To-morrow is considered the longest day of the year. The sun rises at 4:44 and sets at 7:19. It will be nearly half-past 8 o'clock before the last trace of daylight has disappeared.
It is not always perfectly safe to soothe the baby with opium preparations, but you can rely on Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup; it contains nothing injurious.
Indications.
For the South Atlantic States partly cloudy or cloudy weather, northeasterly winds, becoming variable, nearly stationary temperature and barometer.
The Paris Figaro says: 'Do not waste your orange peel, but make an incision round it midway, and remove carefully in two halves. Take the two cups and place them hollow downward, one on the grass and the other among the plants or vegetables. At the end of a few days you will be rid of all slugs, black or gray. Every morning you will find that they have taken refuge under the cups of orange peel, and can be destroyed.'

'Baby is king' all the world over. As its rule should be as quiet as possible, fail not to provide it with Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup for all the ailments incident to its condition. It is a safe remedy.
Car Spring and Summer Goods for Gent's, Youth's and Boy's wear is still large and attractive. Those who want the noblest, the newest, the latest, the best and the cheapest goods always go to Shrier's.
City Court.
Aaron Jones, colored, for being drunk and down was fined $2 and cost with the alternative of two days in the City Prison. Not having the money he went below.
J. W. Webster, charged with larceny, was bound over in a justified bond in the sum of $50 dollars for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.
Poison.
It is an understood fact that Yellow Fever and its companions, Intermittent and Remittent Fevers, are the results of poisoned blood, made impure by breathing infected atmosphere. No medicine in existence will so quickly purify the blood, as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, used in connection with Warner's Safe Pills.

The Last Day.
About two hundred excursionists came down to the city this morning on the Carolina Central Railway. As it is the last day for the cheap excursion rates they thought they would come in force. A great many of them were calculating on a trip to Smithville but as the Passport did not go down to day they remained in the city. The excursion season has been a successful one, thanks to the liberality of the C. C. R. W. management, and our merchants have profited by it to little.

Narrow Escape.
Express Messenger Medicott fell from the express car on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad at Duplin Cross Roads on yesterday morning. Duplin Cross Roads is but a flag station and the train does not stop there. Mr. Medicott had a package to leave and as he stooped down his feet slipped on the sheet iron which was in front of the door and he was pitched to the ground. He, strange to say, was hurt in the least, but jumped up and ran after the train. It was stopped and he got on and continued his duties.

Another Monster Rattlesnake.
Pender county is certainly a land of snakes. We have now in our office the stuffed skin of a monster which measured 7 1/2 feet and had 13 rattles when killed, and now there comes a report of the capture of his big brother from the same section. A friend at Maple Hill writes us a report of the capture. It took place last Monday and the monster was found by Benj. Pickett, colored, the same man who killed the first snake, on the road near the residence of Mr. Jacob K. James. The valiant Ben, rendered hazardous by previous encounters, determined to take this snake alive and after a desperate struggle succeeded. He then tied him to Mr. Gibson James' wagon, which he was driving at the time, and started with him for home some eight miles distant. But the snake could not see it in the slugs and preferring death to captivity he struggled so violently as to choke himself to death. This monster snake measured 8 feet in length and was 14 inches around the body. We trust that his skin and rattles may be preserved.

Returned Delegates.
The train which came down the W. & W. R. R. last night brought back to their homes many of the delegates from this section who have been in attendance this week on the State Convention in Raleigh. Some returned via Hamlet, and others are yet to arrive. Those who are here represent the Convention as large, enthusiastic and harmonious, well-behaved, well-officed and well-controlled, a fact easily explained, as only Democrats attend Democratic Conventions. But they were all tired, hungry, dirty and dry when they got back home.
A Narrow Escape.
Little Stewart, the four-year-old son of Mr. P. Heinsberger, made a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday afternoon at his father's residence, on Third street, near Mulberry. While playing on the upper piazza, a distance of about 15 feet from the ground, he fell through a broken place in the banisters to the yard beneath. For a while it was thought that the little fellow was seriously injured, but Dr. Love soon arrived and dispelled the fears of the distracted parents. The child was only bruised, and is up and about to-day. It was a narrow escape.
Mr. Nath'l Jacobi having been appointed agent for the Atlas Paving, parties in want of this celebrated Plow can now have their orders filled at Jacobi's Hardware Depot, No. 10 S. Front st. W.

More Fast Time.
We published a paragraph on Thursday relative to the fast time made by a train between Philadelphia and Jersey City, which ran the 90 miles in 93 minutes, and now we have a run just about as good on one of our own roads, the Wilmington & Weldon, the difference being that there were but two cars on the Pennsylvania R. R. whereas there was a full train on the W. & W. R. R. The Rocky Mount Progress tells us that the fast train on the W. & W. R. R., last Monday evening, ran from Weldon to Rocky Mount, a distance of 37 miles, in 39 minutes, making up nearly all of its lost time.

