The Wilmington Library Association have hopes of getting a lecture from Hon. S. S. Little Red Riding Hood. The Operetta of Little Red Riding Hood was presented last night to an audience which lacked but little of being as large as that which witnessed the first representation, one week ago to-night. More time having been allowed for rehearsals and practice, the presentation last night was almost perfect and was given to the unbounded delight and approval of the large audience.

At the conclusion of Operetta the entertainment of the evening was concluded by the Limerick Boy, which was presented by a Dramatic Club in this city and which enlisted the hearty laughter and applause of all who heard it. The entire occasion was one of rare pleasure and long to be remembered by those who were present.

No remedy in the World ever came into such universal use, or has so fully won the confidence of mankind, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

Physicians' Wine. New York physicians say that they have been using Spear's Port Grape Wine and Wine Bitters in their practice for years, to the entire satisfaction of their patients and themselves, and take great pleasure in recommending them to the public as being all that is claimed for them, and, in fact, the most reliable they can find. For sale by Green & Flanner, Jas. C. Munds and P. L. Bridgers & Co.

Dissolution.

The firm of Hahn & Goodman has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. V. D. Goodman will conduct the business at the old stand; he has just received and is still receiving a large stock of goods. Those of our readers who have patronized the old firm will do well to give Mr. Goodman a trial, as he guarantees that everything is square and fair.

A Man of his Word.

On the night of the fire of "Madam Hall's" house in Brooklyn on the 20th of last month, William Buchanan, a very respectable old colored man, who is a ship carpenter by trade, remarked when the fire broke out, that he would give $10 to the first company whose engine would throw the first stream of water on the flames, and this morning, true to his word, in walked the venerable old ship carpenter at the office of Col. Roger Moore, the Chief Engineer of the fire department, and plunking $10 down before Col. Moore, said, There it is, Colonel. I said I would, and so I will.

But Col. Moore, not having heard of the remark in question, had to receive an explanation of the generous act, which was readily given by the donor before he could comprehend it. Whereupon the worthy chief of the fire department turned the amount over to the Cape Fear Steam Fire Engine Company, (colored) as that company's engine bore off the palm on the occasion referred to, and squirted the first water on the flames that night.

The Villain Still Pursued Her.

Milton Nobles and troupe arrived in this city this morning and are stopping at the Commercial Hotel. To-night they appear in "Phoelix" and matinee to-morrow in the same play. To-morrow night "A Man of the People" will be presented for the first time in this city. Of the play the Free Press says: Another fine house was present last night to see Milton Nobles' new play of "A man of the People." As on Monday night, the impression created by the lively dialogue and exciting situations of the piece was very favorable and the audience were lavish of their applause. The Court-room scene is a most remarkable representation of the manner in which justice is administered in New York, but it will not do to be too critical, when it is remembered that the Dutch comedian Schwartz is obliged to do his best here, even though he risks conviction for contempt of court with each one of the extraordinary criticisms which he lavishes upon the officers of the court, from the judge down.

Supreme Court.

The consideration of appeals from the Fourth District was resumed in this Court on Wednesday and causes were disposed of as follows: A B Currie and wife vs Malcom McNeil et als, from Moore; set for hearing at the end of the district. Rachel Jones vs R C and Owea Holmes, from Cumberland; set for hearing at the end of the district. Montreal Heard From.

R. L. Mosely, of Montreal, Canada, certified Sept. 27, 1879, that he had suffered terribly from dyspepsia, and was completely cured by taking Warner's Safe Bitters. He says: "My appetite is good, and I now suffer no inconvenience from eating hearty meals." These Bitters are also a specific for all skin diseases.

A Jewelry Thief.

A lady living on Third street, between Walnut and Red Cross, recently lost a valuable gold ring, and suspecting a colored girl named Mary Agnes King, she secured a search warrant from Justice Gardner and placed it in the hands of Officer Bunting, who found not only the ring in question, but another one which had been missing, in the girl's possession. She was arrested and, failing to give the necessary bail for her appearance for the preliminary examination, was committed to jail. A hearing in the case was to have been had to-day, but on account of the absence of an important witness it has been continued until to-morrow.

Union Tank Line.

In the yard of the W. & W. Railroad are three cars of the "U. T. L." which being interpreted means Union Tank Line, loaded with kerosene. The cars are simply of the old platform style with a tank made something in the shape of an ordinary steam boiler and of the same material. Each car carries one tank, which is made flat at the bottom and securely strapped to the platform. The tanks have a capacity of about 4,000 gallons each. They are consigned to Messrs. Chess, Carley & Co., of this city, who have a pipe laid from the railroad yard to their reservoir near the foot of Hanover street. Connection is made with this pipe by a rubber hose which is connected with it and from thence to a valve underneath the tank. When the connections are made the valve is opened and the liquid freight is discharged, under the law of gravitation, in to the reservoir. After the tanks have been emptied of their present contents they are to be filled with spirits of turpentine and transported back to whence they came. This we are told can be done without injury to either commodity, and the tanks will hereafter be run over the road loaded with oil one way and spirits the other.

