JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY, MARCH 23, 1880.

[ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT WILMINGTON, N. C., AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.]

VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

Four of the widows of Brigham Young have found rest and consolation with second husbands. The rest are so homely they are waiting to die.

President Bussey, of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce, telegraphs to San Francisco that any number of Chinamen in the latter city may find employment in the sugar, cotton and rice fields of Louisiana.

A petition, signed by over 1,200 women of Cincinnati, praying the Ohio Legislature to enact some law which will take the control of the public schools out of the hands of ward politicians, has been presented to that body.

The cost per capita for instruction in the Philadelphia schools last year was $18.90. The number of pupils enrolled was 10,567, the average attendance was 92,381. The salaries of the teachers per pupil in attendance are only $10.90 for the year.

There are said to be 20,000 children in Chicago who get no schooling whatever and 7,000 in the schools who for lack of proper accommodations can only be taught half a day. This is not a pleasant report of a city which prides itself on Western progress.

Jay Gould recently told a correspondent of the Galveston News that three out of every five Republican politicians favor the nomination of Blair. He further said that the Democrats could elect the next President if they would do one thing—nominate Justice Field.

Oleomargarine is now before Congress in Mr. Covert's bill to appoint a scientific commission of three chemists and two microscopists to establish legal tests for butter and oleomargarine. The purpose is to modify the act passed by Congress on the subject last year.

A house built in 1639 still stands in Deadham, Mass., and is the oldest in New England. It is beautifully situated under heavily branching elms, with a moss-covered roof. Much of the original furniture, 240 years of age, still remains, and has been in the possession of one family, named Fairbanks, during all of that time.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor in Massachusetts, Mr. C. D. Wright, has gathered statistics of all the labor strikes in that State since 1823, and has given their history. The whole number is 156, of which 110 were unsuccessful, six partly successful, eighteen successful, six partly successful, and sixteen were compromised.

A New York letter says the indications multiply that there is to be an immense Irish immigration this coming summer. The steady demand for bills on Ireland, in small amounts, shows that money has been sent to bring out a great many families from the famine districts, and, according to the testimony of those who are in a position to know, there is scarcely a servant girl that is not contributing more or less in the furtherance of that purpose for the benefit of her relatives. There are many withdrawals of savings banks deposits as a result of this.

A lady residing at Cow Island, in Louisiana, wishing to "set" her old hen, went into the field adjoining her residence where some of her chickens had been "laying," and procured some seventeen eggs and placed them under the hen. When in the course of "human events," the chickens were hatched, laid and be-held, there came forth four small-eared alligators. It is supposed that alligators from an adjoining marsh had deposited their eggs in the field, and she, not knowing the difference, placed them under the hen. And, what is more strange, the young alligators followed the mother hen around the premises, as happy as a Colorado beetle in a potato patch.

A two-guinea prize was offered in London for the best recipe for a Christmas plum pudding. Five hundred recipes were sent in, and this was awarded the money: One pound raisins; one pound currants; one pound suet, chopped fine; three-quarters pound stale bread crumbs; one quarter pound flour; one-quarter pound brown sugar; rind of one lemon, chopped fine; one-half nutmeg grated; five eggs; one-half pound mixed candied peel; one-half pint brandy. Well mix all dry ingredients; beat the eggs and mix the brandy; then pour over the other things and thoroughly mix. To be boiled in a basin or mold for six hours at the time of making and six hours more when wanted for use.

Purge out the morbid humors of the blood, by a dose or two of AYER'S PILLS and you will have clearer heads as well as bodies.

THE MEETING YESTERDAY.

There were about thirty persons present at the adjourned railroad meeting held yesterday afternoon in the City Court Room. As the meeting was called and held openly, after due and sufficient notice, the action of the meeting must be accepted by our people. The majority endorsed the sale of the road, not, it is true, under the Best bill, even as it stands after having passed through the hands of Messrs. Davis and Buffin, but under the most advantageous terms to be obtained. What may be called "advantageous" terms is open to discussion, and herein are the resolutions adopted very weak. It would not be advantageous to Wilmington, we think now and have always thought, to sell the road at all, because we do not believe that there is law enough in North Carolina to bind Mr. Best and his associates to the strict fulfillment of any obligations they may undertake, unless under such heavy sureties as they could not and would not put up. Between Mr. Best and his friends, Buford and the two North Carolina divisions of the Richmond & Danville Railroad and the encroachments of Garrett and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Wilmington will hereafter probably be known as a remote seaport town, situated in an unfrequented corner of a strip of land between two States. But we will try to await patiently developments of the "advantageous terms" on which the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad is to be based.

BYARD AND TILDEN IN LOUISIANA.

The New Orleans correspondent of the New York World seems to doubt Hancock's strength in that State, notwithstanding all that has been written and said about it. The same objection to his nomination is felt there that is felt everywhere. The country has had enough of soldiers and would prefer civilians. This is, undoubtedly, the strongest argument, and the only one, which can be urged against General Hancock. The correspondent says:

Already the supporters of General Hancock have organized. Governor Wiltz, ex-Governor McEnery and many other prominent men are heading the movement, but it does not seem to be one that appeals to the working politician. Many very shrewd politicians are working quietly, either to make part of the delegation in order to secure an influence with it, with a view no doubt to mould it in the interest of the candidate who can promise the most. While the friends of General Hancock are the only ones who have up to this time pledged themselves to him, I hardly think a delegation to him would represent the sentiments of the people at large. I have conversed with prominent men from all sections of the State, and they all agree that the nomination of Mr. Bayard would gratify every one. General Hancock is regarded with great favor in Louisiana, is looked upon as the most enlightened soldier in the army, but at the same time the people of this section think we have had enough of the military.