Wilder & Morton's Loss.
A letter from Mr. Jesse Wilder, received here yesterday, reports the loss of the distillery of Messrs Wilder & Morton, of this city, at Brunswick, Ga. The loss is estimated at $1,500, the larger amount being on turpentine and resin and the damages to the distillery being comparatively light. The Savannah News of a recent date has a fuller report. It says: 'Yesterday the citizens of the northern portion of Brunswick were thrown into panic, almost, by the conflagration of Wilder & Co's turpentine works. It seems some ladies were present for the purpose of witnessing the manufacture of resin, and it is likely that the workmen, through their courtesy and attentions to the visitors, failed to perceive in time that the liquid was about to overflow, and hence the catastrophe. The damage to the company and Mrs. Golden (who lost her two houses and their contents) is estimated at about $20,000. No insurance. The fire company was on hand, but as usual, found their efforts ineffectual from the difficulty of getting the heavy antiquated machine at a fire in time, and the trouble of keeping enough men on the brakes to throw the water.'
'One of the operatives, a colored man, named Albert Croomes, was severely injured by the flood of flames and smoke, which enveloped him before he could escape. No other casualty is reported.'

Bishop Atkinson.
We are glad to learn that Bishop Atkinson's health is greatly improved. The Bishop is now in Baltimore, where he has been for about two months, and finding himself so much better has determined to return to North Carolina very soon.
The Passport.
It is said that the steam yacht Passport has changed hands, Messrs. J. T. & J. W. Harper becoming the purchasers. She will resume her regular schedule between this city and Smithville in a day or two. Our citizens are to be congratulated that the beautiful and fast little steamer is to remain with us.

Just About a Failure.
There was a crude attempt made last night to get up a Garfield ratification meeting at the Court House, but it was next door to a failure. There was a band of music on hand and several colored Republican orators essayed to tell all they knew about it, but it evidently didn't amount to very much when it was told. It was plain that there was more enthusiasm about the music than about any other part of the performance.

Returned Delegates.
The train which came down the W. & W. R. R. last night brought back to their homes many of the delegates from this section who have been in attendance this week on the State Convention in Raleigh. Some returned via Hamlet, and others are yet to arrive. Those who are here represent the Convention as large, enthusiastic and harmonious, well-behaved, well-officed and well-controlled, a fact easily explained, as only Democrats attend Democratic Conventions. But they were all tired, hungry, dirty and dry when they got back home.
A Narrow Escape.
Little Stewart, the four-year-old son of Mr. P. Heinsberger, made a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday afternoon at his father's residence, on Third street, near Mulberry. While playing on the upper piazza, a distance of about 15 feet from the ground, he fell through a broken place in the banisters to the yard beneath. For a while it was thought that the little fellow was seriously injured, but Dr. Love soon arrived and dispelled the fears of the distracted parents. The child was only bruised, and is up and about to-day. It was a narrow escape.
Mr. Nath'l Jacobi having been appointed agent for the Atlas Paving, parties in want of this celebrated Plow can now have their orders filled at Jacobi's Hardware Depot, No. 10 S. Front st. W.

More Fast Time.
We published a paragraph on Thursday relative to the fast time made by a train between Philadelphia and Jersey City, which ran the 90 miles in 93 minutes, and now we have a run just about as good on one of our own roads, the Wilmington & Weldon, the difference being that there were but two cars on the Pennsylvania R. R. whereas there was a full train on the W. & W. R. R. The Rocky Mount Progress tells us that the fast train on the W. & W. R. R., last Monday evening, ran from Weldon to Rocky Mount, a distance of 37 miles, in 39 minutes, making up nearly all of its lost time.

Wilder & Morton's Loss.
A letter from Mr. Jesse Wilder, received here yesterday, reports the loss of the distillery of Messrs Wilder & Morton, of this city, at Brunswick, Ga. The loss is estimated at $1,500, the larger amount being on turpentine and resin and the damages to the distillery being comparatively light. The Savannah News of a recent date has a fuller report. It says: 'Yesterday the citizens of the northern portion of Brunswick were thrown into panic, almost, by the conflagration of Wilder & Co's turpentine works. It seems some ladies were present for the purpose of witnessing the manufacture of resin, and it is likely that the workmen, through their courtesy and attentions to the visitors, failed to perceive in time that the liquid was about to overflow, and hence the catastrophe. The damage to the company and Mrs. Golden (who lost her two houses and their contents) is estimated at about $20,000. No insurance. The fire company was on hand, but as usual, found their efforts ineffectual from the difficulty of getting the heavy antiquated machine at a fire in time, and the trouble of keeping enough men on the brakes to throw the water.'
'One of the operatives, a colored man, named Albert Croomes, was severely injured by the flood of flames and smoke, which enveloped him before he could escape. No other casualty is reported.'
