An infallible sign of physical decay is sleeplessness; if this is dangerous in an adult, it is deadly in early childhood. Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup will always assist in comforting the baby without stupefying it. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

It is said birds sing their best songs at 5 o'clock in the morning. That is the hour when men, going home from committee meetings, sing their worst.

It is estimated that there were at least one thousand people at Wrightsville Sound on Monday, who were drawn thither to sniff a little salt air and witness the Regatta at the same time.

Vegetation here and hereabouts is suffering for want of rain. Farmers tell us that things are parching, and unless there is some rainfall at an early date the various crops will be more or less shortened.

No remedy in the world ever came into such universal use, or has so fully won the confidence of mankind, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

Come Along! And the cry is, still they come! W. A. Guthrie, of Fayetteville, a leading Republican light, has, it is said, come out for Hancock as has also Judge Rodman, of Beauport county, a Republican, and an ex-Judge of the Supreme Court.

An Agreeable Duty. Major Chas. M. Stedman, the delegate from North Carolina to the Cincinnati Convention appointed to wait upon General Hancock to inform him officially of his nomination, leaves here on Friday morning next to meet the other members of the Committee in New York.

The Congressional Committee. From Major C. W. McClammy, Chairman of the late Democratic Congressional Convention, who was authorized to make the following list of the members of the Executive Committee for this, the Third Congressional District. There has been some delay in furnishing the list for publication, but this was because of the tardiness of several counties in recommending their members:

Columbus—Capt V. V. Richardson. Bladec—Major T. D. Love. Brunswick—A. W. Rieger. Carteret—W. F. Howland. Cumberland—Capt E. P. Powers. Duplin—D. B. Nicholson. Harnett—Col. K. Murchison. Moore—James A. Worthy. Ouslow—A. C. Huggins. Sampson—J. A. Ferrell. Pender—Thos. Williams. New Hanover—Major D. J. Devane.

Prisoner from Pender. An officer from Pender brought to this city to-day Julia Miller, colored, arrested on a capias from the Criminal Court of this county, upon the charge of assault upon Michael Hooper, with a deadly weapon. This all happened as long ago as Nov. 1st, 1879. The prisoner was locked up to await her trial.

New Enterprise—A Steam Laundry.

Almost daily we hear of some new enterprise being started in this city. Business men are branching out and are getting out of the old grooves they have been trucking in for many years past. Mr. Jos. B. Worth has established a steam laundry in the building next adjoining his present store. The engine used in his pea-out business will furnish steam and power for the laundry.

In order to make the enterprise a complete success, Mr. Worth has sent North and has brought out improved machinery and has employed skilled labor. The foreman of his laundry has been for seven years past foreman of one of the most extensive laundries in New York City. The stationary wash and steam tube, ironer and starcher are in position and ready for use. The drying room is about 10x12 feet and will be sufficiently heated to dry clothes in from one to two hours.

All that is now wanting to complete the establishment are the hot and cold water, steam and gas pipes and force pump. The pipes are being laid to-day and the force pump is expected to arrive to-day or to-morrow. A large water tank of twenty-five barrel capacity has been erected and also two smaller ones, through which the water will pass and be thoroughly filtered before it is turned into the tubs. Mr. Worth's help has arrived and they are busily engaged in getting everything in readiness. We saw the machinery used in the establishment in motion this morning. The enterprise, we doubt not, will be appreciated by the public and will supply a need felt in any city of the 'size of Wilmington. In the Fall Mr. Worth will embark in the manufacture of shirts, collars and cuffs.

Plows, Shovels, Pitchforks, Spades, Rakes, Trace Chains, Plow Lines, &c. For the lowest prices, go to JACOBI'S.

An Interesting Historical Incident. One pleasing though sad incident of the battle of Williamsburg on the peninsula, in May, 1862, has just come to our knowledge, and we think it worth relating here. The battle had been fought and lost to our side, and many of the dead and wounded left upon the field. Among the former was Captain Snow, of Halifax, in this State, and among the latter Captain Henry Mullins, from Fayetteville, both heroic members of the gallant Fifth N. C. regiment.

Captain Snow's brilliant conduct was noticed by the enemy, and his dead body was found almost within ten yards of the redoubt he was charging, while Captain Mullins fell mortally wounded in nearly the same locality. Three days later Col. D. K. McRae, the commander of the Fifth N. C., received by flag of truce from General Hancock, who commanded the opposing forces, a letter, with two others enclosed, one of which was written to the mother of the brave soldier Snow, by Hancock himself, commending the noble and heroic conduct of her son on the battle field; the other was directed to the mother of Captain Mullins, and contained the last words of her dying son, which that chivalrous foe, the illustrious Hancock, conveyed in these words over his own signature, 'tell my mother I died a true soldier and a gentleman.'

These facts have been given to us by Col. McRae, and that gentleman has further informed us that he had positive information that on the night succeeding the day of the battle, which was a bleak, dreary, rainy and stormy night, that General Hancock personally supervised the removal of and attention to the wounded prisoners. And now maybe these facts think the survivors of the Fifth North Carolina 'ain't a going' to vote for Hancock. Well, all we have to say upon this subject is just let them keep on thinking so, and wait until the sun goes down on the 2d day of November next, and maybe then they'll think, when the result is known, that not only the Fifth N. C., but a good many other 'old Rebs' besides, voted to put this illustrious and humane soldier in the place that was once filled by the father of his country; and so mote it be, say we. Theirs our sentiments, and we are the strongest sort of a double-dyed-in-the-wool 'old Reb,' at that.

