VIEW AND REVIEWS.

A London publisher has just issued the New Testament complete with maps and illustrations, which he sells at a penny and makes a profit.

Mr. John Roach has decided to withdraw his Rio Janiero steamers after May 1st, owing to English competition, the line is run at a loss.

Secretary Everts states that not only has no treaty been effected with China, as announced, but that the chances for negotiating a treaty are at present exceedingly slim.

In Massachusetts there is about one divorce to every 21 marriages; in Vermont 1 to 17; Rhode Island, 1 to 14; and in Connecticut—godly Connecticut!—1 divorce to every 11 marriages.

The British government lately purchased 10,000 tons of iron rails for shipment to Afghanistan. The railroad is a great civilizer, and nothing will convert a native chief sooner than to give him a free pass for himself and dusky squaw.

William Smoak of Orangeburg county, S. C., has 10 living children, 104 grand-children, 891 great-grand children, and 70 great-great-grand-children, making in all 676 living descendants, besides 116 dead. He boasts that there is not a drunkard among them.

The colored citizens of Providence, R. I., who claim to cast six hundred votes, are striving to obtain a representation in the legislature and a repeal of the intermarriage prohibition. Being citizens, what keeps them out of the legislature but the required number of votes?

The Boston Post is our authority for the following statement: "Men are naturally perverse. A Delaware jury that had been out all night got word that everybody expected they'd disagree, and they brought in a verdict in two minutes."

Tammany's "commissioner" has returned from Cincinnati, and reports having secured for the Tammany headquarters the finest rooms at the Burnet House, in Cincinnati, and for the accommodation of the warriors 150 rooms at the Burnet House and 130 at the S. James Hotel.

A bill has been introduced in the New York Legislature for taxing all non-residents who do business in that State. This is a blow at commercial men from other States, and, as an exchange remark, is a bad example for her to set before States that are visited by so many New York drummers.

The rush of immigration at New York is somewhat remarkable. The seven ocean steamers which arrived there Sunday and Monday landed 2,911 immigrants, making the total for the month up to date 12,720, against 6,951 for the entire month of March of last year, and as the season advances the numbers are expected to increase.

Commissioner Kailton, who arrived in this country from England about two weeks ago, to assume command of the American wing of the Salvation Army, reached Philadelphia Wednesday afternoon and will at once establish his headquarters there, having shaken the dust of New York from his feet, because he was there denied the privilege of holding meetings in the open air. He expects more freedom in the City of Brotherly Love.

It has been discovered that the climate of California and northern Georgia and Alabama is just suited to the cultivation of the cinchona tree, from which quinine is made, and it is proposed to introduce the cultivation of these trees into this country, so as to save the expense it incurs every year in sending to South America for Peruvian bark.

A government check for $310,500, for payment of quarterly interest on the four per cent. bonds, was paid through the New York Clearing-house Thursday. This interest represents a principal of $31,050,000, which is the largest holding of any one person in any of the government securities. The daily income of that amount of bonds is $8,450. The check was to Wm. H. Vanderbilt.

Two hundred years ago the shaft of the turquoise mine in Chalchuti Mountain, New Mexico, caved in and a hundred Indians below at work were killed. The Spaniards tried to force the Indians to work the mine, and the result was a rebellion and the expulsion of the Spaniards. Now some American capitalists are about to reopen the mine, which is the only one of its kind on the continent.

A CANDID CONFESSION.

The New York Tribune, in its blind terror at the prospect of finding itself forced to accept the nomination of General Grant, is blurring out some things about the South which will come back to plague it when Chicago pronounces for the Hero of Black Friday and the Whiskey Rings. It says, for example:

In plain truth, the Republican party of the South was almost annihilated under General Grant's Presidency.

For what reason can Southern Republicans desire another term of Grant? They have nothing more to lose in some districts or States, but in some they still retain organization and a measure of influence. Do they desire to be driven even from the narrow foothold which they retain at the South? It is not strange if they conclude that this would be the result of a third term, since two terms so nearly extinguished them. Surely it is most natural for them to desire some other President and some other policy than are offered by the advocates of the third term.

The Federal offices can be filled with Republicans as well by one Republican President as by another. But the voters and the really intelligent leaders of the party at the South want something better than a few scattered crumbs of patronage. They desire, and rightly, something better than temporary places at the public crib. They want the government of their own States, the control of their own Legislatures, courts and local officials, the management of their own school systems. They want the Republican party to take such a course that they, the Southern Republicans, shall not remain forever ostracized and virtually disfranchised, but shall have opportunity to build up a strong political party, and moral and intellectual support appealing to other citizens at the South to join them. Would the nomination of General Grant promise them any of these things? On the contrary, it would promise only a return to the same mistaken policy which was pursued for eight years, until the Republicans had been badly beaten both at the South and at the North.

