

The Daily Review

JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop. WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 1880.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT WILMINGTON, N. C., AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Views and Reviews.

Track-laying on the Texas and Pacific Railroad is progressing at the rate of 4,000 feet per day.

An average of about one hundred and fifty immigrants per month, mostly from Havana and Nassau, have been arriving recently in Key West, Florida.

The third-termers claim to have secured already 202 delegates. The Blaine men can count up 149, the Sherman party are confident of getting 100 from the South alone, Edmunds is known to have secured 40, and still figures do not lie.

The House has passed a bill appropriating $5,000 toward equipping Captain Howgate's expedition to the Polar regions. Captain Howgate has a vessel, the Guluaire, in process of building at Alexandria, near Washington, for the expedition, and will have her ready for launching by the 1st of May.

The tide of immigration to the far West is at its height. Large numbers of people pass through Chicago every day. Many are from Europe, but a considerable number come from Canada, and are induced to emigrate from there by the liberal offer made them by the government and the railroads.

A new and curious case of death from poisoning has occurred in Philadelphia. A young woman who wore colored stockings and shoes with copper nails, had her feet punctured by one of the latter. A inflammation immediately set in, and in a few days she died. Physicians do not know whether to attribute the poisoning to the stocking or to the nail or to both.

New steel works are to be erected in Chicago at a cost, including seventy-five acres of land, of $2,000,000. They are to be complete within a year, and will consist of four blast furnaces, Bessemer converting works, and steel rail mills. They will employ 2,000 men, consume 250,000 tons of ore yearly, and turn out 90,000 tons of rails.

The exploration of the Sahara Desert with a view to the construction of a rail way across it has fairly begun. Colonel Flatter's expedition left Wargia on the 4th ult., on their southward march. In addition to the leader, the party comprises nine scientific officers and twelve French soldiers, besides numerous camel drivers chiefly belonging to the Chambeas tribe.

The London Tablet writes: 'Among the incidents of Wednesday's poll one excites our special regret—the defeat of the only Roman Catholic candidate in England, Lord Edmund Talbot (brother of the Duke of Norfolk), at Burnley. The local Conservatives worked well for him, but the radical Irish element was too strong to be beaten. Not a single English Catholic M. P. Yet there are, notwithstanding, people who persist in stating that England is becoming Roman Catholic.'

When it was proposed to remove the remains of Napoleon from St. Helena to France, some people in England, objected on the ground that the French would say that the English were afraid of them. 'Who cares one twopenny damn (a favorite expression of the Duke's when extra emphatic) what they would say?' was Wellington's comment, and, as all the world knows, the remains were received in state by the House of Orleans, and laid beneath the dome of the Invalides, and no one was the worse for it.

A Berlin journal has watched the number of casualties which happened during the boring of the St. Gothard tunnel. From the beginning of the work up to December the number of workmen killed was 100, and that of the seriously injured about 300. Further, up to the 18th of February last, when the wall between the two tunnels was pierced, the casualties had amounted to 150 killed and 400 disabled. In proportion to the total number of workmen employed the killed form 1 per cent., and the injured 2 1/2 per cent. A plan is on foot to assist the disabled men and the families of the killed.

The General Staff in Berlin has been making a careful investigation of the whole Mecklenburg coast to ascertain its powers of defence in the event of a descent upon it by a hostile fleet. The most exposed point they have found to be the broad and deep bay of Wismar, which is one of the best harbors on the Baltic, and where large ships can come very nearly up to the town. It is expected that batteries, and more especially iron-clad towers, which could be quickly armed with very far carrying guns, will shortly be erected on the so-called Wallfish, a small island in the bay, from which the whole navigable water can easily be commanded.

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

The Democracy of New York adhere to Mr. Tilden solely and exclusively because he was elected President of the United States in 1876, and because he and they were cheated out of that election. And they are for his nomination now not because they love him personally, but because they believe in the right of self-government, and wish to vindicate that right in 1880 in the most emphatic manner possible.

Not only the Democracy of New York, but the Democracy of the entire country believe that Mr. Tilden was elected in 1876. The Democracy of the country are a unit in thought and sentiment regarding the outrageous fraud by which he was cheated out of the seat to which he was duly elected and justly entitled. History will record the administration of Mr. Hayes as the triumph of the greatest and gravest fraud ever perpetrated upon the liberties of a people claiming to be free. There is not a Democrat in the United States, and especially in the South, who entertains a doubt that he was elected, and who does not feel the most utter and intense indignation at the high-handed outrage by which the position to which he was entitled was usurped by another. Thus far the Democracy of the country join hands and hearts with the Democracy of New York, but the Democrats of that State seem to have forgotten or to be blindly oblivious to the fact that they do not represent the entire party in the country, and, consequently, imagine that they alone are those who have exclusive rights to be heard in the matter. They seem to think that the injury done in seating Mr. Hayes, was an insult to Mr. Tilden and, through him, to themselves, without one thought as to the rest of the country. With these ideas in view, if the expressions of the Sun are correct, they intend to wipe out the insult of the past without consulting or heeding the wishes of the Democracy of other States. In plain language, the Democratic machine politicians of New York are determined, if possible, to force upon the Democracy of the country a candidate who has a most formidable opposition even in his own State. Possibly the delegates in Convention assembled at Cincinnati may submit to such dictation, but we are far from believing it either possible or probable.

