THE ALIGNMENT.

The Goldsboro Messenger has made a careful collation of the opinions of the press of the State relative to the proposed sale of the Western North Carolina B. R. It says:

We present the opinions and views of 47 State papers;—46 Democratic and 1 Bepublican, It will be seen that the State press is very much divided on the railroad question. A summary shows that of the number 18 favor the acceptance of the Best proposition; 8 are undecided; and (including this paper) 21 are either opposed to the sale or deplore the hasty action in the call of the extra session. of Greensboro, including that city, and road; 13 are opposed to the present pro position, and 6 are non-committal. We will give the views of other papers as they are received.

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

The Goldsboro Messenger, which is one of the ablest champions of the people as opposed to the scheme of office holders for the sale of the Western North Carolina R. R., has been handed a copy of the Philadelphia Trade Journal bears ing date February 7th, 1880, in which it finds the following announcement:

The last proposed grand combination is that for the completion of an independent and intermediate line of railroad from the West to the South Atlantic, a line that shall be ong to no combination, be free to Cincinnati, St. Louis and Louisville alike, and have at its terminus the finest and most spacious commercial port ways sitting down to breakfast, provided on the South Atlantic. This line comprises the Knoxville, Columbia and Char eston line, and the port is Charleston For some time there had been an inquiry for the lower classes of South Carolina Locks of the poet's hair, his writing desk, railroad securities, which previously were almost unmarketable. It has just leaked out that a syndicate at New York already owned 40,000 shares of the capital stock of the South Carolina Company. The items, besides a tress of Guiceloli's hair, whole number of shares is 55,520, so majority. The plan of the syndicate is said to be to put on a fine line of steamships to Charleston, and to make connec tion with the Cincinnati Southern Rail road by way of Columbia and Ashville constructing the necessary connecting tines From Charlest n to Cincinnati, by way of Asheville, Knoxville, Cary ville and Danville, the distance is six hundred and ninety-four miles, which is more than a hundred miles less than the short line from Cincinnati to Savaonah.

We present this clipping for the' benefit of those hereabous who have been inclined to waver in the opposition at first manifested by them to the sale of the roa There has been a whisper hereabouts to the effect that the sale of this road, and its speedy completion beyond Asheville, would harmonize with the interests of our city through the operations of the you, cousin Charley, and so kind of you Carolina Central Railway, and hence to drop in! Now, you'll sit a couple of the opposition to the sale in this city has weakened. The article in question will show about how much confidence is to be placed in these delusive whisperings. We quote here the remarks of the Messenger :

The announcement may not exactly prove a bombshell, yet, when taken in connection with the proposition now on the tapis by which Mr. Best and his New York (?) syndicate propose to gobble up the Western North Carolina Railroad, it is Boston 5 and 16 Cents at least of some significance and worthy of the most serious reflections. 'Walk into my parlor, said the spider to the fly,' etc , says Mr. Best to the people of North Caro. lina, Aud is North Carolina to be isolated beyond hope of redemption? Are we not al.eady sufficiently humiliated by seeing our produce forced to seek outlet at Rich. mond, Norfolk and other ports beyond the State, to the detriment of Wilmington, Must Charleston be added to our success. ful rivals? Is this the way Wilmington and Beaufort are to be benefited by Mr. Ladies are invited to call and examine. Best?

And what will be the next move on the railroad chess-board? A friend suggests that our New York syndicate friends, in their magnanimity and pity for the old North State, will next propose to construct a magnificent air line railroad from Salisbury to Raleigh to connect with what port? Echo answers not Wilmington, not Newbern, nor is it Beaufort. Of course our syndicate friends are such a clever, generous set of fellows, that this privilege would hardly be denied them, and then the Ducktown connection would offer such a splendid Pacific connection that another extra session of the Legislature may be necessary, in the near future, to consider the project, in its grandenr and splendor, and at the shortest notice possible. Another friend born in that city during next November suggests that there is already an indirect med December, and will increase the charter for such air line connection in existence, but we have not yet been able to find it. Turn on more light.
