Some of the dry goods windows are as interesting as museums of anatomy, which show how wonderfully and fearfully people can be made.

A blessing to humanity is what Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup can well be termed, for it has done more good already than any other medicine.

Prof. Macallister is booked for Petersburg next week, beginning Monday night. So that he will remain with us but three nights longer.

The moon enters on its second quarter this evening, and knowing ones assert that the weather will settle itself, decisively, one way or the other, by to-morrow morning.

In our report of the proceedings of the Hibernian Benevolent Society in yesterday's issue, we omitted to mention that after the election of officers, resolutions were adopted appropriating $100 for the relief of the suffering poor of Ireland and thanking the people of this city for their liberal contributions to the same worthy and noble cause.

It is easier to remember the good things eaten than the good things said at a banquet, and that is why the average reporter generally gets back from public dinners with a confused recollection and a printed bill of fare, both of which he submits as a report. The bill of fare especially makes very interesting reading matter for cooks in the different restaurants.

The Excursion.

The Passport carried down the river to-day a small but apparently happy party of excursionists. It was the first of the season and the fact that it was not largely attended may be ascribed to the cool and disagreeable weather. Had yesterday been a warm day the boat would doubtless have been crowded.

Another Unfortunate at Large.

Sarah MacKinzie, a crazy colored woman who made her escape from the Insane Department at the Poor House a day or two since, was arrested on the streets by the police and locked up in the guard house to await the orders of the Superintendent of the above named institution. This is the third crazy person now that has either escaped, or who has been turned loose within a few weeks.

Plows, Shovels, Pitchforks, Spades, Rakes, Trace Chains, Plow Lines, &c. For the lowest prices, go to JACOBI'S.

Opera House

Another large audience greeted Professor Macallister last evening. His tricks were fine and were well received by the audience. The mere fact that Professor Macallister never shows less than a week in a city, ought to be a guarantee to the public that he is a complete master of his art. Each night he has a change of programme and gives out useful and substantial presents. Mr. Charles Wessell drew the cash prize of $15 and Mr. Joseph Hanby the silver cake basket last night. To night a handsome swinging silver ice pitcher and $10 will be the principal prizes.

Ready mixed Paints, strictly pure White Lead, Colors, Brushes, Window Glass, &c., at JACOBI'S.

City Court.

John Gooding, a young man who had taken on too much, was arraigned before His Honor this morning upon the charge of being drunk and disorderly and resisting the police. Hon. Edward Cantwell appeared for the prisoner and hoped that in consideration of the defendant's previous good character, together with the fact that the occasion was one on which a little license might sometimes be allowed, His Honor would be as lenient as possible.

The Mayor seemed to take in consideration these facts, or at least some of them, and pronounced sentence of $5 or five days in the City Prison. The defendant went below. This finished the docket and the Court adjourned.

Full Metal and Walnut Show Cases, all styles and sizes, at ALTAFFER, PRICE & Co's.

Language of the Hair.

An exchange gives the following indications, as expressed by the human hair, which those who feel interested can read and judge for themselves; Straight, lank, stringy looking hair indicates weakness and cowardice. Curly hair denotes a quick temper. Frizzy hair, set on one's head as if each individual hair were ready to fight its neighbor, denotes coarseness. Black hair indicates persistent resolution in accomplishing an object, also a strong disposition to avenge wrongs and insults—real or fancied. Brown hair denotes fondness for life, a friendly disposition, ambition, earnestness of purpose, capacity for business, reliability in friendship, in proportion as the hair is fine. Very fine hair indicates an even disposition, a readiness to forgive, with a desire to add to the happiness of others. Persons with very fine light brown or auburn hair, inclined to curl or friz, are quick tempered, and are given to resentment and revenge. Light brown hair, inclined to redness, with a freckled skin, is a certain indication of deceit, treachery, and a disposition to do something mean to a friend who can no longer be used to advantage.

You can buy No. 1 Cooking and Heating Stoves at almost any price at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Rocked and Fired into

From a passenger who arrived here last evening on the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Mail train, we learn of a dastardly outrage which was perpetrated by some person or persons unknown. As the train was passing a point about one mile beyond Brickley's, and about eight or nine miles from the city, and when in a slight cut which rises to about the level of the car windows, three shots were fired at the train and two missiles were thrown. The engineer of the train, Mr. Horace Calvo, was leaning out of the window of the cab at the time and it is thought that the first shot was fired at him. Two others followed in rapid succession but no damage was done by either of the three shots. Almost simultaneously with the shots two missiles were thrown at the train, an iron nut and a bolt, both taken from a fish-bar. The nut pierced a window and fell into the second class coach, in which Capt. Geo. P. Cotchett, the Conductor, was at the time, and the bolt crashed through a window of the sleeping car in the rear and struck a passenger in the side, but, fortunately, without causing any decided injury to the gentleman.

It is the belief of our informant, which seems to have been shared by the officers of the train, that there were several persons implicated in this outrage. The attack seems to have been regularly planned, from the fact that the engine, the second-class coach, the first-class coach, and the sleeping car were each the recipient of the attentions of the scoundrels, the second and third shots, it is believed, having been fired at the first-class coach. The mail and baggage cars seem to have been exempted from the attack. Of course there is no clue, as yet, to the perpetrators of this outrage, but we trust that they will all be captured and made to pay dearly for it. A year or two ago, if our memory serves us correctly, Capt. Cotchett's train was rocked at or near this same point.

