The iron bridge for the railroad at Front street depot has arrived and will be placed in position at once.

Col. E. S. Latimer and his bride left here this morning for the North, with the expectation of spending several weeks at Saratoga.

Save your money and buy your Building Supplies from Altfer & Price.

Fish bite best in rainy weather. Like some men they are always around when there is a drop in view.

Col. Barr gives notice that there are but ten more working days in which to list State and county taxes.

Bids are invited by Capt. Savage, City Clerk and Treasurer, for the repair or removal of wharf foot of Chestnut street.

The young lady who dresses to be looked at shouldn't kick when a fellow takes a good square look at her. No, honey.

There had been a slight rise in the Cape Fear—about three inches—when the North State left Fayetteville yesterday (Wednesday) morning.

One of our pretty young ladies was being teased about her glove being found in a young gentleman's pocket. She replied that 'she had no hand in it.'

Mr. Nath'l Jacobi having been appointed agent for the Atlas Plow, parties in want of this celebrated Plow can now have their orders filled at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot, No. 10 S. Front st. 1/2.

Officers James and Stone were sent up town this afternoon to shoot a vicious canine which had attacked and bitten two children and a woman. The animal belonged to some one living on Thirteenth near Market street.

Plows, Shovels, Pitchforks, Spades, Rakes, Trace Chains, Plow Lines, &c. For the lowest prices, go to JACOBI'S.

If prize fighters really wanted to fight it would be easy enough to find a place where they would not be interrupted. For instance, they could meet in the store of a merchant who does not believe in advertising.

The residences of Messrs. George H. Kelley and John Kent Brown, on Second and Mulberry streets, on the site of those recently destroyed by fire, are rapidly nearing completion. They will be two very handsome dwellings.

The handsome new store on North Front street, formed from a portion of the old State Bank building, the property of Messrs. Sol. Bear & Bros., is now receiving the finishing touches. It has been leased by Mr. James C. Munds, the druggist, who expects to remove there in a few days from his present location on Third street.

Our Spring and Summer Goods for Gent's, Youth's and Boy's wear is still large and attractive. Those who want the nobbiest, the newest, the latest, the best and the cheapest goods always go to Shrier's.

The walls to the new rice mill on Chestnut street, nearly opposite this office, have been laid to the top of the third story, the height of the building, and the roof is now being put on. The machinery will next be in order and it is calculated to have the mill at work early in the Fall.

Improvements.

The Tiesken property, on Front street, is being fitted up into two handsome stores. The front will be taken out and replaced by five pressed brick, and there will only be two stores to the building. The roof is to be squared and the building lengthened to 70 feet. The stores are to be supplied with tiled floors and will no doubt be among the handsomest in the city.

Everywhere you go, you are certain to hear of the wonderful virtues of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup.

For the Poor.

We understand that a grand excursion for the benefit of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, in this city, is to be given at an early day. We are glad to chronicle the fact and trust that it may be successful as we are satisfied it will be from the well-known energy and enterprise of the gentlemen who have the matter in charge. Full particulars will be given in a day or two.

Wedding Bells.

St. James' Church was well filled last night by a large congregation who had assembled to witness the marriage of Dr. T. S. Burbank to Miss Mary Josephine, eldest daughter of the late Joseph J. Lippitt, Esq. Dr. Watson, the Rector of St. James', being absent from the city, the beautiful and impressive marriage service of the Episcopal Church was conducted by Rev. Dr. Patterson.

You can buy No. 1 Cooking and Heating Stoves at almost any price at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

City Court.

Thomas Edens, charged with violating City Ordinance and selling vegetables on Market street, was fined $5 and costs by the Mayor this morning, from which the defendant took an appeal and gave a justified bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.

Nathan Jones, one of the colored fraternity, was arraigned upon the charge of being drunk and disorderly and resisting the police. The Mayor very magnanimously released the prisoner upon payment of costs, and then adjourned the Court.

The Raleigh Market.

Our Wilmington truckers ought to do well this year. They are getting magnificent prices for all they can raise, in supplying other places as well as the home markets. Almost all the green things they get to eat now in Raleigh come from Wilmington and the following are given, on the authority of the Observer, as some of the prices realized there:

Squashes are worth 40@50 c per dozen; new Irish potatoes 50@60c per peck; cucumbers 35@40c per dozen; cabbage 20@25c per head; onions 5c per bunch; radishes, none; sweet potatoes 25@30c per peck; green corn 40c per dozen; beets 10c per bunch; lettuce 2 1/2c per bunch; snaps 50@60c per peck; green peas 20@25c per peck; tomatoes 40c per dozen.