Roll 'em Up! From a gentleman from Onslow, Sampson, Carteret, Duplin and Pender counties, we learn that the enthusiasm for Hancock and the Democratic nominees is intense and that those counties will roll up a big majority in November. Roll Jordan, roll!

Will Take the Stump. We understand that Maj. C. W. McClammy, of Pender county, will stump the district for the Democratic ticket during the present campaign. He will open soon in Onslow and expects to speak in every county in the district. Major McClammy is a forcible and earnest and graceful speaker, and when he goes into this campaign let somebody stand from under.

A Fast Southern Mail. Here is something more about the prospective fast mail. The New York Bulletin states that the arrangements for a fast mail from New York to New Orleans and the Southern seaboard and gulf cities, will not be completed until some time in October. Unlike the North, where negotiations for a thousand or fifteen hundred miles of route may be made with a single individual, many interests must be consulted in the South. When the arrangement is completed trains leaving New York at 4:35 a. m., will reach Washington not later than 11 a. m. Mails will reach Jacksonville in less than thirty-six hours from New York, and one day will be saved on the present schedule to New Orleans.

DIED. In Pender county, July 4, 1880, VALL, wife of John R. Bolton, aged 28 years. Deceased was a consistent member of the Baptist Church from an early age to her death. As a wife she was amiable, affectionate and in every relation of life her Christian virtues shone with that bright and shining lustre known only to the Christian. She leaves a kind, sorrowing husband and many relatives and friends who mourn and sorrow at her death and their irreparable loss, but their loss is her eternal gain. She bore her sad afflictions and sufferings as only those who the Lord is their eternal shepherd can do. We believe that she is where the Saints of all ages in harmony meet. Their Saviour and brethren, transported to great Whisps of rapture unceasingly roll, And the smile of the Lord is the feast of her soul. Rest in Peace. Knox.

The Glorious 4th Day of July!

A LITTLE MORE THAN A CENTURY ago, when freedom could scarcely find a hiding place in this country, it was PATRICK HENRY, a good Grocerman, a Mechanic, a Horny-handed Son of Toll, who dared to look the British Lion in the face and proclaim it.

Bully for Patrick. He was a true patriot, as all good Grocermen are. I have been inspired by the memory of the eminent and illustrious Patriot and Grocerman, on this OUR FOURTH DAY OF JULY.

I will now add that I will try and emulate his good example by selling you

Good Groceries Lower than you can buy them from any House in the State.

THE YOUNGEST ESTABLISHED Grocery House in Wilmington! Commencing business only a few years ago, in the midst of the most terrible panic ever known in this country, in the course of three years only, by economy in the use of our investments, and skill in business, we have built up one of the best Retail Grocery Establishments south of the Potomac, with a reputation for fair dealing, in elegance, liberality in business, choice selection of articles in our line, and success in trade, that are the envy and the astonishment of the "old and experienced Groceries," our competitors. Every dollar we have now invested, amounting to thousands and thousands of dollars, is the fruit of our own unaided exertions. We have not had to borrow money to meet losses. We have no bad debts. WE PAY CASH for all our purchases and trust anybody that can make us safe. The stock of Groceries and the good will at one of the most extensive, the best and most carefully selected and costly, is held for sale in the finest Grocery Store in the city, built expressly for us, and adapted to our trade, and all paid for out of the profits of our business during three years of terrible pecuniary distress. It is a lasting and palpable monument to the business energy and intelligence and industry of P. L. BRIDGERS, the founder of our establishment.

"The poet's eye in a fine frenzy rolling Glances from heaven to earth, from earth to heaven, And as imagination bodies forth the forms of things unseen, Gives to airy nothing a local habitation and a name!"

Years ago, a mere strapping Wilmington boy, we conceived the design of this Grand Establishment, and to-day, if you doubt our advertisement, Come and See. We have created it from nothing. This store itself, so neat, so well appointed, and well filled, and well conducted, is a grand poem, in glass and wood and willow ware, suggestive of more pleasant emotions and causing more real happiness than all the works of Shakespeare or Dryden.

We keep NO OLD STOCK. We have no surplus room. We renew our assortment by personal solicitation weekly, so as to have everything in our line FRESH AND GOOD, and sell everything off as rapidly and cheaply as possible. Money is not made by hoarding it or by waiting for big profits. It is made by turning over the investment often and keeping it in constant motion.

If you want Lard we have. If you want Butter we sell Butter. If you want Sugar, we sell Sugar. If you want Glucose, you must enquire for it at the Small Groceries. We don't keep the article. We warrant our Flour, Whiskey, Crackers, Meats, Bacon, Tobacco and Cigars, Sugars, Lager, Candles, Estates, Drinkables, Potables, Cannables, Edibles, Sociables, the most digestible, nicest, freshest, and most economical in the South.
