Clean Up!

At this season people should be very careful that their premises are kept clean. Decaying animal and vegetable matter is the fruitful source of fevers and other affections which can find nothing to feed upon if back lots are kept clean and disinfectants used where needed. What is here said applies with equal force to country and town. Filth, wherever found, will bring forth fruit in disease.

Another Heir. In a recent article published in the REVIEW, relative to the estate left in England by James Green, and now awaiting a claimant, we stated that Mrs. Junius D. Gardner, of this city, was the only heir. Mrs. M. E. Duncan, of Nashville, Tenn., writes to us with the request that we make a correction. She is Mrs. Gardner's only sister, Mrs. Duncan being the eldest, and these two are co-heirs to the estate. Of course, we make the correction with a great deal of pleasure.

Accidentally Killed. A telegram was received in this city this morning, by Mr. Geo. H. Kelly, announcing the accidental death of his nephew, Mr. Edward Stanly, a young man aged about 22 years, and the only son of Judge John A. Stanly, of San Francisco. Mr. Stanly was out hunting on his rancho at the time of his death. He is said to have been a very promising and intelligent young gentleman and one who was much beloved. Judge Stanly is a Carolinian by birth and was formerly a resident of Newbern, in this State. The deceased was in this city two years ago on a visit to his relations and his friends and acquaintances here will be greatly grieved to learn of his sudden death. Judge Stanly and Mr. Kelly married sisters.

The Execution at Goldsboro. At 2 o'clock, P. M., yesterday, Alex. Howard, colored, in the jail yard at Goldsboro, expiated the crime of murder, upon the gallows. The brutal deed was perpetrated in Sampson county on the 24th day of July, 1878, upon an old man by the name of Batel Autrey, and the cause which led to the commission of the deed was to secure possession of about $300, which was known to be in Autrey's house. The case was finally removed from Sampson to Wayne county, where Howard was finally tried, convicted and sentenced. During his confinement he has protested his innocence of the murder, but the weight of the testimony at the trial was so strong against him that no credence was placed in his statements. It was expected by some that he would make a full confession upon the scaffold, but in the course of an incoherent speech which lasted nearly three-quarters of an hour, he vehemently protested his innocence of the crime, claiming that he was persecuted to his death by some of the white men of Sampson county because he was a man of influence among the colored people of his section.

At the conclusion of the harangue the Rev. — Allison, colored, his spiritual adviser, made a brief prayer, the cap and fatal noose were adjusted and the drop fell which launched Alex. Howard into eternity. His neck was broken by the fall, and the physicians pronounced him dead in ten minutes after. In twenty minutes he was cut down and taken away for burial. The execution was witnessed by about 2,000 persons, each race being nearly equally represented. The Goldsboro Rifles, Capt. W. H. H. Cobb, performed guard duty for the occasion, and the best order was observed throughout the day.

The wagonette will leave the hotels to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock for Wrightsville Sound. See advertisement elsewhere.

Work on the Canal.

Mr. B. G. Worth, President of the Duplin Canal Company, has received a letter from Major W. L. Young, the Superintendent dated at Bannerman's yesterday, in which that gentleman states that they have had sluicing water at the canal works for the past two days, and says that below Shelter and the first tide creek, where the sluice way has been enlarged the water is doing great execution. In one week's time Major Young hopes to have the sluice way between the little tide creek and the river so enlarged that it will carry a large and rapid current. By the time the work reaches Meeks', he thinks that he will be able to convince the public that the first fifteen miles of the canal can be constructed for $10,000, his original estimate.

You can buy No. 1 Cooking and Heating Stoves at almost any price at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

A Flattering Unction. It is a singular fact that there are eight letters in Garfield's surname and seven in Hancock's. This wonderful discovery seems to have been made by the Radicals hereabouts and they are taking great comfort to themselves from the fact that it is a sort of 8x7 concern and that the eighties whipped out the sevens through means of the biggest steal on record, in the memorable electoral commission. Let us tell them something that we are sure but few of them, for a want of theological reading, will ever find out for themselves, that seven is a sacred number, as will be found by careful perusal of both the Old and New Testaments.

The Democrats are well content to prefer the seven to the eight; the one is a synonym of honesty and integrity of purpose and the other of downright fraud. Moreover, the seven represented not only a majority of the electoral college but a popular majority of a quarter of a million votes. Let the Radicals put this in their pipes and smoke it. They stole the Presidency once but they will never do it again. If Hancock is elected (and he will be) he will be inaugurated. This is one of the very issues which entered into his nomination, and it is one of the very best guarantees that can be presented of an honestly elected President in the White House on and after next March 4th.