A fair trial only is needed to convince the most skeptical that Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer will accomplish all that is claimed for it.

The C. C. R. W. Gains It.

Many of our readers are aware of the fact that a very stubborn contest has been going on in Charlotte between the Carolina Central Railway and the R. & D. R. R., relative to the right of way on one of the streets in that city, the Carolina Central desiring to extend its track so as to make a depot connection with other roads. They have been successful as the following from the Charlotte Observer will evidence:

The case of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company against the Carolina Central was heard before Judge Schenk at chambers yesterday, Messrs. Jones & Johnston, Jno W. Graham and W. W. Flemming appearing for the former and Messrs. Bynum & Grier for the latter. His Honor dissolved the temporary injunction prohibiting the Carolina Central from building a track on A street, and also granted a petition of the Carolina Central asking the appointment of appraisers to condemn the right of way which the Richmond and Danville claims. The petition had already been granted by the clerk of the Superior Court, to whom it was presented a week or more ago, but an appeal was taken. The Carolina Central was, however, required to give a bond of $2,000 to cover the damages that may be assessed.

Capt. Johnson, the superintendent, announces his purpose to re-commence at once the work of building a track in which he was stopped by the restraining order granted by Judge Avery.

Everybody can get suited with a Pocket Knife, also Table Cutlery, at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

A Burglar Breaks Jail and Escapes

—No Clue to his Whereabouts.

A small scrap of a dilapidated looking colored individual who stammers and makes awful grimaces while endeavoring to articulate, and whose eyes in the name of George Myers, was confined in jail at this place in irons and chained to the cell floor with iron anklets around his ankles, one of which was joined to another prisoner who occupied the same cell and who is known by the sobriquet of Joe Campbell, from Pender county. The two were in their cells last night when the Jailor made his last rounds, but the two were not there this morning when the Jailor made his first morning's call. One, George Myers, had slipped the cable and chains which anchored him to the floor of the jail, and—it is supposed—had taken his departure for new fields and pastures green, where the chances of his going to heaven at the end of a tight rope are not quite so promising, as his prospects probably would be here after the next term of the Criminal Court in this county, had he remained in custody until the end of that time. The two prisoners, Myers and Campbell, are both colored and were confined in irons in the same cell for attempting to break jail about one month ago—in which they had nearly accomplished their object when discovered—a full account of which was published in the REVIEW at the time.

The charge against Myers was burglary, alleged to have been committed upon Mr. Daniel C. Davis' premises, some five months ago. Campbell was arrested for breaking into Mr. Thomas Williams, store, in Pender, some months ago and was placed in jail in this place for safe keeping. There is no tangible evidence to sustain the suspicion that Campbell was the accomplice of Myers this time, for he remained in the cell where he was found by Howard, the Jailor, this morning, with the irons still upon him and these fastened to the floor. How the colored individual, George Myers, the escaped prisoner, managed to free himself from the shackles wherewith he was fastened and break from his cell is marvelous indeed, but it is still more marvelous to believe that he made a hole through a brick wall three feet in thickness and made his exit therefrom unaided and without creating any noise sufficient to alarm any one or to cause a suspicion of what was going on by any of the inmates; yet Campbell, his cell mate, says he did not even know when he left, or when he took off the irons that confined his ankles, or how he wrenched the three iron bars off the cell door and crawled out from there, or how he dug the hole through a three feet wall, removing bricks and mortar until he made a space about 12 by 10 or 12 in size through which he must have squeezed his small body and then dropped to the ground.

The evidences are all there that the work was done and the impression was on the ground this morning, where he must have dropped. But there is no evidence how it was all accomplished and George Myers, the colored escaped prisoner, is the only man that we know of who knows anything about it, and we guess he'll not tell soon, "For dat nigger dun in Souf Carolina now, or Wirginny, one—you bet."

Indications.

For the South Atlantic States, stationary barometer, stationary or higher temperature, east to south winds, partly cloudy weather, and in northern portions occasional rains.

Woman's Wisdom.

'She insists that it is more importance that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it, that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a sickness with its attendant expenses, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way.'—Ed.

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine.