The New York World notes this remarkable confession and forthwith announces the facts as follows: Truly, when reconstructionists fail out, honest lovers of law and the Constitution come by their own. Who could have expected to see such confessions in the Tribune? For nearly a weary year that journal has been solemnly explaining to its readers how the reconstruction policy had built up a powerful Republican majority in at least one-half of the Southern States, and now here it comes and confesses that "the Republican party of the South was almost annihilated under General Grant's Presidency! This is quite true. The Republican party in the South is not as strong as the Democratic party is in Lyon County, Iowa. When Grant was inaugurated in March, 1869, he could have easily secured the support of the South for his Administration. All he had to do was to appoint "moral and intellectual" citizens of the South to fill the offices in the South. But this he would not do. The policy of Mr. Boutwell, which he chose to adopt, left the Republican party in nearly all the States of the South, as the Tribune now lamentably admits, "nothing more to lose."

The contention of the Northern stalwarts that there either was in the South in 1876 or has been since in the South a Republican party of "moral and intellectual" citizens to be bulldozed or terrified, has been utterly false from the beginning. This the Tribune now confesses. And yet there are men calling themselves Northern Democrats who are silly enough to think or cowardly enough to profess to think that the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati ought to be governed, in making its nomination, by the wish to placate and soothe the Northern stalwarts who have been humbugged into fancying that a really Democratic President might expect his power to keep from the polls this "moral and intellectual" Southern Republican party, which, as the Tribune now confesses, has no existence. The solid South is Democratic because a vast majority of the moral and intellectual people of the South are Democrats. To talk of the suppression by violence of Republican opinion at the South is on a par, as to common sense and truth, with saying that but for the bulldozing of the Republican party in Iowa or Vermont or Rhode Island the Democrats of those States would have carried them at the last election.

We again repeat that we regret the action of the House of Commons in expelling Josiah Turner from that body. This regret is not by any means on Mr. Turner's account, as he fully deserved it, and more, than he got, but on account of the Democratic party. Expulsion was just what Turner wanted, what he had made up his mind to strive for and to have, and it will give him the very trump cards by which he hopes to win his little game. He will, most likely, announce himself again this summer as an Independent candidate for the House from Orange county, and he will place himself before the people as a victim of persecution. He was elected two years ago without this, and is not assured that he will not lose anything in the campaign this summer by putting forward this additional plea for consideration. It will be a splendid bait for an Independent to throw out to Republican voters in a strong Democratic county. It is a pity that the House, having endured Mr. Turner's outrageous conduct for eleven days, could not have put up with it for two days longer.

A GOOD MOVE. The Congressional Committee of Ways and Means have decided, by a vote of eight to three, to place manufactured papers, wood pulps, ju'c butts, unmanufactured flax, straw, and all other fibre and fibrous plants fit for use in the manufacture of paper, upon the free list. In view of the fact that within the last few months there has been an advance of fifty to seventy-five per cent. on all kinds of manufactured paper, from no other cause than that the duty on the materials used in its manufacture has given the manufacturers in this country an opportunity to make the business a monopoly and dictate the prices for paper as they may see fit, this piece of legislation becomes a blessing to the people.

Should the price of paper remain for any considerable length of time as it is now, and has been for the past few months, publishers would be compelled to advance their prices in proportion, and books, magazines, periodicals and newspapers would become a severe tax upon the reading public. The benefits of these exorbitantly high prices in paper inure only to the few who are engaged in its manufacture, while the expense falls upon every reader in the country. It is an oppressive and unjust tax upon intelligence and education, to feed and fatten the purses of a few monopolists and this action of Congress has been sorely needed to protect the interests of the masses against the oppressions of these soulless and heartless manufacturers.

