Washington's Birth Day.
As will be seen by advertisement in this issue, there will be no business transacted by the banks of this city on Monday the 23d inst., that day having been set apart for the observance of the anniversary of Washington's birth day.
For the same reason, the Produce Exchange will also be closed and business suspended there on that day.

Book of Revelations.
The panorama, allegorical of the Book of Revelation, will be presented at the Opera House this evening. The pictures are said to be very fine and are highly spoken of by those persons who have seen them. Our citizens should bear in mind that the only opportunity they will have to witness this exhibition will be presented to-night.
A Good Appointment.
Mr. J. Hal Boatwright, clerk in the First National Bank, of this city, has been appointed Treasurer and Collector of the Canal Fund in this county, by the committee which was created and empowered to make the appointment, at the meeting of the stockholders held at the rooms of the Produce Exchange, in this city, some month or so ago.
Is Dissatisfied.
We understand that Maria Hall has expressed herself as very much dissatisfied with the verdict of manslaughter as brought in by the jury which tried her case. She is reported as saying that she would prefer hanging to imprisonment for a long time. Her counsel, having heard of her dissatisfaction, have sent her word that there are six exceptions on which the case could be appealed to the Supreme Court and on which the verdict of the court below would be set aside and a new trial ordered. If she decides to appeal and a new trial is ordered she no doubt will be gratified to the extent of having her neck stretched.
Newspaper Energy.
The New York Herald, of the 19th inst., has a diagram of the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg in which the Czar of Russia, but a few days since, so narrowly escaped death at the hands of the nihilists, whose emissaries had placed dynamite in the vaults beneath the palace and by connecting electric wires caused this fearful substance to explode killing six soldiers and severely wounding several others.
The energy displayed in this instance is only equalled by that which, two days after the horrible disaster on the Tay, had a complete and accurate drawing of the railroad bridge over that river with the section made vacant by the storm to receive the train with all its living freight.
Christmas Fire Dogs and Fire Irons, Fluting Machines and every sort of Hardware at lowest sort of cash prices at JACOBI'S.
Robbing a Grave.
About three score years ago there lived near this city a Mr. Brocket, the father of the late James Brocket, who was well known for his convivial habits, etc. On the right hand of the old Newbern road, just eight miles from this city, has been for fifty odd years a tomb which held the mortal remains of the old convivialist. It was his habit during his lifetime never to let a person pass his house without taking a social glass together, and during his last illness it was his request that he be buried by the roadside, and that a bottle of whiskey be placed at his right hand so that he could ask the boys to take a drink with him. The tomb has been an old landmark for many years and has never been interfered with until about three weeks ago, when a carriage from this city containing three men, stopped at a slanting one-mile from the tomb, about 10 o'clock on the night of 31st of January, and in response to inquires, the men were directed to the tomb. The next morning, persons living in the neighborhood discovered that the brick work of the tomb was torn to pieces, and that the bones of old man Brocket had been taken out and left in the road. It has for a long time been supposed that quite a sum of money was buried with the body, but the superstition of the country people had kept them from interfering with the remains of the old convivialist. The report that money had been buried there, had no doubt reached the ears of mercenary and unscrupulous people in the city who went in the dead of the night and dug up the bones which had been mouldering for over a half century. It is not known whether the money diggers secured the gold they sought, or not. The bones were afterwards replaced in the grave again and covered over by persons living in that locality.

Indications.
For the South Atlantic and Eastern Gulf States slowly falling barometer, winds veering to warmer easterly, increasing cloudiness in the first district cloudy weather, and possibly occasional rain in the latter to-night.

Columbia's Noble Men.
We have received the music to the song, with the above title, which appears upon the third page of this issue. The theme is very simple and easy. It will undoubtedly have a large sale, as the proceeds are to be devoted to the Herald Irish Relief Fund. It is published by the New York Music Publishing House, 436 Fourth Avenue, N. Y. Price 25 cents.
An Army of Working Women.
It is said that there are 3000,000 working women in our country dependent upon their own resources for a livelihood and such home comforts and surroundings as they can create. This list includes a vast army of teachers, sewing women of all grades, domestics, and girls employed in factories and other businesses, who are wrestling with the world for a living to say nothing about a home.
Fire at Smithville.
We learn by telegram that a small one story frame house at Smithville which is said to be owned by Charles Hudgins, of this city, was consumed by fire this morning about 11 o'clock. The house was occupied by a colored family who had locked it up and were absent at the time of the conflagration. The fire originated probably from a spark from a fireplace. The house was somewhere in the vicinity of Mr. T. M. Thompson's residence and there was a rumor on the street this morning that the above named gentleman's dwelling had been destroyed.