Worth Thinking About.

As an item of interest for our merchants, who may be induced to go and do likewise, or more so, we give here some items from the Charlotte Observer, relative to the recent trade excursion to that city. The Observer says:

Two large dry goods houses estimate the increase in their sales over the same time last year at one hundred per cent., and about a third of this was trade they would not have enjoyed but for the excursion; and the figures seem to bear them out. The number of tickets stamped by the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce amounts to something over eleven hundred—of these, it may be safely estimated that three hundred and fifty were men who had either never before traded in Charlotte, or who had not done so for a long time. One house alone sold goods to sixty entirely new customers, and to forty who had stopped trading with Charlotte since the first time six or seven years ago. Thirty-three per cent. of the $150,000 worth of money which it is estimated was left in the city by the excursionists is a clear credit to the excursion, not mentioning the immense advantage which one who has a single bird firmly grasped is said to possess over him who contemplates the catching of two which sport freely in the shrubbery.

A merchant of Robeson county expressed the greatest astonishment at the stocks of hardware which our merchants exhibited, and a number of bills were sold to merchants from towns which, if one believed half one heard, sell as many goods as Charlotte. The heaviest shipments over the Richmond & Danville road were to Winston and Durham. Over the Carolina Central goods were shipped to Laurinburg, Shoe Heel, and Lumberton, towns which have heretofore never traded with us to any very great extent, and it is estimated that the shipments over this road from Charlotte were increased between fifty and seventy-five per cent.

Everybody can get suited with a Pocket Knife, also Table Cutlery, at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

"Old Reliable."

There are many reputed remedies for that very prevalent disease, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, but none which have given general satisfaction and become acknowledged standard preparations, except Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It continues to enjoy an unprecedented popularity. This reputation has been earned through the permanent cures which it has wrought having proved itself a specific in the worst forms of the disease. In fact so reliable is it that its former proprietor offered through all the newspapers of the land a reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that it would not cure. Sold by druggists.

The Chicken Dispute.

The cocking main had at Klein's Gardens yesterday lasted until about 6 o'clock. Seven matches were fought and five cocks were killed. One fight was a drawn battle, and there was one run-away. There were at least two hundred persons who witnessed the disputes.

Rough Weather.

The steamship Regulator, Captain Doane, arrived at her wharf in this city this morning. Captain Doane states that he cleared at New York on Saturday, but on account of a snow storm setting in he came to an anchor and did not get to sea until Sunday evening. He had rough weather the entire passage and on yesterday a heavy gale was blowing right in his teeth all day.

Try This!

Talking about puzzles, here is something which we find floating around among our exchanges which seems to have bothered the brains of many masters. Who can solve it?

If a man has 100 yards of ditch to cut and pays $75 for the same, and employs two men to cut it giving one man 40 cents per yard and the other 60, how many yards will each man have to cut in order to draw an equal share of the money?

The Cape Fear.

We are informed that when the steamer North State left Fayetteville at 8 o'clock yesterday morning the river had risen quite 30 feet, with the water still rising though slowly. All the lowlands between here and Fayetteville are overflowed, and, consequently, the rise, should the freshet continue, will not be so perceptible as it has been. The season has been a cause of real jollification to the raftsmen who have improved the splendid opportunity to bring their timber and naval stores to market, and have, fortunately, realized good prices for the same.

Magistrate's Court.

Sarah Currie, colored, swore out a warrant against Mary Eliza Lively for assault and battery. The defendant was carried before Justice Millis who pronounced judgment against defendant of $1 fine and the costs in the case. The same defendant was then arraigned by the same plaintiff before Justice Millis upon a peace warrant. Judgment of the court in this case was that defendant give bond for $25 to keep the peace for sixty days.

Personal.

Mr. John D. Shaw, a prominent lawyer and a former member of the Legislature from Richmond county, is in the city. Mr. Shaw is a clear thinker and an able lawyer, and is one among a number of clear-headed lawyers in this section who think the Best proposition not worth to the State the paper it is written on. If we understood Mr. Shaw correctly in conversation with him to-day, he is now rather in favor of Mr. Dortch's proposition to sell out the State's entire interest in all of the railroads, i. e., if it is in compatible with the interest of the State to hold on to the Western Road, and, so say we.

The Planetary Display.

The occultation of Mars with the moon was beheld last evening by all who took the trouble to look for it. It was the clearest evening that we have had for nearly two weeks and only a few fleecy clouds interposed occasionally between the moon and the earth.

The occultation commenced about 6:30 o'clock, and the planet was hidden more than an hour. Mars was about an hour past the meridian and at an altitude above the horizon that insured a good view, while the moon was within a day of her first quarter. At 6:44 Mars disappeared behind the dark side of the moon; that was called the time of immersion. At 8:34 he appeared on the western edge of the moon; and this was called the time of emersion. The duration of the occultation was an hour and sixteen minutes. The eastern or unilluminated portion of the moon first passed between us and the planet. The instant Mars touched the invisible outline of the lunar disc he was apparently blotted out of the sky. After an hour and sixteen minutes had passed, the ruddy star suddenly started forth from its hiding place, trembling for a second's time on the moon's western verge, charmingly illustrating the contrast in colors between the red light of Mars and the silvery hue of the moon; then the show was over and satellite and planet rolled on in their respective paths.
