CINCINNATI.

Winfield Scott Hancock, of Pennsylvania, Nominated for President on the Second Ballot.

W. H. English, of Indiana, Nominated for Vice President on first Ballot.

CINCINNATI, June 24, 11:30 A. M.
The agony is over very soon and Winfield Scott Hancock has just been nominated amid the wildest enthusiasm on the second ballot. There have been but two ballots thus far and I give them to you in detail:

FIRST BALLOT.
Bayard, 1684; Field, 65; Morrison, 62; Hendricks, 494; Hancock, 171; Thurman, 634; Seymour, 8; Loveland, 5; Payne, 81; McDonald, 3; Randall, 3; Tilden, 38; Lathrop, 1; McClellan, 2; Black, 1; English, 1; Parker, 1; Jewett, 1; Ewing, 10.

Previous to the second ballot New York nominated Samuel J. Randall, making, in all, seven regular candidates. The following is the

SECOND BALLOT:
Hancock, 354; Bayard, 113; Randall, 129; Field, 65; Hendricks, 31; Thurman, 50.

On ascertaining this vote, State after State changed to Hancock until his nomination was assured. The following is the awarded ballot:

Hancock, 685; Hendricks, 30; Bayard, 2 Tilden, 1.

The nomination of Hancock was afterwards made unanimous, on motion of Mr Mock, of Indiana, who was seconded by Senator Hampton, Judge Hoadley and Senator Voorhees. Previously to this however, Hancock's vote had been announced officially, 705.

One very pleasing incident which has occurred here lies in the fact that John Kelly, Tammany Chief, arose and walking across to Mr. Fellows, of the New York delegation, an Anti-Tammanyite, extended his hand which was taken and cordially grasped by Mr. Fellows. The Convention and the galleries went wild just then with enthusiasm. This is looked upon here as a most auspicious opening of the Hancock campaign.

Susan B. Anthony, Esq., is now addressing the Convention.

LATEST.

CINCINNATI, June 24.
Hon. W. H. English, of Indiana, was placed in nomination by Mr. Mack, of Indiana, for the Vice Presidency. The nomination was seconded by Senator Hampton of South Carolina, Judge Hoadley and Senator Voorhees. Hon.
W. H. English was nominated unanimously on the first ballot.

A Hancock Flag.

So far as we can ascertain Dr. W. H.
Green can claim the honor of having run up the first Hancock flag in this city, probably in the State. Within fifteen minutes of the time the Review EXTRA appeared on the street to-day, Dr.
Green had his flag, with Hancock's name inscribed on it, floating proudly above his handsome drug store.

Personal.

We were pleased to meet with Capt.
W. J. Jarvis this morning. Capt. Jarvis is an old Wilmingtonian, but for a number of years past has been a citizen of Macon, Ga. He, like most North Carolinians abroad, has taken a stand in his new home and has been promoted to the position of Master of Transportation of the Macon & Brunswick Railroad.
We are glad that "Old Jack" is doing well, and we hope that he will ever meet with the success that his efforts so justly deserve.

Scarcely a week passes that we do not see an account of somebody being killed by one of those pistols that wasn't loaded.
Our advice is to knock the fool down with the first thing you can clutch when he points a gun or pistol at you. Don't be afraid of hitting too hard either, for the skull of such a man is pretty thick.
Sensible treatment of this kind will shorten the chapter of accidents.

The Ticket.

Hancock and the Ex-Congressman from Indiana, that's the plain ENGLISH of it.
So we will say Hurrah for Hancock and English, the next President and Vice-President of these re-United States. Hip!
Hip! Hurrah!!!

RALLY AND RATIFY.

Grand Demonstration this Evening

THE DEMOCRATS OF WILMING-TON WILL RATIFY THE NOMINATION.

Tar Barrels and Tar Heels.

MUSIC AND GUNPOWDER.

Come Along Everybody.

A Grand Ratification Meeting will be held this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, in front of the City Hall, on Third street. The object of the meeting will be fully explained by the Chairman which is, primarily, the ratification and endorsement of the nomination of Hancock and English, the next President and Vice President, under God, of these reunited States.

Tar barrels will blaze and big guns shoot and there will undoubtedly be present one of the largest crowds ever assembled in Wilmington.

This is only a sort of primary ratification, gotten up on the spur of the moment, and after a while we will get up another and give ample notice, so that our country cousins may come down and join in the chorus. But to night let everybody

BETHAR!

Magnanimous in War.

As a proof of our assertion, elsewhere, that General Winfield S. Hancock, the soldier statesman of the United States, is as magnanimous in victory as he was brave in battle, we will relate the following incident, the truthfulness of which we will bind ourselves to substantiate at any time, if necessary. When the fortunes of war on that unlucky 12th day of May at Spottsylvania threw the majority of brave old Major Genl. Ed. Johnson's division into the enemy's hands, Brig Genl. Geo. H. Stuart, now a resident of Baltimore, and General Johnson, now reposing in the quiet city of the dead in Hollywood, near Richmond, were unfortunate enough to be among the captured, but they were fortunate in having for their captor Major-General Winfield S. Hancock to whose Headquarters they were immediately conducted. The three Generals were all old army officers and as a consequence were old acquaintances and perhaps, friends. Hearing of their approach General Hancock came out of his tent with open hands to meet them, 'How are you, Stuart, old fellow,' was the first salutation to General Stuart who was in the advance. Stuart's reply, though dignified and polite was cold and repulsive, declining at the same time to take General Hancock's proffered hand to which the latter immediately replied in reproachful tones, 'you might at least have saved me this mortification,' Genl.
Johnson coming up shortly afterwards was greeted with the same cordiality first extended to Stuart, when Johnson's reply was Hello! Hancock, how are you, and the two grasped hands. General Hancock then sent both of the Confederate Generals to the rear in an ambulance.

Organize! Organize!!

Fellow Citizens—The Democracy of the United States, through their delegates assembled at Cincinnati, have selected General Winfield Scott Hancock as the standard-bearer of the party in the coming campaign. No better selection could possibly have been made. His career has shown him to be a magnanimous soldier, a pure patriot and a wisely gifted statesman. It now devolves upon every liberty-loving patriot to work for the election of the nominee. That being accomplished, rest assured that he will take his seat. There is to be no 'counting out' this time to rob American citizens of their just rights. But there is work to be done—earnest, faithful and unceasing effort to make a victory doubly sure.
Thorough organization is necessary that the work may be effectually done. Let Hancock and English clubs be organized in every township in the State and in the several wards of every city! Organize!
Organize! Organize!!!

No City Court to-day.

Magistrate's Row is forsaken.

next President and Vice President of the Union.

'Whar dey Gwine Do?'

When the nomination of Gen. Hancock was announced a "culler brudder" on the outside of the crowd around the bulletin board, innocently asked, "Whar dey gwine do wid Mr. Dagget?" Rah for Hancock.

tion, and when they do their duty the blood will be pure.