The July number, commencing Volume VIII, is one of the most interesting yet issued of this excellent publication. The opening article, by Rev. Edward Hale, 'A Quarter Millennium,' describes the landing of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, the settlement of Boston, and the establishment of the first Christian churches in Boston, Salem and Dorchester. There are sketches of the prominent men connected with the Massachusetts Company, including Governor Winthrop, Rev. John White, Roger Clapp and others. One illustration shows a view of the site of Boston before the first house was built; another is a quaint old map of the neighborhood around Boston from 1630 to 1640. The article will doubtless attract considerable attention. There are other articles, replete with interest and information, especially 'Modern Jewish Life,' which is elaborately illustrated. The serial and short stories are by popular authors; 'Be-be, the Nail-maker's Daughter,' is continued, and 'Little Hinges' is concluded. Mrs. M. A. Dennison, Etta W. Pierce, Etta Rogers, Jane G. Austin, F. M. Holmes, etc., contribute to this department. There are admirable sketches, essays, etc., by Alfreton Hervey, Herbert Lee, Rev. Mr. Houghton and other favorite writers. The poems are numerous, and possess more than ordinary merit. There is a large, interesting and instructive miscellany, and, together with the 'Religious Notes and News,' 'Editor's Portfolio,' 'Obituary Notices,' 'Music,' etc., etc., present 128 quarto pages of delightful reading which is afforded for only 25 cents a copy, or $3 a year. Address, Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 55, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

The Old Story.

The morning sunlight looked in through the silken curtains, lighting the room as with an angel's smile, suddenly enveloping the face of its occupant with a strange brightness and transforming her pale brown hair into waves of glistening gold. Said the sunlight: "Maiden, I missed you from the garden where I used to find you every morning, and I came here to seek you. Summer will soon be here with her roses almost as bright as your cheeks. Are you ill?" "Oh, no!" responded the maiden, warming her thin bloodless hands in the sunbeam, "only a little weak; I shall soon be out in the garden to greet you—to-morrow, perhaps! I was just planning how I should arrange my flowers; this year, when you peeped in. Are my lilies up yet?" "Yes, your lilies are up I have just been warming them. I have tired you," said the sunlight, as he noticed the wearily drooping eyelids; "I will come again to-morrow if you are not in the garden"—and silently withdrew, leaving the fair slumberer alone in the gloom. A few hours later the moonlight stole softly through the silken curtains, which were gently rustling in the night breeze. "How cold!" said the moonlight, as she touched the pallid brow, and gently laid her hand on the pulseless heart. "Dead!" she shudderingly whispered, as she withdrew through the softly rustling curtains. It is the old, old story of consumption. How she flatters her victims at morning with hope's honied words, and at evening makes them the prey of the spoiler! Statistics show that one-third of mankind die of this disease, and of these far the greater part are young persons between the ages of fifteen and twenty-five, in the dawn of manhood and womanhood. For many years, consumption was generally believed to be incurable. But medicine in her triumphant march against disease has already added consumption to her list of conquered. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures this dread disease if resorted to in time. For a full consideration of this disease and its rational method of treatment, read the article on Consumption in the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, most reliable popular work upon Physiology, Hygiene, Diseases and their Remedies, yet published. Price $1.50. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

BY
P. L. BRIDGERS & Co.,

WILMINGTON, N. C.

ECONOMY AND TEMPERANCE are the parents of public order, love, domestic happiness and peace, but our P. L. says, and he knows whereof he speaks, there can be no economy without you love and to spare. Poor people he says, were more than the rich, and there is more parsimony in brown stones than in log cabins. We have Cigars, for example, that smoke well, and two for only Five Cents, but a man that can't afford to pay twenty-five cents for three of our Principles the smoke of which is as fragrant as an angel's breath. A smoker, he says, who never tasted one of MUMM'S Extra Dry, 70 cents each, had better give up the vile habit altogether, and make the practice of it in any body else a misdemeanor.

P. S. says, holding upon one of the Springfield CANVAS STRIPS, the most delicious novelty we ever introduced, in one hand, and a nice, fresh, clean, sound and juicy SPINFIELD HAM, in the other, it is real economy to eat such food as this. It promotes longevity, cures dyspepsia, brings smiles to the cheeks of beauty, invests cookery with the dignity of science, stifles hunger and promotes religion. No hungry man can be a Christian, and good food will do it. A Hotel, and drive out the devil quick as a flash. When Bonaparte failed with his legions he always sent his cooks against his enemies, and they never failed, which reminds us of our CLARETIN CASKS, only Two Dollars per gallon, the best you ever saw, worth at least Five Dollars direct importation. And if you want to try THE BEST WHISKEY in America, send for our CAPE FEAR—a new brand—only Seven Dollars a gallon at retail. If you drink this steadily you will find yourself a patriot and a Christian in two weeks.