Sp. Corr. DAILY REVIEW THE CAPITAL. DEAR REVIEW:—That was a good suggestion made by the doctor, when his patient told him that he had bought a look of remedies and in future intended to prescribe for himself. "There's all very well," said he, "but, some day you may die of a mile, pluit." Happily they are not always fatal, or your correspondent would long since have gone down to the "dark valley and shadow." Especially would this last week have been fatal to him. In the letter, printed in last Wednesday's issue, he is made to say several things that he did not intend to say, the result of bad chirography, doubtless, as well as your proof-reader's oversight. I suggest this explanation because I recollect writing some tender verses to a young lady, once upon a time, that I thought very understandable English, but which she, unable to read them, set down as Latin! Passing over that which concerns myself only, let me say that the gentleman I quoted in regard to the nomination of Col. Waddell did not say: "It is no reward," &c., but he did say: "It is no marvel to those who know Col. Waddell, that he has many devoted friends," &c. You will recollect how the Irish soldier consoled his comrade, when going into the fight with the suggestion that if shot, it would be glorious to read in the newspapers, "how like a hero he died." But Byron added to the horrors of war, the dread probability, if a soldier of having on his name a square to the Gazette. Now, I do not believe in vain imaginations of either, but I think I have no right to make any one else responsible for nonsense. By-the-way, since writing the letter, your paper has come to hand, containing the names of several gentlemen who are expected to contest the nomination with Col. W., all of whom I have no doubt, are good men and true; you endorse them as such, and a gentleman at my elbow says that such a he knows of them are unexceptionable, and the list might be largely increased. He mentions Isaac B. K., the old war horse of the Dupuy Democracy, and of Judge M. K., an acquaintance of thirty years, and adding he speaks in terms of a qualified praise—a genius, high-toned, cultivated and elegant gentleman, who will fill with credit any position to which he may be called. But, while admitting all that may be urged for others, he holds that Waddell is equal to all that goes to making up the man, and has the advantage of Congressional training; that he is made a position for himself in Congress, and his influence begins with the eruption of his seat, while a new man, however well qualified, would have to tarry at Jericho till his Congressional beard grows. The will of the late Dr. J. M. Brodhead, for many years Second Comptroller of the Treasury, was filed in the Probate Court on Saturday. Among many curious bequests is the following: The executors are directed to purchase the Frank Hilton estate, near South Newmarket, N. H., and alter the house so as to make two comfortable tenements, which are to be occupied by his cousin Olive and niece Cornelius. On the following conditions: They are each to set apart a garden 60 feet square, which they are to plant with currants, strawberries, thimbleberries, raspberries and other suitable fruits. Harriet, the daughter of Olive, is to post herself on the planting of fruits, and to allow no weeds to grow up in this plantation, "thus correcting carelessness on the part of her father." One hundred dollars is to be advanced for the purchase of plants. In case the estate cannot be secured for the interest of the $3,000 set aside for it, it is to be distributed yearly to twelve worthy young people of South Newmarket, but is not to be shared in by any who smoke, use intoxicating liquors or drugs or make use of any profane or obscene language. Judge Thurman was suddenly attacked with vertigo, on the floor of the Senate, this afternoon. He was in the act of replying to Senator Blaine upon some question in relation to the Geneva Award, when he clasped his hands to his head and dropped into his seat. A physician was summoned, and restoratives applied. The illness, it is thought, is only temporary. He is a useful man and could be ill spared from the Senate just now. JACOBI.

ROBUSTINE. A robust countryman meeting a physician ran to hide himself behind a wall. Being asked the cause, he replied: "It is so long since I have been sick the physician had to look a physician in the face."

A young lady surprised the gentlemanly clerk at one of our dry goods stores by offering him fifty cents in payment for a dollar purchase. "I am sorry to hear of it," said the clerk. "I know it does," was the answer, "but paper is only paying fifty cents on the dollar now."

"Oh, hubby dear, I've called you twice, your dinner is quite done. Just wait a moment," shrieked the man. "I've got 'em all but one."

"At what age were you married?" asked she inquisitively. "But the other lady was called to the emergency, and replied, 'at the paragon!'"

"Dear Louise, don't let the men come too close when they are carrying 'em. Oh no, dear me. Why a Chinaman here always have one or two women with 'em. Mother thinks the answer a rather ambiguous."

Dr. Holt's Endorsement of Speer's Port Grape Wine.

The following, from the celebrated Dr. Mott of New York, speaks wonders for Mr. Speer's efforts to raise the Porto Grape in New Jersey:

82 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK, APRIL 11, 1878. MR. ALFRED SPEER,—Dear Sir: The visit which I made last year to your Vineyards, wine-presses and vats at Passaic, N. J., satisfied me thoroughly that the wines manufactured by you are pure and unadulterated, and the very best that can be offered to the public for medicinal uses.

Acting upon my favorable impressions at the time, I have since recommended the Port Wine more particularly in my practice, and am satisfied, with marked benefit, to my patients.

There can be no better proof to the doubting mind, as to the Wine being made on the finest Porto Grapes, than a visit to the acres of land covered with the vine bearing the luxuriant fruit. Witness your success in your present worthy enterprise.

I remain respectfully yours, ALEX. B. MOTT, M. D., Prof. of Surgery, Bellevue Hosp., Med. College, &c. For sale by J. C. Munds, Green & Flonper, P. L. Bridges & Co.
