

The Daily Review

JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, 1880.

[ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT WILMINGTON, N. C., AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.]

VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

Out of the 1,500 replies received by the New York Tribune from the 2,000 Republican town committeemen in Pennsylvania, 1,200 are for Blaine.

Prince Bismarck is still indisposed and is confined to his bed. He has enforced his demand for the appointment of a colleague by suggesting that if his work is not thus lightened, he be allowed to retire altogether.

It is said that Mary Anderson, while acting Juliet in Boston, took a wad of chewing gum out of her mouth in the garden scene, put it carefully on the railing of the balcony, and picked it up again after her last 'good night' to Romeo.

Chief Justice Waite, during his recent visit to New Orleans, was treated with the most distinguished consideration. A dinner, at which Chief Justice Manning presided, was given, and two hundred guests were present, including all the prominent clergymen, lawyers and bankers of the city.

It is reported that when Senator Bayard was in Richmond recently he was invited to pay a visit to the Virginia Legislature, in which the readjusters have a majority, where it was proposed to tender him a formal reception. His reply was that he did not care to visit people who refused to pay their honest debts.

Hon Thomas Ewing says the Ohio delegation in the Democratic National Convention will probably go for Seymour after Thurman, but the Cincinnati Enquirer regards Mr. Tilden as the second choice of the Ohio Democrats, providing his friends can give assurance of carrying New York.

An attempt to rob the Sub Treasury at Philadelphia, though made nearly a year ago, has just been divulged by the officials, who mistakenly supposed that silence would lead to the detection of the thieves. A wall more than two feet thick was dug through, but the vault containing $10,000,000 in gold resisted the attack, and the burglars secured only a few dollars' worth of pennies. Five watchmen in the building declared that they heard nothing.

The Emperor of Austria has lately been the recipient of a unique present. It consists of a suit of clothes made from the wool of an alpaca sheep that eleven hours previous to their delivery was still alive. The animal, a superb specimen of its kind, was slain at 6.11 P. M. Four hours and thirty-three minutes were employed in reducing the wool to cloth. In two hours and twenty-five minutes the latter was ready for the tailor, who employed the remaining four hours in making the suit.

The ravages of what is commonly known as 'rot' or 'bane' are assuming most appalling proportions in the midland and western counties of England, in consequence, it is generally supposed, of the excessive and long-continued wet weather last year. Tens of thousands of sheep, principally ewes, are dead and dying. In some parishes in Gloucester, Oxon and Warwick there are, comparatively speaking, very few sheep left, and in Somerset there are only 5,000 left in one district which usually winters 50,000. Hundreds, if not thousands, of sheep have been sold off in the Bristol district at from 3s. 6d. to 16s. a head.

The Rev. Dr. Boardman of Philadelphia, a Baptist, comes out in favor of parochial schools. 'The Constitution of the United States,' he says, 'guarantees absolute freedom of conscience; accordingly, to force the Bible on the non-Christian, or the Protestant version on the Romanist, or the New Testament on the Jew, is an invasion both of the Constitution and also of the rights of conscience. Right of conscience is not thus a question of majorities or physical force. So long as the Church abandons to the State the work of educating the nation, the expulsion of the Bible from our schools is only a question of time.' Therefore, he argues, the only right way to educate the children under religious auspices is to do it in schools maintained by the churches.

An Old Man Restored to Health.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Sept. 15, 1879.
H. H. WARNER & Co., ROCHESTER, N. Y.—GENTLEMEN:—For forty years I have suffered with Diabetes, being obliged to void urine as often as once in 30 minutes, and have also been a great sufferer from palpitation of the heart. I am now using your Diabetes Cure, and can truly say, at 70 years of age, that it makes me feel like a new man.

"ERRING BROTHER" KEY.

We are not an advocate of lotteries nor any other games of chance. We are opposed to them upon moral grounds; but we believe that even a lottery may have some rights which the government is bound to respect. For instance: The Louisiana State Lottery is a regularly chartered and regularly organized company, acting under the laws of that State. Its president is M. Dauphin, and the regular drawings of the company are made under the immediate supervision of General P. T. Beauregard, of Louisiana, and Jubal A. Early, of Virginia.

The Postmaster-General, possessed with the idea that this lottery was highly immoral and dangerous in its tendencies, and acting under the law which forbids transportation through the mails of obscene or immoral matter, issued an order some time since that all registered postal matter addressed to M. Dauphin should be withheld. The latter gentleman has brought suit against Mr. Key for thus confiscating postal matter addressed to him.

