Precautionary Measures.
The steam fire engine Little Giant, with a detachment of that fire company, was on duty last night from 11 o'clock until 3 o'clock this morning, playing on the smouldering embers of the recent fire corner of Dock and Front streets. This was done by order of Col. Roger Moore Chief of the Fire Department.

Given Up by Doctors.
"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"
"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die."
"Well—a day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

A Card From Col. Moore.
We cheerfully give place herewith to a card from Col. Roger Moore. In our report of the proceedings of the Convention held on Saturday afternoon we aimed to give as full a report as possible but the fact that we had so little time in which to get out the report will account for any inadvertent errors. It was not as complete as we desired but it was as nearly so as we could make it in the short time at our disposal. Col. Moore's card is as follows:
WILMINGTON, N. C., April 19th, 1880.
J. T. JAMES, Esq., EDITOR REVIEW:
Dear Sir—In your report of the proceedings of the Democratic County Convention, held on Saturday last, your reporter did not in an injustice, though unintentionally, I am sure, by not stating that I declined, peremptorily, to serve, under the circumstances, on the Executive Committee as Committeeman from the Second Ward. The circumstances are these: When Mr. Joseph J. Bowden, a resident of the First Ward, offered the resolutions, naming the Executive Committee, I offered an amendment, substituting the names of Maj. John W. Dunham and G. J. Boney, Esq., as committeemen from the Second Ward, in the place of the names proposed; as our Ward had expressed a preference for those gentlemen, though not actually voting for them. My amendment was voted down, and the original, by Mr. Bowden, was then adopted. I immediately declined the honor, and refused emphatically to serve, under the circumstances, and requested the Convention, for the sake of harmony, to put one of the gentlemen (the preference of our Ward) in my place; that I could not, and would not accept, nor would I allow myself to be forced upon my Ward when they had already, in my opinion, expressed a preference; and that I was sure it would be exceedingly distasteful to the Democratic voters of our Ward to have a gentleman from the First Ward select their Committeeman. The Chairman then remarked that the Committee was authorized to fill any vacancy. I then took issue with the Chairman, upon the ground that the Convention was the creator of the Committee; that it was not yet organized and by my declining the Committee was not complete and therefore, the convention should, then and there, fill the vacancy, and asked, again, that one of the gentlemen named above should be chosen. Colonel McKee moved to fill the vacancy, and named a gentleman, but for some reason, afterwards withdrew his motion. But the whole proceedings showed, conclusively, that the meeting had accepted my declination, and that I was not a member of the Executive Committee from the Second Ward as reported in your paper.

Memorial Day and the Ladies' Memorial Association.
One week from to-day the annual floral tribute from the fair daughters of the South will be offered with loving hearts and tender hands upon the graves of the dead Confederate heroes. It remains for woman, constant, devoted woman, who was last at the Cross and first at the Tomb to thus keep alive the sacred memories of departed worth, while her delicate hands keep green the turf and weave garlands of fragrant flowers to bedeck the last resting place of those martyrs to the cause we all once loved so well, who now sleep their last sleep in the silent city of the dead. But for the constancy exhibited by the fair women of our land, to the memory of those who, risking all, yielded up their lives in defence of the principles for which they fought, we fear that the graves which contain now but the dust of many of the gallant men who wore the gray, would go untouched, unnoticed and uncared for, until finally all traces of the spot where those heroes lie buried would become obliterated forever. The Ladies' Memorial Association of this city has performed its duty in this respect, as in all others, nobly and well. The Association here, which dates its organization back some twelve years ago, has not only purchased a lot in which to bury the Confederate dead, but has had the ground enclosed with a handsome and substantial railing. In the centre of this lot the ladies have caused to be erected one of the handsomest monuments to be seen anywhere in the South, and which has been the object of great admiration by all visitors to Oakdale Cemetery, chief among whom was the distinguished old chieftain and war-worn veteran, General Joseph E. Johnston. But this is not all the ladies have done; every Confederate soldier who now lies buried in the cemeteries here—if no other monument marks the spots—has a marble stone with his initials in gilt letters, together with the name of the command to which he was attached, carved in the stone. This is done even now whenever an old Confederate soldier dies and is buried in any of our cemeteries here, where no other monument is erected to his memory. In this way, the excellent ladies of this worthy Association are perpetuating the memories of the Confederate dead. God bless the noble hearts that inspire such devotion; and may God bless the willing hands of the dear ladies who continue this good work, from generation to generation, so long as time shall last and there is a grave to be seen that holds the dust of a brave soldier who was ever clad in gray.