As regards the respective merits and claims of Bayard and Tilden, the correspondent writes:

I don't think that the voters of this section would bat the nomination of Mr. Tilden with much enthusiasm. Mr. Tilden is not regarded as the man who would enforce his rights should a second attempt be made to deprive the Democracy of the fruits of victory. "The people want a statesman, but at the same time a man with some dash about him." The hero of Gramercy Park, for this reason, if for no other, would not make an acceptable candidate. Mr. Bayard, if nominated, would create an enthusiasm not felt in this State since the Seymour campaign. His financial record, his statesmanship and pure character seem just suited to the requirements of the moment. I am satisfied that a large majority of this community are his warm supporters, though I fear that the absence of organization among his friends will deprive them of the influence they might otherwise exert.

The New York Sun has got our ticket. It is Grant for President and Fred Grant for Vice President. The Sun very justly says that the Imperialists, if they succeed in nominating Grant for a third term, might as well put his eldest son, Col. Frederick D. Grant, on the same ticket for Vice-President.

To nominate Gen. Grant for a third term, in the face of the usage to the contrary running through the entire existence of the Federal Government, is to concede that the Grant blood is the only blood fit to rule in the United States.

So, to be consistent, the Grant men should make sure of that blood by having a son to succeed in case of any fatality to the father.

The Petersburg Index Appeal thinks that there will be great liberality during this session of Congress in granting money for the erection of public buildings throughout the country. This is evident from the large sums already agreed upon with practical unanimity by the House committee having the matter in charge. If discrimination is used in selecting places for the erection of these buildings the expenditure will be in the interest of economy. To be sure, the government always pays more than is necessary in such cases, but when the buildings are all erected they are there and will stay there as an ornament to the town or city where they may be placed.

The presumption in law is that a man is innocent until he is proved to be guilty. We would commend this fact to some of our Democratic neighbors who are condemning Senator Hill unheard. Because he urged Simons' nomination for Census Supervisor in Georgia in defiance of the will of his constituents is no reason why the he-woman Lockwood should be believed in her charges against him, until these charges are proved.

MOONSHINE.

The ex-Queen of Sp in is spoken of as 'fat old Isabella.' This is as bad as being blown up by dynamite.—New Haven Register.

A certain painter was bragging of his wonderful command of color to a friend one day. His friend did not seem to take it quite all in. 'Way,' exclaimed the painter, 'do you know that there are but three painters in the world, sir, who understand color? And who are they? At last asked the friend. 'Why, sir, I am one, and—and—and—I to get the names of the other two!'

Two gushing Boston girls were walking one day in the suburbs of the Hub, when they stumbled on a little old-fashioned milestone, forgotten in the march of improvement. One of them stooped, and, parting the grass, discovered the half-effaced inscription, 'I. m. from Boston,' upon which she exclaimed ecstatically, 'Here is a grave, perhaps of some young girl, who wished it written on her tombstone, 'I'm from Boston.' How touching! so simple, and so sufficient!'

'There!' she cried, in an excited voice; 'I should like to know what's become of that ambril. It got it up again the counter when I come in, and afore I could turn round it's gone—and it was only on a Monday that I got four and six for it!' What kind of an umbrella was it, ma'am? asked the polite clerk in his blandest tones. 'A spick and span new gingham, young man,' was the eager response, 'with an ivy handle on 't, and a—' 'I see the one in your hand, ma'am, for instance?' 'Sakes alive!' she exclaimed. 'And one might have thought she saw a serpent rather than her own spick and span gingham,' with its ivy handle clutched fast in her hand. She colored up like a druggist's window, and went off amidst unintelligible excuses. She never felt so flustered in all her born days, as she told J. Smith's Ann when she got home.—Boston Transcript.

Mott's Endorsement of Speer's Port Grape Wine.

The following, from the celebrated Dr. Mott of New York, speaks wonders for Mr. Speer's efforts to raise the Oporto Grape in New Jersey:

62 MADISON AVENUE, }
NEW YORK, April 11, 1878. }
MR. ALFRED SPEER.—Dear Sir: The visit which I made last year to your vineyards, wine-presses and vaults at Passaic, N. J., satisfied me thoroughly that the wines manufactured by you are pure and unadulterated, and the very best that can be offered to the public for medicinal uses.

Acting upon my favorable impressions at the time, I have since recommended the Port Wine more particularly in my practice, and am satisfied, with marked benefit, to my patients.

There can be no better proof to the doubting mind, as to the Wine being made of the finest Oporto Grapes, than a visit to the acres of land covered with the vine bearing the luxuriant fruit. Witnessing your success in your praiseworthy enterprise, I remain respectfully yours,

ALEX. B. MOTT, M. D.,
Prof. of Surgery, Bellevue Hosp. Med'l College, &c.

From the Banks of the Hudson. NEWBURGH, N. Y., Oct. 20, 1879. H. H. WARNER & CO., ROCHESTER, N. Y.—GENTLEMEN—"A lady of over seventy years of age, in failing health for over a year, has been using Warner's Safe Bitters on my recommendation. She feels very grateful for the benefit she has derived therefrom, and says that until she used it her stomach could bear no vegetable food for over three years. I believe it to be a certain specific for dyspepsia."