Wilmington Liquor Dealers' Association.
At a meeting of the Liquor Dealers Association held yesterday afternoon in the Howard Relief Engine House, the organization which was started some weeks ago was perfected. Several new members were admitted and business of interest to the Association was transacted. The Association proposes to establish similar bodies in every town in the State and organize thoroughly so as to place their claims before the next Legislature. They claim that they are unjustly taxed and are making movements in a direction which will relieve them of the burden of the enormous taxation which is now upon them.
The Trial of John Grady.
This morning Hon' D. K. McRae addressed the jury at length and made an impressive and telling speech. Mr. Solicitor Moore followed Col. McRae in a speech of about two hours in length. Col. Moore's speech is spoken of by those who heard it as one of the finest ever delivered in the Court House in a criminal case. He acquitted himself with such credit that the impression left upon those who were fortunate enough to hear him will be indelibly impressed upon their minds. We regret that it was not our pleasure to be present in the Court Room to listen to the speeches of the different counsel engaged in this case, as there was quite an array of talent employed on each side. We learn, however, that the sparks which sometimes flew from the contact of the ponderous intellects arrayed in conflict with each other, were occasionally quite vivid and brilliant. At the conclusion of His Honor's charge, which was delivered at the close of the argument of counsel, Col. MacRae requested that the charge be reduced to writing, which the Judge proceeded to do and was engaged in doing at 8:30 o'clock, the hour we left the Court room to make this report.
P. S. Since the above was in type, we learn that the jury have retired and returned to the Court and rendered a verdict of manslaughter.

A Card.
Mr. George H. Kelley and family most respectfully return their sincere thanks to their friends and to the Fire Department for the efficiency and kindness which saved so much of their furniture, &c., from destruction at the late fire. To the Hook and Ladder company are special thanks due. They also regret that these acknowledgments have been so long delayed.
Good Evidence.
When such men as the Rev. Dr. Harvey, Father Fitz Gerald, Prof. Green, Dr. Bartine, Col. John K. McChesney, E. W. Nell, and a host of others equally trustworthy, certify over their own signatures to the marvelous efficacy of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, in the diseases for which it is recommended, it is time to dismiss doubts on the subject.

HOOD'S GREAT BOOK OF THE WAR.
ADVANCE and RETREAT,
Personal Experiences in the United States and Confederate States Armies.
BY GENERAL J. B. HOOD
Army, published for Late Lieutenant-General Confederate States, The Hood Orphan Memorial Fund, BY GENERAL G. T. BEAUREGARD, NEW ORLEANS, 1880.
The entire proceeds arising from the sale of this work are devoted to The Hood Orphan Memorial Fund, which is invested in United States Registered Bonds for the nurture, care, support and education of the ten infants deprived of their parents last summer at New Orleans, (the melancholy incidents of which and bereavement are still fresh in the public mind.)
The book is an elegant octavo, containing 300 pages, with a fine photograph likeness and a line steel engraving, made expressly for this work, four large maps of battle fields, bound in handsome Gray English Cloth, at THREE DOLLARS, or in a fine Sheep Binding, with Marble Edges, FINE BULL-LAMBS and FIFTY CENTS—in Half Bound Morocco, library style, FOUR DOLLARS, or in best Levant Turkey Morocco, full Gilt Sides and Edges, FIVE DOLLARS.
On the receipt from any person remitting by mail or express, of the amount in a registered letter or by a postal order, bank draft, or check, a copy will be immediately sent free of postage, registered as second-class matter.
The volume is published in the best style of typography, on elegant paper, with illustrations, executed at highest specimens of art. The author, the subject, the purpose, all alike render it worthy a place in every library,—on every desk,—or upon the book shelf of every house in the country.
Agents wanted in every town and county in the United States, and a preference will be given to honorably discharged veterans from the army.
To the ladies, who feel a desire to express their sympathy with The Hood Orphan Memorial Fund the sale of this book among their circle of friends will afford an excellent way of contributing substantial aid to so deserving a cause.
For terms, rates to agents, etc., address, with full particulars,
