. It will have in the first place an odd number of days, owing to its leap-year distinction. It will have an odd number of Sundays (five), which is very odd for the shortest month in the year, and one of the Sundays will be Washington's birthday. It will begin on Sunday and end on Sunday, which is also odd. The five Sundays correspond in date with the five Sundays in next August, which is odd again. It is said that no one now living will ever see another February so odd; nor will their children, nor their children's children—sufficient in itself to make the month interesting. Many old superstitions are associated with the month, which originally had twenty-nine days among the Romans in an ordinary year. When the Roman Senate, however, decreed that the eighth month should be named after the Emperor Augustus, one day was taken from February and bestowed on August, giving it 31 days, in order that it might not be inferior to July, called after Julius Caesar.

"The Phoenix Never Dies."

Milton Nobles and his excellent troupe will visit this city on Friday evening and will appear in that most popular of American plays, "Phoenix." Mr. Nobles will give three entertainments in this city, one of which will be a Saturday matinee for the benefit of those who cannot leave their houses or work at night. Saturday evening "A Man of the People" will be played for the first time in this city. An exchange says of "Phoenix":

A very large audience greeted the first appearance of that gifted author and comedian at the opera house last night, and for happily blended mirth and humor,

"The Phoenix" has never been surpassed.

It is a drama that not only takes the masses, but is full of interest to those who are habituated to every phase of the drama. There is nothing more thrilling and exciting than the fire scene and the gambling scene in this masterpiece of American dramas. The role of the hero, who is both Bohemian and detective, is admirably adapted to Mr. Nobles, and in his own play, "The Phoenix," he possesses a faculty that but few actors have and many years for, Mr. Schwartz, in his character of Moses Solomon, is the best luch comedian of the stage. The company is a strong one, and seems to have been selected carefully for their respective parts, which they perform to perfection. Entertainments like the one last night are a rare treat to our community, and the opera house will be crowded the three remaining nights of Mr. Nobles' engagement. "The Phoenix" will be repeated to-night. Tomorrow "A Man of the People" will hold the boards.

Some of the prettiest beef we ever saw anywhere, either at Fulton or Washington markets in New York or Lexington market in Baltimore, is now suspended from the hooks on Mr. Tilley's stalls in our market house. It is from Tennessee, is stall-fed and was intended for Baltimore but was brought and held here. It will make any man's mouth water to look at it.

Christmas Fire Dogs and Fire Irons

Fluting Machines and every sort of JACOBI'S.

Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Under the above title an organization was effected in New York City about the middle of last month, with a capital of one million of dollars, and the following named officers and directors: Mr. Stager, formerly President of the Western Union, is the President, and Mr. H. B. Plant, Vice President of the Southern Express Company, is the Vice President. The directors are General W. C. Wickham, of Virginia,

President of Chesapeake and Ohio R. R.; Col. E. W. Cole of Tennessee; the great Railroad King of the West, Hon. R. R.

Bridgers, of North Carolina, who has a controlling influence in the management of 400 miles of railroad, and is President of the Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroads, and Messrs. E. P. Alexander and W. G. Raoul, of Georgia. The territory of this company embraces the States of Virginia and West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Tennessee, with the exception of Nashville.

A Distressing Casualty.

One of the most distressing accidents and deaths it has ever been our painful duty to record, occurred yesterday near Rocky Point. The circumstances, as we learn them from Dr. W. T. Ennett, are as follows: Yesterday morning Mr.

Council Casteen who resides about two miles from Rocky Point, was engaged in slaughtering his hogs, and at about noon,