General Beauregard is now in Washington as a witness in the case, and while we differ with him as to the morality of the lottery business, some of his ideas, as expressed to a reporter, are worthy of thought. To a question as to whether the drawings were actually conducted under his personal supervision, he said:

'Gen. Early and myself, with three assistants of our own selection, handle every ticket. There are 100,000 of them in each drawing. We count over twice every ticket, to prevent any errors; we then put them in a box, which is sealed and opened only in public, after having examined the seals, at the moment of commencing the drawing. The prizes are treated in the same manner. On the appointed day and hour for the drawing the boxes are opened and the tickets and prizes are put in their respective wheels. Gen. Early takes his place at the ticket wheel usually, and I at the other. Each of us has a boy of our selection (who is blindfolded and has his sleeves rolled up to the elbow) to take out the balls and the prizes, one at a time and at the same moment. Gen. Early takes the ball from the boy's hand at his wheel, and I do likewise with the prize from mine. We open them at once, read them aloud, when we hand them to two public criers, who proclaim them in a louder voice. A record thereof is kept by two accountants, chosen by us, and the ticket and prize are then folded together and put in a box for the purpose of verifying the records before they are certified to by us. I must add that the tickets and prizes being rolled up and put each one in an India rubber tube, it is utterly impossible to distinguish them from each other, for these tubes are exactly alike in size and color.'

'The drawings are public, you say?'

'Certainly, and generally attended by a large number of people.'

'What security do the public have that yours is really a fair game of chance?'

'The security of our names and reputation. That is precisely the security they have in the safety of their deposits in a bank, or the value of their contributions to a life insurance company. A man with money to deposit requires as to the character of the men who conduct the bank. He does not ask to examine its assets, or to value them; the guarantee to him is the reputation of the managers and the manner in which they have conducted the business up to that time. Banks break, and the depositors lose, but do not insist for that reason that banking is a dishonest business. There are big game lotteries as well as rotten banks. If a person believes the Louisiana lottery is fairly conducted he does not hesitate to buy a ticket except for conscientious scruples. Reasoning in this way, the people of Louisiana, in their highest capacity, have legalised the lottery. I am connected with it, and made a record of their action which can neither be destroyed nor successfully disputed.'

'Yours is a really legal lottery, then?'

'In the highest sense legal. Up to this time lotteries were authorized by Legislature, and in every case where there was no doubt about the legislative act have been sustained by the courts. The Louisiana Lottery Company have their charter from the people, who imbedded it in the State Constitution, which was adopted by a very large majority. There can be no doubt about such an act. A legislative charter might be obtained by fraud, or chicanery, or bribery, but it is not possible to bribe a whole people. The courts will not entertain such a proposition as that. A legislative act, although not void, might be voidable, but not a constitutional provision. There can therefore be no question that the Louisiana Lottery is a legal one. If not, I would not have anything to do with it.'

Now, here is a company doing business under the laws of a sovereign State, perfectly legitimate in all its features, so far as that State is concerned, conducted with every element of fairness that can in any way attach to such an enterprise, which Mr. Key would suppress by withholding and confiscating the funds belonging legitimately to its treasury. It looks to us as if he was exceeding his powers, and that a strict interpretation of the law would place him in rather an awkward position.

Shrewdness and Ability.

Hop Bitters, so freely advertised in all the papers, secular and religious, are having a large sale, and are supplanting all other medicines. There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of these Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability in compounding a Bitters, whose virtues are so palpable to every one's observation.—Exchange.

Dandruff eradicated, the scalp made clean, and gray hair restored to its original youthful beauty and vigor by the use of HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RESTORER.

MOONSHINE.

If this scold fits you, you may wear it, scornfully remarked the under Indian in the fight. And the victor, who was a man open to conviction, wore it on his leggings till he lost it, some years later, in connection with his own—Burlington Hawkeye.

Pat: 'Well, Dan, and have ye heard the news—have ye heard that Rory the miller's dead?' Dan: 'Rory the miller is it that's dead now?' Jabsers, but ye don't say so, and he was a young man too.' Pat: 'Faith, and that's true for ye, Dan; he was such a young man now, that I expected to see him at my own funeral just as of me going to his.'

A clergyman asked his Sunday school: 'With what remarkable weapon did Sampson at one time slay a number of Philistines?' For a while there was no answer, and the clergyman, to assist the children a little, commenced tapping his jaw with the tip of his finger, at the same time saying, 'What's this? What's this? Quick as thought, a little fellow innocently replied, 'The jawbone of an ass, sir.'

'Perkington is a man of decision.—The other evening, upon reaching home, he was met by his dear wife Maria with the harrowing tale of Bridget the cook's, kerosene disaster. 'Oh J. h.!' she began, 'we've had such a dreadful time! Bridget tried to hurry the fire—poured kerosene into it—blew up—burnt her to death—oh! oh! oh!' Perkington is a wonderful man a man for an emergency. He replied as a man who is not used to being thwarted in purposes, 'Discharge her immediately Maria; discharge her immediately. I won't have such a woman in the house!—Boston Transcript.

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effective remedy yet discovered for diseases, caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and effectual treatment. AYER'S PILLS are especially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Sour Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these PILLS are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.