Everybody can get suited with a Pocket Knife, also Table Cutlery, at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine.

The August number is exceedingly brilliant and attractive. Among the especially notable articles are, a careful and living estimate of the life and character of 'Sister Dora,' the model Christian nurse; an admirable one on 'Missionary Effort in Patagonia'; a very interesting one on 'Venice; Its Past and Present,' beautifully illustrated. 'With St. Paul at Athens,' 'Religious Aspect of Gothic Architecture,' 'The Roman Catacombs,' etc., etc., are among the other prominent features. The department of fiction is rich with serial and short stories. 'Bebe, the Nai-maker's Daughter,' is continued, and a new serial, by the author of 'Little Hinges,' is commenced, entitled 'Maid Marjory.' There are sketches of thrilling interest; essays replete with pleasant thoughts; poems of unusual merit by popular writers, an abundant miscellany, embracing a vast variety of subjects, and affording pleasant and instructive reading. There is also 'Wit, Wisdom and Pathos of Childhood,' 'Religious Notes and News,' 'Editor's Portfolio,' 'Obituary Notices,' 'Recreations for Sunday Afternoon,' and a charming piece of music, 'Now I Lay me Down to Sleep,' composed for the Sunday Magazine by Augusta Browne Garrett. The 128 quarto pages, with over 100 illustrations contained in each number, may be obtained for 25 cents a copy, or $3 a year, postpaid. Address, Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

The Glorious 4th Day of July! A LITTLE MORE THAN A CENTURY ago, when freedom could scarcely find a hiding place in this country, it was PATRICK HENRY, a good Grocerman, a Mechanic, a Horny-handed Son of Toil, who dared to look the British Lion in the face and proclaim it.

Bully for Patrick. He was a true patriot, as all good Grocermen are. I have been inspired by the memory of the eminent and illustrious Patriot and Grocerman, on this OUR FOURTH DAY OF JULY.

I will now add that I will try and emulate his good example by selling you Good Groceries Lower than you can buy them from any House in the State.

THE YOUNGEST ESTABLISHED Grocery Business in Wilmington! Commencing in business only a few years ago, in the midst of the most terrible panic ever known in this country, in the course of three years only, by economy in the use of our investments, and skill in our business, we have built up one of the best Retail Grocery Establishments south of the Potomac, with a reputation for fair dealing, in elegance, liberality in business, choice selected articles in our line, and success in trade, that are the envy and the astonishment of the "old and experienced Groceries," our competitors. Every dollar we have now invested, amounting to thousands and thousands of dollars, is the fruit of our own unaided exertions. We have not had to borrow money to meet losses. We have no bad debts. WE PAY CASH for all our purchases and trust anybody that can make us safe. The stock of Groceries and the good will at P. L. Bridgers & Co's, one of the most extensive, the best and most carefully selected and costly, is held for sale in the Finest Grocery Store in the city, built expressly for us, and adapted to our trade, and all paid for out of the profits of our business during three years of terrible pecuniary distress. It is a lasting and palpable monument to the business energy and intelligence and industry of P. L. BRIDGERS, the founder of our establishment. "The poet's eye in a fine frenzy rolling Glances from Heaven to earth, from earth to heaven, And as imagination bodies forth the forms of things unseen, Gives to airy nothing a local habitation and a name!" Years ago, a mere stripling Wilmington boy, we conceived the design of this Grand Establishment, and to-day, if you doubt our advertisement, Come and See. We have created it from nothing. This store itself, so neat, so well appointed, and well fitted, and well conducted, is a grand poem, in glass and wood and willow ware, suggestive of more pleasant emotions and causing more real happiness than all the works of Shakespeare or Dryden. We keep NO OLD STOCK. We have no surplus room. We renew our assortment by personal solicitation weekly, so as to have everything in our line FRESH AND GOOD, and sell everything off as rapidly and cheaply as possible. Money is not made by hoarding it or by waiting for big profits. It is made by turning over the investment often and keeping it in constant motion. If you want Lard we have Lard. If you want Butter we sell Butter. If you want Sugar, we sell Sugar. If you want Groceries, you must enquire for it at the Finest Groceries. We don't keep the articles. We warrant our Flour, Whiskey, Crackers, Meal, Bacon, Tobacco and Cigars, sugars, Lager, Candles, Eatables, Drinkables, Potables, Cannables, Edibles, Sociables, the most digestible, nicest, freshest, and most economical in the South.