The Democrats of the country did their duty—their whole duty—to Mr. Tilden in 1876, and they are not responsible for the outrageous sequel to their efforts. Since then the condition of the party—its prospects and the means by which success may be the more certainly attained—have so far changed that Mr. Tilden is not desirable to a large portion of the people. He is, so far as being a means of triumph to the party is concerned, to all intents and purposes dead, and he is blind to the signs of the times who has not before this been made aware of the fact.

THE PREVIOUS METALS.

Both Europe and America are now much excited, says the Macon, (Ga.) Telegraph & Messenger, over the certainty of vast and rapid acquisition to the stock of precious metals. Gold and silver are unquestionably in process of gradually cheapening—cheapening in their general relations to other values, and their relative values must be considerably affected before long; for although the increase is heavy in silver, it is much heavier in gold, and this increase is gaining on silver every day. The discovery of Edison is bound to lend a new impetus to the product of gold in America, and is substantially equivalent to a renewal of the supposed exhausted ores all over the world. All of them will be worked over, probably with a far better result than that obtained in the original process.

Georgia will soon be known as a record Ophiir, and will largely increase her supplies. The Carolinas, Maine and others of the old States, are disclosing stores of gold, and it is not to be doubted that the sharp and eager quest, and improved mineralogical observations addressed to the work of gold discovery, not only on this continent, but all over the world, will continue to be attended with surprising results to increasing the auriferous wealth of mankind. The whole world is now in search of gold, and with such success that it would seem to be the design of Providence that there should be plenty of it, and the world discovered, by practical experience that gold, after all, is not true wealth.

The English papers are now full of vast gold discoveries in southern India, which is proving a second Golconda. The New York Commercial Bulletin, which furnishes an editorial summary of these statements, says some of the 'nugget stories remind one of the earlier days of the California mining craze. In the district of Devala, for instance, we read of 'pieces of gold as large as a man's hand, found in the Pandri river,' and on the slope of the Needle Rock range, 'nuggets as big as two hands could compass.' On the Pandri river, below the Perishola crossing, 'layers of gold an inch thick' have been brought to light.

Senator Beck made a sudden appearance in Kentucky last week, and Watterson charged him with having come home to set up the pious against Tilden, an accusation which the Senator only faintly denies.

The San Francisco Chronicle has ascertained that Chinamen decline to be come naturalized because the Chinese Penal Code declares that all persons who renounce their country and allegiance shall be beheaded. The property of all such criminals is to be confiscated, and their wives and children distributed as slaves to the great officers of state. Their parents, grandparents, brothers, and grandchildren, whether habitually living with them under the same roof or not, are to be banished to the distance of 2,000 leagues. All who conceal or connive at the crime are to be strangled. Those who inform against the criminals are rewarded with the whole of their property.

The Greatest Blessing.

A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every time, and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, stomach regular, kidneys and liver active, is the greatest blessing ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands who have been saved and cured by it. Will you try it? See another column.

MOONSHINE.

'I might dynamite not,' is the constant thought of the unhappy Czar. Sunday school teacher—'Annie, what must we do to be forgiven?' Annie—'We must sin.'

Why wouldn't Oleomargarine do for a girl's name?—Cincinnati Enquirer. If we had a little girl, and had to name her, we would call her that.—Richmond Independent.

'Does your mother know your route?' asked a rival when the bride and groom started on their wedding tour.

The Rev Joseph Cook calls Niagara a 'dateless roar,' and the St Louis Post-Dispatch adds that he might also have called Courtney a dateless rower.

When a man's wife comes in and sees him razor in hand and with his acorn shaving, and asks him: 'Are you shaving?' it's a provoking thing in him to answer, 'No, I'm blacking the stove,' but it's human nature to so reply.

They tell us this is a world of progress, and yet it is just as hard for George Francis Train to put his big toe in his mouth as it was for Mark Antony.—Boston Post. If George wants to try it heel find it considerable of a feat.—Yawoop Strauss.

THE BEST REMEDY FOR

Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Diseases of the pulmonary organs are so prevalent and fatal, that a safe and reliable remedy for them is invaluable to every community. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is such a remedy, and no other so eminently merits the confidence of the public. It is a scientific combination of the medicinal principles and curative virtues of the finest drugs, chemically united, to insure the greatest possible efficiency and uniformity of results, which enables physicians as well as invalids to use it with confidence. It is the most reliable remedy for diseases of the throat and lungs that science has produced. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt and certain relief, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it without difficulty. In the treatment of ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household, for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful.

The marvellous cures which AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has effected all over the world are a sufficient guaranty that it will continue to produce the best results. An impartial trial will convince the most sceptical of its wonderful curative powers, as well as of its superiority over all other preparations for pulmonary complaints.

Eminent physicians in all parts of the country, knowing its composition, recommend AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL to invalids, and prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proved its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.