You can buy No. 1. Heating and Cook Stoves at almost any price by going the Factory Agency, at JACOBI'S.

School Fund Apportionment.

We publish to-day the correct apportionment of the School Fund of this county. The apportionment, as published by us on Tuesday, was incorrect, owing to the fact that the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners had made a mistake by substituting the census of 1878 for that of 1879. That mistake having been discovered the Board of Finance have met and made a correct apportionment of $1.67 per capita instead of $2.10 as before, which is distributed, as follows: Wilmington—District No 1—Whites 980; amount $1,636 60. Colored, 1,760; amount $2,929 20. District No 2—Whites, 916; amount $1,529 72. Colored, 1,265; amount $2,112 55. Federal Point—District No 3—Whites, 85; amount $141 95. Colored, 82; amount $136 94. Masonboro—District No 4—Whites, 97; amount $161 99. Colored, 82; amount $136 94. Harnett—District No 5—Whites, 151; amount $252 17. Colored 287; amount, $479 29. Cape Fear—District No 6—Whites, 50; amount $83 50. Colored, 400; amount $668. Total whites, 2,279; colored, 3,876. Total amount, $10,278 85.

Father is Getting Well.

My daughter says, "How much better father is since he used Hop Bitters." He is getting well after his long suffering from a disease declared incurable, and we are so glad that he used your Bitters.—A lady of Rochester, N. Y.

Superstitions.

The idea that superstition is confined exclusively to the colored people and the ignorant whites is incorrect, as, in one form or another, it obtains to a certain extent among all classes of the American people. It is true that the down-right fetishism which obtains so extensively among the colored race has no place with the whites, except, possibly, in very rare instances where there is but a very little intelligence, but it is idle to say that the cultivated white race is entirely independent of superstitious fears. The following are among the more prominent of superstitious signs which have been handed down by tradition from generation to generation which find believers in many parts of the United States: White specks on the nail's are luck. Whoever reads epitaphs loses his memory. To rock the cradle when empty is injurious to the child. To eat while a bell is tolling for a funeral causes toothache. The crowing of a hen indicates some approaching disaster. When a mouse gnaws a hole some misfortune may be apprehended. He who has been wide astunder must seek his fortune in a distant land. Whoever finds a four-leaf trefoil—shamrock—should wear it for good luck. Beggar bread should be given to children who are slow in learning to speak. If a child less than twelve months old is brought into a cellar it will become timid. When children play soldier on the roadside it forebodes the approach of war. A child grows proud if suffered to look into a mirror while less than twelve months old. He who proposes moving into a new house must first send in bread and a new broom. Whoever sneezes at an early hour either hears some news or receives some present the same day. The first tooth cast by a child should be swallowed by the mother to ensure a new growth of teeth. Buttoning the coat away, or drawing on a stocking inside out, causes matters to go wrong during the day. By bending the head to the hollow of the arm the initial letter of one's future spouse is represented. Women who sow faxseed should, during the process, tell some lies, otherwise the yarn will never bleach white. When women are stuffing beds, the men should not remain in the house otherwise the feathers will come through the ticks. When a person enters a room he should be obliged to sit down, if only for a moment, as he otherwise takes away the children's sleep with him. The following are the omens of death: A dog's scratching on the floor or howling in a peculiar manner, and owls hooting in the neighborhood of the house.

Earliest Spring Costumes.

Jennie June, who is supposed to be au fait in everything relating to ladies' costumes, writes as follows to the Washington Star: The earliest spring costumes decide the fact, if any doubt of it existed, in regard to the continuance of the short dress. They are as short and less tied or pulled back than heretofore, following more the lead of the Jersey costume, which is necessarily simple. The most objectionable part is the jacket, which makes a pretence of being a coat, and is a sham all the way through, good neither for protection nor covering nor comfort. The material is lovely, a fine soft camel's hair in olive brown, plum color, myrtle, gend'arme, amethyst and pure mouse, fawn and drab shade. The trimmings accompany times each dress pattern, and consist of handsome cashmere, or silk and wool mixture, in small palm-leaf designs, and India colors, or of embroidered satin vests and cuffs, with satin enough for the small amount of trimming required upon the skirt or for making of the collar. Young ladies will, it is thought, avoid the dark color and India mixtures and select the quaint blues or pale neutral shades with satin trimmings and shirred plastron in place of the embroidered vest. With such costumes they will wear an early English style of felt, or straw bonnet, lined with blue or poppy red satin and having strings to match the lining, which shows very little below the brim. Another style of spring costumes is composed of a long redingote, open in front half way, finished at the neck with turn-down collar, and revers, and belted in broadly, after the style of the 'Directoire.' The skirt is of no importance, as it merely shows a little of the front and an edge of flouncing below the coat. With this garment is worn a knotted handkerchief of silk or lace, and a wide header hat, or soft felt, the brim somewhat depressed in the center, but spreading out on both sides, and a group or panche of feathers mounted in the center, forming the principal part of the ornamentation.
